HOUSEHOLD.

Table Decorations—Protectors—Cass Sauce.

[illegible]

Gearing Fast.

[illegible] was burning.

[illegible] a turn up nose," he

[illegible] his mentor, "you Say it's tip tilted."

[illegible] same as turn up?"

[illegible]

[illegible] dinner when he asks [illegible] pass the tip tilteds [illegible] the turnips without a [illegible].—Cleveland Plain

Disguised.

[illegible] umbrella is this? It [illegible] I lost.

I don't see how it can, for the handle and altered it Ohio State Journal.

NIGHT IN THE WOODS.

EFFECT OF THE AWFUL SOLITUDE WHEN FIRST EXPERIENCED.

The Awe Inspiring Stillness Makes Sleep an Impossibility For Many and Brings Visions of Terror to Haunt the Tired Camper.

The awe inspiring stillness of the first night in camp! You lie on your back wildly courting sleep. Vainly, I say, because of the very intense stillness which should woo it, for does not, as you are naused to it, [illegible] motionless, only his heavy breathing denoting that he is alive. It is second nature to him to sleep in the heart of the wilderness, and his tired body no more [illegible] the sweet seemon pine boughs where he slumbers.

It will be so with you shortly, so have [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] and which [illegible] yet. But to-night your eyelids [illegible] and instead of the [illegible] which [illegible] your every sense [illegible] the road to [illegible] [illegible] the woods. [illegible] a fox [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] the