"A Merry Ramble Around Ireland"

Under the auspices of Bennington Council, Knights of Columbus.

Admission - - - 50 cents

Tickets on sale at Quinlan's and Ward's drug stores, at the A. C. LaMarre gorcery store and by members of the council.

A racy talk, permeated with Irish atmosphere, lit up with Irish ballad-geans, and studded with stories of Irish wit that keeps the audience in continuous rippling laughter. It is a literary treat, as well as a rarely informing travelogue. The beautifully colored views show, not merely Ireland's beauty spots, but also, strikingly, Irish life in the fields and by the fireside, at work and at play, at mass and market. It is unlike any other talk ever given upon that inspiring subject, "The Emerald Isle."—San Francisco Call.

STATE LINE IN DISPUTE

So Bellows Falls Paper Company Does Not Settle Its Tax Bill.

Bellows Falls, Oct. 27.—The International Paper company, the largest taxpayer in Bellows Falls, has not paid its taxes to the Bellows Falls village corporation. The company's grand list is $58,377, and the village tax amounts to $3502.62.

For years the question of just what constitutes the boundary line between the states of New Hampshire and Vermont has been in dispute, and the action of the paper company is based on this question.

New Hampshire claims that its line extends to the break in the bank of the river, thus placing the Connecticut river and its west bank in New Hampshire.

The town of Walpole, which lies opposite Bellows Falls, claims that as a good portion of the buildings that go to make up the plant of the paper company are on made land, the buildings are in New Hampshire and it is understood hereby that the company has not paid their taxes in that town and that Walpole has begun legal proceedings to compel it to pay.

The paper company has offered to pay part of the taxes claimed by this village. It first sent a check to village Treasurer Charles E. Capron for about $2100. This check was returned and then a tender in cash was made and refused.

The amount of the tender is what remains after deducting what Walpole demands as taxes on the company's property located on the west side of the Connecticut river.

In order to take steps toward clearing up the situation a bill was passed by the last Vermont Legislature, calling for a state commission to work on the matter and also providing that the state shall carry the question into the United States Supreme court, if necessary.

The Vermont commission consists of Alexander Dunett of St. Johnsbury United States district attorney; Senator F. H. Babbitt of Bellows Falls and Senator Porter H. Dale of Island Pond. A commission appointed by Gov. Felker of New Hampshire consists of A. H. Albin and Judge Chase of Concord and Charles J. O'Neil of North Walpole.

The Vermont commission last week sent an invitation to the New Hampshire commission to hold a joint meeting, either in Woodstock, this state; Concord, N. H., or in Boston. Vermont is anxious to have the line follow the thread of the stream and New Hampshire wants it to remain where they claim it to be at the present time.

If the Supreme court decides that it is in the center of the river New Hampshire will lose valuable power sections that are located at Vernon, opposite Hinsdale, N. H., Lunenburg and other points along the river.

When people go to a photographer now-a-days they expect something more than just a picture, they expect portrait work to be artistic, to bring out the natural lines and expressions and graceful pose; portraits that looks if they would almost speak to you they are so real. That is the difference between work done at the Cone's studio and just a picture.

They Shine.

If you haven't noticed some young lady on the street wearing one of those nifty crepe Windsor ties sold at Ritchie's department store you better come in and get a glimpse of them. We have a large assortment in all colors at 50 cents. Also ask to see children's gloves in tan cape and in washable white doe skin at $1.00 a pair.

Three For a Quarter.

Two packages of cream corn starch, prepared with the utmost care and cleanliness exclusively from the finest selected samples of Indian corn, and one package of easy ironing starch, all for a quarter at Morrissey's grocery store. This starch requires no cooking; does not stick to the iron; does not show white on dark goods; does not injure the finest or most delicate fabrics and to white goods it gives a clear white domestic or gloss finish; does not blow out in drying, and holds its stiffness in damp weather, and is a great labor saver.

A New Time Clock.

Try a Buick next time. Our repair shop is one of the best equipped in the state. A Follett time clock has just been installed. This clock is of special advantage when employes of the garage are working on repair jobs as the time of beginning and finishing a job is registered on a card and thereby ascertained the actual time put in. Ideal garage.

The Whole Secret

"Never saw the Whole family looking so happy and well," said a friend in the church as they were ushered down the aisle. "Wonder if some one has left them a legacy? They seem to have something so good on their minds." Fact was, the Whole family were anticipating an endless succession of good warm baths, and Mrs. Whole was thinking, too, that she wouldn't have any more trouble with the help because of the lack of hot water in the laundry and kitchen.
