The Council Bluffs sausage factory, which has been doing business on Broadway just above the Ogden house, was closed yesterday afternoon on a landlord's writ of attachment which was issued in superior court on petition of the owner of the building, Mrs. F. D. Webster. Lund & Hansen were the proprietors, and the amount for which the attachment was issued was $440. The attorneys for Mrs. Webster were West & Wheeler.

The city schools opened yesterday morning after a week's vacation. The attendance was light and some of the members of the board are of the opinion that they made a mistake in opening so soon. A large number of the children are still sick with the measles or grippe, and still more are under quarantine, so that for a week or two at least the attendance will not be anything like what it should be. It is the intention, however, to go on with the work and trust to the ability of the stay-at-homes to make up what they have lost when they return.

In police court yesterday morning Clifford Clark and Nelson Egbert, charged with the larceny of four boxes of cigars from the Hotel Gordon, were granted a continuance until this morning at their request. George Tracy, charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace, was fined $10.80. William Tucker, who was released Saturday morning after being arrested for drunkenness, upon his stating that he had procured a ticket for the east and would start for that part of the country just as soon as he was let out of jail, turned up before his honor once more, with a large piece of his head gone from a spot over his right eye. He had also lost his ticket, and as he was unable to get out of town, he was given $10.10 worth of credit for board with the city marshal.

NEWS FROM COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Liveryman Schluter Takes French Leave of His Many Creditors.

COMPLICATIONS OF HIS AFFAIRS.

He Has Swindled Nearly Everyone He Met and Gone with Another Man's Wife—How He Operated.

A. Schluter, who has been until the last day or two the proprietor of a livery barn at 916 Broadway, is missing, and there are several parties in the city who would like to hear from him. There have been rumors for some time past that his business was not conducted on the best of business principles, but there has been nothing upon which his creditors could resort to extreme measures, until Saturday night when he left town apparently for good. He took with him Mrs. Yount, with whom he has been living on Park avenue for several months past. The woman it is stated has a husband living in Sioux City. His flight was not discovered until yesterday morning.

Officer & Pusey own the building on lower Broadway where Schluter has been doing business. The property was leased until next July, but last December the landlords became restless over their tenant's failure to pay rent promptly. They threaten to push him when he induced Dan Carrigg to sign the lease with him. Carrigg in this way became to all intents and purposes the lessee of the building, and Schluter the sub-tenant. When Carrigg discovered that his protege played him false, he at once set about protecting himself, and had a landlord's writ of attachment issued, for $583, to secure the unpaid rent.

Yesterday afternoon a further complication arose when the Citizen's State bank, by its attorneys, Messrs. Sims & Saunders, served a notice on the city marshal that they held a mortgage on the establishment for $2,500. It is stated that for some time past Schluer has been quietly disposing of his horses, wagons, and mules, and the result is that there is not enough to satisfy the claims of the mortgagees.

Creditors are looming up by the dozen. L. Seybert, the proprietor of the Tremont house, where Schluter formerly boarded, mourns his departure $660 worth. Of this amount $160 is for a board bill and $500 for a loan which was made to the boarder when he was in better circumstances. Schluter had a contract from the city for the grading of Lincoln avenue, and the men who worked for him on that job are left in the lurch as to their pay. The amount of the shortage in this item being several hundred dollars. A part of the bill was to be paid by the school board, and this sum was allowed to him by the school board at its last meeting. Schluter neglected to draw the money and it was attached yesterday afternoon by the Citizens' State bank. Besides these, there are almost innumerable smaller bills unpaid in various stores about the city. One of the first evidences of crookedness that became public was a business transaction which Schluter had with a party from St. Joseph. The St. Joseph man brought up a number of mules to be sold. They were sold by the proprietor of the barn for $800 and Schluter, it is claimed, pocketed the proceeds. A. J. Poppleton of Omaha was the buyer.

The question which will have to be settled between the bank and Carigg is whether the mortgage or the landlord's writ of attachment takes precedence. Carrigg states that he has examined the records and has found that the stock was moved into the stable August 3, while the mortgage was not filed with the county recorder until the 6th. He claims that on this account his claim is prior to that of the mortgagee.

He Likes the Water.

