Holly Hill News.

Mrs. Roxby paid us a short visit Tuesday.

On Monday Mrs. G. W. Harris and Mrs. Carter drove to town.

A shark got caught on the night line belonging to the Bunnell boys.

Thos. Wetherel has purchased the lot just north of his home. The new additions to his house is a great improvement.

We are glad to notice that some shell has been put on our bicycle path. It was getting very rough in places, as so many of our winter drivers have no regard for the right of the cyclists and thoughtlessly drove along our path thereby cutting it into ruts.

DR. LOYAL FORD'S DYSPEPTICIDE Is the new and perfect cure for indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, heartburn, sick headache, and all ills from poor digestion. It makes the stomach right. Dr. J. M. Jones.

Port Orange

A girl baby arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Savage last Friday.

Mrs. C. M. Johnson and her little daughter and Mrs. Winn Rodgers drove down Sunday.

Mrs. E. Fair and the children came home from Oak Hill, where she taught school last winter.

Mrs. J. R. Gilman drove down from Blake one day lately and spent the day calling on friends.

J. W. Johnson was in town visiting his mother. J. W. is working in Pablo Beach on the Flagler hotel.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Florence Walker started on her long journey to join her husband in Sotora county, California.

Saturday Miss Dolly Milburn and Miss Annie George, of Rahway, N. J., drove up to Daytona and visited the curio boats and stores.

A jolly party of young folks drove down to Rose Bay, and enjoyed a picnic on the shores of the Halifax. There is only one house, and that is at Ponce Park, that is older than the cottage on Fowler's Point.

Wm. J. Staley, a prominent young lawyer at Frankfort, Ind., left for his home last Thursday. He can give you the particulars of the picnic. He is a very agreeable gentleman and made lots of friends during his stay in Port Orange.

Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Winn, Mrs. Bonny and Mrs. Milburn drove down to Rose Bay and had a picnic under the fine oak trees on the point. Mr. Bradley and Mr. Millburn went down in a boat and arrived in time for luncheon. It is a very pleasant place to have a picnic. Miss Fowler and her sister, Mrs. Welds, make their visitors welcome. Their orange trees are looking first rate; they are also going to have a good crop of plums and chickens.

"I had a running sore on my breast for over a year," says Henry R. Richards of Willseyville, N. Y., "and tried a great many remedies, but got no relief until I used BANNER SALVE. After using one-half box I was perfectly cured. I cannot recommend it too highly." Dr. J. M. Jones.

Hawks Park

Mr. and Mrs. Kimbell, of Cohassett, Mass., and Mrs. M. J. Marshall, of Bradford, N. H., left last Tuesday and go by all rail routes.

The winter guests who occupied the cottages along the Strand, or lived at the Bay View House, have nearly all departed. The glowing fires that blazed upon the hearths in our late cool, wintry evenings, have gone out; the windows that were of late so brightly lighted and gave a cheerful look to the streets are dark and curtained for the summer; the croquet grounds are lonely and deserted; the fishing lines are reeled up and laid away, and the boats are hauled out of the water and covered with palm leaves.

The winter has been a successful business season. The hotel has been filled with old and new patrons, and has sustained its good name and increasing popularity. After the closing of the Bay View last week, Mr. Dunklee, the proprietor, and his family and Mr. Coss, and his son, Harry, took a trip in his sailboat up the Halifax, past your Forest City, and up the Tomoka river. They report having had a fine time of it. Mr. Dunklee left for the North last Sunday, to sail on the Clyde steamship Monday. He will keep a summer hotel at Pigeon Cove, near Rockport, Mass.

Meeting of the W. C. T. U.

The monthly meeting of the Daytona W. C. T. U. last Friday was one of special interest. After briefly dispatching the necessary business there were two articles read which we would like to reproduce in your columns if space would allow.

One set forth the need of, and how many evils of the present time might be removed by "Direct Legislation." Another "Occasion to Fall" by Louise C. Purington, M. D., showed the inconsistency of statements made by one, who has for many years wielded an influence in our homes; one who said, the homes of America and the women who make them have lain very near her heart for forty years.

