GOVERNOR OUSTS REGENTS OF STATE COLLEGE

END IS SEEN TO THE LABOR TROUBLES HERE

Agreement Reached to be Submitted to Unions for Ratification

The chances for a settlement of labor troubles in Albuquerque brightened today as a result of a meeting yesterday between the executive committee of the Contractors' association and the executive committee of the building trades council.

After a two-hour discussion of the trouble that came to a head with the demands of the painters' union for a $9 a day wage scale, propositions were agreed upon which will be submitted to a referendum vote of the various unions of the building trades council. The result of this referendum vote will be made known at the meeting of the building trades council on Tuesday night, June 15.

Hope For Approval.

It was said today that representatives of the labor unions who were at the meeting feel confident that the proposition agreed upon will be ratified. It was said that the propositions would not be made public until after the unions had acted upon them.

The propositions, however, contemplate an agreement which will stabilize wages in the building crafts until January 1 and enable local contractors and builders to proceed with building programs which have been held up because of the labor outlook.

Ed Chase, president of the Business Mens association, was asked today by Wm Cote, president of the central labor union, to put off the contemplated investigation by a committee of the Business Men's association of the labor troubles until it was seen whether the agreement of the building trades and contractors committees was ratified.

Mr. Chase had asked Mr. Cote to appoint a committee from the central labor union to confer with the business men's committee. This request was to have been presented to the central labor union at its meeting tonight, but it is probable that the letter will not even be presented.

Forty-Eight Residences Planned.

It was learned today that one of the big building projects that is being held up in the city by the unsettled labor conditions is the erection of 48 homes by the Whitmer-Jackson Sash and Door company. This company which recently started up business in the city planned to put up this number of residences for its employes, but deferred action when it became aware that there might be labor troubles.

"We did not want to get started on the residences and then have to stop them when they were half completed," said Mr. Whitmer today. "So I advised my contractor to hold up plans entirely. We have about 100 men employes here now, which is only about one-third the number we hope to have soon. We are turning out a carload of products a week now, but when we are able to get all our machinery we expect to be turning out a carload a day. We have brought many workmen here from the east and expect to bring more and must find some way to solve the housing problem."

It was said that many other building projects are being held up. In event the propositions reached yesterday are ratified, it is said that Albuquerque faces one of the biggest building booms ever known here.

Committee of 48 Issues Call for Convention on July 10

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHICAGO, June 14.—Asserting that the republican national convention "ignored most of the serious problems and mentioned others only to reveal its unwillingness to face them honestly," the committee of Forty Eight, in a statement signed by Amos Pinchot and other members, said that "Whatever uncertainty existed as to whether there would be a new party candidate for president has been removed." The statement said the organization would adopt a platform and nominate a candidate at a convention here July 10.

STILL PATRIOTIC AT HEART, HUGHES SAYS

Nation Has Not Changed Despite Outward Signs, He Asserts

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WELLESLEY, Mass., June 14.—Charles E. Hughes, in an address at the Wellesley college commencement exercises today, cautioned his hearers that in an appreciation of the difficulties which have accompanied the period after the war "we must avoid a distorted view and we must not fail to realize that the great heart of the nation has not changed in a few months." His subject was "The Patriotism of Peace."

He contrasted the unified efforts of wartime with "the absence of a compelling motive," and "the rush of competing interests," that have followed.

"Unless we have in peace time," he said, "that dominant sentiment which prompts a continuous and self sacrificing devotion to public ends, the sacrifices of patriotism in war will have been in vain. Our national ideals are not bound up in anything short of establishing and maintaining constitutional government as the sure base of liberty.

"It is a spurious patriotism that is linked to the triumph of any creed or class, or becomes the vehicle of bigotry. The common good rested in the essential institutions of justice and individual liberty—that is the national ideal.

"We have talked so much of free institutions that we are apt to think that they will take care of themselves. Our recent and current experiences should disabuse us of this notion. We have too many evidences of a readiness to take advantage of opportunity to establish autocratic administration. The tendency to crave and assert arbitrary power, to use power ruthlessly, is more apparent with us than devotion to the cause of liberty.

"The motto for democracy must be educate, educate, educate," continued Mr. Hughes. "You can find no other security than the intelligence and conscience of the people."

