An Examination of the Animals Found in the City Water—Interesting Meeting of the K. S. I.

There was a large attendance last night at the meeting of the K. S. I. The annual report of the Sanitarian Committee was received. Charles Peckham was elected a member and several names were proposed for the next meeting. The society seems to be prospering as the march advances and a large list of new members has been added. Capt. Cufflebarry spoke on the unpleasantness of an article of the nature of dirt, of which is known as "maggots" crawling from the faucet of a tub to a small stream spins [illegible] away.

Prof. Carmer then read a paper on an examination of city water. He had been engaged for several evenings on the subject, and gave a list of some of the monsters found in the city water, he also described specimens of water which had stood for some time. The largest animal found was a black worm, slightly three-quarters of an inch long. There were of the same kind quite small. They have so many legs at a proportionate and are found in solidly frozen and growing. Everything of the upper [illegible] of different creatures [illegible] in fish bodies long. One particular creature had a row of spines on either side. The objects were viewed by those in attendance, through the microscope.

The Good Sisters.

The Michigan Catholic thus refers to one of the most important of the Valley City's charities: "Rev. Father N. G. Haddon, chaplain of the Little Sisters of the Poor for the United States, was in the city last week and made a call of two or three days' duration at the Lafayette street home. The Rev. Father took measurements for the new building to be erected immediately east of the present edifice and will have the plans for the structure completed next fall. He will come to Grand Rapids again then and deliberate in regard to the feasibility of erecting the building in the near future. Several lesser improvements have been made about the home. A neat garden plat has been fenced in and any day you can see the decrepit old men, their care-worn faces looking happy, doing such work as their strength will permit. The orchard has received a trimming and things generally present a neat appearance. Sister Septimie, the Mother Superior, smiles over her house and the good sisters with radiant faces continue in the good work."

A Dozen Years.

Last evening was the twelfth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Lacey, and Mrs. Lacey arranged a very pleasant little surprise for her husband by inviting a number of friends to their pleasant home at 134 Washington-ave. Progressive euchre was indulged in for a time, and refreshments followed after a distribution of the pincushion centre of the occasion. Mrs. M. Payne of New Orleans, was the guest of the evening, and among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Will Earle, Capt. and Mrs. Lockwood, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hovey, Mr. and Mrs. Cassius Sweet, Mrs. Mattie Mindhell, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nash, Mrs. Harry Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene E. Winsor, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Johnson, Mrs. P. H. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Breese, Mr. L. L. Coverdale, Mr. J. G. McKee, Mr. Walter McBride. Many were the hearty congratulations bestowed upon host and hostess for a dozen years of wedded happiness.

Mrs. Kromer, see Cora E. Kromer, was but a trifle over 20 years of age and has spent all of that time in this city. For a number of years after her graduation from the high school she engaged in teaching school and, by her sweet ways, endeared all the children whom she taught to her. Not long ago she was married to her cousin, J. D. Kromer, and the future looked bright and happy for the young couple. But the angel of death has claimed his own, and many friends will mourn her who is no more. The funeral will be held from the family residence, No. 87 Plainfield-ave., Sunday p. m.

The Bishop Departs.

Bishop Paterson departed yesterday on his way to Scotland. He expects to stop in Philadelphia over Sunday and hold services and sail from New York on the 27th inst., per steamer State of Nebraska. This is the bishop's sixth annual trip to Glasgow, where he has succeeded in establishing a flourishing church of the Children of Zion faith. The Church under his charge in this city is devotedly attached to him, and the present parting from them for a season called forth more than usual manifestations of mutual regard from pastor and flock. He also carries with him the best wishes of his numerous friends in the city. Elder Basil Stephanoff, of Macedonia, European Turkey, who was recently ordained to the work of the gospel ministry in the church which the bishop represents, accompanies the latter as far as Glasgow on his return to his native land. Elders Northrop and Spencer will officiate at the Messiah's temple until the bishop's return.

He Saw James G. Blaine.

The suit of George Hurst against the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway company for $25,000 damages was on trial in the Kent Circuit yesterday. Hurst came from Byron Centre to Grand Rapids Oct. 15, 1884, to hear James G. Blaine speak. The cars were crowded and he stood on the platform on the return trip. The train stopped and started ahead suddenly on the L. S. & M. S. bridge and he was thrown from the platform down an embankment thirty feet high, sustaining great injuries, from which he has never recovered. He was wheeled into the court room in a chair during the trial. The defense claims that there was plenty of standing room inside the cars and that Hurst had been drinking heavily. J. C. Fitz Gerald and Thomas F. Carroll represent the Company and N. A. Earle the plaintiff.

Hard Luck at a Picnic.

Siste Van Single, a Hollander, owns a small piece of property just south of the city, and as the ground is pleasantly sheltered by trees, Della Carrell, a young lady 16 years of age, daughter of Chester J. Carrell, undertook, a few days since, to have a picnic there, in company with several other young ladies. Van Single came from his house and wrathfully drove off the innocent trespassers. The party abandoned their pleasure precipitately, and Miss Carrell, in her haste to leave, fell down in the adjacent lane. She claims that Van Single came up and took indecent liberties with her person and used insulting language. Van Single was arrested on a warrant for assault and battery, and the case was tried in Justice Saunder's court yesterday with the result of a disagreement of the jury. The case will be re tried next Friday.

The Park Association.

The West Michigan Park association has just purchased forty acres of land adjoining their present property, paying therefor $1,000 cash. This will connect them with the Holland highway and will include the high hill known as Mt. Pisgar, making two additional ravines which promise to afford great advantage to the cottagers who wish more secluded places than the old grounds afforded. There are now only two more names to be added to the stockholders' list.

An Unfortunate Accident.

The Quick Meal Vapor Stove.

The main advantage of the "Quick Meal" Stove over all others is the simplicity and ease with which it can be opened, closed and regulated. There are no thumb screws to turn to burn the fingers with, and to confuse people. The patent lever valve is a "dead open and shut." When the little knob is pushed over to the word "open" it is open, when it is pushed to the word "closed" it is closed and no mistake. That is all there is to it. No one can use it wrong.