"I am very sorry to see Mayor Macrae take the stand he has in regard to the city water," said T. J. Evans yesterday afternoon to a reporter for THE BEE. "I have made a good deal of use of the water this spring and I can say truthfully that I have never seen anything so good for the purposes which I have used it as this very water that the mayor condemns so strongly. I have watered my front lawn on Oakland avenue all spring. My next door neighbors have used ordinary barn yard fertilizers to bring their grass up to time, but there is no comparison between the two. My grass is decidedly the best on the avenue, and the only thing I have used on it in the way of a fertilizer is water from the waterworks. The germs of different sorts of things that enter into its makeup seem to be just the thing to make the lawns take on their spring hue. Drinking? Oh, well, that is something different. I wouldn't advise you to say anything very much about this water as an article of diet. Everything, you know, has its place, and the water from the Council Bluffs waterworks has its place, but it isn't on the human stomach. No, its very good for grass, but not much good for people."

Latest Swindle.

It is stated that a bogus agency for the enlargement of pictures has commenced operations here, and has already succeeded in deceiving a number of unwily ones. The headquarters of the affair is given as 1805 West Broadway, and the name of the company is the Superior Art company. There is no house on Broadway at the number given, and inquiries at the other houses in that vicinity have so far failed to bring to light anyone who knows anything about the company.

The plan consists in selling a certain number of pictures for $1 each for the purpose of furnishing samples of the work done by the company. After the purchaser has paid the required $1 the agent disappears and is heard of no more. Since his departure some of the pictures have been coming in accompanied by bills for anywhere from $6 to $30, according to the style of frames ordered. Quite a number of people have been swindled in this way.

The City's Answer.

City Attorney Stewart filed his answer yesterday morning in the superior court in the case of Deere, Wells & Co. vs the city and the city treasurer, L. Kinnehan, which was commenced last week for the purpose of compelling the treasurer to pay a couple of judgments which were assigned to the plaintiffs. The judgments were rendered by a justice of the peace in the east end of the county. In his answer the attorney claims that the justice who rendered the judgment resided east of the west line of range 40 and had therefore no jurisdiction over the case. The statutes provide that the court of Avoca shall have original and exclusive jurisdiction over all cases which may arise east of that line, and if the case should be appealed it would be appealed to the court at Avoca, thereby giving it jurisdiction indirectly that it did not have directly. The case will probably have a hearing today.

Sellers of Oleomargerine.

War has been declared on the sellers and the users of oleomargerine. George C. Tupper of Osage, the state dairy commissioner, has been in the city ever since Sunday evening looking up the oleomargerine business, and the result of his investigations was the arrest of the proprietors of the Model restaurant on Pearl street and the Council Bluffs, located on South Main street. They were taken before Justice Hammer, where a warrant had been issued charging them with the violation of the law which requires all restaurants and hotels using the bogus butter to proclaim the fact by the use of signs, which are to be stuck up around their rooms. Both proprietors pleaded guilty to the offense, and were fined $10 and costs. Mr. Tupper is still in the city and will remain for a day or so, and in that time expects to get hold of a number of others who have been violating the law. It is stated that the sale of the article is much more nearly universal than is usually supposed to be the case. The commissioner has visited a number of towns in this part of the state during the past few weeks, and has brought many offenders to time.

Cannot Withdraw.

There was a rumor on the streets yesterday that Justice Patton had decided to resign his office, provided the parties who are trying to push him to the wall would let him alone. Justice Patton could not be found all day and none of his friends could or would say whether the rumor was true or false. It is a fact, however, that a certain individual visited some of the persons who have taken the lead in the prosecution and asked them if they would be willing to drop the proceedings if he would resign. The parties who were thus approached replied that they had no power to drop the proceedings even if they had the disposition to do so. The county attorney has received his orders from the board of supervisors to begin suit against him at once and the order cannot be taken back without the calling of a special meeting of the board for that purpose, and that is out of all range of probability. The grand jury is not at all likely to ignore the case, and will take it up as soon as it can be reconvened. Two of the number are sick at present and it is not in session.

NO DRESS COATS.

First Dinner of the Sundown Club an Informal Success.

The first dinner of the new Sundown club was given at the Paxton hotel last evening and proved to be not only a delightful informal, but highly successful affair.

About eighty citizens, representing the business and social life of the city, were present and the occasion was all that the promoters of the new organization could have wished.

