Another Sensational Day in Wall Street Spreads General Demoralization.

WHEAT LABORS UNDER HEAVY INFLUENCES

Corn Closes Somewhat Heavy—Further Decline in Oats—Provisions Unsettled—The Day in the Stock Exchange.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—The wheat market had many things against it today. The chief bear influences were the demoralization in stocks at New York, and danger of failures in financial circles in the east and abroad; later in the day the visible supply figures showed an increase exceeding the estimate; stocks in country elevators in the northwest were also largely increased. The day opened with trade completely unsettled over Wall street reports, where the break in values over night was the most general in years. Trouble was also expected at Boston, growing out of a decline in copper shares abroad. The wheat market started with sales for December all the way from 97¾c down to 97¼c, with 97⅜c a fair opening price, and May $1.04 to $1.04¼. As soon as the flurry was over the market became firm and made a fair recovery to 98⅛c for December and $1.04⅞ for May, or just ⅛c under the close Saturday for each month. When the market paused at those figures, attention was again turned to the stock market and to the posted reports on the visible wheat. New York increased its wheat 362,000 bushels, Minneapolis 457,000 and Chicago 23,000. The total visible supply increased 1,464,000 bushels. Country elevators in Minnesota and the Dakotas increased their stocks 1,400,000 bushels for the week. Receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth today were 917 cars; Chicago had 182 cars, or 60 cars over the estimate. Buying by Logan & Co. and Boyden & Co. was stopped, and when wheat was offered it found no takers. A few houses began selling. Dunham & Co. were conspicuous; Lamson sold freely; Hutchinson began selling; bears turned in and sold, and a sharp decline followed. December sold down 1⅛c from the top point to 96¾c, and May dropped to $1.03¾. There was a rally to 97¼ for December and $1.04¼ for May, and the market became more settled at about 1c under the closing prices of last week. Cables were not a factor in the market at any time. There was some recovery in wheat the last half hour, and at the close December was ⅜c lower and May but ⅛c off from Saturday. Bulls appear to be very cautious, but predict big things with a little outside help. December rallied to 97⅝c and May to $1.04½ at the close. November sold at 96⅝c and off to 95c, closing at 95¾c. On the curb privileges on December wheat were very changeable. Puts sold at 96⅝c to 95⅛c to 96c at 3 p. m., when calls were 99c.

Corn showed enough strength at one time early in the day to sell ⅛c over the closing price on Saturday. The trade expects a bullish showing in the government report due this afternoon. It is confidently believed that the average yield will be under twenty bushels per acre and it will need to be even less to hold up the market to its present pitch. Liverpool sent strong cables early, quoting maize ½d up on spot and futures. It was reported that Hutchinson was a buyer at points. The increase in the visible supply was 832,000 bushels. The movement was nowhere important. May sold at 51⅛c to 54⅜c to 55⅛c and back to 54⅛c before 1 o'clock. Corn closed somewhat heavy. It was due to some evening up in getting ready for the crop report from Washington. At the close a broker predicted that the average per acre for the country will be between 19 and 20 bushels, and that if it exceeded 19½ bushels it would cause a bear market to follow. At the close May corn sold to 54⅜c, the low price for the session, with sales at 54⅝c after the bell. The range for November was quoted at 52⅜c to 52⅝c, closing at 52c. December sold at 51⅝c to 52⅛c to 51⅝c to 51⅞c to close. May corn privileges were spread from 52@52⅛c for puts to 56 @56⅛c for calls.

Oats closed ⅛c lower for the day for all months. November was quoted at 41c to 41⅛c to 42⅜c to 43⅛c to close; December, 43⅛c to 43⅝c to 43⅜c to close; May, 46c to 46⅛c to 46⅛c to close. The visible supply decreased 175,000 bushels for the week.

