COUNTY NEWS.

Localwise and Otherwise. Winter is at hand and we are now having quite a cool spell.

Now is the time to plant a Christmas advertisement. It will bring a good crop. Try it.

The horse disease seems to have about run its course, and no more deaths have been reported.

Thursday, November the 29th, instant, has been designated as Thanksgiving Day. Be thankful.

Mrs. F. Oscar Morgan and daughter, of Leonardtown, have been visiting relatives in Washington.

The Board of Election Supervisors met Tuesday last and audited the expenses of the recent election.

Mrs. George W. Joy and son, of this town, left Sunday last, per Steamer Potomac for a visit to Washington.

Don't delay your Christmas advertising. Bring it along now and you will have a prosperous and a happy Christmas.

The wealth of the United States is stated to be $80,000,000,000, but there is not much of it located in our neighborhood.

If there be anything in the old proverb we will have many snows this winter. The first snow of the season was 45 days before Christmas.

Luce, a young daughter of George and Lizzie Swales, colored, died Monday night last at the residence of her parents, near this town. She was a good girl.

A man with a match burnt for alkali in a Baltimore city gas main last Monday morning, found it, and the resultant explosion did about $16,000 damage.

This fall, J. B. Bond, of Patuxent, caught an 8 feet long porpoise in his pound net. The fish was dead when taken from the net.

A supper and will be given at Mechanicville in aid of the Immaculate Conception Church on Thanksgiving night, November 29th. See notice in another column.

We are informed that Morgan Knight, of this town, is to remove to Washington and go into business there. Morgan is a clever young gentleman and we wish him much success.

The real estate of the late John C. and Jane E. Herbert, situate near the head of St. Clement's Bay, was sold at public auction Tuesday last. It was bought by Leonard S. Herbert and sisters for $3,000.

The United States has now 60,000 troops in the Philippines and more are asked for. This is a greater army than Gen. Lee had at the second battle of Cold Harbor, where he defeated Gen. Grant.

We are informed that nearly every night scrapers work on forbidden grounds near St. George's Island. We sincerely hope that this violation of the law will be stopped and the beds protected.

According to Hicks, storms of rain and snow are to move eastward over the country from Thursday the 15th to Monday the 19th. Lasting up to about the 31st, we are to have a decided dash of early winter.

Because of the dread of the cholera, which is now raging in some districts of the country, our farmers are killing their hogs. It is somewhat earlier than usual for hog killing, but the pork is in very good condition.

Edward T. Benton, of Prince George's county, is visiting B. Harris Camalier, Esq., of this town. Mr. Benton made a thorough canvass of the Congressional district in Mr. Camalier's interest during the recent campaign.

The New York Photo Company has opened a studio in Leonardtown where they will make all sizes and styles of portraits, groups, views, etc. They will remain here a few weeks only. They will make no tintypes.

County Treasurer Dent will begin his November round of the districts on Monday next, the 19th instant. See his advertisement in another column. This is the last round the Treasurer is required to make until March, 1901.

This is the first opportunity St. Mary's county people have had of getting good portraits without going to town. The local photographer can give you anything you want at reasonable prices.

Miss Lillian Abell, daughter of the late James F. Abell, was married Wednesday, November the 14th, instant, to Joseph M. Mattingly, of Leonardtown. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles K. Jenkins, S. J., at Our Lady's Chapel, Medley's Neck. A Solemn Nuptial Mass was celebrated. We congratulate the happy couple and wish them a long life of prosperity and happiness.

We were licked in the recent scrimmage. And there's no mistake about it, but we are still in the ring. And, at the next election, we will again toe the mark. And fight as game as ever. Who ever heard of a Democrat halloo 'nough?

Like a coon, when on our backs, we are just firing for a fight. And attend strictly to the business. Even forgetting to quarrel among ourselves. And, that Republicans won't have everything their own way. When the next line up comes. You may bet your bottom dollar.

To Shippers. Highest market prices and quickest returns for Thanksgiving Poultry. Ship me at once. JOHN B. ABELL.

Much rain accompanied with heavy winds. There is a perceptible change in the atmosphere. One consolation, namely, the mud is not of an adhesive type, or, as some would say, India-rubber-like.

Sorry to say that Cupid is not very active just now. We are not aware that despondency is feeding off the gloom-engulfed hearts of any of our young men and women. Lovers, it is said, are like planets in the firmament, they either attract or repel one another.

Occasionally an arrow-head is found which carries our memory back many years when labor of the district was not secularized and there was no co-ordination of work, when the red man chipped his arrow head, dug his medical roots, hunted and trapped and repeated the tribal prayer: "Great Spirit, I am poor, have pity upon me."