J. R. Buchanan, general passenger agent of the Elkhorn railroad, presided, and Rev. Dr. Duryea and Judge J. R. Clarkson were the principal speakers of the evening. The topic of discussion was, "Should Election to the Senate of the United States be by Popular Vote." Both gentlemen argued for the affirmative in speeches which were well received. The discussion brought a few words from each of the following gentlemen: Messrs. Marple, Gurley, Kilpatrick, Heaton, Hitchcock and Mahoney, discovering a very general sentiment against the proposition.

The dinner was excellent and the good feeling general. All present were made to feel at home and everybody agreed that the club would prove a success.

Among the well known citizens participating were Guy C. Barton, William Wallace, N. V. Morse, George W. Logan, G. M. Hitchcock, R. B. Peattie, Judges Hopewell, Davis and Irwin ex-Judge Clarkson, J. R. Buchanan, T. S. Clarkson, R. R. Randall, T. J. Pennell, R. B. Guild, C. J. Green, C. F. Breckenridge, T. J. Mahoney, E. W. Simeral, W. H. McDiarmid, D. H. Goodrich, W. B. Curtis, Charles H. Marple, J. H. Wilbur, F. R. McConnell, Thomas Kilpatrick, F. P. Kirkendale, W. F. Gurley, Frank T. Ransom, Clement Chase, Dr. Heaton, H. Lourie, J. H. McIntosh, Warren Switzler, E. S. Gatch, W. L. McCague, Elmer Frank and a large number of others.

One of the tenets of the club is "no late hours," and the company therefore dispersed at 10 o'clock, but not until some good natured fun had been poked at Postmaster Clarkson the only guest present in a dress coat.

The delicious fragrance, refreshing coolness and soft beauty imparted to the skin by Pozzoni's Powder, commends it to all ladies.

OMAHA'S OPPORTUNITIES.

Glittering Prospects Discussed by the Board of Trade.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of trade was held last night, with a large number of members in attendance.

The secretary read a long letter from the Pennsylvania tourists, in which they spoke in very high terms of the entertainment furnished them while in this city.

The resolutions relative to transportation, adopted by the National Transportation association were read and referred to the committee on transportation.

The request to send delegates to the Trans-Mississippi congress that convenes in Denver next month was presented and the president instructed to appoint ten delegates to attend such convention. President Morton is authorized to appoint himself chairman of the delegation.

President Harrison's contemplated visit to this city, May 13, was discussed. Mr. Wheeler favored the holding of a meeting of citizens to make arrangements for the president's entertainment. The idea took well, and the president will appoint a committee of five members to confer with citizens.

Resolutions thanking Secretary Nason, E. L. Fowler and General E. F. Test for efforts put forth in securing the passage of the public warehouse bill were presented and adopted.

Colonel Champion S. Chase entertained the board by describing a banquet that he attended upon his late visit to Washington. He said it was the grandest spread that he has ever seen and that he had the honor of responding to a toast. He said that during the present summer the Washington board of trade will visit the west and will stop off in this city.

He also said that beyond any question of doubt a meeting of the pan-republican congress will be held in this city next October. Colonel Chase grew enthusiastic and said that if Omaha puts forth the proper effort she can secure the general session of the congress to be held in 1893.

Secretary Nason took up the warehouse bill and explained its provision to the members of the board.

E. L. Fowler spoke upon the features of the bill and favored the opening of an exchange not later than August 1.

Major Wheeler thought the first thing would be to secure warehouses.

Mr. Fowler said that the warehouses are all right, as upon the law taking effect July 1, all warehouses become public warehouses and are subject to the rules of the board.

Mr. Lobeck understood that a good deal of grain is sold by sample and thought the warehouses will be provided.

The president will appoint a committee of five to take steps to open a grain exchange and look into the question of warehouse facilities.

Resolutions on the death of Phillip Von Windheim were read and adopted by the board.

Commercial Congress Delegates.

The directors of the board of trade met in executive session yesterday morning and President Martin appointed J. J. O'Conner, James Stephenson, W. J. Broatch, W. E. Clark, Sam Cotner, L. H. McKenne and H. E. Palmer as delegates to the western commercial congress that convenes in Kansas City today. The delegates departed during the afternoon.

