We have heard many complaints of the almost impassable condition of the public road, leading from Leonardtown to Patuxent, via Mackintosh Run. We trust that the road will be speedily mended. The place complained of is a short distance north of the run.

The telephone poles on the extension of the Southern Maryland line have been planted to within 2 miles of Brandywine and the workmen expect to reach that point by Friday evening. Linemen are now at work stringing the wires. Last week, the C. & P. started on their line from Marlboro' to Brandywine to connect with the local company. President Coad informs us that workmen will begin planting poles on the Morganza branch next Monday and on the Chaptico-Bushwood extension within the next two weeks. It is thought that connection will be made with Baltimore about June 1, proximo.

ST. INIGO'S ITEMS.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Pupils are making progress in their several studies. Our youths have much to encourage them. Officers of the country are open to all; and there are few persons who are disposed to sustain the worthless, or discourage the deserving. Practical education makes us strong in adversity, and able to rise amidst difficulties appalling to the idle. It is not this that gives to the boy of small pecuniary means advantage over him whose mind rusts amidst the appliances of wealth?

Farmers are active. They do not eat idle bread, to speak so. Work, work, the love of work, overcomes difficulties. Farmers are equal to the occasion, and difficulties go down before them.

We notice that numbers of lambs and calves are frequently shipped to Baltimore. Fair figures are realized.

Since our last items, frost, ice and snow have visited the district. It is feared that fruit is injured.

Traveling is fairly good. The disappearance of holes and ruts is encouraging to travelers.

Quantities of fish—herrings and shad—are being caught. Prices are reasonable.

Winds are regular, and gales take the place of zephyrs. Fires are comfortable and woodpiles have to be frequently replenished.

Pythagoras entertained the opinion that the sun was small—75 miles in diameter. Of course an object so small could not emit much heat to our planet. At this advanced and enlightened age, astronomers assure us that its diameter is 11,000 miles greater, and we experience during different seasons of the year very little warmth from it, although the season is rapidly advancing when it will reach its extreme point north, great coats are frequently donned.

A lady's tears, it is said, are silent orators. Lovers eyes are equally eloquent. Cupid is active. See that young man and woman—how they love each other! Love does not permit too much of the paradise. Too much of the heavenly in it like too much coal on fire; the flame suffers from it.

Forty young ladies—students of St. Mary's Seminary—left on steamer Northumberland, Brome's wharf, 19th instant for their respective homes to enjoy the Easter holidays. The institution is in a flourishing condition.

Mr. John G. H. Lilburn is shipping poplar wood to points north.

Mr. J. Wesley Freeman and wife visited Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Clarke recently.

So far as we know sheep and lambs are not molested by dogs. Few curs are seen, but the alert little terrier is frequently met with in our travels.

Captain W. Warren Clarke, of the police boat Vioqua, arrested Captain Gladden, of the St. George's section, recently for having uncolled oysters on board. Magistrate Watts tried the case and gave a verdict against the Captain for $15 and cost, which was paid.

The entertainments which came off respectively at Mrs. A. S. Benville and Mrs. W. P. Powell, 24th and 26th instant for the benefit of St. Michael (R. C.) and Ridge (P. E.) churches, realized fair amounts net.

Mr. W. R. Pembroke has done good work on certain sections of roads, graveling and otherwise repairing. Mr. P. works a large force, and the employes do not have time to count the feathers in buzzards' tails as they fly in a circle or perch upon the dead branches of nearby trees. He is a hustler. Nomistake. AZZANA.

W. H. Moore & Co.
One of the old established and well known commission houses of Baltimore, is the house of W. H. Moore & Co. This house was established in 1873 by Mr. W. H. Moore and John F. Mudd. In 1895 Mr. Charles E. Moore entered the firm, and in 1903 Mr. W. H. Moore, Jr., became a member with the style as above. Both the additional partners are sons of one of the founders of the business. The firm is located at 307 South Charles Street, and occupy a four-story brick building giving ample facilities for storage. The firm are general handlers of country produce, and make a specialty of grain, hay, straw and seeds with other kinds of produce. The house pays particular attention to handling tobacco, and are also among the largest handlers of hay, grain, etc., in the city. The house receives its consignments chiefly from Southern Maryland and does a large business. The house has a wide acquaintance in the farming districts of Southern Maryland which is one of the most productive regions of the State, and have established a high reputation for their careful management of their client's interests and for the excellent prices obtained for the products consigned to them. They are also noted for their promptness and reliability in all their dealings. The firm consists of Mr. W. H. Moore, the founder of the business, Mr. Charles E. Moore and Mr. W. H. Moore, Jr. They are all natives of Maryland and are members of the Baltimore Chamber of Commerce. They are ranked among the progressive and energetic business men of Baltimore.—New York Journal Commerce.

