WOMAN INDORSED IN WISCONSIN FOR SENATE NOMINEE

Democrats to Put Mrs. B. C. Hooper Against Republican

OSHKOSH, Wis. July 11.—Mrs. Ben C. Hooper, of Oshkosh, Wis., is the first woman in Wisconsin to receive the indorsement of a political party for nomination as United States senator. At the recent state democratic conference she was unanimously chosen to represent the party at the September primaries. This means that she will oppose either I. S. Senator Robert M. La-Follette or Dr. W. A. Dantzler, nominees of pro-different factions of the republican party at the general election.

For the last 15 years, Mrs. Hooper has been an ardent worker for woman suffrage. When women were given the right to vote she was instrumental in organizing the Wisconsin League of Women Voters of which she has been president since its organization in 1919. She was a member of the national committee on Armament Reduction of the Wisconsin League of Women Voters and also was a member of the National American Woman's Suffrage board.

Mrs. Hooper was born in Winneshiek county, Iowa in 1865, and because of delicate health never had an opportunity to attend public schools receiving her education through training of a governess. She has been a resident of Wisconsin for the last 35 years.

Marriage, according to Mrs. Hooper does not destroy woman's identity, and she is quoted as saying: "The time is coming when woman, in her tenacious ability to get what she is after, will find a way of marrying and having a home and family without giving up her identity and independence."

Mrs. Hooper spends a great deal of her time in assisting her husband in a general merchandise establishment, and always finds time to take a food interest in the care of her home.

There is no greater admirer of former President Wilson than Mrs. Hooper, who believes that the ideals he brought before the people of America while president, will live forever in the history of the United States.

During the World War Mrs. Hooper was active in Wisconsin spending a great deal of her time as head of the Liberty Loan drive in Oshkosh and working with the Council of Defense. She is an ardent believer in world peace and believes that her life's work will have been accomplished if she can help bring about an understanding among the nations of the world.

Mrs. Hooper always has urged women to take an active part in politics, saying it was the home that was affected first of all by such measures as taxation, and is quoted as saying: "Advancing taxes affect the home first of all, because it is the only place where the business man dares economize."

This is the first time that Mrs. Hooper has ever taken part in party politics though actively connected with many state movements.

Court Rules on Amendments in Magee Libel Cases

In a hearing before Judge M. E. Hickey of the district court of Bernalillo county this morning the two libel suits of $50,000 each brought respectively by John M. Reynolds and Abram B. McMillen against Carl C. Magee for alleged criminal statements made in the Morning Journal of which he was then editor, were discussed. The motion before the court was to strike out certain parts of the answer filed by the plaintiffs.

In the Reynolds suit Judge Hickey overruled five of the changes designated in the motion, sustained four and also two more in part. In the McMillen case he overruled two of the paragraphs of the motion and sustained the remaining four. The attorneys in the case have 10 days to prepare new amended motions or demurrers and the next hearing of the case will be on July 21.

BONDS SOLD

NEW YORK, July 11.—J. P. Morgan and company today announced that books had been closed on the public offering of $25,000,000 of the New York Central railway company's refunding and improvement mortgage 5 per cent bonds. The bonds were offered at 94 1-2 to yield about 5.30 per cent.

Sellers Sees Need of Changes In Chamber of Commerce If City Is to Make Progress

Returns From Trip West Convinced That New Mexico Is Allowing Other States to Grab Capital While We Are Quarreling

Col. D. R. B. Sellers who returned yesterday from a month's trip to California said today that his observations in the Western states had convinced him that a radical change was needed to Albuquerque and in New Mexico in advertising this state if the city and state is to make the progress in the next few years that other Western states are going to make.

"I am convinced," said Mr. Sellers, "that the Chamber of Commerce is going to have to undergo some changes. I am going to attend the meeting tonight and I shall be frank in stating my position. It seems to me that the work of the past few months has been a decided failure. It might be that some resignations are necessary. I am prepared to hand in mine as director and there should be at least two others that I know of.

"Everywhere I went I found cities and states pulling together and attracting capital. Mines and other natural resources are being developed or developed. New Mexico, which has more natural resources that are apparent on the surface, has been howling about petty things creating discord and driving capital from the state that other states less fortunate in natural resources are eagerly grabbing.

