[illegible]

Will Hunt Him Down.

The coroner's jury summoned to investigate the identity of the man found dead in the dry well last Saturday held an adjourned session last night and reached the following conclusions: that the deceased was unknown, age about forty-five years, nothing definite was elicited as to how he came to his death on the Maricopa road between Tucson and Tempe, about eight miles from Hayden's, in a few endeavors to get a clue to his real name or relatives unknown. The matter will be dropped until and be allowed to sleep here. There are still to be certain clues which the proper officials will run down, and the villains may yet be brought to justice, though his tracks seem at present so effectually covered up. A hat, with certain marks and letters on the inside of the crown may be identified by an old miner who previously worked Phenix but might after the war he had been robbed.—Phenix Herald.

A Fig in the Ribs

If on the right side and lower part of the diaphragm, the muscle separating the chest and abdomen, is established to evince proximity to a stomach whose liver is out of order. When that region is sore and congested, pulse seem to vanish. Look at a man's countenance, eye too good lies under the ribs. If his skin and eyeballs have a yellow tinge, you may infer also that his tongue is furred, his breath apt to be sour, that he has pains not only beneath his ribs, but also under the right shoulderblade. Also, that his bowels are irregular and his digestion impaired. Instead of making a pecuniary demonstration on his ribs, recommend him to take, and steadily persist in taking, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the finest anti-bilious and alterative medicine extant. Incomparable for, also, for dyspepsia, rheumatism, nervousness, kidney trouble, and fever and ague.

Maison Dore.

This old time and popular restaurant still maintains its position as a favorite place for our citizens to regale themselves on all the table delicacies which are prepared in a toothsome manner and served by polite and attentive waiters. This restaurant makes a specialty of broiled steaks and entrees, and imports coffee of extra quality, thus being able to furnish the best cup of coffee obtainable in the city. Fresh fish every day, and an elegant chicken dinner every Sunday.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children teething, is the prescription of one of the best female nurses and physicians in the United States and has been used for over forty years with never failing success by millions of mothers for their children. During the process of teething its value is incalculable. It relieves the child of pain, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, griping in the bowels, and wind colic. By giving health to the child it gives rest to the mother. Price 25 cents a bottle. jan26-1y

It is truly a wonderful medicine." For sale by H. J. Peto.

Parents should be careful that their children do not contract colds during the fall or early winter months. Such colds weaken the lungs and air passages, making the child much more likely to contract other colds during the winter. It is this succession of colds that causes catarrh and bronchitis or pave the way for consumption. Should a cold be contracted, lose no time but cure it as quickly as possible. A fifty cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will cure any cold in a few days and leave the respiratory organs strong and healthy. For sale by H. J. Peto.