Infrequently a doctor is called to see a patient, but we observe instead of the serpent-twined rod of Aesculapius in his hand—a magician's wand to cure the sick—he carried his pills, powders and liquids in a unique morocco case, and in addition to his medical outfit he may have the power to exercise the powers of hypnotism exercising the same whenever necessary to wrap his suffering patients in the mantle of "death's twin-brother," sleep.

Mrs. E. O. Buckley, of Washington, D. C., is visiting her cousin Mrs. Mary Gristinger, Tall Pine.

Recently Mrs. William Yeatman and her daughter, Miss Cora, took a visit to the "City of magnificent distances" to see relatives and friends.

Mrs. Harriet B. Langley has placed a monument over the grave of her husband, Walter B. Langley. Mr. Henry Ardreese, of Point Lookout, did the work.

Fish, it seems, are plentiful, and we know two little boys, Willie and Harry, aged respectively 5 and 6, who frequently catch black necks, perch, etc., at the Government wharf, Point Lookout. These little boys know how to handle the spiteful crab and seldom they feel the friendly (!) grip of their vice-like claws. Oh! Mercy!

Wheat has a healthy appearance. So far as we know the drill was used, which accounts for its uniformity. We stop a moment to think. Now, we may express ourselves in an intelligent way. The enlightened communities have reversed the process of land-improvement and the fields beautifully green with the cereal named and also pleasant pastures, corroborate the assertion. We write in an optimistic vein, because we no longer witness the defertilization of the soil by exhaustive and monotonous cropping.

Frost, ice and snow have visited the district.

The hog cholera is doing its deadly work. Remedies signally fail it appears.

Schools are progressing satisfactorily so far as we know. It is true that philosophy is no wiser than when Socrates taught it to a few pupils in the academic grove of Athens; but, thanks, the facilities for acquiring an education is universal.

It seems to us that religious development hereabout is not hindered with stupid gross materialism and a selfishness inhuman. No one of proper intelligence seems to injure or wrong his neighbor, and the commandment of the Saviour-King, which is love, is fairly lived up to, and life is enhanced a thousand-fold in consequence. AZZANA.

Orphan's Court. Tuesday, November 13, 1900. Court met—all the Judges present.

First and final account of Daniel C. Hammett, Executor of Anna Emily Abell, examined and passed and distribution ordered. Second and final account of Daniel C. Hammett, executor of N. Evans Carpenter, examined and passed.

Second account of Blanche M. Chaun, guardian Blanche Wood Garner, examined and passed.

Inventory of personal estate of Joseph A. Dillow filed and order passed allowing S. Gladys Dillow, Administratrix, to take said property at the appraisal.

Mary E. Thompson and F. Xavier Thompson appointed administrators of Samuel Chapman Thompson and penalty in bond fixed at $16,000.

On application Court appointed Leonard S. Herbert and Theodore F. C. Herbert, administrators of the personal property of the late Jane E. Herbert.

Bond of William F. Greenwell and Francis F. Greenwell, Executors of Sarah M. Greenwell approved by the Court. Court adjourned to November 27, 1900.

Father Gaffney's Jubilee. The parishioners of St. John's Catholic Church, in Frederick, and members of the various county parishes which Rev. John B. Gaffney has served as pastor during the 50 years of his priesthood, are raising a fund with which to erect an altar in commemoration of his golden jubilee as a member of the Jesuits. This is to be celebrated with a public function within the next few weeks. Cardinal Gibbons contributed $50 to the project and many other similar amounts have been received from his friends in the city. Father Gaffney has spent the most of his life in this country ministering to the spiritual welfare of the members of the various churches that have been in his charge, and is well known to most of the people of the country.—Sun.

Supper and Dance at Mechanicville. A supper and dance will be given at Mechanicville on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 29th, in aid of the Immaculate Conception Church. A good time is assured who come, as the names on the committee guarantee.

Committee.—Mrs. and Mrs. George W. Combs, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burroughs, Mrs. Jane Fowler, Mrs. Sam Adams, Mrs. Silvester Adams, Miss Etta Burroughs, Miss Lavina Burroughs, Miss Nannie Adams.

Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

The following is the address delivered by the President, Mrs. J. B. Tippett, at the annual meeting of the Somerset W. C. T. U., Sept. 19th, 1900.

Dear co-workers and friends:—We are assembled here, in the hospitable home of one of our younger members, for the purpose of celebrating our first annual gathering and counting the gains and losses of the past year.

