Scout Troop 43 Praised By Crow

Troop 43 of the local scout organization has probably one of the most remarkable records in Memphis," said R. D. Crow, local scout executive, Monday. "The troop was started on July 13, by William B. Steig. At the start the membership numbered four scouts. Since that time it has grown until now it boasts of 37 members. This work was done in a part of the city which was badly in need of scouting. The troop meets at the Harrison Memorial M. E. church, in North Memphis, every week, and is fast making for itself a record. Some of the older troops in the city could profit by the example of troop 43."

Mr. Crow said that Scoutmaster Steig makes use of the efficiency method, a thing which was not thought practical for such a delicate work as scouting. At every meeting scouts bring a written report of the good turn they did every day throughout the week. The best good turn is read aloud and leaves a deep impression on the rest of the scouts.

It is announce dthat there is to be a meeting of the local executive committee next Wednesday at 5 o'clock in the headquarters offices.

PARHAM REPORTS BUSINESS GOOD

Emmett G. Parham, optometrist, who has opened offices with the Hamner-Ballard drug store, reports that his business already is justifying the change he made, when he severed connection with the optical firm of which he was a member, and opened individual offices. Parham, who is secretary of the Society of Optometrists, entered the business as an office boy, and gradually worked himself up to his present status.

Burglars Get Coin And Masonic Ring

While the Payne family, 1950 Cowden avenue, were eating supper Sunday night, a thief entered the house and stole a pocketbook containing $70, and reecipts. A negro was seen running from the residence.

The home of W. E. Anyett, 554 Alabama street, was robbed Sunday and a gold Masonic ring stolen.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally If You Eat Meat Regularly.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. adv.

STRENGTHLESS SEEMED DYING

So Weak She Could Hardly Move, Says Indiana Lady. One Bottle of Cardui Put Her on the Road to Recovery.

Tangier, Ind. "[illegible] summer I was [illegible] Mrs. Lizzie McElwee, [illegible] had been under the doctor's care for five years. . . . I was pretty bad and I was just so [illegible] as I could be. . . . I could not sleep at night [illegible] 10 or 12 o'clock. When I would doze off and wake up I would be all of a tremble with nervousness.

"The doctor called my trouble catarrh of the [illegible] it gave me such pains that at each [illegible] it would seem that I could not live another one. Then I would [illegible] . . . The pains would just seem to shake me all over, and the next day I would be so weak I could hardly move. I would be so utterly strengthless that it would seem as if I were dying.

"After one of my bad spells . . . and I had almost died, I picked up the Home Treatment Book and decided to try Cardui. Before I had taken a whole bottle, I could sleep at night. . . . I don't remember just how long, but in a short time I was up and helping with the work. . . ."

Over forty years of successful use has proven the value of Cardui in the treatment of many common female ailments.

All druggists sell Cardui, for women. adv.

SERVICES FOR MISS BOWLING ARE HELD

Funeral services for Miss Elizabeth Bowling, who died at her home, 1703 Carr avenue, Friday, following an illness of several weeks of diphtheria, were conducted at the Sacred Heart church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A great many friends attended, and many beautiful floral pieces were received. Burial was in Calvary cemetery.

CAR STRIPPED NUMBERS LEAVE CLEW FOR COPS

License numbers found on an automobile in an alley at 222½ Adams street, Sunday night, stripped of everything removable, correspond, police say, with numbers used several months ago by automobile thieves. The robbery of tires and other valuables from the car was reported by Ben Blaiss, who claims to own the car.

Detectives are investigating.

AMUSEMENTS

Orpheum.

Annette Kellermann, singing, dancing, diving sensation of the vaudeville stage, surrounded by a supporting company of entertainers enlivening and enhancing an exhibition of versatility and vivacity, will top the bill at the Orpheum this week. Miss Kellermann is a wonderful young woman, and a genius at versatility. She appears in a revue all her own with ideas created and staged by herself. Throughout she acquits herself in a highly creditable manner and scores the triumph of her career.

Miss Kellermann's revue includes Oakes and Delour and Alton and Allen.

Elsa Ruegger is considered one of the world's greatest cellists. Miss Ruegger possesses a magnetic personality and a manner that is entirely free from any trace of effectiveness. Miss Ruegger is assisted by Edmund Lichtenstein, the celebrated conductor.

