THE DAILY SUN,
GAINESVILLE, FLA.

Don't worry. Where there's a will there's a way.

Well, you might say that our "Thomas" made the far fig.

The Royal Arcanum has raised its rates and 24,000 members have dropped their insurance.

Admiral Togo's submarine fleet that he established at the Sea of Japan trouble, is not of the self-rising kind.

There isn't much discord in Gainesville music. Nearly everybody sounded their "aye" in perfect unison on Tuesday.

The frequency with which they are leaving their party proves that the Republicans are becoming Democrats in their views.

Mr. Fairbanks avoids the "limelight" with true Vice-presidential persistance. He denies that he is to build a theater at Springfield, Ohio.

A gentleman declares that "suicide is becoming a grave problem of our modern society." Yes, it's either the grave or the crematory.

If the New Orleans people really want an early frost, they should invite Vice-President Fairbanks. He can produce shivers any time.

Now that the yellow fever germs are overworked and are resting now and then, the New Orleans doctors say they "have the situation in hand."

We suppose the press agent of the Panama Canal Commission, at a salary of $5,000 a year, will also act as censor, where he is most needed.

The fellows who voted against the bond issue might have made a mistake in marking their ballots. At least they should be given the benefit of the doubt.

The only trouble with the Government employes organizing their pension scheme is that so many of them will be incapacitated from their duties on account of overwork.

Gov. Higgins vetoed a bill granting a special "liquor" license to Senator Platt's hotel, and now the Senator has decided that Mr. Higgins cannot possibly have another term.

Secretary Wilson announces that the Government has imported sixty-eight goats from Malta. We are not yet informed whether they are to be milk-goats or "scape-goats" for the Agricultural Department.

The only bad feature about the insurance investigation is that the yellow journals insist on telling the whole truth and every bit of the truth. That is the reason they are so named—they make the evil-doers yell oh!

Attorney Charles E. Hughes is so busy with the life insurance investigation that he will not have time to accept the Republican nomination for mayor of New York City. He is doing more good than he could as mayor. He can hold that office later.

CHINESE EXCLUSION.

The question of Chinese exclusion came up at the very first meeting of the cabinet and Secretary Root, the new head of the State Department, asked Secretary Taft to give the cabinet the benefit of his experiences in the Far East. The Chinese interest was one of the things Secretary Taft had been specially commissioned to investigate. He found that the law as it stood was without doubt incapable of enforcement. It was thought on the desirable class of Chinese merchants who wished to pass freely to visit this country, and it was equally hard on the officials who had the law of issuing passports to enforce. The President has already sent a circular letter to the consuls and immigration inspectors at San Francisco urging them to be as lenient as possible in enforcing the law so as not to unnecessarily offend the Chinese government. It is possible that there will be an effort at the coming session to change the law on the subject of exclusion, and make it more in accordance with the wishes of the Chinese government without entirely letting down the bars. But the chances are that such a measure would be talked to death, for the whole Pacific coast will arise against it.

DON'T BE A TRIMMER.

If you cannot be for a man, tell him so, says The Dublin (Ga.) Times. Meet his request honestly and tell him that you cannot be for him because you are for someone else.

You will thereby not only satisfy your own conscience, but you will be conferring a favor upon him and he will thank you for it. How much better that he should know the truth, than to be deceived by false hopes and expectations. When he shall be never finds out your perfidy and deception—as he is more than likely to do—your treatment of him will win his respect and admiration, and it will never forfeit his friendship, such as will his discovery of the truth.

The "trimmer" in politics is a thing to be loathed and despised. He will sooner or later be found out and regarded on all hands with the contempt he deserves. Be either for or against a man, and be honest and brave enough to tell him so. It is the only right way.

WANTED—MEN.

Now that the "Gainesville spirit" has set to work, there is a demand for men in public places to carry out the will of the people.

The events of the past few months have proven to the people that we have plenty of men capable of doing a great deal to advance the interests of the city, and they should be continued at their posts of duty.

There is much to do in Gainesville, and there should be no let-up until we have the best town in the South. We have the natural advantages and the location.

Now let the men at the head of our municipal affairs do their whole duty.

PAYS HIS WAY.

It is definitely learned that the entire expense of the President's Southern trip, amounting to between $5,000 and $6,000, will be paid by the President out of his own pocket. The President has arranged to defray the expenses of the entire journey at the regular tariff rates and will accept no reduction from those rates.

The great trouble with the Russian soldiers is, that in trying to check a mob by firing at it innocent parties are hit in other portions of the town. If they could only have a little target practice there would not be so many riots.

SUNSHINES.

If pride goes before a fall, how is it that their pride keep so many people up?

Some people make friends and by being too constant make their friends tired.

Osculation in silence is an evidence that they both love beyond expression in words.

The "Gainesville spirit" seemed to be manifested very strongly on Tuesday. We have not got any army of knockers.

Mrs. Roosevelt will come South with her husband, and Alice will probably stay at home and "do" the dishes—prepared by the chef.

Some people who work from week to week and spend all they earn, know what they can depend on all the time, hearing orders and sickness.

A man in Chicago sentenced to be hung is said to be suffering from ossification of the vertebra and tissues of the neck. He will probably be executed by running through a stone crusher.

Sir Robert Ball of London, England, says the sun is too prodigal with its heat and we may have to get some other process if it don't let up. If he had been here this summer he would have loaned Old Sol a pretty warm number.

The question of a warship to take the President from New Orleans to Hampton Roads has been thoroughly discussed at the Navy Department, and it is thought that instead of taking some small protected cruiser of the Tacoma class, the department will assign one of the newest and fastest armored cruisers for that duty. The selection has not been made but it will probably be the Pennsylvania, which holds the speed record for her class. It is also likely that a second ship will be assigned for escort duty. This is not only in keeping with foreign practice, but it is a wise precaution as well.

Friday, November 24, has been decided upon as Confederate Veteran's Day at the coming State Fair at Tampa, and one of the most elaborate programs of the entire fifteen days will be arranged in honor of the occasion. The Third Brigade, Florida Confederate Veterans, will hold their annual reunion on this day, and a cordial invitation is extended by that noted brigade to every Confederate Veteran, wife, son or daughter in the South to attend.

"The Woman in Blue," who has been at Oyster Bay the past summer and annoyed the President with attempts to interview him, has been seen in Washington during the past few days. She is now in Massachusetts.

Now don't stop to praise all who have done something to help the State Fair at Tampa. Wait until Brown Day, and then we can see the fruits of their labors. Keep busy until that time.