The market for mess pork was unsettled all day and, while the range of prices was wide, the change at the close was not great. All products opened weak and lower on the receipt of 40,000 hogs at the yards and only 30 per cent of the hogs desirable. Pork was at $11.12½ for January, with May 7½c lower at $12.50. There was an unexpected advance during the morning on buying by Dunham & Co. and other bull houses. The prices were carried up to $12.12½ for January and $12.92½ for May. A sharp break of about 25c followed before noon, and on a slight rally the prices closed at $11.90 for January and $12.70 for May, or about 15c higher. Lard closed 2½c under the best prices at $6.15 for December, $6.40 for January and $6.85 for May. Ribs closed about steady.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—CATTLE—There was little or nothing new in the cattle trade. Salesmen that had good and suitable stock were enabled to sell early and at prices that were equally as good as at the close of last week and, on the other hand, stock that was not suitable—and there was plenty of that quality—dragged along all day and sold at all sorts of prices; none, however, any higher than last week, and in some instances a shade lower. Native butchers' stock opened as low as at any time last week, and as low as at any time during the year. The stocker and feeder trade had not yet opened up for the week, but there is little or no chance for any improvement in prices, as the demand is limited and the number on sale large. Texans and rangers were reported steady. Twenty-three car loads of prime steers sold at $4.95@5.25; good to choice, $4.50@4.85; medium, $4.25@4.50; common, $3.00@3.80; Texans, $2.15@2.80; rangers, $2.80 @3.60.

HOGS—Demand fair and prices steady on prime heavy mess pork hogs, but a good 5c lower on the ordinary run of mixed and light mixed, which made up the bulk of the receipts. Rough and common sold at $3.50@3.75; largely $3.65; fair to good heavy, $3.80@3.95; prime heavy and butcher weights, $3.90@4.00—few at $4.10; assorted light of 210 down to 150 lbs sold at $3.80@3.80, largely $3.75, and the singe sort at $3.80; pigs of 100 lbs average and under, $2.50@3.00; over 100 lbs and up to 140 lbs, $3.25@3.50.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—[Special Telegram to THE BEE.]—STOCKS—The week was ushered in with a purely professional and sensational stock market. A drop in prices in London amazed the street early. The decline in Consols was seriously regarded. Boston added to the demoralization by throwing stocks which were supposed to be firmly held. The fall in Copper shares, abroad especially, affected trade centers where the trade is known to be heavily loaded with all classes of securities. Here the temper of the room was most bearish. The action of Gould and Cammack in holding conferences and being apparently well pleased with the Friday and Saturday market adds to the belief that a deep-laid manipulation is under all the great loss in values, and that funds were even withdrawn from banks to make the bearish showing at the end of the week. The declines since Saturday afternoon were the largest ever seen over night and losses of fractional amounts were the exceptions in drops of from 1 to 3½ per cent. The latter in New England covered nearly the whole active list. There was more of a panicky feeling than was noticed at any time during the present decline and stocks were thrown over in the most reckless manner, causing a most feverish and unsettled market, but with a steady decline in values of securities. Even after the heavy opening losses, farther declines of from 1 to 4 per cent were scored, the most prominent movement being a drop in Manhattan which, after opening off 4 per cent at 96, retired 4 per cent further to 92 in the first few minutes trading. Other noticeable losses were 3 per cent in Western Union, 2½ in Pullman, 2 in Louisville & Nashville and in almost all active stocks material amounts. Firm features of early trading were Northwestern and New England, though the latter had already lost 3½ per cent on first transactions. Trading reached enormous figures, but while the bottom seemed to have dropped entirely out of the market, there came a more quiet feeling toward the end of the hour, and some stocks actually recovered a portion of the early loss. Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati & St. Louis, which had dropped 4½ per cent to 55, rising to 58. The market, however, remained in an extremely feverish and unsettled condition and at 11 o'clock was less active. On another spurt of activity there was some covering of short stocks and in the hour to noon prices rallied quite materially. Rock Island, especially, gained all its early loss, while other granger stocks recovered ½ to 1 per cent from bottom prices. Coal stocks showed good rallying power. Trust stocks were comparatively quiet. A slight recovery in stocks about midday was of short duration and the selling fever raged again late in the day. As part of the programme money was bid up to 16 per cent and closed at a reasonable rate. Stocks broke sharply in all directions. Sugar finally yielded 5 points; Big Four closed 4½ off at 57¾, and Louisville 4½ lower at 69; Manhattan and New England each closed 4 points lower; St. Paul suffered severely, closing at 5½ per cent less at 44½. Other granger shares were off 2 to 3 points. Lackawanna lost 3¾ at 134½. Total sales were 510,000 shares.
