Miss Johns' Benefit.

The concert of the Ladies' Musical club, for the benefit of Miss Jessie M. Johns, at Walnut Hill Tuesday night, netted $50. The late instruction of the club by Miss Johns appeared in the smooth rendition of the numbers assigned to it. Its singing and the individual performances were well received. The presentation of the operatta "Two Can Play at that Game" provoked much mirth and concluded an enjoyable and profitable evening. The success of the entertainment is due largely to the managerial capacity of the committee of ladies in charge.

Two Morning Fires.

The fire department was called out twice at an early hour yesterday. The first time the roof of the Carter white lead works was discovered to be on fire, the result of an explosion. The flames were extinguished after about $50 worth of damage had been done. The second call was to the Canfield house, the roof of which was also found to be burning, having caused from sparks flying out of the chimney. Only about $5 worth of damage was done, but for a while there was considerable consternation among the boarders.

At noon to-day Dean Gardner will inaugurate a series of religious services to be held every week day thereafter for the accommodation, convenience and benefit of business men. The dean says that in Chicago, New York and other large cities, meeting of this kind are successfully conducted and he thinks they can be here. A great many business men will be glad to devote fifteen minutes every day at noon to devotional exercises.

Buy Home Made Bread.

The city council gave Council Bluffs bread-makers a black-eye last night in the passage of an ordinance "to license wagons used in the delivery or peddling of bread, pastry or other bakery products manufactured outside of the city limits." For every such wagon the owner must pay an annual license of $100, and the driver of such wagon shall at all reasonable times on request, show his license to the inspector or any uniformed police officer. On the wagon must be displayed in large figures a number corresponding to the number of the license. Failure to comply with this ordinance will be deemed a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of from $5 to $100. It is understood that the Omaha bakers are at the bottom of this new scheme.

A COUNCILMAN'S VIEWS.

W. G. Shriver Thinks Omaha Will Have a Very Prosperous Year.

"Yes, the real estate outlook for the coming season is very encouraging to real estate dealers, and, with many others, I predict the liveliest boom in Omaha this year we have ever seen, and can't see why we should not have it. The building outlook is excellent, and there is plenty of cheap money on the market. The banks have a surplus on hand, and the different loan companies are prepared to furnish this western country with all the money it wants at a low rate of interest. Money is the first thing to get. After that comes manufactories, etc.

"Omaha is recognized the world over as being a good place to make money. I don't know of a better place to invest a dollar than right here in Omaha real estate. An architect told me a few days ago that they had more plans for expensive buildings to be erected the coming year than ever before, and thought there would be at least $2,000,000 put into buildings alone, in Omaha this summer. Yes, I think we are on the eve of the biggest building boom we have ever seen. It is surprising the number of small buildings that is being erected on the outskirts at present. Now what we want is more factories to furnish occupants and purchasers for these small homes. The more factories we have the more people employed, and the more people employed the more small and comfortable homes can be sold. We want a woolen and paper mill by all means. This is a splendid point for either, and I hope the day is not distant when we will see both of these industries carried on in our midst on a big scale."

PROTECTING COAL BUYERS.

The Features of the Ordinance Adopted Tuesday Evening.

Hereafter any person engaged in the sale and delivery of coal to Omaha customers must pay an annual license of $100. The year will be reckoned from January 1 to December 31. Any license issued may at any time, be revoked, cancelled and annulled upon conviction of the person, firm or corporation to which it is issued if any offensees against the provisions of the ordinance are committed. Failure to procure a license subjects any person to a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $100 for each offense. In the sale of coal, the hundred weight must consist of 100 pounds avoirdupois. With every delivery of coal made, the dealer must also deliver to the purchaser a signed certificate or ticket, showing the weight and kind of coal. Any delivery of a less quantity than than the amount purchased, paid for and certified to with intent to practice fraud, will be considered an offense, and punishable by fine from $5 to $100. Every purchaser will have the right to require a re-weighing of coal upon the scales of a city weigher before accepting it and if the weight is found correct he shall pay the expense of such weighing. If shorter, the seller must pay it.

