Stage came in again loaded tonight.

Funny things in and around Tombstone.

Constable James Larson and M. Fagin of Fairbank, were in town last evening.

The mining properties of this county are open for inspection. They will bear it too so we have no hesitancy in daring monied men to come here and interview our resources.—Courier.

The Prescott Miner puts Billy Davis down as a commercial traveler. Tom Davis another of our parties probably the man the Miner has in eye, are an entirely different breed of cats.—Gazette.

Dr. G. E. Goodfellow arrived home last evening looking much improved and is again ready to attend to those who may need his services.

The city council has caused the gas company to detach the gas pipe in front of the city hall. In the rays of the luminous talents of the aldermen a burning gas jet casts a dark shadow. Hence the economy.—Citizen.

A new 30-ton smelter will arrive at the Atlanta mine in Bisbee to-day, and be erected at once the ore shoots have all been built, and the site for the smelter all graded.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is recommended by physicians of great eminence, on both sides of the Atlantic, as most reliable remedy for colds, coughs, and all pulmonary disorders. It affords prompt relief. No family should be without it.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine for every one in the spring. Emigrants and travellers will find it an effectual cure for eruptions, boils, pimples, eczemas, etc., that break out on the skin the effects of disorders in the blood, caused by sea diet and life on board ship.

Chas Dudley Warner repudiates the notion that a newspaper is an open channel for the public to use as it pleases without money or without price. It is not a charitable institution, but a private business, and it should not be expected to throw open its columns gratuitously to all sorts of notices and announcements. Mr. Warner has formed a correct diagnosis of the case.

G. F Dodge, New York; J. G. Maxwell, A. L. Maxwell, El Dorado ranch; P. N. Churchill, Chicago; E Cartledge and boy, Topeka; M. Lathe and wife, Illinois; J. Estrela, Hermosillo; George Klum, Kansas, R S. Roy, Clifton; E. G Norton, Frank Brown, Bisbee; C. Smith Fairbank; P. Hatcher, Sonora; are registered at the Occidental hotel.

The Star learns that Richard D. Hudson, of Wilcox, is an aspirant for the position of mounted inspector of customs. This is the position that the late W. A. Daniel held prior to his brutal murder by the Apaches some time since. Mr. Hudson is brave, fearless and energetic, and has other qualification. He would be a worthy successor of the gallant Daniel.

A gentleman, who was a stranger in Clifton, and did not know its surroundings remarked to our bearing on the evening of the Fourth that during the day he had not seen a person under the influence of intoxicating drink so far as to be noticeable. There is no village or mining camp in Arizona where there is better order and civil deportment than in Clifton. The officers like Othello, have lost their occupation, and the jails are almost tenantless. A striking contrast with the state of affairs less than two years ago. —Clarion.

The Clifton Clarion says: That gallant commander and renowned Indian exterminator, Gen. Crook the special pet of Geronimo who spared his life when he was a captive—a prisoner of war in the Sierra Madres—proposes to make another march into Mexico and have a talk with the fugitives from the reservation. May the Lord have mercy on his soul, and grant that the army may never return, but find a resting place "where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest."

For a town so blessed with churches and ministers, Prescott can boast of possessing more "Bible backed," palm-singing, sanctimonious, hypocritical and lying slanderers and vilifiers than any town of the same size in the world. An intimate acquaintance with the majority of Prescott's "unco gude" will convince any respectable man that if God Almighty has ever bothered himself by preparing mansions in the skies for such canting cattle he has wasted much valuable time.—Prescott Miner.

A trifle warm to day.

Attention is called to the advertisement in another column of the California Wire Works of San Francisco.

The Maxwell boys departed this morning for their old home in San Diego California.

Constable J. J VanMeter has sold out his business in Charleston, Van has not resigned as constable.

The thermometer at Lillie has stood at 38 degrees in the shade for over a week. Fairbank in this county has only been about 10 degrees behind. That must be cool at a place.

Bothin, Tweed & Co., received to-day, portion of their large shipment of Studebaker wagons and buggies. Any person desiring a wagon or buggy would do well to call on this firm, for we know they can be suited.

We have been requested by several parents and guardians to ask the school trustees to consider the election of some one to teach Spanish in the public school. It is the only real desire of parents that Spanish be taught in the schools, and we have no hesitancy in saying that we believe the trustees will investigate the matter and have Spanish taught.

Mr. W. H. Westcott the genial stenographer for this district, reached his twenty eighth birthday to day and celebrated it right royally with his friends. A grand wine dinner was given by him to his friends, and toasts were drunk and many good wishes were tendered him on his journey through life. THE TOMBSTONE congratulates him on having attained his 28th year, and hopes that he may live to a ripe old age, and that the coming years may be his brightest ones.