Suggested Rooster Emblem.

Major William W. Armstrong, who had the reputation of suggesting the rooster as the emblem of the Democratic party on official ballots, died Friday last afternoon after one day's illness of pneumonia, aged 72 years. Major Armstrong was for a number of years editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer. He had held a number of State and city offices.—Cor. N. Y. Times.

New Use for a Brother.
Gov. Folk has received this letter from Rosedale, Kansas:

To Governor Folk—Dear Sir—My sister and I have decided that if you will exchange we will let you take our brother and hang him instead of Mr. "Bill" Rudolph, as our brother is no account and never will be, and maybe Mr. Rudolph would be if you would give him a chance. We got his picture out of the paper and put it up in the parlor. We think he is a fine looking young man. Now, if you will please exchange for our brother "Jim" let us know through the newspapers, and we will be on hand for our man.

Yours truly, A KANSAS GIBL.
"Bill" Rudolph is the condemned Union, Mo., bank robber, who killed Detective Schumacher while resisting arrest.

ON THE ROAD, April 25, 1905.

As a very agreeable termination of a day's work I stopped at Holy Angel's Chapel, near River Springs, where an entertainment was in progress for the benefit of the chapel. Instigated partly by a matter of business my stop over turned out for me a very pleasant experience. I met a great many old friends, made some very agreeable new ones and enjoyed an excellent dinner. I also met its genial pastor and was very much impressed with the tasteful appearance of the chapel. I left with the impression that zeal and thrift as well as taste were prominent characteristics respectively of pastor and flock, and that the seal of the former was seconded by the responsive appreciation of the latter, they were both entitled to regard the result of their exertions with satisfaction. Oyster Law Violations.
The Oyster Law is grossly and shamefully violated day and night in Britton's Bay. Often during the day persons may be seen carrying off boats loaded with oysters, and when night comes they load their boats with oysters, large and small, not even leaving shells behind on the bars. Every lar in the bay has his nightly visitors, and Gough's bar, the best in the bay, has scarcely an oyster left on it. Strange though it may seem, these violations of the law are committed by oystermen. To save the beds and preserve them for the benefit of law-abiding citizens, the names of these oyster pirates should be given to the Captain of the Oyster Police boat. The point has been reached where forbearance is no longer a virtue and public warning is hereby given that unless the law be hereafter observed, information will be given the proper officers and someone be arrested. Easter Dance in Leonardtown.
The annual Easter dance was given at Moore's Hotel Monday night, and although not largely attended, proved a most enjoyable affair. The special feature of the evening was the abundance of roses, ferns and carnations. Those who attended were:

Mr. and Mrs.—
Thomas Lynch, Margaret Duke, W. H. B. Wine, Madeline Camaller, H. M. de Waal, Mavis Lynch, G. Frank Dent, Ethel Joy, Francis Dent, Bessie Abell, L. E. Payne, Messrs.—
Ernest Burch, Arthur Raney, Frank Camaller, Benj. Combs, Henry Loker, Harry M. Jones, L. J. Sterling, Kennedy Abell, Carrie Burroughs, Willie Henry, Josephine Schue, Ridgeley Ford, Catharine Morgan, H. B. Fenwick, Edith Evans, Alfred Saunders.

Garden Notes.
May 1—Sow more seed of hardy annuals in the garden. Risk first tender annual.
May 15—Sow all tender annuals outdoors. Plant out from indoors and complete the garden.
June 1—Plant out bedding stock, canas and other subtropical plants.
June 15—Sow sweet peas and other hardy annuals outdoors.
Plant in rows, not beds, and avoid the backache.
Plant vegetables that mature at the same time near one another.
Plant vegetables of the same height near together—tall ones back.
Run the rows the short way, for convenience in cultivation and because 100 feet of anything is enough.
Put the permanent vegetables (asparagus, rhubarb, sweet herbs) in a row at one side, so that the rest will be easy to plow.
Practice rotation. Do not put vines where they were last. Put corn in a different place.
Don't grow potatoes in a small garden. They aren't worth the bother.—Garden Magazine.

Baseball.

