B. V. Enjoys Fine Program—

One of the best programs of the year—one replete with intense meaning to the mothers and daughters of the club—was given on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Reed Holloman. The roll call responses, which were witticisms of children, provoked much merriment. Each mother had some bright saying of her own particular offspring to tell and the originality of most of these witticisms would have done credit to LIFE or JUDGE or any of our numerous publications.

Mrs. W. B. Jarrell had prepared a most excellent paper on the early training and development of children which was a credit to its talented composer. Mrs. Falkenberg read a thought creating or Good Literature for the Little Ones. A generous discussion of "What Should I Tell My Child About" was led by Mrs. Noble with the aid of Mrs. Dunham. Mrs. Crofford read one of the mothers present and proved to be a genuine Dr. Crafts in expository meeting. Perhaps the most delightful number of the afternoon was the entertaining original games and talks by Mrs. Davis, Jones, Hilliard, Burgess, Mrs. Dick's Best Chums. This extension course is a delight and we have been all mothers and is indeed a blessing to all because was truly one of the best numbers for the club year book. We shall look for a paper on the results of this paper at an early date. The program was closed with the reading of De Maupassant's masterpiece, "The Dowry." Next club will be Mrs. Meadows' home and Mrs. Meadows' was selected hostess. The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. Jarrell next week.

Dance at Opera House—

The weekly dance at the Rialto Opera House on Saturday evening was an especially pleasant affair with a number of the society people in attendance. Each dancer present appears to enjoy the evening and was not loath to say so. The dancing arrangements were in charge of the proprietors and the music was furnished by the Jones Band. The dance will be held the last Saturday for Sunday morning.

The Play Monday Night—

Doubtless the strongest play ever presented upon the boards in Tucumcari was "The Fatal Wedding" presented Monday night by the Fatal Play Co. with Mr. Hugh Swift in the leading role supported by a splendid cast. The play was essentially a man's play, showing forcibly the unwise temptations to stray from the straight and narrow path which the most of us realize are the things. As a matter of the furtherance of politics, and incidentally the entertainment of Mr. Koch's friends, The high tragedy in the second act was so very realistic as very forcible in showing and getting that man's success must necessarily be based on his fearless doing things after seeing that are.

Bridge Party—

Mesdames Hugh Lynch and Norris Flannigan entertained at bridge on Thursday afternoon and a very pleasant afternoon was spent at the game which the result that Mrs. Hugh Swift won the first prize, a handsome hand painted vase and consolation, Mrs. Sherrill, a pretty hand-painted [illegible] and Mrs. Frank Donohue, the cut prize, a cake plate.

The hostesses served a tempting salad and ice course. About fifty ladies were in attendance.

Quit at Ten Club—

Dr. and Mrs. O. E. Brooks were host and hostess to the members of this club on Wednesday evening of this week and the usual rounds of bridge constituted the evening's entertaining. The high scores were made by Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Goldenberg, who captured the club prizes. The special guests of the evening were Mrs. Prentice, Sr., and Miss Bendheim.

The refreshments served on this occasion were especially worthy of mention.

Embroidery Club—

On last Friday afternoon Mrs. C. H. Chenault was hostess to the Embroidery Club at her home in the suburbs and a most delightful afternoon was spent with the usual diversions of conversation and needle. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Reed in serving a tempting salad course. A full quota of club members were present and the special guests of the hostess were Mesdames Stanfill, A. D. Goldenberg, Carlisle and Miss Bendheim.

Entre Nous Club—

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lawson very pleasantly entertained this club on Friday evening of last week. The fortunate high score winner of the games were Mr. Hugh Swift and Mrs. Menefee to whom were awarded the club prizes. The hostess served a dainty ice and suggestive course. The special guests were Messrs. Carrie and Wilson and Messrs. Copley and Hunter.

