

The Elections.

St. Mary's.

In St. Mary's, so far as reported, the election Tuesday last, passed off quietly. The Republicans carried the county for Congressman Mudd by a majority of 363. There was a noticeable increase in the prohibition vote, Neave receiving 41 votes against 15 for Thompson in 1900. In Leonardtown, so far as we could learn, the law against the sale or giving away of intoxicants was strictly observed by the merchants and restaurant keepers and if violated at all the offenders were private individuals. There were no violations of the peace here.

The only accident on election day thus far reported occurred in the 8th, district, Michael Brown, of Hermsville, being thrown from his buggy and having his nose broken, his face painfully cut and the vehicle smashed. The accident was caused by someone taking the "hops" from the axle of Mr. Brown's buggy.

Our fellow-townsmen, Mr. B. Harris Camaller made a gallant though unsuccessful fight in the Fifth Congressional District. He made a thorough canvass, and the failure to carry the district is not due to any lack of exertion on his part. Mr. Camaller and the personal friends who aided him in his campaign put up the very best fight possible under the adverse conditions that confronted them.

The count of the ballots in St. Mary's was made very expeditiously and the result in the county was known in Leonardtown before 12 midnight. When the fact is taken in consideration that some of the polling places are over 30 miles from the Court House and the returns have to be brought over rough roads and at night, this shows well for our county horses and the men behind them.

The tabulated vote of the county shows that the best Democratic work was done in St. Inigo's and Valley Lee Districts.

The vote of the county in 1902, for Congress, was:

Table with 4 columns: District, Camaller, Mudd, Neave. Rows include St. Inigo's, Valley Lee, Leonardtown, Precinct 1, Precinct 2, Chaptico, Mechanicsville, Patuxent, Milestown, Bay, Island.

In Mechanicsville, Horatio Canter received 1 vote.

In 1900, the vote of the county for Congress was:

Table with 4 columns: City Ward, Camaller, Mudd, Neave. Rows include 18th, 21st, 23rd, 24th.

Table with 4 columns: Name, Camaller, Mudd, Thompson. Rows include Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles, Howard, Prince George's, St. Mary's.

Totals: 00000 00000 000

Mudd's pluralities, according to the State report were:

Table with 4 columns: Name, Camaller, Mudd, Thompson. Rows include Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles, Prince George's, St. Mary's, City Wards.

Totals: 5419 300

Mudd's plurality: 5119

STATE OF MARYLAND.

The Congressional results in Maryland at Tuesday's election were as follows:

- First District—Jackson, Rep., by about 1,500 plurality. Second District—Talbot, Dem., by about 1,200 to 1,500. Third District—Doubtful. Fourth District—Denny, Dem., by about 500. Fifth District—Mudd, Rep., by about 500. Sixth District—Pearre, Rep., by about 4,000.

In the Third district Wachter, Rep., has a plurality of 41 in all precincts but the sixth of the Fourth ward. The vote of this precinct is disputed.

THE UNION. Returns from the country at large indicate a Republican majority of 17 in the next House of Representatives. The present Republican majority in the House is 40.

The United States Senate after March 3, 1903, will have a Republican majority of 16. The Republican majority in the present Senate is 20. In New York State Odell, Rep., for Governor now leads by 4,704 and the returns are not all in. Coley carried Greater New York by a record-breaking plurality of 122,925.

Pennsylvania is heavily Republican. The Republican plurality is estimated at 175,000.

Houston (Dem.) is elected to Congress in Delaware by from 3,000 to 5,000 plurality. Returns indicate that the Legislature will be anti-Addicks.

Virginia has elected 9 of the 10 Democratic candidates for Congress and the tenth is in doubt. The doubtful district is the Ninth, in which Col. H. C. Slomp (Rep.) was running against Congressman W. F. Rhea. He made a splendid fight, the returns thus far received giving him the advantage.

Col. John T. McGraw, Democrat, of Taylor county, was probably elected in the Second West Virginia district over the present Congressman, A. G. Dayton (Rep.), of Barbour county. This breaks the solid West Virginia delegation in Congress.

North Carolina gives a Democratic majority indicated at 63,000, with a solid Democratic delegation in Congress.

Ohio went heavily Republican, the plurality being estimated at fully 100,000. Indiana and Illinois went the same way.

The House of Representatives is probably Republican by a majority of 20. In the 57th Congress it stood, Democrats, 153; Republicans, 198.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3, 1902.

Chairman Griggs talked recently of the results to be obtained by a thorough revision of the tariff. He pointed out that Americans pay just double what other people pay for their lead pencils because of the high tariff on them. The price of American graphite pencils, to the trade, is $3.75 per gross, while they are sold to the foreign trade for $2.25. The pencil trade of the United States is supplied by just four firms which are so protected by the present tariff that competition is impossible and they are charging American consumers nearly doubly what they charge the foreigner.

There have been many remarkable features about the campaign just closed. The President and members of the Cabinet have been most positive in their promises of reforms which the real leaders of the party oppose and oppose vigorously. Mr. Moody has, on several occasions, promised the immediate repeal of the duty on anthracite coal, while Hanna, Aldrich, Allison, et al, have protested that there must be no change in the sacred tariff schedules. Attorney General Knox has been promising the people that there would be additional legislation looking to the control of the trusts. The real leaders have said, half heartedly, that there would be a change in present statutes if it was demonstrated that such change was necessary, but Mr. Knox says unqualifiedly that such change is necessary and points out the instances where he has been unable to prosecute trusts because of the inadequacy of the law. The President has caused it to be made known that he intends to recommend a bi-partisan board to consider tariff revision while Senator Hanna has assured the people they must "stand pat" and not permit any schedule to be revised. The Minnesota republicans have promised sweeping tariff reform and the eastern republicans have urged the reelection of the party because such reelection would prevent tariff reform.