SUES HOTEL FOR LOSS OF HER RINGS

Guest at Alvarado Wants $3,600 Damages for Alleged Negligence

A damage suit for $3,600 for three diamond rings taken from under her pillow while a guest at the Alvarado hotel was begun in the district court this morning when I. Billie Landrum filed a complaint against Fred Harvey.

The jewelry which "Billie" claims to have lost while at the hotel on February 4 was itemized as follows: A 2-karat diamond ring set in platinum with 16 small ones diamonds surrounding the big stone, valued at $2,000; a 1-karat diamond ring with 10 smaller stones, set in platinum, valued at $800; and a cameo ring surrounded by 28 diamonds valued at $1,800.

The plaintiff states that she put the jewels under her pillow for safe keeping while she was occupying a bed in the hotel. She charges that the rings were lost through the hotel's negligence or by the agency of someone employed by the Alvarado.

Miss Landrum was a guest at the Alvarado for about two weeks and later took apartments in the city. She is not here at present. She is said to have been a health seeker.

LARRAZOLO TO NAME A NEW BOARD SOON

Created Deficit of $54,000 at State College Causes Shake Up

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

SANTA FE, N. M., June 14.—Three members of the Board of Regents of the Agricultural College have been suspended and their resignations requested by Governor Larrazolo.

This action was taken last Thursday, it became known today, and grew out of the action of the board in creating a deficit that exceeds the appropriations by more than $54,000.

The governor declared that under his oath of office he could not fail to remove the members of the board.

At the meeting of the board with the governor, held here on May 22, to discuss the situation, Fred Crollott, of Bernalillo county, and J. A. Baca, of San Miguel, tendered their resignations, which have been accepted.

The governor made it plain at that time, he said today, it would be necessary for all members to resign so that a new board might be created.

E. C. Compton was the only member not present at the meeting.

The three members removed are C. L. Hill, president, and James S. Quesenberry, both of Dona Ana county, and E. C. Crampton of Colfax county.

The personnel of the new board will be decided upon within the next few days.

Mr. Crollott said today that he resigned from the board when he learned of the deficit because he knew he would not be able to give as much time to the college affairs as he knew they would require. Mr. Crollott said he had informed the governor that he considered it the governor's duty to discharge the board when they had unlawfully expended the funds.

BUBONIC PLAGUE CASES IN FLORIDA

One Death at Tampico and Another Suspected Case at Pensacola

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PENSACOLA, Fla., June 14.—Infected of the bubonic plague to Tampico, Mexico, was reported to the state department today by the American consul at that port. The first case proved fatal and the consul has been asked to obtain aid.

Arrival of medical supplies at Vera Cruz from the United States was reported by the American consul there, who stated that out of 24 cases of bubonic plague, 23 had proved fatal. Mexican federal authorities have destroyed railway tracks for five miles on all lines leading out of the city.

SUSPECTED CASE AT PENSACOLA, FLA.

PENSACOLA, Fla., June 14.—Inoculation of a guinea pig with serum taken from Peter Giardina, suspected victim of bubonic plague, who died here yesterday, was followed by the death of the animal, state laboratory experts announced today. This was said to strengthen the opinion that at least one case of the dread disease had been established here.

Mrs. Harding Sorry for Husband But Wants Him to Win

WASHINGTON, June 14.—"I am content to trail in my husband's limelight," said the wife of Warren Harding, senator from Ohio and candidate for president. "But I can't see why any one should want to be president in the next four years. I can see but one word written over the head of my husband, if he is elected, and that word is 'Tragedy.'"

"As a matter of fact I much rather have him senator than president. Being senator and being a senator's wife is really a wonderful life. Of course, now that he is in the race and wants to win, I must want him to, but down in my heart—I am sorry."

This most democratic of women, stunning, smiling, delightful, says she has one fad, her husband.

"He is the most wonderful man in the world," she said. "He can differ with people without offending them. His smile, so his friends in Washington tell him, should get him anything he wants.

"I've lived with my husband for twenty-six years, and I know him. I'm not talking for effect, he is all the things that I say he is—and more. The only reason I want to go to the white house is because it is his wish."

CARUSO ESCAPES IN BOMB EXPLOSION

Blast Occurs in Theater in Havana Where He Sings

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

EAST HAMPTON, N. Y., June 14.—Mrs. Enrico Caruso admitted today in a cable message to her husband that she is beginning to feel the strain of the melodramatic incidents which recently have been crowded into her life.