Decoys for Young Ladies.

A lady signing herself "Wageworker" writes to Chief Seavey complaining of certain advertisements published in the papers of late which are really the decoys to a certain immoral business carried on by the same person in this city. The lady writes that "this humbug has been carried on for some time. At one time he advertised 'Ladies wanted; steady job; $18 per week.' At another, 'Ladies wanted for light, easy employment, at $10 per week, at 1616 Dodge.' At another time, 'Wanted—Male and female teachers; steady work, at 220 North Sixteenth street, room 17.'"

The lady says: "I answered all of these advertisements, with no idea of encountering the same deception each time, and the first thing that will be seen in his present location is obscene pictures spread upon a table. When a person applies he pretends to wish to teach one ivory-type painting in two hours. Many young ladies like myself are actually becoming afraid to answer an advertisement." Officer Ormsby is investigating the matter.

An Opening Gala Day.

The ball season of 1889 draws on apace, and the cranks throughout the city are in a high state of pleasurable excitement. The opening championship game here, this year, will probably be an occasion long to be remembered. The management is talking about making it the greatest gala day in the base ball history of the Gate City. A good band will be on hand and give an open-air concert before the game, and the players of the opposing teams will parade the streets in carriages, and altogether it will be a notable occasion. The mayor, city council and other dignitaries will be invited to occupy prominent seats, and every effort will be made to get the ladies out in force. On the opening day it would be a good idea to admit the fair sex free. Their presence will enhance interest in the struggle a hundred fold, and in the long run the management will be the gainer. Under any circumstances the season of 1889 is to be started with a boom.

Who Took the Records?

The case of S. A. Orchard against the Junior Order of Mechanics, who owe him a bill of $130 for carpets, has been attracting considerable attention in Justice Kroeger's court of late. The case first came up two weeks ago to-day, and was continued one week. A week ago another continuance was secured until Monday of this week, but when the eight men who represented the order had departed it was discovered that a book and paper necessary for evidence against them had also disappeared, although both had been in the justice's possession, and were lying on his desk during the arguments for a new trial. The book contained the records or the association and the list of members. The paper was a warrant containing this list also. As the organization is now extinct, it will be impossible to secure the names of the members unless the book and warrant are secured. The case was set for Monday, but the loss of the record book and warrant was then discovered and the case was continued again until this afternoon.

HARTMAN DEATH-TRAP.

The Principal of the Rookery Anxious For Her Scholars.

Miss Ellen M. White, principal of the Hartman pest-house and death-trap, writes to THE BEE with reference to its article on that subject of last night as follows:

"All the rooms in the Hartman, except two, are fairly well ventilated. In these two there is a positive need for complaint.

"One is without any ventilation, except the windows and doors. The other, with a seven and a half-foot ceiling, has a small ventilating shaft.

"This, with the low windows, is decidedly insufficient. Foul air is the constant result.

"There never comes a heavy storm without the annex building is a source of great anxiety to me. I have moved the children to the main building when the storms seemed too severe."

Superintendent James was asked concerning the school in question. He does not, it seems, think it is dangerous and only in extreme circumstances has there been any suspicion of danger. When men like Messrs. Woolley, Morrison, Hoover and Livesey, who are practical builders, express no concern about its safety, he does not think the opinion of the janitor should be accepted. He states further that the whole scare is due to natural concern of a teacher for her pupils. The ventilation, however, is bad.

Mr. Wehrer, a member of the committee appointed to examine the building, says that, after looking over the structure, he found no cause for uneasiness as to the building not being strongly constructed. There is no danger whatever, but he thinks the school is too high. He found all the rooms well ventilated except two in the basement, and the committee will recommend the discontinuance of the use of these. Mr. Wehrer thinks that the increase of pupils will require a new building soon.

MARRIAGE OR DEATH.

The Alternative a Lover Gives a Handsome Young Lady.

