Two Horse Thieves Taken From the Bernalillo Jail and Hung.

A New York Editor Arrested for Slaying the Mayor of His City Witnesses a Dog Fight.

The New York Tribune Thinks a Panic Will be the Result of the Railroad Speculations.

Severe Weather Reported From all Sections of the Country---A Napoleon Warrier.

Special to the Gazette.

Bernalillo, N. M., Dec. 28, 9:30 p. m.—Two horse thieves names not learned, who were captured and brought here to-day, were taken out and hung near the depot building.

Can It Be?

New York, December 28.—The Tribune thinks a financial crisis similar to that of 1873 will be the result of the railroad speculations. Take for example the several propositions to build roads across that thousand mile belt seperating the Mississippi basin from a narrow wringe of fertile soil and scanty population on the Pacific slope besides the original Pacific road which after ten years experience finds it impossible to get returns and which is more than equal to all that can be put on it. Another is so nearly completed that the junction of the Eastern & Western portion of the Rio Grande is expected early in the New year. The census shows the population of California to be 850,000 and less than a million for the whole Pacific water shed. One would suppose that with free ocean way the isthmus route and two railways in operation that all trafic would be accomodated to and from the Pacific. It is madness to think of heap money to propose to build at least five more railroads. One on Canadian, two on Mexican territory and two at least on our own. The Northern Pacific for which there may be some excuse in the next generation, has yet to encounter its most formidable difficulty of long expensive winters in crossing the Rocky Range of the continent. Five-sixths of the road has even less population than Kansas and some counties with scarcely a vestige of population or any thing on which to support it. The Pacific road is not maintained in its present condition by dry observers, as it is fleeced through its life, and, if I mistake not, by Texas roads more of a speculating character. What looks to me most like folly for embarking in any speculation is for a railway company to borrow money to build with and leave a ballance to pocket as profit.

A Chinese Entertainment.

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 28.—The Chinese have a Sunday School in this city and last night gave a peculiar entertainment. There are thirty-three Chinamen in the class but only thirteen took part, owing no doubt to this being wash day. The event took place in the Reformed Presbyterian church on Clinton street which was packed to the door by an interested audience.

Chan Pan Fu, one of the most intelligent Chinamen in the city and now employed as a clerk in a Pearl street shoe house made an address in English. It covered four pages of foolscap and was upon Chinese school life and Chinese marriages. His English is good but his grammar is defective. He spoke of the habit Chinamen had in this country of going along the street but attending to their own business and said they had been brought up that way in China. He declared that the Chinese never associate with women in their own districts and do no courting generally. Parents are the match makers. Chan declared that there were no divorces in China and marriages there were always happy ones. The speaker referred but three times to his manuscript and spoke from memory.

Among the attractions was singing by the class of "Rock of Ages" in Chinese. They also sang a psalm in Chinese and then repeated it in English.

Can Not Find Authority.

New York, Dec. 28.—The Post is unable to find quotable authority for the report of the contemplated union of the Central and Union Pacific companies although it has reason to believe that the reports are not wholly groundless. Owing to the report that the companies would be represented by $125,000,000 in stock half, or $62,500,000, to replace the $51,000,000 of Union Pacific outstanding and the other half to represent $58,000,000 of Central Pacific stock.

The Billiard Tournament.

Paris, Dec 28.—The decision of the referee in the Slosson-Vigneux match is being severely criticized even by the French billiard experts. It is understood that Picota who acted as referee in the previous international match unreservedly condemns the mistake made by Slosson in not laying down his cue and refusing to play out the match as he was a long way ahead of the score of his antagonist. His action could not have been mistaken.

Cool Weather.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—The thermometer this morning was as low as eighteen degrees below zero in the city but the Government observation was only nine below zero. The weather has moderated only a trifle from the extreme cold and at one o'clock was seven below. It is likely that to-night will be the coldest of the season.

At Milwaukee this morning it was nineteen below and at Minneapolis twenty-eight.

After the Storm.

Long Branch, N. Y., Dec. 28.—Railroad travel has been resumed on the different roads but the inland towns not visited by the railroad are in a state of siege as only a few pikes have been broken. The damage to the property along the shore is from $125,000 to $150,000. The sea is still very high and has carried away some of the jetties at Highland which protected the railroad bed from washing away.

Libelous.