Crochet Club—

Mrs. C. Mae Smith entertained the crochet club on Tuesday afternoon with the usual quota of members and Misses Hendren, Mrs. Meadows and Mrs. Prentice, Sr., as guests.

Mrs. Smith served a salad course which was fitting close to the afternoon's diversions.

MOTHERS' CLUB MEETING

The January session of the Mothers' Club was held last Friday afternoon, in the High School Auditorium, the hour being devoted to gleanings from the Child Welfare Magazine. Before the program was taken up a number of announcements were made, the one of greatest interest being of the establishment of a State Club Woman's Magazine next month, the editor and publisher thereof is our most gifted woman, Mrs. Ruth L. Simon, of Artesia. The magazine will be in touch with all state club work, will have all the department departments, and will offer some $100 for the best papers on certain subjects, publishing the winning papers. It will be but 25 cents the first year. Resuming the business session, the program was given, as follows:

Music—"The Flatterer" Chaminade, by Dolton Brown.

Importance of Work for Children, by Miss Grace Jeffrey.

Benefits of the Kindergarten as a Social Center, by Mrs. Reed Holloman.

Songs—"The Raymon and The Frogs" Boys from Miss Roy's room.

Kindergarten Training a Preparation for Motherhood, by Mrs. H. C. Chambers.

Reading—"Prisoner" Miss Stella Alford.

School Gardens, Mrs. Lee Snyder.

Advantages of the Kindergarten, by Miss Willie Lowing.

Every number was thoroughly enjoyed and we have the assurance that the February meeting will be an unusually interesting one and a large attendance is expected. Everyone is most welcome.

UPTON—RAINS

We acknowledge receipt of the announcement of marriage of Miss Marguerite Upton to Mr. Luther Pinkney Rains, on Wednesday, January 22, 1919 at the residence of the bride at Solano, N. M. The bride is one of Solano's popular young ladies, and has many friends in this city.

The groom is connected with the Rock Razor and has been for years, and is widely known. The News joins their most of friends in extending best wishes.

NEW YORK

Mr. Kirchberg,
care The Nordberg Store,
Tucumcari, N. M.

Dear Sir:—

While in your city one month, I purchased some chewing tobacco at one of your stores named "Apple and Stem." Have been trying to get chewed up a piece but it seems that the handles. And enclosing this with the receipt in passage and shall be greatly obliged if you will get some at this for me and mail it to the above address by parcel post.

Thanking you for your kindness, I remain, Yours truly,

Harry Schwartz

The above shows that Tucumcari is on the map and handles desirable goods which the customer failed to find in New York. Yes, we are going some.

The horse the Rialto White Charger Kemp is entertaining is out of the question. He is the sweet that queens have the blonds and radiates sunshine and good fellowship. Many say it is worth the price of admission just to see Kemp.

The following letter was received by Joe S. Hofer, Sec'y, from the bureau that furnishes the numbers of our Lyceum Entertainment Course, and removes all doubt of failure for the next number of the course, at the Evans next Monday, Jan. 27:

"Regarding Mr. Kemp, his usual plan is to give some of his miscellaneous readings along with his monologue. You will find this a more satisfactory way than a program of mixed readings. You need not worry about Kemp. Bill him and bill him strong. He is one of the biggest things in the lyceum. He goes from us to another bureau next year at about double the salary we can pay him. You can never buy Kemp any more at your present price. He will satisfy you fully in every way.

"Sincerely yours,
Midland Lyceum Bureau."

To Whom It May Concern:—

Having been advised by members of the Advisory Board of the First Christian church of this city, that this board has made a thorough investigation of the charges and rumors against the character of Rev. A. H. Mahon and Board has found nothing inconsistent in his life or character, we, the pastors of the city, wish to express our confidence in this investigation, in the Advisory Board of the First Christian church and in Rev. A. H. Mahon and County Board of the First Christian church on Jan. 19th, 1919, ratify the action of this Board in the exoneration of Rev. A. H. Mahon.
