BURSUM BRINGS HIS THREATENED SUIT AGAINST JOURNAL

Says Feelings, Reputation and Candidacy Have Been Injured by Charges, Statements and Insinuations Regarding Record.

Counsel for Holm O. Bursum, Republican candidate for the Government, in a letter has threatened suit for damages against the Morning Journal in the district court today. The defendants named are the Journal Publishing company, D. A. MacPherson, W. T. Mills and Don Grant. The letter states, in part, as follows:

"Your paper has been persistently and wrongfully attempting to create the impression that the defendant Bursum, while a member of the legislature, secured and made use of his position in his capacity as a member of the legislature and otherwise, to the good people of the county of Bernalillo and especially of this city, a false impression that he was and is interested and has for years been interested in the business of the Water Company of New Mexico, and that he has used his influence in the legislature and otherwise, to the good people of the county of Bernalillo and especially of this city, a false impression that he was and is interested and has for years been interested in
