PHILIPPINES AT WORLD'S FAIR

Complete Exhibition of Island People and Industries Covers Forty-seven Acres and is Independent of Larger Show.

Not even in the heart of Manila city could there be found forty-seven acres of Philippine territory as interesting as that amount of space covered by the islands' display at the World's Fair. Here is an exposition within an exposition, a little wheel that revolves independently of the larger one encompassing it.

Scores of buildings are filled with exhibits, native life is depicted by as many different villages as there are tribes on the islands, military drills are given by Philippine troops, and concerts are rendered by native bands.
For its amusement features the Philippine exposition has the humorous igropines, ever at war among themselves and with the whole outside world. Despite their ferocity they are a clever race, dress handsomely, have their sultans and their slaves and are expert seamen, while long continued pillage on the high seas has surrounded them with many of the luxuries and conveniences of western civilization.

SOUTH ENTRANCE PALACE OF LIBERAL ARTS, WORLD'S FAIR.

rote, who dines on dog meat, and visitors are entertained by Visayan actors and actresses. Nothing is lacking to make the show complete.

The Administration building is a replica of the one in Manila, and the while the Art and Education building reproduces in miniature the cathedral within the walled city, even the mellowed tints of age being faithfully rendered. A section of the ancient but still serviceable town wall has been reconstructed to serve the double purpose of a gateway to the show and a museum of arms and war relics.

The other main edifices are types of Filipino homes, being built of under-dried timber, bamboo and rattan, with thatched roofs and broad verandas.

Then there are the tribal villages nestling under the trees, some of the houses perched high up among the boughs, others on piles above the waters of the Arrowhead lake, all of them actual dwellings fashioned of native materials by native workmanship and illustrating the manners, customs and pernities of their occupants. Here are men weaving a coarse cloth on a rude hand loom, others making baskets, others tending irrigated fields of rice. One group of men are in village council, trying an offender according to their tribal laws; others are slowly moving in a circular dance to the thunp of tom-toms and the clang of brass gongs; others, again, are smelting iron by the aid of a primitive but most ingenious bellows, the constituent parts of which are a bamboo tube and an airtight mop of feathers working therein like the piston of a syringe. And these are but a few of an almost endless variety of life pictures.

The ethnological problem is a somewhat complicated one; but, although there are no fewer than sixteen races represented among the village dwellers, the scouts and the constabulary, each race speaking its own dialect and following its own customs, all may be roughly classified into four groups—the true aboriginals or non-Malays, the pagan Malays, the Christian Malays and the Mohammedan Malays.

The first are the dwarf Negritos, with dark skins and woolly heads, wearers of scanty raiment, proficient in the use of the bow and poisoned arrow, a race of nomads and forest dwellers, pagans pure and simple. They live in their own stockaded village.

Next to them are the Igorrotes, whose origin is traced back to the first wave of Malay invasion. Here, again, we have scanty clothing, amounting almost to nudity, but copper colored skins, long wavy tresses, pleasant featured faces and fine physiques, even though the stature be small. Among these pagan Malays are the head hunters and the dog eaters. They are savages, yet have their code of laws and a knowledge of several primitive industries.

The Christian Malays, produced by the second wave of invasion, are represented by the Visayans, a tall and handsome race, dressing well, living in pretty homes, skilled in weaving, dyeing, basket making, hat making, wood carving and other handicrafts, muscians of no mean merit, the one group of natives who came early and thoroughly under the influence of the early Spanish settlers.

Very different are the Moros, who swept into the islands from the Malay peninsula last of all, bringing with them their Mohammedan religion, also a knowledge of gunpowder acquired from the Koran from the Arabs—fanatics like their teachers, pirates, bloodthirsty, treacherous and vindictive fel-

ACROSTIC.

BY H. W.
Beneath the banner of "Old Glory," Ever stands our hero bold, Never doubting the "old, old story," Jackson very wisely told; America should always be,
Mindful of her liberty, Independence should be her motto, National unity her pride, Honesty, from mountain-top and grove, Americans proclaim with pride:
Rejoicing ever on land and sea, Believing in free Street liberty!
In these lines you'll find our hero, Son of old St. Mary's brave, Gave not down by tyrant Nero; Anxious ever, his party to save; Mourning not, as you all see, Aglow, instead for liberty, Long may our hero live to be,
In every heart, on land and sea, Remember, and then shall we Rejoice together for liberty.
Sept. 22, 1904.

