The Tucumcari News
AND TUCUMCARI TIMES

The Tucumcari Printing Co.

Entered as Second-class Mail Matter at the Post-office at Tucumcari, New Mexico, under Act of March 3, 1879.

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY

W. O. HAWKINS
Editor and Business Manager

How easy it is to admire people who agree with us.

—o—

Drop the reins of government occasionally and be a child with your children. Their movements of sympathy with their delights will deepen your influence more than severe disciplining and be remembered longer.

—o—

We see in this world chiefly what we look for. A farmer going along examines the farms, an architect the buildings, a merchant the condition of the markets, a minister the churches.

He who is constantly looking for troubles will find them scattering our glorious wilderness. He who is watching for blessings will find them letters and clothes scattering in our path of pleasantness.

Light falls on earth among natural beauty we looked the sky, and in quietly brought to day or at night meets with ten thousand times ten thousand lands of light; we the earth in the long, green all happy and round with glorious and in dance and song, making old time new well feel young again.

—o—

For a good, everday household angel give us the woman who laughs. Her pretty may be not always right and the best occasionally forgetful. Her bread and bungs to replace missing but her out for solid comfort all day and every day she is a real angel. Home is not a battlefield for the one long, swinging fight. The wife always sees the bright side of life, notwithstanding the fact is very important to her, some of the things an woman should be with out. We are not all born with sunshine in our hearts or the Lord would not have made provision for umbrellas. We only try.

—o—

Is there a cyclone in your family? Are the shutters closed? Open them open wide. Let the light of God's love flash forth upon the dense night of the world's sorrow and sin. A cheerful countenance, a voice of divine melody with the ring of faith, hope and love in it will inspire the hopeless with hope, the doubter with trust, the lovers with joy and energize the lifeless. When the heart is weary and pain, love and hope heaven's blue, the universal immortality face to face antidote for pessimism and despair, and to the soul sorrow darkness and the shadow of death, it brings a message of the larger, better, nobler life. Throw open the shutters.

—o—

[illegible]

—o—

[illegible]

influence that is formidable for the amelioration of the whole human family. Many a prodigal has been led by the thought of home, and the markers of his own particular home, to repent of his sins and to change his course in life, and many an unfortunate one has been saved in the evil hour from suicide or worse by the tender recollections of home, a fond mother's prayers, an indulgent father's counsels, or a sister's pleadings or tenderness.

You who are helps to make a happy home confer a benefit on mankind that can never be fully estimated. Indeed, the influence of the true home for good is absolutely incalculable and reaches to more than we can enter its inner course. Simply to get a glimpse of it is to receive an impulse toward better things, to obtain a more exalted view of life, and to feel an access of faith in God and in the immortality of the human soul. It is like a vision of the glories of the New Jerusalem and the everlasting habitations, and not one can be wholly bad who has been such things.

—o—

HIGH COST OF SELLING

A farmer who is hoeing watermelons in Oklahoma or a Rock Island station in Oklahoma. They were to be shipped to St. Paul. A man who happened to see them had seen it been in St. Paul and knew that melons were retailing there at [illegible] cents each. The farmer said he was getting only five cents apiece, and that it took him all day with two teams to haul the melons to the railroad. While he in the fields who came along and then, in the road they made [illegible] of the expense of getting the melons to market. This was their showing:

	Amount	Percent
To the farmer	$ 52.00	[illegible]
To the hauler	[illegible]	[illegible]
To the railroad	[illegible]	[illegible]
Other expenses and profits	[illegible]	[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] St. Paul.

[illegible] Mr. [illegible] Wonder's Week, [illegible] Nov. 1, 1912, [illegible] Nov. 1, 1912, [illegible] Nov. 1, 1912