MORTUARY.

JOSEPH O. ROOKER. Joseph O. Rooker died at his late residence, near Piney Point, on Saturday, January 18, 1902, at 6 a. m., after a lingering illness. The interment at Poplar Hill, Sunday last, at 4 p. m., was attended by an immense concourse of friends.

DR. JOSEPH ABELL BADEN. Dr. Joseph A. Baden died of heart failure, Monday morning last, the 20th instant, at his residence 2105 North Calvert street, Baltimore. He had been confined to his home only a week. He was a gentleman of the old school, kind and courteous to all, and with a heart ever open and a hand ever ready to help the unfortunate. He lived a lovable life and a host of friends mourn his death.

Dr. Baden was born in St. Mary's county, Maryland, and was 63 years old. He graduated from the University of Maryland in 1856 and practiced in St. Mary's county until the Civil War broke out, when he joined the Confederate Army as a surgeon. Dance at Jutland.

[Reported for the Beacon.] Jutland, the picturesque home of Mrs. Lydia A. Morris, overlooking the waters of Smith's Creek and the Potomac River, was again the scene of gaiety and mirth on Thursday evening, January 16, when Miss Janie Morris gave a most delightful dance to her friends in honor of her guest, Miss Florence Melvin, of Baltimore. The parlors were tastefully decorated with holly and evergreens, while little bunches of "mistletoe" hung here and there proving a "terror" (?) to the fair maidens who were kept at their wits end lest some audacious knight catch them unawares. Early in the evening the young folks began to come, each eager to trip the "light fantastic toe" to the inspiring strains of the violin and banjo which were already filling the air with music. Soon the ball room was one mass of graceful curves and beautiful figures as the charming maidens and their gallant partners glided through the waltz, two-step and quadrille.

All too soon the midnight hour arrived and we were invited to the dining room where ices, cakes and fruits were served in elaborate style.

In the few hours of the morning, loathe to leave the waxen floor and charming ladies, we bade adieu to our hosts, having spent one of the most pleasant evenings of our lives. The guests were most gracefully received by our hostess, Miss Janie Morris and her friend Miss Florence Melvin who in creations of blue and pink respectively, presented a most charming appearance. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pembroke, Mrs. Lydia A. Morris and Mr. Stephen Goodrich, Misses Janie Morris, Florence Melvin, of Baltimore, Eva Dunbar, Olive Evans, Massey Clark, Bertha Freeman, Virginia Wise, Macie Claggett, Sadie Bohanan, Margaret Kennedy, Agnes Kennedy and Edith Ford. Messrs. Bob Lilburn, J. Thomas Morris, Bevins Morris, Bruce Tyler, Fred Dunbar, Logan Dunbar, Lawrence Williams, Genie Jones, Claude Ford, Ernest Bohanan, John Dawson and Lee Abell. Messrs. Joe and Walter Jarboe, furnished excellent music.

Don't forget the Baseball Benefit, Friday, January 24th, instant. The drama to be performed is said to be a good one, and the young ladies and gentlemen who are to appear in the cast insure a pleasant and entertaining evening.

Oakley Literary Society.

[Reported for the Beacon.] "Drat my hide!" Here we are again at the beginning of a new year, and greater things are happening every day. Horse racing on the program; but this happens to be a bad day with few spectators and only one to enter the lists. Here we are off, promptly at 9.30 a. m. Down the road and over the crossing, through the woods! "Look out!" "Set up there Dan!" "Whoo, steady, that's a good boy!" Past the former, down the hill, and here we are at the Rectory gate, the end of the course. "Whoo; whoa; steady my pet. There, that's a good boy! Nobly done; first in the race. Miss — has won the race.

And now the "Oakley" Literary and Social Society is assembling. Smiling faces, every one, but where are the boys? Well, we get along "midding" without them.

The following program was rendered:

- Song, Old Kentucky Home, Society, Address, "Our Society," Mr. Foxwell.
- Recitation, Country Girl, Miss Lillian Dent.
- Song, Juanita, Quartet.
- Reading, Little Breeches, Miss Susie LaRoche.
- Recitation, MacLaine's Child, Mr. Harrison.
- Song, Annie Laurie, Sextet.
- Recitation, George's Plantation, Miss Helen Burch.
- Chinese Concert, Society.
- Duet, Misses Grason.

On a side table were 21 articles representing the titles of 21 different books. Two prizes were offered, Miss Helen Burch and Miss Mary Grason being the recipients. Among the books guessed were:

- Won By Waiting; Beside the Bonny Brier Bush; Over the Tea Cups; Under two Flags; Under the Red Rock; Red Rock; A Bow of Orange Ribbon; Black Rock; Mill on the Floss; Rose in Bloom; We Two, etc.

Yours forever, SCAT.

Bedlam Neck Society.

Gaiety of the past week.—Dancing and skating.

[Reported for the Beacon.]

The dance held at River Springs on the 14th, instant, was most enjoyable, and we cordially thank the boys of the Seventh District for a delightful evening.

Our band swayed us with many popular airs, and it is needless to say that we could feel the "heart thro" through the music he plays us."

A fine oyster supper was served at twelve, and fairly waitresses did not seem to lessen the appetites.

"Tucker" proved very exciting, and it is sometimes dangerous to be a belle.

A set of lancers was more interesting, from what we overheard: "Dance light, for my heart, it lies under your feet, love!"

Among those present were:—Dr. R. P. Blakistone, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Blakistone, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dent, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McWilliams, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Dent, Misses Lyon, Lizzie and Ida Blakistone, Katherine and Lillian Dent, Mary and Claudia Grason, Helen Burch, Emile and Edna Freeman, Imogene Hodges, Messrs. James and Samuel Lyon, Frank Hayden, Dr. R. V. Palmer, Ernest Burch, Willie Blakistone, Al Mattingly, William and Ludwell Herbert, Robert Lyon, Bernard and Willie Freeman, Johnnie Hodges, Stone Dent, John Herbert, — McWilliams and others.

The excitement on St. Clement's Bay last Wednesday evening was due to a very merry skating party, and not to a bacchanalian riot as might have been imagined by the "sound of revelry." The lanterns with the music of laughter and song attracted much attention and forms gathered along the bank in awed wonder to reconnoitre at safe distance. These disturbers of the peace were Miss Mary Grason, Mr. William Freeman, Miss Emile Freeman, Mr. William Herbert, Miss Claudia Grason, Mr. George McWilliams, Miss Edna Freeman and Ludwell Herbert. Bernard Freeman and Roy McWilliams, guardsmen.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Stone gave a dinner at their residence, Tomkokin, on January 19, the menu including everything for the heart of man could wish. Mr. John Lancaster enlisted the sympathy as well as the merriment of those present, who were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred McWilliams, Mrs. C. J. LaRoche, Mr. and Mrs. John Lancaster, Mrs. Robert Freeman, the Misses Grason and Miss Mabel Lancaster.

Repairing Neatly Done

Never thought of such a sign for a medicine did you? Well, it's a good sign for Scott's Emulsion. The body has to be repaired like other things and Scott's Emulsion is the medicine that does it.

These poor bodies wear out from worry, from over-work, from disease. They get thin and weak. Some of the new ones are not well made—and all of the old ones are racked from long usage.

Scott's Emulsion fixes all kinds. It does the work both inside and out. It makes soft bones hard, thin blood red, weak lungs strong, hollow places full. Only the best materials are used in the patching and the patches don't show through the new glow of health. No one has to wait his turn. You can do it yourself—you and the bottle.

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle. Send for free sample.