The cadets of Charlotte Hall, Military Academy played quite an exciting game of ball with Loyola College, of Baltimore. The game took place at Clifton Park, Baltimore, at 3.30 p. m. April 19th. The cadets won with a score of 4 to 3.

The C. H. M. A. boys played exceedingly well considering the small amount of practice they had. The batteries were C. H. M. A., E. E. Dent pitcher and C. Posenberger catcher. Loyola, Rita p. and Regan c.

Dent struck out 12 men while Rita struck out 6. The score was very close all the way through, the cadets holding their opponents down to 2 runs until the 9th inning. Only three balls reached the outfield from the Loyola boys into, two of which were caught, while the cadets made several heavy hits. The Loyola College has a very strong team this season. We hope to get a game with them on our home grounds.

We owe the success of the cadets chiefly to the battery, Dent and Posenberger, who did not allow the outfielders to get a taste. We hope our short-stop and other pitcher can be present at our next game. We felt their loss in the last game.

Rev. F. J. Bohanan Resigns.
On Wednesday of last week Rev. F. John Bohanan wrote a letter of acceptance of a call to St. Andrew's Parish, Norwich, Conn., and has since tendered his resignation as rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Chapel, of this village. Mr. Bohanan's resignation will take effect June 1, when he will enter upon his duties at Norwich.

The Rev. Franklin John Bohanan, a son of J. Frank Bohanan, of St. Mary's county, Maryland, was born December 3, 1877. He received his early education in the public schools of St. Mary's and at Warfield School, Carroll county, Maryland. In 1896 he won a State Scholarship to St. John's College, where he matriculated as a freshman. Completing the classical course in three years, he was graduated as valedictorian in 1899, receiving the degree of B. A.

In the fall of 1899 he entered the junior class of the General Theological Seminary and was graduated in 1902, and in the spring of the same year received the degree of M. A. from St. John's, and in May of the same year was ordained deacon by Bishop Satterlee, of Washington. In June he took charge of St. Stephen's Church, Port Washington, Long Island, and during the year 1902-03 attended post graduate lectures at the General Seminary, and prepared a thesis on "The Date, Authorship and Destination of the First Epistle of Timothy," for which he received the degree of B. D. In June, 1903, he was advanced to the priesthood in the Pro Cathedral in Washington, D. C., by Bishop Satterlee.

While a student at the General Seminary he was engaged in mission work on the East Side of New York, and during his last year there had charge of St. Paul's Church, Roosevelt, L. I. For the past three years he has been at Port Washington. He is a powerful preacher and a very energetic worker, as is proven by the remarkable growth of the church in his present rectorship, and his going to St. Andrew's will add new stimulus to the work of the parish.—Port Washington (L. I., N. Y.) News.

Ben-Hur Again to be Staged in Baltimore.
The Klaw & Erlanger Company have, in their time, made many notable productions and thereby earned for themselves an enviable reputation. The most ambitious effort of their career is "Ben-Hur," which scored a brilliant success in Baltimore three seasons ago and which is booked for another engagement at the Academy of Music, the week of May 8, with a matinee on Wednesday and Saturday.

The scenic equipment to be used in the staging this season is that which created a furore in London three years ago when "Ben-Hur" was introduced to the English public at the Drury Lane Theatre. These effects were a part of the "World's Fair run of "Ben-Hur" at the Olympic Theatre, St. Louis and of the engagement just played at Auditorium, Chicago.

No recent play has scored such equaling success and has created so fascinating a romance. Although dealing with the most delicate subject in the history of the stage, its freedom from anything that might give offense to the most religiously sensitive has earned the endorsement of the very best people in every community.

To describe "Ben-Hur" reference must be made to a series of magnificent pictures illustrating the times, the Messiah on earth. Conspicuous are, the "Star of Bethlehem," the "City of Jerusalem," the "Interior of a Roman Palace," the "Grove of Damascus," the "Fountain of Castalia," the realistic "Chariot Race" in which eight horses struggle for supremacy, the "Vale of Hinnom" and "Mount of Olives." All are remarkable exhibits of the best scenic art. To these are added some wonderful effects in electric lighting, as in the "Star of Bethlehem" where 25,000 electric lights of 32 candle power are used to furnish its powerful rays.

The advance sale of seats for the Baltimore engagement opens Thursday, May 4th, at 9 a. m. M. J. Leymayer, Manager of the Academy of Music, announces that all out of town orders, if accompanied by cash or money order will be filled as soon as the regular box office sale opens. This is for the accommodation of suburban patrons as reduced rates are announced on railroads and a large attendance is expected.
