The following are the questions in orthography propounded yesterday to the applicants for teachers' certificates. It is good exercise for one to make the effort to correctly spell the words and then consult Webster on the result: Rollery, homage, vassilate, holustrade, pencion, parashoot, tranquility, privalige, decline, sraspin, hallibut, acimate, sawdius, stricknin, ennervate, subsidance, telostelle, millionare, sacraficial, portmuna, supersecedure, seeced, reseed, procedure, interceed, extenpore, antypodes, perfession, effulgence, average, extravagant, exagerate, enrollment, falacy, gauzing, separate, succede, scholarly, successful, tyrannical, capsize, shadow, provision, assigning, restlee, recession."

Tossed on the Foaming Billows!

You may never have been, but if you cross the Atlantic, no matter how smooth the watery expanse, without sea sickness you are—well, a luck voyager, that is all. Old tars who have spent their lives on the ocean waves, who were almost born, so to speak, with their "sea legs on," suffer now and then from sea sickness in very tempestuous weather. Sea captains, tourists, commercial travelers and yachtsmen say that there is no finer safeguard against nausea than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, and it has been equally reliable as a preventive by invalids who travel by steamboat and railroad, and who sometimes suffer as much in those conveyances as ocean travelers do in steamships. Biliousness, constipation, sick headache and disorders of the stomach caused by oppressive climatic influences or unwholesome or unaccustomed food or water, always yield to the Bitters specially. This popular medicine also remedies rheumatic, kidney and nervous disorders, and the infirmities incident to increasing years.

Of Mr. Griffith, the newly appointed marshal the Star says he is a native of Chester, Chester county, Pennsylvania. He has been in Arizona more than twenty-five years. He was for a long time connected with the overland stage and mail lines, and later years he has been in the stock business at Dripping Springs, Pinal county. He has always been a strong Republican, a McKinley man, is now the national committeeman for the territory.

The Salvation army of California is to colonize some sugar beet lands owned by Claus Spreckles, the sugar king, who accepts a nominal rent for the first year, sell the land at cost price at the end of the time and pay $4 per ton for all the sugar beets raised. It is estimated that this will give the colonists a net profit of $3 per ton for their beets.

THE COMMONWEALTH.

Graphic Description of the New Famous Pearce District.

The following written for the Engineering and Mining Journal by F. M. Endich, who was in Tombstone a month since. Owing to lack of space we are unable to publish entire article today but will finish same tomorrow:

"Within the past year Cochise county, Arizona, has come to the front with a phenomenally rich mine, the Pearce. It is located on one of the outlying hills beyond the easterly slope of the Dragoon mountains. While these latter show a core of metamorphic rocks, flanked by copper-bearing carboniferous limestones and traversed by intrusions of porphyritic character, the more or less isolated hills and ridge-shaped buttes to the eastward apparently belong to the trachytic and rhyolitic series. The structure of the upper portions of these rocks is, to some extent, columnar, and, consequently, the hillsides are covered with detritus and angular fragments of rock, the result of disintegration. At a number of points, however, in spite of this covering, quartz veins protrude above the debris, standing out prominently by virtue of their uniformly hard character and pronounced thickness.

"At various places, on the surface, as well under ground, these veins show a meandering or geodic structure, comparable to that of agates. This leads me to infer that these portions may owe their existence to secondary infiltration and the comparative barrenness, so far as ore is concerned, of the siliceous deposits as well as their separate inclusions of specific metal-bearing minerals support this view. In strike as well as dip the veins of the district show a certain similarity, the former being north of west, the latter ranging from 60 to 80 degrees to the southward.

"Thus far the main development centers in the Pearce mine, located at Pearce camp, a settlement of perhaps 800 souls. To the northeast, near Stockdale, is the Gold Cliff, and to the west of Pittsburg is the Six-mile Hill group. The first named was located March 10th, 1895, worked in a desultory fashion by the Pearce Brothers, subsequently bonded by Philadelphia capitalists, and on January 1st 1896, passed into their possession under the name of the Commonwealth Mining Company with a capitalization of $2,000,000. Active work was commenced under the management of John Brockman from New Mexico, who selected Mr. Twomey, from the same territory, as his superintendent. Shipments of ore were started about July, 1896.