The Dramatic Entertainment

(Reported for the Beacon.) The Dramatic Entertainment in the Town Hall, this village, on Wednesday evening of last week was largely attended and elicited much applause. The characters of the play were well sustained throughout and showed great dramatic talent on the part of the performers. Miss Edwardina Crane, who represented the unappreciated wife [poor old woman] was especially good, as well as Harry M. Jones, that husband of hers, who did not appreciate her as he should. J. Spencer Crane, belonged to the National Guard and was a lawyer when he had nothing else to do and a liar [tell me the difference] all the time. Frank Fox-well was a jolly old cove; Lorenzo Northam, the Japanese Uncle; "Tommie" Roby, a waiter of the "Cafe Gloriana"; Miss Maud Long, a mischievous maid and to crown all, Miss Katherine, a pretty wife, as full as she could be of mischief—All were well sustained, and you can well imagine how such a mixture of characters could present many amusing situations. All who attended were amply repaid and highly entertained.
The play produced was "His Uncle from Japan." We have seen better plays and were somewhat surprised that such an array of talent had not attempted a play of more literary merit. Certainly, such talent could present, with credit, such plays as "She Stoops to Conquer," "London Assurance," or others equally meritorious. The players are elevated enough; let us in the future elevate the plays. Why not produce during the coming Winter the great comedy of Goldsmith.

CONCERTS BY MASSES BANDS

Prizes Aggregating $300.00 to Be Distributed at the World's Fair.
Never were musical contests in America planned upon such an extensive scale as those of the World's Fair. A series of concerts will be given by competing bands in contest for prizes offered by the World's Fair. The contests will take place in Festival Hall, Sept. 12 to 17.

Five cash prizes, aggregating $300.00, are offered for the successful bands.
The prizes are divided as follows to give to the organization securing the highest number of points $3,250; the second highest number of points, $1,500; the third highest number of points, $1,500; the one getting the third highest number.

The above division is made for bands in Class A, which consist of twenty members. In the B class $10,000 will be given in prizes—first, $3,500; second, $3,500; third, $3,000.

Class C, which includes bands of thirty-five members, will carry the division of $12,750. For the organization scoring the highest number of points a prize of $4,000 has been named. The second prize is $4,000 and the third $2,- 700.

Bands employed by the Exposition are not permitted to contest. All players must be bona fide members, and each musician must have been enrolled at least three months prior to the date of the contest. Each band must send to the bureau the name of its members and a nominal entrance fee.

Festival Hall concerts by masses bands will be given at 7:30 each day during the contest, in which all contest-ing bands will take part under the direction of a distinguished conductor.
All bands entering must agree to play one concert in addition to the competing concert and named concert.

A separate programme has been prepared by the Bureau of Music for each class, and each band will play through the full programme of its class. The numbers in all three programmes are by eminent composers and are chosen with the view of bringing out the qualities of the bands performing them. The list of composers includes Wagner, Gou-nod, Offenbach, Verdi, Saint-Saens, Bizet, Strauss and Leoncavallo.

WEATHER AT WORLD'S FAIR.

Cool Nights and Delightful Indian Summer to Be Expected at St. Louis.

Usually the warmest month of the year, July proved to be one of the most pleasant of the World's Fair season, the average temperature being 67 degrees, a record lower than that made by either Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati or Chicago. The weather bureau records show that the temperatures in St. Louis during July were just between the extremes recorded at New Orleans and St. Paul, cities located at great variance.

August in St. Louis is a month of cool nights, and September and October are the most delightful months of the year. It is that period known as Indian summer, when the foliage and birds linger to challenge the coming winter. Nowhere on the American continent is there a spot more delightful than the World's Fair city, a garden of blooming flowers and spraying fountains.

St. Louis, like all cities, experienced several hot days during July, but her highest temperature recorded was 93 degrees against 94 degrees registered by the thermometer at Chicago. On the same day the mercury rose to 96 degrees in Philadelphia, and scores of heat prostrations were reported from New York and Boston.

The relative humidity shows St.
Louis to be about normal. Assuming absolutely no moisture in the atmosphere to be zero and absolute wetness to be 100, the relative humidities for July, taken from the records of more than twenty years, Boston shows 70.6, New York 72.3, Philadelphia 68.6, Cincinnati 64.8, Chicago 65.9 and St. Louis 66.3. The same degree of heat in two places, with different degrees of humidity, would cause it to seem the hotter at the point of greater density.
St. Louis may therefore rightly claim to be a summer resort this summer, positively one of the most comfortable and delightful places on the map.

Judge Parker on Red Hair.

Judge Alton Brooks Parker, the Democratic candidate for President, was recently chatting with an auburn-haired visitor on the veranda at Rosemount, N. Y. Naturally, the conversation turned to the subject of red hair, which is a characteristic of the Parker family.

"When I was your age," said the Judge to his guest, "my hair was redder than yours—it was fiery red, in fact, and, in consequence, my fighting instincts were over-developed while I was in school. In the country district where I learned my "three R's" it happened that I was the only red-haired youth. When I first attended school the boys had a hood deal of fun shouting 'sorra!' and 'red-top.' It never failed to rouse my fighting blood, and I had a strenuous life."

"But you wouldn't have changed the color of your hair, would you?" asked the visitor, blandly.

"No, indeed," said the Judge:
"red hair is all right. My daughter has it, and my little grandson there is as red as he can be. They say it is a sign of high temper, but it is also a sign of numerous excellent qualities."

