STOCK TRADING IN RATHER LIGHT VOLUME

Slight Declines From Yesterday's Closing.

MANHATTAN REACTIONARY

Hesitancy in Market Due to Awaiting Bank Statement for the Week Due Today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The Stock Market opened with the trading in rather light volume and with the transactions for the most part effected at slight declines from yesterday's final figures. Brooklyn Rapid Transit was exceptionally firm, the strength of that stock being based upon the extremely favorable report of the company for the month of October, wherein a gain in net earnings in excess of $100,000 was shown.

There was nothing whatever that was definite in this morning's news which threw any light upon yesterday's more extensive movements in the market, and particularly with regard to the sharp rise in Louisville and Nashville. That stock continued fairly steady in the early dealings this morning. Manhattan Railway was somewhat reactionary.

The transactions in St. Paul, Union Pacific, and the other usually active railway shares were made at a fractionally lower level. The London market for American stocks was quite weak, but the dealings here for foreign account were upon a trifling scale. The hesitency of the market in contrast with yesterday's strength was doubtless owing to the fears that the bank would report a large decrease in surplus reserves in their weekly statement today owing to the losses they have incurred in their operations with the subtreasury.

IRON PRODUCTION THREE TIMES AS GREAT AS GOLD

Total of Precious Metal Last Year $78,000,000.

The Geological Survey today issued the following bulletin relative to the production of gold, silver, and other metals in 1901:

"In round numbers the value of the gold product was $78,000,000, and of the silver product the value was $71,000,000 as money (coining value) and $34,000,000 as metal (commercial value). As metals, then, gold and silver products were valued at a little less than $112,000,000 as money, they were worth $150,000,000. The corresponding figures for 1900 were $140,000,000 and $152,000,000—a loss for 1901 of over three millions.

"The copper product in 1901 was valued at $87,000,000, the lead was valued, as in 1900, at $23,000,000 and zinc was produced to the value of over $11,000,000. The copper, lead and zinc products in 1901 were worth $5,000,000 more as metals than on coin and silver were worth as metals, although the value of the copper product was $11,000,000 less than in 1900.

"The combined values of abrasive materials, of chemical materials, of pigments, and of other miscellaneous products, amounted to about $28,000,000 in 1901, since they were worth almost half as much as the gold produced, and about $10,000,000 more than the silver as a metal.

"The structural materials produced in 1901, the building stone, the clay products, the cements, valued at about $187,000,000, exceeded the gold and silver by $70,000,000. If the commercial or metal value of silver is taken, and by $42,000,000, if silver is taken at its coining value.

"Iron ore and its products, the metallic basis of our civilization, increased notably in quantity but decreased in still greater proportions in value in 1901 as compared with 1900. Yet, notwithstanding a loss of nearly $18,000,000 in value as compared with 1900, the pig iron produced in 1901 exceeded the metal value of the gold and silver by $120,000,000 and their combined coining value by $95,000,000.

"Compared with the mineral fuels, coal, petroleum, and natural gas, produced in 1901, the combined coining value of the gold and silver is exceeded by $292,000,000, and the combined metallic value is an $812,000,000 to $442,000,000, an excess of $370,000,000 of the necessary mine over the precious metals."

Kid Sullivan and Joe Bernstein wrestled to a draw at Kernan's last night. They tugged at each other for the limits of time, but neither would secure a fall.

Stepped Against a Hot Stove.

A chief of Mr. George T. Brown, when getting his usual Saturday night back slapped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to relify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Brown is a well known resident of Leesburg, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic, ointment and especially valuable for burns and bruises and sprains. For sale by Hoge Evans, Wholesale and Retail, and all druggists.