"The vein crops out for more than 3,000 ft., and exhibits the characteristics above noted. Three shafts are sinking, the deepest reaching 360 ft. They are served at present by horse whims, but connection between them is being now made, and the main shaft is being prepared for an inclined cage from Brewer & Coalmore. At an early stage of the mining work it was found that the vein presented unusual dimensions, and it is claimed that the footwall has not yet been reached, although ore has been developed to a thickness exceeding 40 ft. A remarkable circumstance lies in the fact that nearly all of this material is of shipping grade. As an instance it may be stated that on the lower level four men are working abreast (about 16 ft. front). The ore is hoisted directly into storage bins, without any kind of sorting, loaded into wagons and started on its way to smelting works at Pueblo, Colo. Whoever is familiar with the costs of teaming, railroad freight for about 750 miles, and treatment charges on dry ores can readily understand that the ore must carry appreciable values."

(TO BE CONTINUED TOMORROW.)

A dispatch from Solomonville regarding the escape of Chacon says. Augustine Chacon, convicted here last fall for the murder of Pablo Sibillo at Morenci, this county, in December, 1895, and who, after appealing to the Supreme court, was sentenced to hang June 18th, and whom Governor Franklin refused to respite, escaped from jail during the night. Some one on the outside provided him with a saw, with which he cut through the the jail wall into the Sheriff's office."

A Chinese woman named Sing You was arrested this morning for being in the United States without a license Deportation proceedings have been commenced and Attorney Chas Blenman was retained for the defense. This is the first case here, in which a woman has been arrested for that offense.—Star.

BOARD OF EQUALIZERS.

Beset by the Railroads for a Reduction.

The territorial board of equalization did not make great headway yesterday. The valuation of the N. M. & A. was considered. General Manager Naugle and Col. Herring appearing for the road. The returned valuation was about $284,000 for the Benson-Nogales line, as against $166,000, the assessed valuation of last year. The board decided on nothing, but spent the day in collecting general data regarding all the roads.

The subject of taxing Pullmans was again touched upon, Mr. Carl A. Snyder, who represented the A. & P. before the board, is also the representative of the Pullman Car company, and is desirous of having early action taken in order that he may get away. However anxious the board may be to comply with his wishes, it will probably have to consider that matter last, for the reason the railroads have included in their returns the leased Pullman cars. As soon as the board passes upon the returns and fixes a valuation of the Pullmans it will have in effect disposed of the Pullman Car company matter.—Republican.

From five to ten letters are received each week by the postoffice at Albuquerque, says the Democrat, addressed to Francis Schlatter, the "Divine Healer," whose remains were recently found in Old Mexico, as was fully described yesterday. The healer's numerous correspondents may as well discontinue writing, for he is undoubtedly dead.

GETTING EXASPERATED.

If McCord is not Confirmed Something Will "Drap."

A special dispatch to the Republican from Washington says:

'Akers' commission as secretary was mailed to him today. On information coming direct from the White House, it is stated that the president is exasperated at the obstructions thrown in in the way of McCord's confirmation by the members of present territorial administration. If McCord is not confirmed before the receipt by Akers of his commission, Governor Franklin will be removed by executive order and Akers, as acting governor will be directed to immediately remove all of Governor Franklin's appointees.'

A Great Blessing

My wife and I have found in Hood's Sarsaparilla. She had rheumatism very severely, with aches and pains in her bones, and hardly able to get up and down stairs without help. Many other remedies failed, but Hood's Sarsaparilla entirely cured her. It was only shortly after she had taken it that the same complaint, affecting my limbs and hips, so I just tried the same medicine with the same result. My wife and children take Hood's Sarsaparilla whenever they feel the need of a medicine and it immediately makes them feel better.
