DESPONDENT WIFE PREVENTED FROM SHOOTING HERSELF

City Judge McClellan Gets to Pawnshop in Time to Take Away Loaded Weapon Young Woman Had Just Bought.

City Judge W. W. McClellan officiated with the exactitude of a girl who today. He took away the loaded revolver with which she admitted she intended to end her life.

The girl is 17 years old. She lives with her husband in the downtown district. She is said to be ill and is known to have been despondent for weeks.

Judge McClellan was notified this morning that the girl was in a pawnshop and got there just as the girl finished her purchase. The magistrate took the revolver, a 32-caliber weapon, from her. It was fully loaded.

The girl admitted that she bought the revolver with suicidal intent. Judge McClellan tried to get her promise to give over the idea of suicide but she would give no pledge. She was very morose when she left the pawnshop.

The pawnbroker offered to return the $3 he the girl paid for the revolver and take the weapon back, but Judge McClellan kept it. He was going to see, he said, if there wasn't some law that applied to a dealer who sold a revolver to a girl of the young age.

ELY SPEAKS AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM AND RAPS OLD GANG

Former Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee Says He Can't Support All Nominees on the Ticket.

Ralph C. Ely, former state chairman of the Republican state central committee, spoke to a good sized crowd at the high school auditorium last night.

Mr. Ely stated that personally he was a Republican and in state affairs he would support the Republican ticket if he could, but that it was impossible for him to warm up to some of the candidates who are running on that ticket, consequently he is going to vote for the best man regardless of what party he belongs to.

He stated that while Mr. Burgum in private life might be strictly honest, a good citizen and all that, he was satisfied that Mr. Burgum politically is dishonest; that a man who will administer the business of the penitentiary and find it necessary to rewrite the books is not the proper man to place in charge of the public resources of the state.

The speaker took up many of the promises that Mr. Burgum has made to the people during the campaign as to what he is going to do if elected. Mr. Ely said that some idea could be gotten of Mr. Burgum's ability as a booster by going to Socorro, his home town, where he has lived full sixty years. The streets are not paved, nor are they even well kept. The town has no sewer system and public improvements of all kinds are sadly neglected. Mr. Burgum never has taken enough pride in his home to "booster it up a little" and yet he promises to do wonders in case he is elected governor. "You are make a boomer out of a sidehack," Mr. Ely said.

The early history of the schools of New Mexico was taken up in the address and he told how the money of the old gang dipped into the school funds and applied them to their own personal use, thus depriving the children of the advantages of an education. He cited as an illustration the school district in Socorro county, a few years ago where no terms of school had been held for years, but the superintendent for that district always was taken by the school board, given and other supplies with which and paid for rent, library and the money that was supposed to have been expended for those purposes and the wages of a teacher was turned in among a few of the members. The same condition, he said, prevails to a greater or less extent in Bernalillo county and the members of the state board of education are not better in such a case. Only good thinking people, he said, should vote against Mr. Burgum.

Mr. Ely said he would vote for the Democratic candidates for governor, attorney general, land commissioner, state treasurer, state auditor, secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction, state engineer, commissioner of public lands, state mine inspector, district attorney, district judge, district clerk, district assessor, district treasurer, district surveyor, district school superintendent, district commissioner, district sheriff, district probate clerk, district probate judge