First, the $500,000 jewel robbery here; then veiled threats of kidnaping her daughter; third, explosion of a bomb yesterday in the National theater in Havana, where her husband was giving a farewell performance—these have served to draw even tighter the taut nerves of the tenor's wife.

Not until this morning did Mrs. Caruso learn of the explosion. Motoring to the telegraph station, Mrs. Caruso waited for the office to open. Then she found awaiting her this message:

"Dearest, you have no doubt read of bomb in newspapers. I was in dressing room and unhurt. Don't worry. Caruso."

Much relieved, Mrs. Caruso sent her husband this reply:

"Thank God you are safe, my Rici. Never so worried in my life. Feel years older. All well. Praying for your return, my darling. Embraces. Dora."

Theft of high proof whiskies, rare wines and brandies from the Caruso cellar also was reported today. Mystery shrouds the robbery, but it is understood to have occurred recently.

Embargo on Sugar Export Is Planned

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON, June 14.—An embargo on the export of sugar is included in the plans of the department of justice for relieving the nationwide sugar shortage, A. W. Riley, special assistant to the attorney general, today announced.

Sugar experts during 1920 already have exceeded exports for the whole of last year, Mr. Riley said.

'PITIABLE' THAT U. S. HAS NOT RATIFIED LEAGUE, GOMPERS SAYS

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MONTREAL, June 14.—Despite rejection of organized labor's demands by the republican party, the American Federation of Labor will not abandon its non-partisan political program, Samuel Gompers declared here today at the federation's annual convention.

It is "pitiable" that the United States has not ratified the league of nations, Gompers declared in an address before the federation's convention. If the league covenant were submitted to the American people "without any other entangling questions, it would be overwhelmingly accepted," he said.

The labor draft of the league covenant, he added, "would hold in the reunion of the working people of the world and would help workers in the most backward countries."

Mr. Gompers made a strong appeal to the convention to support the league and lend a helping hand to the toilers of the smaller countries, and aid them to take their places among the civilized nations of the world.

May Submerge Question.

"If a question of this character is brought into a campaign with declarations of all the political parties and all the problems of an internal character, and with the personality of candidates, the whole question of the league of nations may be submerged," said Mr. Gompers.

"It is regrettable that the question in itself had not had an opportunity to receive the consideration and determination of the people themselves. In any event, we are as we are. We are making the best progress possible and giving our aid to any movement that shall help to bring about that day for which poets have sung, and which philosophers have dreamed, and for which the masses of the people have always found it necessary to struggle; that day, or dawn of day, that shall bring universal peace and brotherhood."

Referring to the federation's political program, Mr. Gompers said it had been "carefully outlined to the workers of the United States," adding "we are going to press forward and upward, never lagging in our effort and our force to attain our aims."

Mexican Labor Protest.

He urged that all organized workers give their "moral support" to the demands that labor makes for just recognition of their rights and the rewards of life to which they are rightly entitled.

Secretary Frank Morrison, of the federation announced this afternoon he had telegraphed a protest to the department of labor against the importation of laborers from Mexico to "break" the longshoremen's strike at Galveston, Texas.

REPUBLICANS LAUNCH CAMPAIGN AT CHICAGO HEADQUARTERS; HARDING HAS A BUSY DAY

Senator Swamped With Congratulations on Arrival in Washington—Will go to His Home in Ohio About July 1 After Conferences

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CHICAGO, June 14.—The republican campaign for the election of Senator Warren G. Harding to the presidency was launched today at national committee headquarters here.

While Chairman Will H. Hays conferred with Captain Victor Heintz, regional director, and other leaders, the committee moved from the Coliseum back to its campaign headquarters in a downtown hotel and cleared desks of convention matters in preparation for the coming drive.

The first lot of 5,000,000 lithographs of the candidate will be ready for distribution this week, Chairman Hays announced. The paper was purchased and cut several months ago and pictures and autographs of all the candidates obtained. By a strange coincidence the printer who won the contract chose Senator Harding's picture to demonstrate his work.

CANADIAN PAPERS LIKE HARDING.

MONTREAL, June 14.—Canadian papers today devoted considerable space to comment on the nomination of Senator Warren G. Harding for president of the United States and in general this comment favored his candidacy.