Miss Ella Kimball, a young lady of very prepossessing appearance, complains that she has been suffering all manner of indignities at the hands of one R. D. McClutchen, because she will not marry him. He is "clear gone" on her, but she says he is a lazy loafer who does not even provide for himself, and she will have nothing to do with him. Tuesday evening, he called on her, and after again unsuccessfully pressing his suit, he assaulted her, striking her in the face. He returned again about 2 a. m. and attempted to break into the house, but was driven away by the other occupants. On a number of occasions he has threatened to kill her if she would not become Mrs. McClutchen. She swore out a warrant for his arrest on the charge of assault, and after he is tried for that offense she will have him bound over to keep the peace.

Returning, train leaves Manhattan at 2:25 p. m.; arriving at Beatrice at 6:25 p. m., Lincoln at 7:50 p. m., and Omaha at 11:20 p. m., Council Bluffs 11:40 p. m., making direct connection with Kansas division trains from Kansas City, Lawrence, Topeka and the east, and from Denver, Salina, Abeline and all points west, enabling passengers to visit the principal points in Kansas and Nebraska in the shortest possible time. Tit For Tat.

A few days ago a man named William Wilson caused the arrest of Jacob Schmitz, for damaging an old barn. At the time Wilson flashed a gun and threatened to shoot Schmitz. The latter was tried in police court on the charge of destruction to property. Now Schmitz retaliates by filing a complaint with Justice Read, charging Wilson with carrying concealed weapons and threatening to shoot him. Schmitz also filed a peace warrant to compel Wilson to keep the peace. Wilson will be arrested as soon as he can be found.

THE MAJORITY of our spring goods have now arrived and we have them on our counters.

As leaders in the clothing trade we are expected to be ahead in quantity of stock and variety of styles. Our exhibit will show that we have fully realized these expectations.

We invite inspection of our grand stock which by far exceeds that of any former season. Three immense floors full of new goods. Such a stock was never shown in Omaha before.

At the opening of the season it may not be out of place to emphasize the fact, that in the face of constantly increasing competition, our business has kept on growing larger and larger until now it is conceded by all that the Nebraska Clothing Company is the leading clothing house of the west, and sells more goods than any two or three of the largest houses in Omaha combined.

We mention this for the benefit of those who have not yet traded with us. It should go a long way toward convincing them that a house who is thus able, not only to hold its trade, but to increase it from season to season MUST offer inducements which can not be had elsewhere. Close buyers have recognized the vast difference between our prices and those of other houses.

To new customers we wish to say: we want you to try us. You take no chances in trading with us. We offer no goods that we can not warrant to give entire satisfaction, and we were the first to establish the rule of refunding your money in case your purchase is not entirely satisfactory.

We have always sold goods cheap but this season we will break the record. Prices talk and our prices this season will do more advertising for us than the newspapers.

A Sure Cure —OR— NO PAY. 20 to 60 DAYS.

This is a disease which has heretofore Baffled all Medical Science.

We have a Remedy, unknown to anyone in the World outside of our Company, and one that has NEVER FAILED to cure the most obstinate cases. Ten days in recent cases does the work. It is the old chronic deep seated cases that we solicit. We have cured hundreds who have been abandoned by Physicians, and pronounced incurable, and we challenge the world to bring us a case that we will not cure in less than sixty days.

Since the history of medicine a true specific for Syphilis has been sought for but never found until our was discovered, and we are justified in saying it is the only Remedy in the World that will positively cure, because the latest Medical Works, published by the best known authorities, say there was never a true specific before. Our remedy will cure when everything else has failed. Why waste your time and money with patent medicines that never had virtue, or doctor with physicians that cannot cure you, you that have tried everything else should come to us now and get permanent relief, you never can get it elsewhere. Mark what we say, in the end you must take our remedy or NEVER recover and you that have been afflicted but a short time should by all means come to us now, not one in ten of new cases ever get permanently cured. Many get help and think they are free from the disease, but in one, two or three years after it appears again in a more horrible form.

This is a blood Purifier and will Cure any Skin or Blood Disease when Everything Else Fails.