The love and respect which grew in our hearts for Marion Harland, when she made the statement: "No beverage which contains alcohol should be used; if no one used it there would be no need of temperance societies and inebriate asylums," received a crushing blow, when we read from her pen the following: "I do not hesitate to say that mock turtle soup is not at its primely best unless a glass of wine is added to the mince meat the tureen, and to aver yet contents of that I never tasted genuine more firmly that was not brightened by an infusion of excellent brandy."

Of this Dr. Purington says: "It is both unscientific and bad morals to say that the dangerous elements of alcoholic liquors are removed by cooking. If they are what constitutes the "primely best" of mock turtle soup? How is it that mince pies are only "genuine" when "the excellent brandy" is infused? Ask John B. Gough and John G. Wooley, and all the men who know something about the awful appetite of the drunkard.

And again: "Suppose, however, that one does miss the bait to a perverted taste? A little sacrifice seems worth while—does it not?—to help save a man like John G. Wooley. Although environed in prayer and a stalwart in temperance reform, after years of effort and consecration which dates from his mother's death-bed, ask him about the temptation lurking in the wine sauce, the brandy pudding or the wine in the soup.

If Prof. Atwater had accomplished nothing more he has been instrumental in hastening the scientific verdict as to the nature of alcohol. It is a most powerful excitant and has no value for nourishment. COR. SEC. W. C. T. U.

As we go to press we learn that a big fire is raging in Jacksonville and that six blocks have already been consumed. Reports of the conflagration are very conflicting.

The Popular Clyde Line.

What a beautiful sight it is to see a Clyde ship glide gracefully from her dock in Jacksonville and start on her journey to New York. She is as graceful in appearance as a swan, and is always in ship shape. A tour of inspection of one of these ships just before sailing revealed the fact that they are the perfection of neatness and cleanliness. The staterooms are inviting, well ventilated, cool and pleasant, and to see the crowds of delighted passengers sailing away from the "Land of Flowers" to their northern homes is a sight well worth going some distance to witness. Everyone seemed to be perfectly pleased and happy, and why should they not be? The ships are elegant and fitted up magnificently, staterooms superb, neat and clean. The officers and employes vie with each other in making everybody feel at home, and each chef tries to outdo the other in setting a table of delicacies that would tickle the palate of the most fastidious epicure. Our home people will shortly be making arrangements to take trips north, and if the Clyde Line, with its elegant ships and service, cannot please them in every way, they are indeed beyond the reach of human skill and ingenuity.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

That Medical Bill.

Is Daytona become the enchanted suburb of a modern Alhambra of castles in Spain, just across the Halifax, with its International Scientific Association to give credentials of medical respectability and competency to peddlers of miracles? City Beautiful is the Mecca of Occultism and the New Jerusalem of Mammon. List to the signal from across the river: Blow the horn and blow the trumpet, that the world may hear and be healed! Miracles to order, and certificates of authenticity to suit. Here is the hub of omnipotence and the centre of omniscience. Great is Diana of the Ephesians and of City Beautiful!

Are the pillars of the church and the magnates of respectability of Daytona on their knees to pray for the crumbs that fall from the table of Mental Therapeutics. There may be, and there undoubtedly is, a closer connection between health and life and an enlightened and vigorous conscience than is dreamed of in medical philosophy. But is this treasure the peculiar monopoly of the wiseacres of Postean metaphysics that they warn the Legislature not to trespass with law and order upon their sacred preserves? Mental Therapeutics at City Beautiful is the apotheosis of self. It is the open and bold declaration, "There is no God but me!" This, then, is the boasted world tonic distilled in the mystic laboratory of Postean metaphysics for the benefit of body, and mind, and soul of the ineffably true and good; beautiful power that spreads its peacock tail of omniscience from City Beautiful to Daytona. The fools are not all dead. The doctors and the quacks have not got through. Money makes the mare go and the petitions against law and order come galloping up by pocketbook express. The mills of God grind slowly because society is permitted to grind its own mill of reform. The Legislature has its hand upon the legislative lever and can give us just relief if it will.

C. H. SPENCER.

THE GREAT SCOURGE

Of modern times is consumption. Many cures and discoveries from time to time are published, but FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR does truthfully claim to cure all cases in the early stages, and always affords comfort and relief in the very worst cases. Take no substitutes. Dr. J. M. Jones.