"Mr. Harding has a good reputation, is not an extremist, has shown business enterprise and is thought to have qualities that will commend him to the voters," said the Montreal Gazette.

The Toronto Mail and Empire (conservative) said:

"Senator Harding has been chosen for no other reason than that those responsible for his choice believe he will win, because the party will unite behind him. Under Harding, the people of the United States may expect the sort of government they received under McKinley and which they have not received since."

The Toronto Globe, (liberal) recognizes Senator Harding as a "second choice," and says:

"Public sentiment was echoed in the cheers for Hoover from the gallery but the 'old guard' is always proof against popular impulses. Hoover is not of the professional type of politician and the 'old guard' prepares a man who is 'safe' from its own point of view. Harding has no black marks on his public record and he illustrates in his own career as a self made man, the qualities which appeal to the bulk of his countrymen."

The Toronto Star comments on the large sums of money spent on behalf of men defeated.

"Yet, Harding is perhaps, as sound a candidate as could have been chosen."

The Manitoba Free Press says.

"Senator Harding's candidature is not likely to make much appeal to the restless and unattached voters in the United States, and the democrats, who have tactical advantage of the last word in making platforms and picking a candidate, may find in McAdoo or another, a candidate that may appeal to these elements."

RECEPTION PLANNED FOR GOV. COOLIDGE

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., June 14—Business residents and other citizens of this city, the home of Calvin Coolidge, are today planning a public reception in his honor. It will take the form of a parade which will meet the governor on his arrival from Amherst with addresses by prominent men. Veterans of the world war and local patriotic orders will be in line.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Senator Warren G. Harding, the republican presidential nominee, who arrived here last night from Chicago, put in a busy day today receiving the congratulations of friends and clearing up pending matters in connection with his senatorial duties. He found time, however, to play a round of golf at a neighboring country club.

The republican nominee announced that for the present he would have no statement to make. He reached his office shortly before noon and was given an informal reception by senate employes. While posing for moving picture men, he kept up a running fire of humorous comment.

Among several hundred telegrams of congratulation found at his office were messages from his father, Dr. George Harding, and sister Abagail, sending "congratulations and love," and from former President Taft, Charles E. Hughes, Senator Hiram Johnson, Governor Coolidge, the senator's running mate, Senator Knox and a number of others. These messages were identical with those previously made public.

Message From Sousa.

Senator Harding was especially pleased with a telegram from John Philip Sousa, which said:

"Bless your musical soul. May God's harmonies be with you forever."

Other messages received were from Senator Pomerene, democrat, Ohio, and Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth of Ohio.

No engagements were made today for Senator Harding who desired to rest as much as possible. The senator said he probably would leave Washington the last of the week. He plans to confer before Monday with Chairman Will H. Hays of the republican national committee, and other republican leaders, and then will take a rest before going to his home at Marion, about July 1. When Senator Harding reached his office today he found there a large American flag and vases of flowers, gifts from Miss Cora Nelle Mattern and Mrs. Bruce Lamond, members of his office force, and George Christian, his secretary.

On arriving at the capitol, the senator visited the senate barber shop to see Elder Sims, one of the negro barbers.

"He's the barber who prays for me," Senator Harding said.

"It did me good to see him."

Senator Harding declared that being a presidential candidate, was "more strenuous than anything I have ever known."

Answers Telegrams.

Senator Harding sent replies today to a number of the telegrams of congratulation. This message went to Governor Coolidge:

"Thank you for your message. Your selection for the vice presidency has strengthened our ticket by adding a true great and trusted American. I am honored by the association."

Another telegram congratulating Senator Harding upon his success was signed by Warren G. Harding, 1999 Arthur avenue, New York. It was said that the signer was not related to the nominee.

Callers at Senator Harding's office today included former Senator Sutherland, of Utah, and Senator Fall, republican, New Mexico.

Senator Harding today received the following telegram from Colonel William Cooper Proctor, one of the managers of the Wood campaign:

"Sorry I missed seeing you here that I might congratulate you in person on victory that crowned your plucky fight."

A correspondent of a French newspaper sought to present to Senator Harding a series of questions, but the senator declined to consider them. However, he did say to the correspondent:

"If I become chief executive of this nation, I can assure you that I will foster the spirit of friendship with France."
