STINSON WANTS NO DOGS

Is Also Provided With "Bikes" —Had Great Chance, but Turned It Down

[Oregon Journal.]

"I want to see the gentlemen who advertised for a typewriter."

"Where's the guy who wants to buy a dog?"

"Say, is that fellow who wants to buy a bicycle here?"

These three questions, fired at Chief Clerk Thompson, of the Hotel Perkins, Friday night, were just a taste of the experiences which he and M. F. Davis, of Union, grand chancellor, and L. R. Stinson, grand keeper of records and seal, of the Knights of Pythias, of Oregon, had to undergo yesterday. Mr. Davis and Mr. Stinson came to Portland Thursday to attend the high jinks of the Domestic Order Knights of Khorassan, the "funny branch" of the Pythians. They had all the fun they wanted, so they thought, but not quite enough, so their fellow Pythians thought. So they were made the subject of two huge jokes. Advertisements were inserted in the papers for a stenographer and typewriter to go to Union, "apply to M. F. Davis, Hotel Perkins," and for 20 bicycles and a watchdog, apply to L. R. Stinson, same address.

Seven o'clock had not struck Friday night when several young women surprised Mr. Davis by applying for a position as typewriter. He had to explain to the first that it was a case of mistaken identity, but she would not believe him. She furnished a copy of the paper containing the advertisement, and then he saw the joke. It was easy to dispose of the others by simply telling them that he had filled the place.

Mr. Stinson's first visitor was a remarkably small boy with a remarkably large Newfoundland dog, and he owned a lad with three bicycles in various stages of dilapidation. More came, and this morning there was a string of boys with dogs and bicycles. The boys appeared to have caught every wandering mongrel in the city and they asked fancy prices for them, too. No sales were made, and there were a lot of disappointed boys about the hotel.

Mr. Thompson said he received scores of applications for the position of typewriter, and about 100 offers of dogs and bicycles over the telephone and declined them all on behalf of Mr. Davis and Mr. Stinson.

To Fight Fruit Pests.

Vigorous war has been commenced by county fruit Inspector Armstrong against the San Jose scale. The pest has overrun the country, and is now a serious menace to the life of fruit and shade trees. In the effort to curtail its inroads, Fruit Inspector Armstrong is notifying property owners that they must remove and cut down all trees that are infested.

This time of the year, according to Mr. Armstrong, is the most propitious to gain the upper hand of the pest. Trees hopelessly covered with the scale can be easily cut down, and others where a hope of recovery still exists can be trimmed and sprayed. All high trees, however, should have their tops taken off, that spraying of the entire tree may be possible.

The mountain ash is the tree most affected by the scale. They are not native to this country, but have been imported and reared for shade trees. Many of these, in Salem alone, will have to be cut down, for they are covered with the pest. Two well-known property owners in this city, William Brown and Henry W. Meyers, for the purpose of the example, have cut down without any request from the fruit inspector, infected mountain ash trees that stood on their premises.

Trees in the country, especially in fruit orchards, are much better protected from the scale than those in the city, which are grown for ornamental purposes only. In the country, the fruit trees must yield profitable crops, and therefore spraying and pruning is done frequently to prevent the best from gaining a foothold. This is not the case in the city, where, of course, fruit is not raised for market.

Mr. Armstrong intends to proceed vigorously against those householders who neglect to care for their trees. He is empowered, in cases where his notices are disregarded, to undertake the work of cutting down or saving trees himself, and collect, through the district attorney, the charge for the labor.

Its Bad for a Football.

The second football team of the Oregon reform school met the Yew Park team on the varsity field Saturday afternoon, and defeated them by the score of five to nothing. It was a very interesting little game, but the pleasure of it was somewhat marred by the fact that one of the reform school boys received an injury that rendered him unconscious for a couple of hours.

He had broken through the line to block a punt, but stumbled just before reaching the punter, and, as he fell, the fullback kicked, missing the ball and striking the boy on the side of the head. He was removed to the Samaritan hospital, where he regained consciousness after two hours.

His name was Robert Landreth, and his parents reside in Polk county.

It cured my fearful running sores, which nothing else would heal, and from which I had suffered for 5 years." It is a marvelous healer for cuts, burns and wounds. Guaranteed at J. C. The man had been an object of search, both on the part of the police and the sheriff's office for some time. Complaints of his practices had frequently, of late, been made, and a strict watch was kept for him.

The man has lived in this city about six months, and has been employed irregularly at the Stolz cider works. He will have a hearing this afternoon before Justice Turner.

GET DOWN TO FACTS.

Read What Salem Citizens Say.

Get down to the facts of the matter. Don't take a stranger's word. It is easier to prove the truthfulness of statements made by citizens of Salem than endorsements coming from some far-away place. Read the following:

Frank V. Muller, living on East State street, Salem, Oregon, says: "Without question Doan's Kidney Pills is the best remedy for the kidneys that I ever used, and I recommend it with confidence to anyone looking for a good cure. I was subject to attacks of backache for more than six years, having heavy bearing down pains through the loins and kidneys and it hurt me when I lifted anything. I always got up in the morning with a lame and sore back. In addition to these annoyances there was an irregularity in the action of the kidneys which was very exasperating. I used several remedies but nothing seemed to do me any good. Finally, hearing about Doan's Kidney Pills I got a box at Dr. Stone's drug store. The first box did me so much good that I got a second. I was soon relieved of the pain in my back and the other annoying difficulties entirely disappeared.

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