GLORIOUS TRIPS PROPOSED.

Enviable Opportunities for Summer Excursions Offered to All.

A trip from Omaha to Denver and Manitou includes a ride through the famous Platte Valley of Nebraska and Colorado to Denver, the largest and most beautiful city of the Rocky mountains and along the foot of the Rocky mountain range from Denver to Manitou. The panorama which is laid before the eye of the traveler in a journey from Denver to Manitou, includes in one sweep of the eye 300 miles of mountain peaks, snowy range, foot hills and canons. Long's peak, away to the north; Gray's peak, the dome of the continent; James' peak, the Arapahoe peaks, Pike's peak, the most famous of all mountains of Colorado, and away to the south, 300 miles from the point of observation, the three forbidden mountain tops known as the Spanish peaks, are all in view for a part of the distance.

Manitou is the most attractive of the many resorts of Colorado. Lying at the foot of Pike's Peak and at the entrance of the Garden of the Gods, it invites the tourist and sight seer to the most remarkable formations and the grandest and most picturesque scenery of that rugged range. Its mineral springs and pure air give new life to the debilitated. The Pike's Peak railroad, a marvel of engineering skill, conveys passengers to the very summit of the lofty old mountain. From the top of Pike's Peak all the great mountain peaks of Colorado are distinctly visible, while to the east its tree-lined avenues at right angles, looking like a checker board in the distance, lies the pretty little city of Colorado Springs and beyond the great plains of eastern Colorado. A volume could be written, indeed volumes have been written, of the glories of Manitou and Pike's Peak.

A ticket covering this tour is offered for the seventh largest list of subscribers.

There is no American tour which combines a greater variety of scenery and a wider interest to the traveler than one from Omaha to San Francisco and Los Angeles, Cala. The traveler passes through the states of Nebraska Colorado, Wyoming, Nevada and California and the territory of Utah. This is the great business belt of the west and at every step of the journey something of interest presents itself, whether the tourist be student, business man or merely pleasure seeker.

Nebraska and its prairies; Colorado and its mountains; Utah and its wonderful Salt lake; Nevada and its arid plains and California with its innumerable attractions, are all compassed in this trip. Omaha, the most prosperous city in the union today; Denver, the queen city of the Rockies; Salt Lake, the Zion of Mormondom; San Francisco, the golden gate, and Los Angeles, the City of Our Mother of the Angels, form a string of jewels of rarest water.

These are all prosperous cities; they are all beautiful cities; they are all wonderful cities. Each is remarkable for some particular reason. No two of them are alike in attractions and no traveler can afford missing to see each and all. In the months of June, July, August and September the prairies of Nebraska, the Rocky mountains, the valleys of Utah and the great Sierra range are seen to the best possible advantage. It is the fruit season of California, the sight seeing period of all the mountain countries and the pleasurable part of the year for travel.

The ticket offered by THE BEE in return for the second largest list of weekly subscribers obtained by June 10, 1891, allows stop-overs at all points of interest between Omaha and Los Angeles. A week or a month may be spent at Denver visiting the picturesque mountain resorts adjacent and another week can likewise be enjoyed at Salt Lake in hunting, fishing, sight seeing and bathing in the great inland sea. As much time as the passenger likes may be enjoyably spent in San Francisco and other points in California, not excepting the lovely orange groves and fruit orchards of southern California.

Niagara falls, the world's greatest cataract, needs no glowing description. It cannot be described. Pouring over a precipice 160 feet high, the immense volume of water of Niagara river, the outlet of the great lakes finds its way toward the ocean. On either side of the river are splendid views of this tremendous waterfall, above it and below it and all about it are other scenes which have attracted travelers from all parts of the world. Goat island, the burning spring, the whirlpool rapids, the suspension bridge, are incidents merely to a visit to Niagara falls.

The field on which the battle of Lundy's Lane was fought is within a few minutes drive on the Canadian side. The facilities for visiting all points of interest on either side of the river are superior. The regulations controlling access to and from the several points now prevent the exorbitant charges which were formerly almost as famous as the cataract. A day or a few days at Niagara falls is one great event in an average lifetime, and no American should ever think of visiting tourist resorts abroad until he has seen Niagara falls. He can have no appreciation of power, of grandeur, of awe-inspiring beauty, who has missed a visit to this world renowned spot.

