A South Missouri girl waved her hand at a stranger, and in three days they were married. Two days later the young wife waved a flatiron at her husband, and the next evening he came home waving a divorce.

Irrigation does not mean that you can put in 160 acres of corn or wheat. It means that you can grow prosperous on five or ten acres. If you must put in 160 acres of wheat, all right, put it in, but also go to work with your little irrigated farm. Put out a choice variety of fruit trees, blackberries, raspberries, etc. Put out an acre of alfalfa, put in an acre of potatoes, cabbage and onions. If the rain comes, your wheat and everything else will be all right, but if the drouth comes go to work with your water plant and succeed anyway.—Ex.

The idea that irrigation is not a success where it is fifty feet or more to water is exploded by practical experiments in this county. A number of farmers whom we might mention are pumping water from wells 100 to 150 feet deep into their reservoirs, from which they flood the land. The farmers upon the high prairies are making extensive preparations to irrigate next year. To be sure they do not expect to irrigate 160 acres, nor can that be done in any country in the world, but they will irrigate from one to ten acres easily.—Western Times.

In proportion to the size of the city in which it is printed, The Kansas City Star has a larger circulation than any other American newspaper. Its remarkable success has been achieved by its unfaltering adherence to the rule of giving its readers the best that The Star's increasing revenues could furnish and its improved facilities could supply. The Star was the first newspaper to give its readers a full week's papers—six evenings and Sunday morning—for 10 cents, a thing that could not be profitable except when done on the big scale on which The Star does everything. The Star was also the first to establish a weekly edition for the trifling price of 25 cents a year; 110,000 regular circulation for the weekly edition demonstrates the wisdom of the idea.

The western girl is not "raised by hand." She has grown up in the sunshine, and she knows all the facts of life and her knowledge is good. She is strong and womanly and has no sort of a morbid notion about the creature man. She is of as much strength and consequence as he. A chaperon, in the opinion of the Kansas City Star, would have to be a godless to keep up with the western girl. And when she gets a sweetheart you can depend on it she will handle him all right. And if he wants her to go to the theater she will go and carry herself better than the namby-pamby mamma's hot-house calla lily would in the presence of the insinuating chaperon. If the western girl wants to take a buggy ride with her sweetheart, she'll take it, and Mr. Young Man will do all the driving, too. The western girls should organize against the encroachment of the chaperon. The chaperon is needed in the east, but until the west gets naughty the chaperon is a nuisance.—Ex.

A bill has been introduced in the legislature to compel railroads that hereafter build through the territory to go to the county seat, unless the line of road runs over ten miles distant therefrom. This bill is almost unanimously indorsed by the people of Oklahoma, as many of them have had experience in county seat wars caused by the building up of rival railroad towns. The counties in Oklahoma were formed by the government and the county seats were located near the center in order to prevent all controversy as to their location in the future. The people who located in these county seats have invested their means and exerted their energies in building up those towns on the strength of their permanency as county seats, and the laws of the territory should compel railroad companies to build through the county seats, that the interests of all the people may be promoted thereby. The highest authority has declared these to be public highways, and they should be controlled in the interest of the whole people and not for the benefit of a few individuals to destroy these towns in the furtherance of their own interests.—Woodward News.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Elmwood Pickups.

The weather still continues cold but dry and fine on stock.

Everybody on the creek still has plenty of feed but this is a good time to get rid of it.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Hibbs have for some time past been complaining from rheumatism but are now better.

We hope you will excuse our items for the past week or two as the correspondent has been away.

James Bare has not got the gray wolf yet, but gets a stray dog occasionally that runs with it.

Tom Campbell says it makes a fellow shiver to be among the wool this kind of weather, but Tom is bound to stay with the sheep.

T. J. Weeden says this is fine weather to dance.

Asa Hibbs traded for the improvements on a place in Texas and will move there to his place here.

Sol Blosser still wants hogs and will trade a horse or cow any time for a hog.

Lon Haskell is around the neighborhood asking the people what they own and how much it is worth. Lon makes a good assessor.

H. D. Moses made a trip to the Kiowa last week with two new sets of harness he had made for parties there. He reports a sociable class of people on the Kiowa.

Perry Chilcott is still doing his own cooking.

W. A. Overton lost his case against Isaac Egbert which was tried in the Elmwood Literary Society some time ago. W. A. has not been sentenced yet.

Mrs. Henry Kile brought a pair of fine thoroughbred Poland China hogs from Kansas. They are beauties.

Henry Kile & Sons still have some onions for sale.

M. K. Meadors is making his ditch wider.

Rube Chilcott lost a fine brood sow some time ago from eating from a pie-melon.

Ed Hibbs has a riding plow he would trade for a farm.

We would like to see every neighborhood in this county represented in one or the other of the Beaver papers. Come now, you old correspondents wake up or some new ones take hold and let everybody know what everybody else is doing. We hope to hear from every part of the county this spring for it may be that we are a way behind the times in improving, and if so we want to know it and we will brace up.

UNCLE FULLER.

It is said that a man who won't take a paper because he can borrow one, has invented a machine by which he can cook his dinner by the smoke from his neighbor's chimney. This same fellow sits in the back pew in church to save interest on his contributions, and is always borrowing a ride to town to save the wear and tear on his own horse flesh. Yes, we know him. He is first cousin to the man who never winds up his watch for fear of breaking the spring. He undoubtedly was a near relative of the man who went into the back yard during the recent cold snap, soaked his hair in water, let it freeze, and then broke it off in order to beat the barber out of a hair cut.—Ex.

It will be well for the farmer to consider carefully what he will plant in place of his wheat, if it is injured as badly as some seem to think. It would be folly to risk all on a corn crop. There are a number of other crops that have proven successful that ought to be more generally cultivated. Broom corn has done well, and now commands a big price. Broom corn planted early will be put on the market before that of the northern regions and will always command a good price. It has been suggested by members of the faculty at the Experiment Station, that spring barley would be a good crop. Flax, kaffir corn, oats and many other crops could be planted that will diversify the crops, and save the risk of a single crop. The sooner the farmer goes to work systematically to stock his place with cattle, hogs and poultry; sets out a good orchard, raises vegetables and a moderate sized field of wheat and corn, the sooner will they get in such a position that a single failure will not be felt so heavily.—State Capital.

SCRATCHED 3 YEARS

Suffered, Scratched, and Bled. Doctors No Relief. Cured by Two Sets Cuticura Remedies.

I wish to express my thanks for the benefit I have derived from using CUTICURA REMEDIES. Nothing like them was ever manufactured. For three years have I suffered with a sore head. I would break out all over my head with pimples which would form a watery matter, and I would have to scratch until I would bleed. After doctoring with two doctors for three years, more or less, I finally made up my mind to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES with result entirely satisfactory to me. After using two sets of CUTICURA REMEDIES, I am entirely cured. I have recommended your remedies to several persons, and they all tell me they are No. 1. Our druggist is doing a nice business in CUTICURA REMEDIES, since my cure. I have given him the privilege of using my name as proof of their efficiency. I enclose my portrait.

A. F. GRAMM, Photographer, Mt. Horeb, Wis.

My wife has been troubled with the salt rheum for four years. During this time doctors of Wisconsin, Illinois, and the most eminent doctors of Chicago, failed to give relief. I bought the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and she used only one box of CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP, and half a bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and these have cured my wife completely.