The democrats, however, have adhered to one issue and that is tariff revision. They believe that the infant industries have been nursed into trusts by the tariff and they are anxious to reduce that tariff in the interest of the consumers. Mr. Bryan and Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Hill, all the ablest men in the party in fact, have started the issue to be the same and have emphasized the necessity of tariff reduction for the welfare of the country. That the people have not heard the last of the tariff or of the trusts is evident on all sides and that they demand some steps toward their relief is equally evident. That many persons did vote for the republican candidates with the belief that they would effect the desired ends is doubtless the case, but those voters will have an opportunity to see that no republican vote is ever cast against the interests of the trusts and the capitalists.

The gravest apprehension is felt in administration circles over the statement which President Baer made to the Anthracite Coal Strike

Commission, that there were numerous operators in the anthracite field who were not committed to the arbitration proceedings and who were not even consulted in the negotiations preliminary thereto. Were it not for the fact that the election is so close and that so much hinged on the belief that the coal strike was settled and settled for three years, it is more than probable that the President would have communicated with Mr. Baer and asked him what he meant by that statement, in view of his representations at the White House. As it is, the people believe that Mr. Roosevelt has settled the strike and it is desired that they shall do so, at least until after election.

The argument which it is feared Mr. Baer and his associates, in the event that the Commission finds against them, will advance, is that it would be unreasonable of the President to ask them to abide by the decision of the Commission without insisting on that decisions being equally respected by their competitors. Of course the President cannot insist on anything except through Baer and the other railway presidents who participated in the conference and subsequent agreement at the White House. The Commission has invited the other operators, those whom Mr. Baer declares were "in no way compromised" by his agreement, to participate in the sessions of the Commission and to voluntarily submit themselves to the same inquiry as the railway presidents but there is no reason to believe that they will do so unless Mr. Baer and the other trust magnates insist that they have particularly refused to do. There is no doubt but that the work of the commission will be watched with painful anxiety from Washington and it is more than possible that the next meeting will bring out important developments.

The President accepted, last week, the invitation of Representative Rixey of Virginia and left Friday night for Mr. Rixey's farm where he will enjoy two days shooting. This evening he will pass through Washington on his way to Oyster Bay where he goes to cast his ballot. On his return he will bring Mrs. Roosevelt and they will occupy rooms in the renovated White House.

OBITUARY.

Died, at Cremona, St. Mary's county, Md., October 23, 1902, EDWIN MITCHELL, only son of Rev. Walter A. and Susan Thomas Mitchell, in the 38th year of his age. More than passing notice is due the memory of the gifted young man, whose lamented death is chronicled above.

At the age of 13 he entered the Hagerstown High School and graduated in two years. After passing through St. James' College Grammar School, he went to Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., where he graduated in 1884 with distinguished honors, carrying off the degrees of A. B. and C. C.

He at once began work in the Engineering Department of the B. & O. R. R., and rendered skillful service in the street drainage of Norfolk, Va.

He planned and successfully installed the sewerage system of Manchester, Va., a work that has been most highly commended.

For seven years, he was Assistant Engineer for the Cumberland Valley R. R. and afterwards became Chief Engineer for the West Virginia Central R. R., in which capacity he served with honor until compelled by failing health to resign. For two years he lay stricken down by a fatal illness, with more pain and suffering than we know for his brave and kindly spirit ever stifled the voice of complaint. His patience, gentleness, and fortitude throughout the long months of suffering were truly marvelous and seem possible only through the special grace of God.

From earliest childhood the writer knew him intimately. As a boy, he was to be visited by none but good and noble impulses. As a man, he was ever the pure-minded, kindly, Christian gentleman.

So quiet and unostentatious was he, that few would suspect the refined gold beneath the surface of his nature. His spotless character was no less admirable than his talented mind; and, had he been spared the full measure of life, he would doubtless have come to be recognized as one of the brightest lights in his chosen profession. A FRIEND.

DIED. Recently, in St. Inigo's district, Viola Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bradburn, aged 7 months.

Our darling child is safe within the arms of the city whose walls are furnished gold whose pavements are jasper, sardonyx and onyx, through which flows the river of life; the inhabitants of which hunger no more, thirst no more, die no more. PARENTS.

Suddenly, at the residence of his brother-in-law, J. Frank Russell, on October 20th, ultimo, JAMES T. MATTINGLY, aged 37 years. May he rest in peace!

Much in Little. At the end of 54 years only 8,000 of the 112,000 American soldiers in the Mexican War are alive.

The horses that are best able to stand hard drains are those which work steadily every day in the week. Over 750,000 acres of pasture land are in the south of Scotland, which is more than half the country's total.

The pineapple crop in Cuba for 1902 is estimated at nearly 200,000 barrels, holding an aggregate of 14,000,000.

The whole number of Seminole Indians, showed by a census just taken, is but 333. Nearly all of them are in the Florida Everglades.

Germany sold Russia nearly $700,000 worth of plows last year. The plow in use in that country has wheels at the beam tip, so it does not have to be held.

A portable seat for messenger boys has been invented. The tired lad carries it concealed beneath his coat when not in use, but it will usually be in use.

Elijah Norton, of Bangor, Me., conducts a fox farm near that city, and says their raising is considerably more profitable than the raising of vegetables or grain.

A colossal hydraulic press, one of the largest in Great Britain, and the estimated weight of which will be 450 tons, is about to be added to the works of the Darling Forge Company.

Hungary, which was the first country on the Continent to adopt cycles for the motor and delivery of letters, is about to make another notable departure in the use of motor cars for this work.

A woman of Malden, Mass., recently refused to return $10 in change given her by mistake by the conductor of a trolley car and has, as a consequence, been sentenced to a year in the house of correction.
