COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT

EDITED BY LEVI L. TATE, PROPRIETOR

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

SATURDAY MORNING, JANUARY 31, 1863.

Hon. Clement L. Vallandigham.

The Great Speech of the Hon C. L. Vallandigham, on the War.

To the exclusion of our usual variety of reading matter, we publish with profound satisfaction in this morning's COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT, the thrilling Speech of Mr. Representative VALLANDIGHAM, of Ohio, on the War, recently delivered in the National House of Representatives. We are quite sure we could not publish anything more valuable or interesting than this powerful speech, one of the ablest ever delivered in the Halls of Congress, even in its palmiest days of its intellectual glory. It is a speech which would add to the fame of a Clay, or a Webster, or a Burke, or a Chatham. In style, it is worthy of Macaulay's finest composition. It is a speech that ought to be read by every citizen of the United States, and especially by those who have been opposed to Mr. VALLANDIGHAM. They will discover in it a force of reasoning, a richness of historical illustration and depth of patriotism, that they cannot but recognize and admire in the fullest sense. This speech must produce a great effect upon public opinion and do much towards closing the war or concluding an armistice.

Blackcreek and Beaver Valley Teachers Institute.

The Teachers and citizens of the two above named townships, of Columbia and Luzerne counties, conjointly, met on Saturday last, January 24, 1863, and organized the Blackcreek and Beaver Valley Teacher's Institute. The exercises were opened by singing a Hymn.

The subjects before the Institute, were ably discussed by the respective Teachers in attendance and imparted much interest. Officers were then elected, viz:—T. N. Smith, President; R. Trumbell, Vice Pres't; Geo. P. Driesbach, Treasurer, and Ezra E. Brown, Sec'y.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks according to the requirements of the School Law of Pennsylvania.

New Columbus Academy.

This institution is among the best conducted and most prosperous schools in Northern Pennsylvania. Under the auspices of its able Superintendent, Prof. R. S. BINGHAM, by whom it has been materially improved, we are gratified to learn, the "New Columbus Male and Female Academy," is prospering and going on to still greater prosperity. A new Term commenced on last Tuesday.

☞ Col. Levi L. Tate, of the Columbia Democrat, will soon have as high a reputation as a wit as he has already as a profound statesman. In his last paper he says, "The President speaks of our Foreign Relations—meaning, we suppose, his wife's relatives in the rebel service." No one would discover that vein in the Colonel's sober countenance. Some one asks him why the Express company refused to take packages to the soldiers? adding, "would it have been so if he was a nigger?" To which the Colonel gravely replies, "It is in keeping with the general conduct of this African Administration!" The Col., no doubt, calls himself a loyal man like all the rest of his party.

Record of the Times.

"LOYAL," of course, every time, Billy Minor. Not the loyalty you have placed upon the record, in your labored efforts the past two years, by inciting insurrection amongst the citizens of Wilkesbarre. Nor is it that kind of loyalty, which induced you last Fall, to denounce Col. Wright as disloyal, for favoring the Democratic policy, (when he wanted the nomination for Congress,) and now (that he has been left out in the cold) and feels at liberty again to oppose Democratic statesmen, has induced this prince of flunkeys to endorse his loyalty and patriotism. "Birds of a feather," &c.

N. B.—Now Billy, suppose you again maliciously assail the fidelity of Hon. E. B. CHASE, and when the Court honorably acquit him of any wrong in the case, you meanly neglect to make the amenda honorable.

"We of this Administration cannot escape history."—Abraham Link-horn.

No, indeed! old hoss. Your deeds, past and present, are all upon record. DAVID, many thousand years since, in the LV. Psalm, 20, 21 and 23d verses, beautifully and knowingly described all such hypocrites:

"He hath put forth his hands against such as be at peace with him; he hath broken his covenant."

"The words of his mouth were smoother than butter, but war was in his heart: his words were softer than oil, yet were they drawn swords."

"But thou, Oh God! shalt bring them down unto the pit of destruction: BLOODY and DECEITFUL men shall not live out half their days."

