REPUBLICAN CONTROL OF HOUSE IN SIXTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS NOW ASSURED

Announcement of the Election of Leavitt in the Second Montana District Gives the G. O. P. the Necessary 218 for a Majority; Democrats Have 205 Members.

NEW YORK, NOV. 9.—Republican control of the house of representatives in the sixty-eighth congress was determined finally by announcement of the election of R. Scott Leavitt, second Montana district, at 2:44 a. m. today, giving the republicans the necessary 218 for a majority. At this hour the democrats had 205, the socialists one, farmer-labor one, and independents one, with nine districts still unreported.

New York, Nov. 8 (by the Associated Press.)—Control of the next house continued in doubt with the republicans leading, 209 to 198, on returns received up to 9 o'clock tonight, a full day after the polls closed yesterday.

The 26 remaining districts, scattered throughout the country, held the key to the necessary 218 majority, with the prospects that the final result might not be known until tomorrow and with a half dozen votes the margin. The republicans held the senate, but by a reduction of a half dozen votes.

Republican Casualties.

Republican casualties which broke the first returns yesterday defeating Governor Miller and Senator Calder of New York, continued with somewhat lessened force today as returns dribbled in. They told of further republican losses in the senate and house and governors and state legislatures, although the belated congressional results were somewhat more favorable to the republicans.

Among the additional republican stalwarts who went down to defeat definitely today on additional returns were Senator Kellogg of Minnesota, defeated by Dr. Hedrik Shipstead, farmer-laborite; Senator Sutherland of West Virginia, and Senator Townsend of Michigan, the latter losing to former Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris, the first democratic senator to be elected from Michigan in 70 years. Also definitely defeated by Senator Kendrick, democrat, was Representative Mondell of Wyoming, republican floor leader, who aspired to the senate.

Delay in the house results, because of the keen contest, has not been paralleled since 1916. A number of missing districts are in far western states. In others received today, the early announcements were changed. The democrats continued their gains, totaling 67 seats at latest figures, principally from New York, Ohio, Missouri, New Jersey, and Oklahoma. As against this democratic sweep, the republicans failed to upset a single sitting democrat.

Lodge's Plurality.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, it finally turned out, had a plurality of 8,425 over his democratic opponent, Colonel Gaston, instead of the meager 1,945 reported early in the day. Through a transposition of figures in the Associated Press tabulation, Senator Lodge's plurality was shown as being reduced to 1,945 and other news distributing agencies in some manner arrived at the same figures.

Loss of control of the senate by the republicans was not threatened although they suffered a net loss of six. Eight republican senators were defeated but this the party countered by defeating two democratic senators, Hitchcock of Nebraska and Pomerene of Ohio. The republicans had carried 11 and the democrats 19 of the 35 senatorial contests. Of the five still in the balance, democrats were leading in all—Montana, Utah, New Mexico, West Virginia and Washington.

Washington Race Close.

In the latter, the race between Senator Poindexter, republican and former Representative Dill was so close that it was thought an official count would be needed to fix the outcome.

Roswell, N. M., Nov. 8.—With less than 200 votes out, J. F. Hinkle has rolled up a majority of 1,538 in his home county. S. G. Bratton has a lead of 1,569 on the returns. The entire democratic county ticket was elected by majorities ranging from 600 to 1,600. Muller led the republican state ticket in the county, cutting his opponent down to 750 on the returns now in.

In spite of the factional fight in which Beals was placed in office by a democratic majority, Curry county rolled up its greatest majority in history for the state ticket. Beals was opposed by H. M. Miss Isabel L. Eckles, of Silver City, democratic candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, carried the county by more than 1,800 majority. Majorities on the democratic county and legislative ticket ranged from 200 to 1,700, every democrat being elected. It was the most sweeping victory ever scored in the county by the democrats and a major portion of the credit is given W. B. Walton, former congressman, who directed the campaign as the party's county chairman.

COUNTY GIVES 2,400 LEAD TO THE DEMOCRATS

With Nearly All Precincts Reported, Jones Leads Davis by 2,122; Hinkle's Majority 2,318.

The democratic majority in Bernalillo county mounted yesterday from 1,500, the estimate of the early morning hours, to more than 2,400 last night. Complete returns from twenty-three of the thirty-one voting places in the county gave Jones for United States senator a majority of 2,122 over S. B. Davis, Jr. Hinkle for governor had a majority of 2,317 over C. L. Hill. John Morrow, for congress, who was opposed by Mrs. Adelina Otero-Warren, ran considerably behind Jones and Hinkle. Morrow's majority was 1,869.

The entire county and legislative ticket of the democrats was elected by majorities corresponding to those given the heads of the ballot.

The democratic majorities reported were: City of Albuquerque, 2,090; San Jose, 210; Ranchos de Albuquerque, 46; Barelas, 7; Los Griegos, 86; Ranchos de Atrisco, 109; Escobosa, 33; Santa Barbara, 55.

The precincts still unreported last night were conceded to the republicans by the following majorities: San Antonio, 10; San Ignacio, 30; Barton, 20.

On the face of these returns and estimates the democratic committeemen claimed the county by 2,400, though they said indications were that the majority would be higher.