"We've had two red-haired Presidents," said the visitor—"Jefferson and Jackson—and they were both Democrats."

"That's true," said the Judge;
"and don't you think it's about time we had a third?"—From Success.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K.
Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine, and to day she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth.
Infallible for Coughs and Colds 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by all Druggists. Trial bottles free.

That Confederate money was never taken seriously is well illustrated in the following story told by the late General John B. Gordon, and which, so far as can be ascertained, has never appeared in print:

One day during a temporary cessation of hostilities between the opposing forces a tall, strapping Yankee rode into the Confederate camp on a sorry-looking old horse to effect a trade for some tobacco.

"Hullo, Yank!" hailed one of a number of Confederate soldiers lolling about on the grass in front of a tent; "that's a right smart horse you'll got there."

"Think so?" returned the Yank.
"Yes; what'll you take for him?"
"Oh! I don't know."
"Well, I'll give you $7000 for him," battered the Confederate.

One of Many.

H. A. Tisdale, of Summerton, S. C., suffered for twenty years with the Piles. Specialists were employed and many remedies used but relief and permanent good was found only in the use of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. This is only one of the many, many cures that have been effected by this wonderful remedy.
In buying Witch Hazel Salve it is only necessary to see that you get the genuine DeWitt's made by E. C.
DeWitt & Co. in Chicago, and a cure is certain. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cures all kinds of piles, cuts, burns, bruises, eczema, tetter, ring-worm, skin diseases, etc. Sold

Parker Will Carry Indiana.

Mr. Reuben Dailey, editor of the Jeffersonville (Ind.) News, who visited Esopus with his brother editors and listened to Judge Parker's speech, said, on his way back to New York:
"Turn the rascals out." "That was the cry Tilden ran on, and I am glad Mr. Parker brought it forward." In my county the money question is dead. We want economy and reform, peace and lower taxes. That is sound Democracy. Parker will carry Indiana on those issues, as Tilden did."

Can You Eat?

J. B. Taylor, a prominent merchant of Christman, Tex., says: "I could not eat because of a weak stomach. I lost all strength and ran down in weight. All that money could do was done, but all hope of recovery vanished. Hearing of some wonderful cures effected by use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, I concluded to try it. The first bottle benefited me, and after taking four bottles, I am fully restored to my usual strength, weight and health." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures. Sold by Loker & de-Waal.

A Southern writer relates this story of a negro preacher's version of the parable of the Good Samaritan:
"There was a traveler on a lonely road," said the preacher, "who was set upon by thieves, robbed and left wounded and helpless by the wayside. As he lay there various persons passed him, but none offered to assist him. Presently, however, a poor Samaritan came by, and, taking pity on the wounded man's plight, helped him on his mule and took him to an inn, where he boarded food and drink and raiment for the man, directing the inn-keeper to send the bill to him. And dis an a true story, brethren," concluded the preacher, "fo' de inn an standin' dere yet, an' in de do' way standin' de skeel'or ob dat innkeeper, waitin' fer de Good Samaritan to come back an' pay de bill."

Didn't Know Beans.

Senator Hoar relates with much glee the conversation that recently took place between two Southerners, the first of whom had but lately returned from a trip through New England. Said the first man from Dixie to his friend:

"You know these little, white, round beans?"

"Yes," replied the friend; "the kind we feed to our horses?"

"The very same," said the do-you know, sir, that in Boston the out-landed citizens take those little, white, round beans, boil them for three four hours, mix them with molasses and I know not what other ingredients, bake them, and then—what do you suppose they then do with the beans?"

"They"—
"The first eat 'em' sir!" interrupted the first Southerner, impressively.
"Bless me, sir, they eat 'em!"— Edwin Tarrisse, in Lippincott's.

Pill Pleasure.

If you ever took DeWitt's Little Early Risers for biliousness or constipation you know what pill pleasure is. These famous little pills cleanse the liver and rid the system of all bile without producing unpleasant effects. They do not gripe, sicken or weaken, but pleasantly give tone strength to the tissues and organs of the stomach, liver and bowels. Sold by Loker & de-Waal.

Broke Into His House.

S. Le Quinn of Cavendish, Vt., by invasion of Chronic Constipation.

When Dr. King's New Life Pills broke into his house, his trouble was arrested and now he's entirely cured. They're guaranteed to cure,

A Great Ruler.

One of the greatest of rulers is the liver. It governs the human organism. When the liver is out of order the whole system becomes diseased.
Keep your liver healthy by using Rydale's Liver Tablets. They cure all liver trouble. They cure constipation. Your money back if they do not give satisfaction. Loker &

Foolish Jap.

The Japanese officer was being court-martialed.
"If you have any excuse to offer for allowing your command to be captured," said the general, "I will hear it now."
The man on trial shook his head gloomily.
"I have none, sir," he replied.
It was my fault entirely. We had captured a Russian spy, and before we started to retreat from our dangerous position I asked him to tell me his given name. Ere he had finished the enemy surrounded us."