You remember, I am sure, how a little more than a year ago some of us women were taken with what seemed a sudden uprising; things were all going wrong; how to right them we knew not; then slowly but surely it was borne in upon us that we must organize; that in organization there was strength. So on that memorable 17th of June, 1899, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Valley Lee, started on its upward march, and since that day it has never taken a backward step. That there have been dark days we do not deny, days when all around seemed dark and gloomy and we knew not just where to step, but there is never a cloud without a silver lining, and though there have been times when we have almost faltered, there have also been many victories that have cheered our hearts and brought the sunshine of hope to our brow. Then let us offer praise to the Father whom we believe has been our guide in the past and ask that He will be with us today to be our inspiration. May we be able to stand for righteousness and against the iniquity that stamps its degrading curse upon our fair country.

We have been asked, "Why all this labor and time devoted to something you cannot overthrow?" For answer, we point to the great ocean with all the little streams, rivers and bays that go to make that vast sea. Just as these little streams go on day after day, following their course and doing their own little work, so also does each little Union work on, hoping and praying until we have the State Union, then the National Union, and lastly the greatly World's Union, with its delegates and representatives from almost every nation of the earth.

You have heard of the little leaven leaving the whole lump, so if each one of these local Unions does what it can, just where it is, do you think the works of darkness, the wild beast of impurity, the gambling den and the whisky saloon could long withstand this oncoming host? But I wish today to speak more particularly of the work of this Union. We have reached our first milestone, and looking back over the past days and months that go to make up that year, we find much to encourage us, and yet something of sadness as we look over the field and find that the "harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few." I wish to ask of you today this question, Shall we go forward? Is there need that we women work and pray and sacrifice to keep aloft the white standard of temperance? There is no one thing that we white ribbons wish so much to impress upon the mind as the rum power, with its ever increasing hold on our great republic.

We are told that this is an organized institution all over this country that our politicians dare not ignore it. And we have all seen the great spectacle of the Temperance vote on the one side and the whisky vote on the other side arrayed one against the other, and we have seen this government bow before the legalized liquor power and allow it to push its festering sore upon our community. We have seen it reaching out and fastening its ghastly grip in distant lands, ruining its thousands while the missionaries of Christ are able only to reach hundreds. We have seen it winding its way through the army canteen, ruining many more of our soldiers than are killed in battle. We have seen it filling almshouses and prisons. We have seen it debauch manhood and wreck its vengeance on innocent children and womanhood, break up homes and ruin souls. Having seen all this, can we stand silently by? Dare we?

Rise then, Christians, in all your strength and break your shackles and save our homes ere the night cometh and we can no longer work. I believe the women are being aroused as they have never been before. Their hearts have been touched, their interest has been awakened and they have been brought to think on the great subjects presented to them through the Woman's Christian Temperance Union as never before. If this great change of thought were all that had been accomplished through the past year I should consider it a great work, for as some one has said, "It is thought that shapes and governs the world."

"I hold it true that thoughts are things endowed with being, breath and wings, and that we send them forth to fill the world with good results or ill." Men, women and children are being taught to believe that the home can be protected; that our young men can be as pure as our maidens and that the dread liquor traffic can be driven from our land.

If we have done good work the past year can we not hope for better work and more consecrated efforts in the future. It has been stated that forty well drilled soldiers are able to resist ten thousand who have had no training. If this is true, and no doubt it is, then though there be but few who enter the ranks of the White Ribbon Army, the training and discipline received there will make them strong of heart and strong of hand to overcome the enemy. We of this Union have begun our work, yet we could tell of homes made brighter, of children made happier, and of husbands and brothers made strong to withstand the temptation of the enemy. We have many loyal and devoted members who have sacrificed much through the past year, but, dear sisters, let us put forth a greater determination to broaden and strengthen our work all along the line, and let us put more consecration in that ever before, remembering that "what ever ye ask in My name that I will give thee." Remembering this, let us, casting aside all doubt and discouragement, ask and believe great things for our organization.

