WHAT WILL YOU BE WHEN YOU ARE SIXTY-FIVE?

—You will be ahead or behind the game. That is certain? But it all depends on what you do now.

—Of the average 100 people just 1 is wealthy at 65; only 3 are well to do; merely 6 are living on their incomes; 54 are living on friends and charity; 36 die before reaching their 65th birthday. It is easy to tell who had a bank account.

—The odds are stacked against you 92 to 1 if you don't save a little every pay day.

Spliv and Splav Have a Few Words About Post

The 24th Infantry Service Club dance was well attended and all the latest "get your proper interval" dances were in great demand.

Private First-Class Lewis Janusky, Medical Department, has picked up his old job of meeting the eastbound train, but now he is only expecting two steamer trunks.

The Gravel Mashers (24th Infantry) are wondering why it is the Pill Rollers (Medical Department) are the talk of the whole town. Ask any Pill Roller. He will explain.

Sergeant Sunny Houston, regimental police sergeant, is the only man in Camp Furlong with a yard of pure green grass. He can be found daily between 7 and 8 o'clock in road up to his knees watering his lawn.

Sergeant Joe Anderson, M company, 24th Infantry, who was until recently in charge of the Khaki Club, has been relieved from his old job and can be found as sergeant of the guard about every four nights.

Sergeant Joe Blackburn, Q. M. C., has quit vamping around the post office corner. He says Spliv and Splav are putting the ladies wise and they don't use the lobby any more to seek information as to whether hubby was on guard or in charge of quarters.

Sergeant Hiram D. Dobson attended the 24th Infantry Service Club dance with a first-aid disguise. Well, Hiram, it could have been done to Mr. Payne's service car, all right, but what we are trying to figure out is, in what position were you sitting to get a bump like that? You should have put your speed to a test.

Tom Tom of the Yaquis On Way to Mexico City

[By Associated Press.]

MEXICO CITY, June 25.—Once again the monotonous but ominous "tom-tom-tom" of the Yaqui Indians is being heard outside the confines of Sonora.

General Plutarco Elias Calles, provisional secretary of war and marine for the new revolution, is taking with him more than a thousand of "Sonora's finest" on his 1600-mile trip from Agua Prieta to Mexico City to assume the duties of his new office.

The strumming of the Yaqui drums long has been a cause of uneasiness among many of Mexico's other soldiers. Bearing the reputation of being a fearless and ferocious fighter, the Yaqui has frequently been said to be able to put his enemy to flight by the mere sound of his burro-skin "tambor."

There is another and less sinister side, however, to the life of a Yaqui soldier. He carries his home life with him to the battlefield. His wife, his children, his birds, all form part of his impedimenta.

When not in action, the Yaqui warriors do not present formidable figures. They may be distinguished from other tribes chiefly by their peculiar copper line and the band of bright red they wear around their hats. The routine of their camp life is quiet and orderly.

The Yaqui lad is reared in an atmosphere of war. Should his father fall in battle, the boy picks up the ancestral rifle and begins the realization of his martial destiny.

WARNING: DON'T TAKE YOUR NEIGHBOR'S PAPER

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 25.—The carrier boy didn't leave Joe Gotta's paper regularly. Joe found it easier to lift his from a neighbor's porch. Caught. Pinched. Fined $7.50.

Where Democrats Meet

day are described as "typically Californian."

Weather records running back to 1921 indicate cool "imperial" weather for the convention period. Overcoats and hats of spectators and participants may be checked free of charge in permanent stations scattered throughout the building.

The auditorium stands in the open Civic Center that offers much space for parking automobiles. One corner touches Market street, the city's principal thoroughfare, which has two surface street car lines running in each direction, and it is 11 blocks from the Palace Hotel, where national committee headquarters are located.

The San Francisco committee that pledged $125,000 to bring the convention here is headed by Charles W. Fay, postmaster; George F. Mars of Bridgeport, Connecticut, representing Homer S. Cummings of Stamford, Connecticut, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, who has been here for nearly six months overseeing arrangements for the convention.

Cummings is to be temporary chairman of the convention. He will be presented by Kremer, vice chairman of the National Committee.

E. G. Hoffman of Fort Wayne, Indiana, secretary of the committee, will act in a similar capacity for the convention, being assisted by W. R. Hollister of Jefferson City, Missouri, executive secretary of the committee. Colonel John L. Martin of St. Louis is honorary sergeant-at-arms and J. J. Hughes of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, is active sergeant-at-arms.

Wilber W. Marsh of Waterloo, Iowa, is treasurer of the National Committee and W. D. Jamieson of Washington, D. C., is director of finance.

The press section will be in charge of James D. Preston, superintendent of the United States Senate press gallery, assisted by William B. Donaldson, superintendent of the House of Representatives press gallery.

An English astronomer has invented a device that tells the elevation of meteors above the earth, the length and direction of their courses and the places of their entrance into and exit from the atmosphere.