☞ Our esteemed young correspondent, —B. F. H.,—has favored us with several acceptable productions. "The Soldier's Death"—"The Shipwreck," and "The Child's Questions." They will appear in regular order, commencing next week, in the COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT.

A Traitor in New York.

T. C. Callicot, a professed Democrat of Brooklyn, sold himself to the republicans, and they have elected him Speaker of the Assembly. The treason of Callicot, is like that of Cameron. Down with the traitors.

Why is it that the name of Col. Wright, almost invariably, as to voting in Congress, follows that of Vallandigham?

Record of the Times.

Because, Col. Wright never yet gave a sensible vote in Congress, except when he voted with "VALLANDIGHAM." His constituents so informed him at the last Election. Had he acted and voted uniformly, with Mr. Vallandigham, he might have been re-elected to Congress.

ANOTHER JOB FOR OLD ABE.—When his Congress branded Cameron with infamy, Old Abe took the responsibility! Simon is again in trouble. Will the old fellow now assume the responsibility?

☞ The Abolition republicans, hereabouts, are again lauding Col. WRIGHT. What does it mean? Is it, because the Colonel recently attempted to run a tilt against the patriotic VALLANDIGHAM!

☞ Hon. S. E. ANCONA, Hon. JOHN D. STILES, and Hon. C. L. VALLANDIGHAM, have our thanks for public documents.

☞ We have the American Agriculturist, for February, which is considered the model agricultural journal of the country.

☞ A. G. CURTIN, Governor of Pennsylvania, has our thanks for a pamphlet copy of his late Annual Message.

☞ W. V. McGRATH, Democrat, was on Monday last, elected State Treasurer, for the term of one year.

Army Correspondence.

Written for the Columbia Democrat

CAMP NEAR FREDERICKSBURG, VA.
84th Reg. P V., Jan. 16, 1863.

COL. LEVI L. TATE,

Dear Sir:—As nearly a whole Company of the 84th comes from your section of the Keystone, a brief account of their fate and behavior during and since the battle of Fredericksburg, may prove satisfactory to yourself and the readers of your patriotic paper.

The 84th, 110th P. V., and the 163 N. Y. V., compose the second brigade of Gen. Whipple's Division, and is commanded by that brave and fearless officer, Gen. S. S. CARROLL. Although the brigade is very small (not containing over 600 effective men, being less than the number of an ordinary Regiment,) it acquitted itself so nobly, and fought so desperate at the battle of Fredericksburg, that full brigades might justly envy the laurels, which this little heroic band won during the dreadful conflicts When ordered to charge upon the enemy, they came in contact with a perpendicular bank, the top of which they could only gain by assisting each other with their guns, this object was accomplished under a severe shower of shot and shell from the enemie's guns, but the brave boys were not the least daunted by these deadly obstacles, for as soon as all had reached the height, they re-formed their line, and, encouraged by the cool and brave example of Gen. Carroll, made a brilliant charge upon the enemy, driving them out of their front breastworks and rifle pits, which they held for 28 hours when they were ordered to re-cross the river. But the second brigade did not alone do justice to the cause which our army came to defend, for every Regiment and Brigade on the field, with but few exceptions, deported itself with honor and patriotism. The lists of the immense number of slain and wounded corroborate this assertion. Yet with pain and regret we record those deeds of valor, and those repeatedly desperate and determined charges, when we reflect over the wanton bloodshed, and the great destruction of property, and find that nothing has been effected to encourage our faithful soldiers, or to promote the cause of our country. But why is it that our large army with six hundred thousand reinforcements is repulsed, with such severe less, at every attempt? The doings in the city of Washington unfold the tale.

In that great Metropolis lies the Pandoras Box, from which escape our present national maladies. The President's unconstitutional Emancipation Proclamation the removal of cautious and qualified Commanders, and the appointing of careless and incompetent blunderers are the chief causes of the unfortunate disasters which we are repeatedly doomed to endure.