"In my opinion what we need to do is to quit quarreling among ourselves and seeking to belittle our neighbors, our state government and get down to boosting and taking opportunity of our chances.

"I find that the policy of our part of New Mexico is seeking to discredit the highways in another section and vice versa, has resulted in most automobile tourists passing up the state entirely. This quarreling has only resulted in the tourists believing that all New Mexico roads are bad and many are avoiding the state.

"Personally, I resigned as state director of the Park-to-Park highway to give the office to Mr. Redfield of Gallup, in order that we could cooperate in telling the automobile tourists that the highways in New Mexico, no matter by they travel in, are as good as any of the highways through the west.

"The trip was personally very profitable. Last time I went west I covered 2,372 miles and had no trouble of any sort."

Col. Sellers reported that Oakland Shriners are making up a excursion to go to Washington next May to the convention that will be called the "Million Dollar Class." It is expected there will be 500 automobiles in the excursion and they expect to spend a million dollars on the trip. They will pass through Albuquerque according to present plans.

INJUNCTION IN TIETZEL CASE MADE PERMANENT

The temporary injunction brought against the county commissioners to prevent them from paying the $3,000 award for the alleged property damage claimed by George Tietzel, was made permanent by Judge M. E. Hickey in the district court this afternoon.

The scathing petition was advanced by John F. Simms a taxpayer of Bernalillo county against the board of county commissioners, Max Gutierrez, Secario Sanchez and Alf. ez G. Sisneros, chairman. The latter filed an answer with Judge Simms's complaint asking for an injunction in which he desired some court action to prevent the payment of this sum to Tietzel.

SANTA FE STRIKE SITUATION CALM: NO ARRESTS MADE

Unions Claim Nine More Men Quit Jobs; Rocks Are Thrown

The shop strike situation in Albuquerque today took on a more peaceful atmosphere. There were no arrests of striking shopmen or reports of any violence to the sheriff's office or to the police department last night or this morning.

Seventy-five workers gathered at the shop gates this morning to see the men going in to work. No disorder was in evidence, deputy sheriffs being on hand at the time.

Pedestrians passing along the viaducts at 9:45 o'clock last night reported that a group of men were on the viaduct throwing rocks at workers by some were leaving the shop grounds and walking through the yards. J. H. Leveridge was the man who reported this.

Held for Grand Jury

J. Antonio Chavez, who has been employed at the shops for some time, who was arrested by officers on his way to work yesterday morning, was held for the grand jury under $500 bond in the court of Judge George Reddy but failed to furnish bond. Chavez was said to have been carrying a revolver and according to the union pickets pointed a gun at one of them. Chavez claimed that he had more on attempt to use the gun.

Jose Chavez, who was fined $10 several days ago on the charge of carrying a revolver and who also was hauled by pickets when he was on his way to work, furnished an appeal bond this morning which will carry his case to the district court.

Santa Fe officials at the shops this morning announced that more men had been hired for work yesterday and a few more this morning. Only mechanics are being hired at the present time, the company having plenty of helpers on the job.

Men of work in the shop claim that they do not feel that they are taking bread out of anyone's mouth but are providing a living for their own families. They profess that all men have a right to provide for themselves.

It was learned this morning announced that nine union men who had remained on duty when the strike was called here, quit their jobs yesterday. Shop officials said today that a few helpers had quit.

Members of the sheriff's office are of the opinion that strikers from the shops are using methods of intimidation which leads the workers to arm themselves in the belief that they need the weapons for their own self defense.

These intimidations are being made upon the workers, it is said, by telephone, by letter and also by the painting of workers' houses. The sheriff's office is of the opinion that the methods of intimidation here are more prevalent than is generally supposed.

Fearing they are to be attacked, the officials say, the workers arm themselves. This gives the strikers the excuse to attack the strike-breakers on the ground that the latter was armed.

Cabinet Discusses Rail and Coal Strikes

GOVERNMENT WILL SUPPRESS DISORDERS

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The government stood ready today to put down the suppression of any disorders which may arise from the tie-up of railway shopmen to interfere with transportation of the mails or the movement of interstate commerce. Appointment of a number of deputy marshals has been authorized by Attorney General Daugherty.

