Grip is Tightened.

Berne, Oct. 24, via London, Oct. 25.—The iron grip of the central powers upon Roumania has tightened in two important centers with the capture of Mediidie and Rasheva in Dobrudja and of Kronstadt on the Transylvania border. The conquests of these important places have been achieved with surprising speed.

With the capture of Constanza, the Roumanians lost their principal seaport, while the taking of Mediidie and Rasheva a new place, Tekirmanda in a critical position and, in military opinion, threatens Roumania more than ever.

Pushed and the pincers behind it, with the loss to Roumania of the rich oil country, Turnu-Ruieni, Roumania is the desperate of Transylvania.

PROBATE JUDGE CANDIDATE GOOD ENOUGH FOR DEMOS

Executive Committee Can See No Reason Why Change Should be Made in Ticket; Garcia y Sanchez a Substantial Man.

Don Jose Garcia y Sanchez is the candidate on the Democratic county ticket for the office of probate judge, and he is going to continue to be the candidate, and is going to be elected by a handsome majority on election day.

This is the gist of the announcement made by Chairman Frank Hatt, of the Democratic county organization, following a meeting of the county executive committee at Moriarty.

The executive committee met in response to a request of the Democratic committee of the Bernalillo County Bar association, that the Democrats consider placing on their ticket, as a candidate for probate judge, a man learned in the law. The same request was to have been presented to the Republican executive committee today by a Republican committee of lawyers, also named by the bar association.

"We received the request of the Democratic committee of lawyers," said Chairman Hatt, "and after hearing their arguments, declined to make any change in our ticket.

"We can see no reason why we should name any other man as a candidate for probate judge than Don Jose Garcia y Sanchez. The Republicans started things in the wrong direction by naming their candidate. Because they have made a mistake is no reason why the Democrats should make a change.

"As everybody knows, Jose Garcia y Sanchez is a man of large affairs. He is well educated. He is prosperous and financially responsible. He is a successful business man. He is honest, conservative and progressive.

"The only thing that can be said against our candidate is that he is not a lawyer. But there are lots of people who are not lawyers, and who manage to conduct a business successfully. The probate judge should be a business man. A knowledge of the fine points of the law is not indispensable in the position.

"Our candidate, when elected, will make an efficient, honest, upright probate judge. He will expedite business. People with business before the probate court will get justice.

"There is too much of a difference between law and justice nowadays. A lawyer may know the law when it comes to dealing with probate matters, and again he may not. We know that our candidate will give justice in his attention to probate business.

"We do not propose to be tricked by the Republicans into making a change in our ticket. If they want to pull Francisco Lucero y Montoya off their ticket, that is their funeral.

"Jose Garcia y Sanchez is going to be elected probate judge on November 7. Watch his majority.

M. E. Hickey, of the Republican wing of the lawyers committee, said this afternoon that no meeting had yet been held with the D. C. P. county committee. Word had been received from County Chairman Thomas Hughes that the committee was ready to confer at any time the lawyers wished, but M. Hickey said no information was officially conveyed as to what the Republican attitude would be.

It was believed by politicians that the Republicans would not be any readier than the Democrats to consider the withdrawal of their candidate, particularly in view of the decided stand taken by the Democrats. It was pointed out that a painful impression would be produced on the native voters if the Republicans substituted a lawyer for one of the ordinary rank and file after the Democrats had stood by their candidate.

Lawyers said this afternoon that there was no intention of running a candidate independently. He wouldn't stand any chance of election.

The committee appointed by the bar association to try for a change in nominations was made up of M. E. Hickey, Col. R. W. Dobson, Frazer & Bodey, Attorney Isaac Barth, City Attorney W. A. Keleher and George C. Taylor. The last three are Democrats.

ROOSEVELT'S VISIT TO NEW MEXICO IS CAMPAIGN FAILURE

Not a Vote Made by His Three Speeches, Say Close Observers; Squabbles With Wilson Supporters in His Audiences.

Reports received by Democratic leaders here indicate that Theodore Roosevelt's visit to New Mexico was one of the big failures of the Republican campaign. Much was expected by Republicans of the Colonel's speechmaking in this part of the country, where in past years his popularity has been greater than in any other section of the United States.

Roosevelt made three speeches in this state. On his way west he spoke briefly at Gallup, and after leaving here he made a speech in Las Vegas. The effect of his visit and speech in this city, according to political observers, was absolutely nil as far as votemaking was concerned. The address was heard by few of those who congregated before the Alvarado, and those who heard it say that it lacked the slugfest force in "getting across." The Democrats say with absolute conviction that it didn't make a single vote for the Republican ticket.

At Las Vegas and Gallup, according to the reports received, the colonel was met with a show of hostility that he increased before he went on his way.

The Gallup affair was not extensively reported at the time. According to reports the crowd at the station included numbers of workingmen, miners and railroaders, who cheered for Wilson and the eight-hour day. The outstanding incident, typical of Roosevelt aggressiveness on the stump, was a verbal passage between the colonel and one of the workingmen.

According to one of the newspaper correspondents with the party, the colonel took up the challenge of the Wilson cheers as soon as they broke out.

"What did Wilson ever do for you?" he asked vehemently.

"He gave us the eight-hour day," shouted a man.

"That's exactly what he didn't give you," retorted the colonel. "Now you poor simpleton, go home and sober up!"

No votes for Hughes were made in Gallup.

At Las Vegas the reporters say that the colonel chided his audience, which had evinced signs of friendliness, with his Mexican war talk, and cheers for the president broke out in larger volume than at the other places in the state where Roosevelt spoke.

He made no votes for Hughes in Las Vegas.

The Carbon City News in its report of the Roosevelt meeting there says: "Practically every one in town turned out to greet the former president. The attitude toward this man has changed greatly since his last visit to the city. In former times he was greeted as one of America's greatest statesmen. On this occasion he was greeted with a marked indifference."

GOVERNOR OTERO AND PRITCHARD TO GIVE 'EM FACTS

Everybody Is Urged to Turn Out and Hear Campaign Orators in Wilson Club Tomorrow Night at 8 O'clock.

Former Governor Miguel A. Otero, one of the best known men in New Mexico, and a candidate on the Democratic ticket for office of state auditor, will speak in Albuquerque tomorrow night, in the Wilson club, beginning at 8 o'clock. Mr. Otero was governor under a Republican administration. He will be accompanied in Albuquerque by Col. H. W. Pritchard, a prominent Progressive Republican.

It is expected that the Wilson club will be crowded to the doors with people tomorrow night, as interest here has been aroused by the big speaking cards in the Democratic campaign. Governor Otero deals in facts and figures. He does not minimize words. He hits straight from the shoulder. He knows the history of Gallup, as Hubbell, of Gillenwater—and other members of the Republican machine.

The Democrats urge every voter, regardless of politics, to turn out tomorrow night and hear the real issues in this campaign.