Troy, N. Y., Dec. 28.—H. N. Cuningham editor of the Troy Telegram was arrested this afternoon and lodged in a cell at the second precinct station on a warrant charging him with criminally libeling Mayor Edward Murphy. The libel claim consists in a statement by that paper to-day that the Mayor attended a dog fight yesterday and that he was said to own one of the contestants.

An Old Veteran.

Wheeling, Decem er 28.—Anthony Meiner, aged ninety-three died to-day. He fought with the great Napoleon through his campaigns and was wounded. He witnessed the burning of Moscow and was at Leipsig and Waterloo. He is in full vigor at his death and was the oldest Mason in the United States having joined as a minor.

Sad Death.

Twist Hill, Id., Dec. 28.—Mrs. Sutter, a widow, gave birth to a child Friday night which she placed in a shed behind the house allowing it to freeze to death. Returning she died to death in her bed when she was found Saturday morning between her two children aged four and six.

Vials of Wrath.

Paris, Dec. 28.—Selva in to-day's Figaro empties vials of wrath on Grevy and Gambetta for taking so much interest in the Vigneux-Slosson match and so little interest in literature. "The fact is," observes Selva, "they snap their fingers at literature and adore billiards."

New York, Dec. 28.—A Washington special to the Evening Post says: Ex-Secretary Thompson leaves for New York to-day on business connected with the Panama canal scheme. It is understood that the American branch of the company will be organized at once.

No Failure.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Regarding the failure of the Milwaukee firm the manager of the Chicago branch, John Agnes states that there was no truth in the story of the failure. This is a step that had been contemplated for some time.

Lack of Room.

New York, Dec. 28.—There is complaint of lack of shipping room for grain at this port. There is also a great stringency in money although the treasury interest payments begun this morning.

Will Arrest the Lynchers.

Allentown, Pa., Dec. 28.—District Attorney Yerkes issued warrants for the arrest of all who participated in the lynching of Snyder. He says he will do his duty fully in the matter but fears none will be found willing to convict.

Net Balance.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—The Inter Ocean has a Washington special to the effect that the state foreign department shows a balance of trade in favor of the United States as against other countries is $211,000,000.

A President Suicide.

Geneva, Dec. 28.—The suicide of President Anderwen, of the Swiss Confederation is attributed to temporary insanity. He believed his life endangered by secret enemies.

Gone to His Rest.

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Moses Bunker, a noted horse and cattle breeder of Cedar county, Iowa, is dead. His farm of 960 acres is one of the best in the state. He went overland to California in '49 with an ox team.

Dying.

New York, Dec. 28.—District Attorney Phelps is reported dying from acute rheumatism of the stomach contracted at his wife's funeral a few weeks ago.

Untrue.

Quebec, Dec. 28.—The sensational stories with reference to the unusual military precautions and preparations at citadel are said to be untrue.

Kearney's Statute.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 28.—The bronze statue of Gen. Philip Kearney was unveiled in the park here to-day, with imposing ceremonies.

Shot Dead.

Glen Falls, N. Y., Dec. 28.—John Show while sitting at the window of his residence last evening was shot dead by an unknown assassin.

Snow in Texas.

Galveston, December 28.—The News says there are reports of heavy snow storms throughout the southern part of the state.

The Severest Storm.

Bay Side, N. Y., December 28.—The severest storm of the most severe kind that has occurred for many years.

Parnell Claim Interest.

New York, December 28.—Figures show that $6,580,000 money has already been paid on account of the Parnell claim.

Snow.

Hannibal, Dec. 28.—It has been snowing heavily all the afternoon.

—Geo. F. Canis, of the GAZETTE, went to the front yesterday for the purpose of gathering all the developments connected with the Socorro trouble.

—A Mexican captured a weasel in the mountains a few days ago and brought it to town. The little fellow looked nice with his beautiful white winter coat on.

—Governor Lew Wallace left Santa Fe for Washington, Sunday morning. In reference to his trip Gov. Wallace says that its special object is to see the committees on Territories of both the Senate and the House and to ask their aid in securing a repeal of the law prohibiting the military to assist the civil authorities, or at least some change which will allow New Mexico to be made a special case. Governor Wallace is greatly impressed with the importance of ridding the Territory of the gangs of cut-throats which now infest the borders, preying and holding it up to the world as a lawless, unnatural, unaccomplishable project.—New Mexican.

Gov. Wallace has struck the right key note this time, for whatever objections may be brought against the use of the military in the states, certainly cannot be urged in the case of a Territory where no regular state organization exists. If the people pay to support an army it should be used to protect the people from any and all dangers that may threaten them.
