A GIGANTIC CONTRACT

To Be Let by the State for the Drainage of the Everglades.

Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 29.—Within the next month Florida, through the board of trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund, will let a contract that will probably be the largest awarded in many years by any Southern State and one that will result in the completion of the great Everglades drainage project within a comparatively short time.

The board has issued official notice calling for bids upon contracts for the digging of over three hundred miles of canals. It is estimated that the total amount involved in the contract will be upwards of $3,000,000.

The proposals must cover the excavation of 300 miles of lineal canal, ranging from 40 to 100 feet in width and from 6 to 10 feet in depth. The trustees reserve the right to contract for more or less excavating, but not for less than 100 miles of canal. A time limit will be set upon the work before the contract is entered into with the successful bidder. No advance payments will be made, but the contractor will be paid as his work progresses.