Kicking Didn't Count.

A Tennessee jackass became terribly enraged because his master had bought him a mate. He let forth a bray so loud, so long and so deep that it echoed and re-echoed throughout the surrounding country. Passion and jealousy nerved him to one supreme and fatal effort that cost him his life. A blood vessel burst. The crimson tide could not be stanched, and the unhappy animal lay down and died.

If you decide, from what you have heard or read, that you will take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy any substitute instead.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

Annual Convention of the Omaha United Presbyterians.

The annual Sunday school convention of the Omaha presbytery of the United Presbyterian church began a two days' session last night in the Park Avenue Presbyterian church.

The programme embraced the following topics: "Mission of the Sabbath School on Behalf of the Neglected," to be opened by Miss Lizzie W. Johnson of South Omaha; "Conversion the Chief Aim of the Teacher," opened by Rev. George T. Scott of North Bend; "The Best Sabbath School Organization," opened by George G. Wallace.

The church was handsomely decorated with plants and flowers in bloom and presented a very inviting appearance. Despite the discouraging condition of the weather there was a fair sized audience and the topics discussed proved to be quite entertaining.

Those present from abroad were Rev. L. Proudfoot of Albia, Ia., Rev. C. C. Kyle and wife of Majors, Neb., Mrs. R. H. Bell, Mrs. Jennie Wilson, Wilhan McAlister of Dunbar, Neb., Rev. George T. Scott, North Bend.

There will be a morning session of the Sunday school convention today and in the afternoon the Omaha Presbytery will meet at the same place.

Surprised the Pastor.

On Friday evening about fifty of the congregation of the Cherry Hill Congregational church surprised the pastor and his wife, Rev. J. A. and Mrs. Milligan, at the parsonage, of which they took possession and spent the evening in social enjoyment.

Mr. Milligan closes the fourth year of his pastorate with the church on May 10 next, and has presented his resignation to take effect at that date. The church has been unanimous in its support of Mr. Milligan through these years and regret the prospect of his leaving.

She Wants Alex Oleson.

Josie Johnson appeared yesterday before Justice Anderson and had a statement made out, and then she signed it, in which one Alex Oleson is represented as being the cause of certain social irregularities which will, in the near future, cause Miss Johnson a vast amount of sorrow and shame unless Oleson makes her his wife very shortly. Oleson will probably appear to explain the embarrassing situation today before the judge.

Frank Dennis' Death.

The inquest to determine the cause of death of Frank Dennis, the liveryman, who died suddenly about ten days ago, was concluded yesterday. Prof. Muller testified that he had made a chemical analysis of the stomach and intestines and had found no traces of morphine or other poison in sufficient quantity to cause death. A verdict was returned that death was caused by the blood clot found in the heart.

Omaha Should Advertise.

W. A. Webster, who has been traveling in the east, in the interest of the East Omaha land company, states that it is important that Omaha should do some advertising. He states that Kansas City, Denver and most of the western cities are making tremendous efforts to attract people, but sees nothing relative to Omaha's advantages.

An Ohio lady was so frightened by a snake that her glossy black hair turned white as snow. It was soon returned to its original color by Hall's Hair Renewer.

Coots and the Court House.

John T. Coots yesterday began the work of preparing the plans which will show the elevation of the court house with the high bank dug away and two stories built underneath the present structure.

It will be some three weeks before Mr. Coots will be able to submit the sketch of the remodeled building, but he promises that when it does come it will be a beauty. In speaking of it he said: "My sketch will show the building complete on the grade of Farnam street, and I think it will represent a building that will please the public. It remains for the people to say whether or not the building will be built according to my plans, but one thing is certain, it would be cheaper to do so than to go on and build additions, as have been frequently contemplated."

"After a varied experience with many so-called cathartic remedies, I am convinced that Ayer's pills give the most satisfactory results. I rely exclusively on these pills for the cure of liver and stomach complaints."—John B. Bell, Sr., Abilene, Tex.

Wants More Room.

Postmaster Clarkson will in the near future recommend to the postoffice department at Washington that the registry and money order departments be removed to the second floor of the postoffice building.

The postmaster thinks with this change the present postoffice facilities would be adequate for the next five years or possibly until the new building is completed.