This policy will be continued "as long as justified and required," the attorney general stated.

The announcement of the appointment of deputies failed to check some the stream of records to the prosecuting departments of interest with mail service.

A U. Crane superintendent of railway mail service at St. Louis, reported in telegrams to Postmaster General Work that "some delay in railway mail service on the Wabash railway were now being experienced."

Mr. Crane added that the situation was serious because of the apparent impossibility of getting mail moved over foreign lines from the names to and in the rail.

Train Held Up

Postmaster General Work received from C. W. Galloway, vice president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company the following telegram today:

"The Baltimore and Ohio was obliged to annul the operation of its train number 48 from Peoria, Ill., to Shinnetown, Ill., yesterday morning and on that account was unable to perform U. S. mail service between these two points on account of action of strikers who would not permit our officers and workers who were on the ground at Peoria to make up trains. The company had equipment in proper condition and forces necessary to operate this service, but was prevented from doing so by failure of local authorities to maintain order and provide protection for our employes. I am bringing this to your personal attention in view of the possibility of more extensive and more difficulties in this connection."

In many instances it was said postal inspectors had failed to notify officers sent to the department by railway officials. In Missouri and Louisiana, it was reported, inspectors had joined with railroad officials there and had been ordered to them.

Report to Cabinet

The situation was discussed at a cabinet meeting today by Attorney General Daugherty, who has recommended drastic action by federal courts. Issues in the pending court proceedings have made certain of the facts as reported. It was intimated at the department of justice that the postmaster general was prepared to lay before the president at today's cabinet meeting a complete picture of all alleged interference with mail.

EDIE SENES WORK TO OUTSIDE SHOPS

NEW YORK, July 11.—J. J. Kennedy, railroad manager of the Erie Railroad today said that the road is sending 5,000 box cars to outside contractors for repairs and that he had received attractive bids from Canada for the position of repair shops there, low rents and inducements being cited as inducements.

Employment offices and private detective bureaus here have done a big business hiring workers and guards to be placed for shops in Pennsylvania. Those hired as mechanics and assigned to locomotive shops and round-houses were first class skilled labor.

President Loree of the Delaware and Hudson, a coal carrier, issued a statement saying he said "can run until Christmas without reopening equipment repair shops even though the coal strike should end."

NORFOLK AND WESTERN CLERKS CALL TO STRIKE

Roanoke, Va., July 11.—Not a single clerk reported at the general offices of the Norfolk & Western railway here this morning at 10 o'clock, the time set by Chairman C. E. Lipscomb of a general walkout authorized by Grand President Freeman of the clerks' union, according to a statement made at the office of the railway president at 10 o'clock. Information regarding effect of the strike call at other points along the system was not available.

54 TRAINS TAKEN OFF BY WABASH RAILWAY

DANVILLE, Ill., July 11.—Fifty-four trains have been taken off the Wabash railway, it was announced here today. Officials said the curtailment was due to lack of coal coming from Kentucky and not to the shopmen's strike.

200 TROOPS GUARD SHOPS IN KANSAS

TOPEKA, Kan., July 11.—Two hundred national guardsmen arrived at Herrington today to guard the Rock Island shops and the water main leading from the city pumping station to the shops, according to an announcement issued at the governor's office.

Some of the jiu-jitsu experts in Japan know every artery, bone and nerve in the human body and how to render them inoperative.

City Commission Is Booked to Have Busy Time Tonight

The members of the city commission are looking for a busy session tonight. Due to the failure to meet last week on account of meeting night falling on July 4, a heavy a pile of business has accumulated, City Manager Burt H. Atkins announced today.

Preparations for the second street paving program which has been held up temporarily because of the desire of the City Electric company to put in a cheaper type of paving within the car tracks is likely to be discussed tonight. City Attorney H. H. Jamison is scheduled to give an opinion as to whether the street car company could put in a cheap paving without putting the matter up to the property owners for approval. The city attorney said this afternoon that he expected to have his opinion ready before the meeting tonight.

The city engineering office has been at work on sketches regarding plans for a stronger viaduct and it is likely that the viaduct will come in for a share of discussion at the meeting. The commission also is to take some action on the $450,000 bond issue recently voted for city improvements.