Dr. W. W. R. Fisher, of the United States army, is at the Apaches on his way from Fort Apache to Fort Bowie, where he has been summoned by telegraph to join General Crook at the earliest possible moment prepared for field service. It is supposed that General Crook contemplates an advance in force into Mexico in a few days. Dr. Fisher is a handsome and genial gentleman, and is an old personal friend of Geronimo who swears by him as a "big medicine man." The doctor says Geronimo is an incarnate devil and the ablest of the Apaches. When he isn't on the warpath or plotting mischief he is in the hands of the doctor under treatment for diseases resulting from a licentious life.—Albuquerque Journal.

On Thursday afternoon a Mexican was employed to clean up the yard in the rear of Conner & Davis' meat market, and while so doing he entered the back room and found $1,100, which had been placed there for safe keeping and then left. In the evening the proprietor went to get his money, and discovered his loss. He immediately swore out a warrant and placed it in the hands of Andy Mehan, who after searching the town and setting to rest his man started out into the country to find him, but up to this time has failed to find him. It was yesterday that the Mexican in company with another of his countrymen rode down to Fairbank in Butler's freight team and spent considerable money while there, and when the team for Nogales came along they boarded it and are now in Sonora. The telegram to Constable Larson arrived just an hour too late, else the thief would have been caught and most of the money have been recovered.

On the fourth day of July the residents of Fairbanks were startled by the report that a Mexican woman had cut her throat at her residence about one-half mile below town. Constable Larson immediately went to the scene of the suicide and found the woman lying on the floor with her throat cut from ear to ear, and weltering in her own blood. She presented a ghastly sight. Mr. Larson then left a man in charge of the body went back to Fairbank, and telegraphed to the coroner at this place, who immediately repaired to the scene of the suicide, but it being a holiday he adjourned the inquest until the 7th and directed Judge Smith to hold it; which was done and resulted in a verdict of suicide by despondency at the loss of her lover, who married another woman a few days before.

The Latest.

MESSRS. CÆSAR & WERHFITZ—I am here in these beautiful mountains sharpening my knives and fixing things up generally for the reception of General Crook and his army, as he has sent me word that he intends to make me a visit shortly. I have only got one bottle of vile mescal left, and wish you would send me another shipment of that ice-cold beer of yours so that I can entertain the army in a becoming manner.

GERONIMO.

General M. H. Sherman and bride are on a wedding tour through the Yellowstone Park, Montana.—Herald. It will be remembered that this gentleman is Adjutant General of the Arizona militia, and that during the Indian troubles he was on duty in San Francisco. We suppose that when the next legislature meets he will have another bill before that body for taking care of aliens, etc.

Some weeks ago the Clifton Clarion published an item stating that the tax roll of Graham county amounted to $[illegible], being $[illegible] in excess of the year's assessment. The following shows that there must have been a mistake in the item:

EDITOR CLARION—In your last issue of your valuable paper you noticed an article stating that the Territorial Auditor had informed you that the tax roll of Graham county had increased to the amount of $[illegible] in excess of last year's assessment, which is not correct. The information is false. I have looked up the roll returned by the assessor, and find the same to amount to $[illegible], against $[illegible], consequently a decrease of $[illegible]. By correcting the [illegible] you will oblige your readers and myself. Very respectfully, [illegible], Assessor.

We do not know whether it is because one of the members of our board of supervisors is a cattle owner, or because the supervisors in their wisdom think that as a class they are very poor, and should not be taxed on the real amount of their property, but there is one thing we do know, and that is this. That Assessor Barnes assessed all thoroughbred bulls at $40 per head which we think was a fair assessment, and a few days since one of the cattle owners so assessed appeared before the board of equalization and asked that his assessment be reduced. He was asked what his bulls were worth and he said $60 to him but that he sold them for $125 each. After hearing this statement, this "penny wise and pound foolish board reduced the assessments on thoroughbred bulls to $15, per head, when it is well known that scrub Mexican cattle cannot be bought for that price in lots of 50 or 100. In our strictures upon the board of supervisors we do not aim to keep up a war of persecution, but as they are public servants of the people and THE TOMBSTONE is a paper of the people, we deem it our duty to call the attention of the public to any acts of the board of supervisors, which in our judgment, we think is wrong and let the public judge for themselves.

A SHARP TRICK

HOW MEXICAN TRADE IS CAPTURED.

Two Business men of Tombstone who lay Awake Nights.

How a Fremont Street Merchant Purchered a sharp Allen Street Merchant.

The rustling qualities of some of our business men in Tombstone is very commendable and very successful too, judging from results. Several Mexican merchants from Sonora visited our city yesterday with the view of purchasing several thousand dollars worth of goods wherever they could be obtained to the best advantage. Two prominent business men thought it advisable to secure them in sight, consequently when the sun came to retire for the night within the shady precincts of an old adobe wall, down went our business men before mentioned, each determined to out-do the other. But lo, while the Allen street merchant was sleeping, dreaming of the large and profitable sales to be made on the morrow, the drive and wake up Fremont streeter hied the willing band of Mexicans away thus securing the prize, when the discomfitted dreamer awoke and found that he had been outwitted by his youthful competitor, he fell on his kneeded knees and called loudly and vociferously on all the saints to the calendar of Moses, saying, I am deceived by my brethren, but will hide my time.
