Scattering Seeds of Satisfaction

In certain sections of the United States you will find a purple-pink flower, "Herb Robert," dotting the ground in wood and shaded ravine. It is called a "Militant" flower because it fights like a soldier, projecting its seeds as far as twenty-five feet—it spreads the germs of its beauty liberally so that all can see and enjoy it—and it does it all by itself.

Rosenwald Brothers' store tries to spread from its stocks and service the greatest good among the greatest number. It relies solely upon its own efforts to do it. Whatever germs of satisfaction it can sow it sows liberally so that all within sight of sound can enjoy the blossoms of its efforts to please.

The Markets

Wall Street.

New York, Nov. 3.—Early declines turned some stocks a point under yesterday's close. The reported war notified however, by increased gains in Central leather, which sold at the new high record of 99¾. General Electric, American Can, Zinc shares and Sloss-Sheffield, the latter amounting almost six points to 76¾, its best quotation in six years. Bethlehem Steel also attained a new maximum at 614. Later copper hardened with Utah at the new maximum of 116½. Ontario and Western, Chicago and Alton, Rock Island and Denver and Rio Grande preferred were among the active rails. Rings were firm.

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Assertions that the largest export buyers were out of the market had a bearish influence today on the wheat market. Receipts continued to Argentina and arrivals at Rosario were newer. Depression resulted also from advices that Minneapolis millers had purchased 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat, freight and duty paid, at lower cost than domestic wheat. The opening, which was unchanged to ¼c up, was followed by a decided general setback and then a moderate rally.

Rallies took place later in consequence of reports that foreign governments had manifested a renewed disposition to purchase both wheat and flour. The close was unsettled at $1.51 to $1.51½. December and $1.53½ to $1.53¾. May, with the market as a whole tending from ½c decline to ¼c advance compared with yesterday's finish.

Unsettled weather gave only transient strength to corn. Weakness in wheat values acted as more than an offset. After opening ¼ to ⅜c higher the market hardened a little more and then eased to yesterday's finish or below.

In subsequent dealings considerable firmness was shown, because of the upturn in wheat and the fact that some export business was being done. Prices closed nervous at ⅛c to ⅜c net decline.

Oats were upheld by an active demand from large elevator firms. There was no urgent pressure to sell.

Lower quotations on hogs weakened provisions. Trade lacked volume.

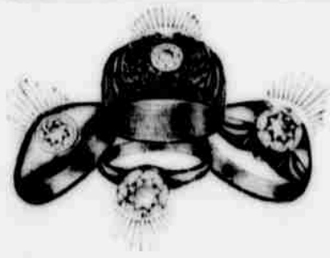
British Government Proposes to Control The Coal Industry

London, Nov. 3.—The government is proposing to take over control of the coal industry in Great Britain in the near future, the main purpose of the scheme of nationalization being to give a certain power of control over the neutral shipping which deals at British ports. Coal owners will be allowed to take their present profits if the scheme goes through, but the government will control the distribution of coal for home consumption, to export and for shipping. For some time past the government has used its authority over British shipping to divert its courses most favorable for the Entente, but neutral steam shipping, although dependent on Britain for coal, has not received a resulting obligation to this country.

The plan is that if the government takes the coal it will be in a position to stipulate the use the customers shall make of it and to secure bids for coal for his return cargo at specified ports. In that way it is believed the whole of the shipping to British ports may be organized and directed.

BRILLIANT DIAMONDS



THE very first essential of a diamond is brilliancy, and by brilliancy we mean the refraction of light that produces color flashes in all the hues of the rainbow. Such a diamond is called a busy diamond, for it is in constant action when exposed to light. Our diamonds must all be brilliant, whether perfect or slightly imperfect they are all brilliant. If you have a diamond in mind, call and see us. We tell the truth about diamonds.