Why, sir, the arrival of the nigger freeing Proclamation spread a gloom, over nine-tenth of the whole army, as dark as the principles of its author. There are but very few men in the army who will admit that their object in joining it was to free the negro. Neither did the President's Inaugural Address, or his appeals for troops appear to demand them for that ebonized purpose, but it seems he has changed his opinion of late, and invoked the inspiration of the Almighty, by which he now pretends to be guided, in spite of the people's wishes and convictions to the contrary,

The restoration of Gen. McClellan to the command of the army of the Potomac is anxiously looked for, and would be hailed with delight and satisfaction. He is the only man in whom the soldiers repose sufficient confidence to carry on the war successfully. The name of Burnside is seldom mentioned but by way of jest or derision, in connection with Fredericksburg.

The 84th, like all the other regiments, has since the battle of Fredericksburg, been busily engaged in constructing neat and comfortable log cabins, or rather huts. One will naturally be led to suppose, that the days of Old Tippecanoe have arrived, by taking a stroll through our Camp.—What a lot of Presidential aspirants we will have after the war, if dwelling in a log cabin will be considered a qualification! For the material of these Lillipation houses the timber of Virginia had to suffer. Rails, the soldiers principal firewood, are getting very scarce, consequently the mighty oak, King of the forest, must yield to supply their place. This part of Virginia does not contain timber and rails enough to fence in one-fifteenth part of its area. Hence you will perceive that if the merit of being a good Rail Splitter should hereafter be required to insure a candidate success to the Presidential chair, the Old Dominion is "played out." Col. S. M. BOWMAN, is still in command of the 84th, and has proved himself a soldier and patriot, at the battle of Fredericksburg. He may have enemies who strive to defame his well earned reputation as a military man, but none except a cowardly poltroon, and irresponsible slanderer will assail him, and such characters should be considered unworthy of notice.

Company D is guarding the commissary stores at Stoneman's Swith. They all appear to like their duty.

A. G. Thornton, formerly 1st Lieut. of Co. D., has been promoted to Captain of that Company, since the battle of Fredericksburg. This alone, speaks volumes for the Captain's conduct during the fight, moreover, he has not an enemy in his Company; neither is there a better disciplined Company in the Regiment than his. His men obey him not because they fear him, but because they respect him. Few officers can boast of this qualification; 2nd Lieut. Hunter, from Philadelphia, now fills the former position of Capt. Thornton. He too, stood up to the work like a soldier and man, the whizzing of balls could not make him forsake his duty, as is too often the case with officers. John Rissel, formerly Sergeant Major of the Regiment has been promoted to 2nd Lieut. of Company D. He displayed no cowardice, or he could not have received the position. He is a clever, generous hearted officer, and the boys like him well.

There are some rumors afloat this evening, that we will march in a day or so, but nothing authentic. Yet, it is certainly high time that something is done to redeem the army from the disgrace into which it has been plunged, by a set of political Humbugs and their Chief. Both the country and its financial affairs demand that some judicious and favorable move is made.

Our Brigade has not received any pay for six months. The Paymaster would be a very welcome visitor.

Yours, truly,

LOYAL.

UNION COFFEE.

THIS Preparation is decidedly the best substitute for pure Javah Coffee that has ever been offered to the public. Manufactured with great care and so happily combined with pure coffee, as to retain completely the taste, flavor and peculiar aroma of the best Java or mocha Coffee, without any of the injurious effects.

We feel assured it will be used by tens of thousands who cannot use the coffee pure without suffering from nervous disorders, such as Mental depression, Giddiness, Bilious derangements, Indigestion, Dyspepsia with other symptoms of general prostration.

THE "UNION" COFFEE

Completely neutralizes the narcotic effect of the pure article, allowing any one to enjoy a delicious cup of excellent Coffee without any unpleasant effect.

Being healthy, nutritious and equally agreeable to the taste as the best Java, it is confident from the immense demand by private families, that it will be universally used.

Going much further than ordinary coffee, at only half price, it cannot fail to be generally introduced.

☞ TRADE.—Prepare the same as ordinary coffee boiling with.