One of our most important departments has been that of literature. It has been through the help of friends, loyal to our cause, that we have been enabled to start a circulating library with a few good books and magazines. Our aim is not only to have books pertaining to temperance, but we wish in the course of time to have in our library much of the best literature obtainable, hoping to implant a taste for the better class of reading. Another important department that we have in our Loyal Temperance Legion, or work among the children. Believing that the children of today are the men and women of tomorrow, and that on them rests the future of this great country, we deem it wise to gather as many of them as possible in these legions and endeavor to instruct them in the great principle of self-government, and of the effects of alcohol and narcotics upon the human system, fortifying them in their young lives, against the temptations of the future, for "to cure is the voice of the past; to prevent, the divine whisper of today." As this is one of the greatest departments of our organization I suggest that for the coming year we have one general superintendent for the whole work and one lady for each school, whose duty it is to hold regular meetings in her respective city. Only in this way can the work advance as we would have it. Of our other departments I will not speak this afternoon, except that I wish to suggest that our department of press work be more vigorously pushed for the future, for we can reach more people through the press than in any other way, and our work much advanced by a judicious reporting. But let us not forget that of ourselves we can accomplish little, and unless we are infused with the spirit of God, or in the words of Frances Willard, "Until the splendid engine of the W. C. T. U. is filled with the manifestation of God in Christ Jesus, that we call the Spirit Power, it stands idle on the track, no matter how well that track is ballasted or how strong the steel of the straight road. Every utterance of appreciation, affection and friendship; every stroke of honest hard work undertaken side by side, every sincere prayer helps forward this beautiful day that we call the coming of the Kingdom of Christ.

Lecture and Musical Entertainment. (Correspondence of the Beacon.) A lecture and musical entertainment was given at the M. E. Church on St. George's Island on Monday night, October 29th. The lecture, which was delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Gray, the subject being "Love and Beauty," was very interesting, and such as only a gifted and talented mind could render. The lecture lasted forty minutes and seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by the entire audience.

After the lecture came the musical programme. The instrumental pieces were rendered by the following ladies: Mrs. Ida Adams and Miss Birdie Chesser. Miss Jennie Dyer, of Baltimore county, rendered some very beautiful selections on the mouth harp, accompanied by the organ. Following these were solos, duets and quartets, sung by a select choir, composed of seven persons, viz: Miss Ida Adams, Miss Birdie Chesser, Miss Florence Chesser, Miss Zerema Chesser, Miss Jennie Dyer, Miss Bernice Smallwood and Mr. Wesley Chesser, each one knowing their part and rendering it in the most effective manner.

The most attractive feature of the evening was the ladies of the choir, each attired in evening costumes of latest style, wearing bandeaus of the most beautiful flowers in their hair; also, bouquets of choice roses.

The audience was so well pleased that they wished another of a similar character in the shortest time possible. The entertainment closed at 9:30, and we were happy to hear and know it was a grand success. AMOR VITAE.

Rhymial. (Correspondence of the Beacon.) St. Peter's Parsonage, Washington, D. C., was the scene of a quiet but very pretty wedding on Wednesday, October 17, 1900, the contracting parties being Miss Eva A. Raley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. V. Raley, of St. Mary's county, and Mr. Walter T. Gordon, a prominent young man of Washington, D. C., who has been engaged for a number of years in the florist business. The bride was handsomely attired in tan colored cloth and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The groom wore the conventional black.

Miss Mary Gordon, a sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and was gracefully attired in pink silk and carried a bouquet of bridesmaid roses. Mr. Fred Ferber was the groom's best man. After the ceremony the happy couple returned to the residence of Mrs. M. Gordon, 1003 South Carolina Avenue, where they will reside for the future.

A reception was also extended the young couple. Among those present were Mr. Edward Raley, brother of the bride, Mrs. Edward Raley, Master Carroll Raley, Miss Sarah Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Ferber and many others. We extend to the young couple many congratulations and wish them a long and prosperous married life. J. D.

Oakley Items. [Reported for the Beacon.] His friends hope to see him out again soon. Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. Wade E. Blakiston, of River Springs, to Miss Blakiston, of Calvert county, on the 15th instant. Our congratulations in advance to the happy couple. There is some abatement of the horse disease, though a new case is occasionally reported. James P. Jamison lost one last week.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

will generally correct this difficulty. If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

ZACH M. FOWLER, JNO. M. PAYNE, We Want Your Money, You Want Our Goods.

We have decided on a policy of new goods each season. In order to live up to this idea, it is necessary at the end of each season to make goods so low that competition is out of the question. This may mean a loss to us, but it also means quick and sure sales. Nothing clears a stock so rapidly as a liberal

Marking Down of Prices. So to start the New Year well, and make things generally interesting for you, we will give you a regular Picnic in Bargains. Remember, the goods we offer you are all new and seasonable, but they're not so new to our eyes—that's all. Besides, we must clear the way for the incoming tide of spring and summer merchandise, and we are willing to pay for the accommodation of having clean shelves and counters ahead of time. To make a long story short, this is our loss and your gain. Very respectfully, FOWLER & PAYNE, Jan 18-7c. Chaptico, Md.
