It is expected that fully 10,000 people will line the river banks both Friday and Saturday evenings.

Owing to the mistake of the printer in correcting the proof, that portion of Meyers (the big mercantile firm's) ad of yesterday featuring "A special sale of women's pumps" was made to read "65c per yard," conveying the impression that these shoes would be placed on sale at 65c per pair. The ad should have read "Per pair $2.35" and in justice to the firm and the reading public we also might otherwise expect to secure these bargains at 65 cents per pair, this correction is cheerfully made.

Treasurer Kay Gets Caught In "Bowl Of Joy" Machine

State Treasurer and Mrs. T. B. Kay and daughter are expected to arrive home from the San Francisco exposition tomorrow morning after a two weeks' vacation. Word was received here today that Treasurer Kay, while enjoying a ride on the "bowl of joy", one of the Zone features of the exposition, stuck his arm out over the edge of the conveyance and it became entangled in the machinery to such extent that it stopped the whole works and it was extracted with some little difficulty. It is understood, however, that his injuries were not serious, the skin being scraped off his arm to some extent.

STATE FAIR WINNERS HAVE TIME OF LIVES AT THE EXPOSITION

Oregon Boys and Girls Take Deep Interest and Gain Much Knowledge

According to Assistant State School Superintendent E. F. Carlton, who returned yesterday afternoon in company with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Seymour, of Dallas, chaperones, and those of the party of nine young children who viewed the wonders of the exposition at San Francisco as prize winners in the various state school exhibits at last year's state fair, the young people had the time of their lives and scraped up more solid information of an educational character in a week than they have otherwise accumulated in a half dozen years. They were given every opportunity to see the sights of the exposition and the city and offered every encouragement and courtesy wherever they went.

Each boy and girl had a note book and pencil and made note of everything of especial interest and Mr. Carlton proposes to have these boys and girls write him letters giving detailed descriptions of their impressions. Perry Nathan Pickett, of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pickett, and one of the winners of a prize trip to the fair was unable to take advantage of the rare opportunity to gather practical knowledge such as was offered by the trip. The other members of the party were: Chas. C. Charley, of Browns berg; Audley Meyer, of Lake Creek; E. Vernon Haines, Myrtle Creek; Frances Hawley, McCoy; May McDonald, Dallas; Oscar Schneider, Creswell; Jessie Keyt, of Perrydale; Paul Jaeger, Sherwood, and Kenneth Burnell, Monmouth.

NOTICE TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

It is respectfully requested that all persons who have automobiles and can possibly do so, kindly appear with same at the Commercial Club Friday afternoon immediately after the parade, for the purpose of taking the visiting organizations and ladies, on a trip to the various points of interest around the city.
—COMMITTEE

The Queen of the Cherry fair and her court will be present at the entertainment at the Grand Saturday night.

Mrs. Margaret Geddes Sticks To Her Story

Ogden, Utah, July 1.—Continued cross-examination after the completion of re-direct questioning again failed today to shake the story of Mrs. Margaret Geddes respecting her relations with the late David Eccles, the multi-millionaire whose estate is involved in litigation here in which Albert Geddes Eccles is the plaintiff.

Mrs. Geddes rehearsed the conference in which she says Eccles asked her to falsify at the Smott investigation before the senate committee. She also told of a trip by her to Washington, D. C., and the money which he furnished her. She testified that he clothed her children well, bought silverware and cut glass and also that he furnished her with railroad passes to Baker City and Portland, Oregon.

The first delay in the trial which is now nearly two weeks duration occurred late yesterday when Geddes was forced to leave the stand because of illness. He resumed the stand today and was placed under cross-examination again this noon. First of the other witnesses for the boys guardian will be called this afternoon.

George Siefert, former manager of the Salt Lake Tribune, has been called from Portland to testify for the plaintiff. He is expected to tell of the opportunity given Eccles to deny in a signed statement that Mrs. Geddes was his plural wife and that he refused to do so. This opportunity was offered, it is alleged, during attacks of the Tribune upon Eccles and the Mormon church.

FRUIT CANNING AND POULTRY RAISING CAR TO WORK IN VALLEY

Superintendent of Public Instruction J. A. Churchill has received word from Mr. H. A. Strohm, general freight agent of the Southern Pacific, that his company is planning to run in conjunction with the Oregon Agricultural college to operate a fruit canning and poultry demonstration car in the Willamette valley, commencing about July 12.

Superintendent Churchill is in hearty sympathy with this movement, which is closely allied to the work which the state department of education is doing through its industrial club workers and will assist in securing the attendance of the school children at the various points to be visited.