Will H. Armstrong has a comedy skit, "The Ten Thousand Dollar Ankle." To find out more particulars about "The Ten Thousand Dollar Ankle" you will have to see Will H. Armstrong & Co.

Ned Norworth is an altogether different comedian, and of the kind shown as surefire. He is assisted by Evelyn Wells, with Frank Herbin at the piano.

Florence Hobson and Eileen Beatty give a song recital that is as charming as it is difficult. Cornell, Leona and Zinny will offer "Varieties a la Carte." Al Libby & Co. will furnish thrills and fun on tires.

Loew's State.

An acrobatic act, the opener, stands far and away over the rest of the bill which opened Sunday at Loew's State. It is the Sterling Rose Trio, exponents of ring, risley, head balancing and tumbling. The two men are admirable gymnasts, the girl good looking and an able coadjutor. The three work with a vim and snap that enables them to combine into seven minutes more than a score of tricks.

"Bower of Harmony" is billed topliner. The turn offers a variety of musical endeavor, including brass, violin, harp and vocal. The first line is their forte. Goodness knows when we have heard "Glowworm" rendered by one of the men on the harp. This chap's trombone and a girl cornetist are features in the ensemble work.

A nimble-footed youngster with Wells, Virginia and West puts enough pep into that chatter, song and dance bit to make it go. There is nothing startling about the sketch presented by Townsend Wilbur & Co. Pitzery and Dave start fast enough with bright lines of rube comedy, but they slow fearfully toward the end.

Claire Whitney stars in "Love, Honor and Obey," feature film, the theme of which can be gleaned from the title.

Capacity continues the word with audiences at the State. And Joe Henkel still furnishes admirable orchestral selections.

"The Man Who Came Back."

When William A. Brady first produced "The Man Who Came Back," which opens an engagement of three nights and Wednesday matinee at the Lyric Monday night, he took the entire cast on a tour of the several cabarets in New York to give them a proper conception of how the cabaret scene was to be in the play, which is really one of the big moments in the show. Many who have witnessed the play proclaim the cabaret scene one of the strongest and best scenes in the play. Ada Gleason, who plays the role of "Marcelle," the cabaret girl, who finally helps "the man come back," is one of the most charming and delightful actresses on the stage. Her success in her present role has been most pronounced.

John Brooks, 24, negro, arrested Saturday and charged with highway robbery, was identified Monday by Luther Mills, fireman at No. 6 engine house, as the man who held him up recently.

Identify Wrong Negro; Dismissed

Audley Mackley, negro, Saturday owed his freedom to the close resemblance of another black for witnesses prosecuting Mackley in First criminal court pointed out a phony defendant as the one on trial.

Mackley, who worked for the Johnny Jones shows during the fair, was accused of using a truck belonging to the Orange Crush company without owner's consent. Mackley declared he never worked for the Orange Crush company, never saw their truck and knew nothing about the charges.

Ben Leve and the public defender Saturday hustled another brown skin man into court. Four witnesses identified this "phony" as Mackley.

The defendant's acquital was ordered at once by Judge J. Ed Richards. Evidence was taken Friday, but the case continued Saturday.

NEGRO IDENTIFIED.

John H. Hayes, negro, who lives in the rear of 1678 Forrest avenue, arrested and charged with housebreaking and larceny, has been identified as the same negro who last September rented a storage battery and failed to return it. The battery was rented from the Motor Batteries company. The negro was to be arraigned Monday afternoon in police court.

Escaped an Operation

There is nothing in the world a woman so much fears as a surgical operation. Often they are necessary, but often not; and many have been avoided by the timely use of that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from some dread ailment peculiar to your sex, why not profit by the experience of these two women whose letters follow?

These Two Women Saved from Operations.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—"After the birth of my last child I had such painful spells they would unfit me entirely for my housework. I suffered for months and the doctor said that my trouble was organic ulcers and I would have to have an operation. That was an awful thing to me, with a young baby and four other children, so one day I thought of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how it had helped me years before and I decided to try it again. I took five bottles of Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and since then I have been a well woman, able to take care of my house and family without any trouble or a day's pain. I am ready and thankful to swear by your medicine any time. I am forty-four years old and have not had a day's illness of any kind for three years."—Mrs. H. Koenig, 617 Ellis Blvd, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Sandusky, Ohio.—"After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my aunt came to see me and told me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have troubles similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. Paul Papenfuse, 1325 Stone St., Sandusky, Ohio.