"You Stole; That's Wrong" Says Little Son to Mother

Mrs. Gertrude Stiles, left, and Mrs. Muriel Barrington.

(By Central Press.)

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Muriel Barrington may be forced to spend months long and dreary, behind prison bars.

She may be branded with the shame that comes to a thief.

She may lose honor, respect and all that a woman holds dear.

But these will be as nothing to the bitter anguish that already has filled her soul, the pain that has torn at her mother's heart.

"Mama—you stole, and you know that's wrong."

These words coming from her little son, hardly able to lisp, as he gazed at her through the cell bars, her baby's indictment that she is not a good mother, these are the words that have seared her very soul with anguish.

Mrs. Barrington, arrested by police here, confessed that with her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Stiles, she had robbed many homes. Police say she was responsible for 250 robberies.

The sisters, police say, admit that they realized the wrong they were committing but declared that the weight of that knowledge was easier to bear than the weight of the poverty under which they had struggled so long.

Mrs. Stiles is the wife of a clerk who after spending long hours at the office read stories to the four small children while his wife who, he believed, was attending a movie, was in reality robbing homes.

"Prison doesn't mean anything," Mrs. Barrington said. "I just don't care what they do now. That awful look in my baby's eyes. I will remember it to my dying—"

And an outburst of tears choked her.

Mrs. Barrington said that her family was over a thousand dollars in debt for two operations and the little home they were buying was slipping from them.

"That was the situation when I stole the first time," she said.

For some time Mrs. Barrington kept her crimes a secret from her sister, but since last Christmas the two have been working together keeping their families in ignorance of their acts, according to po-

LATER RETURNS INCREASE LEAD OF A DEMOCRAT

William E. Sweet, for Governor in Colorado, Has 135,208 to 131,499 for Griffith, G. O. P.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 8.—Additional returns received here tonight from over the state served to increase the lead of William E. Sweet, democrat, over Benjamin Griffith, republican, for governor. The figures from 1,448 precincts were: Sweet, 135,208; Griffith, 131,499.

The closest contest in the state on the face of returns tonight was that for attorney general. On returns from 1,220 precincts, Russell W. Fleming, democratic candidate, had a lead of less than 600 over Willard B. Gordon, republican. The vote was: Fleming, 108,848; Gordon, 108,265.

In the contest for superintendent of public instruction Mary C. C. Bradford, democrat, had more than 8,000 lead over Katherine L. Craig, republican, on returns from 1,245 precincts. The figures were: Bradford, 115,710; Craig, 107,158.

All four of Colorado's congressional delegation have been reelected. Snow in various parts of the state hampered the collection of returns. In some counties, returns were received from couriers who traveled from the polling places to the county seats on snow shoes.

Returns from nearly 600 precincts showed only two of the initiated measures for amendments to the constitution and proposed state laws with majorities for adoption. These two were number 1, authorizing the issuance of $6,000,000 bonds for state highways, and number 7, authorizing the removal of the university of Colorado's medical school from Boulder to Denver.

KENTUCKY ELECTS 8 DEMOCRATS, 3 G. O. P.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8.—Eight democrats and three republicans will compose the Kentucky delegation in the sixty-eighth congress on the face of unofficial returns from the eleven districts.

The issue no longer is in doubt in ten of the districts but democrats refuse to concede defeat in the tenth, where John W. Langley, republican, is leading F. Tom Hatcher, democrat, by approximately 2,000 votes. Unofficial returns from 115 of the 195 precincts in the tenth give Langley 7,606, and Hatcher 5,789.

CHIROPRACTORS WIN.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—The chiropractors won the right in yesterday's election in California to have a chiropractic examination board from the state board of medical examiners. The osteopaths, however, failed to secure a similar board for themselves.

BERGER ELECTED FOR THIRD TIME TO HOUSE SEAT

Election Comes as the Result of the Quietest Campaign His Party Ever Conducted in Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, Nov. 8 (by the Associated Press).—Representative-elect Victor L. Berger, for the third time is Wisconsin's choice from the fifth district. Twice elected to congress and both times refused his seat, Mr. Berger, following his defeat two years ago by William H. Stafford, republican, made a fourth campaign, turning the tables on Stafford by a majority which may exceed 6,000.

As leading socialist in Wisconsin, Berger's election came as the result of the quietest campaign his party has made in the history of Wisconsin socialism. Repeal of the state prohibition enforcement law and adoption of a number of amendments to the state constitution to permit acquisition of property by the state were the two chief issues advanced in the socialist platform.

Returns early today from 107 out of 153 precincts gave Berger 21,158, Stafford 16,718.

However, Mr. Berger does not consider his election a personal victory or a victory for the socialist party. Rather, he considers it the vindication of a party that "was the only one that before the war, since and during the war has stood fearlessly for party principles."

The new concern will represent an investment of ten to fifteen thousand dollars and will add one more step towards Williams' advancement in the manufacturing and commercial lines.

G.O.P. WINS IN CALIFORNIA BY WIDE MARGINS

Johnson Is Elected Senator and Richardson Governor; Results in Many Other States in Doubt.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Results of the general election in many of the far western states were in doubt tonight, due principally to a heavy vote and lengthy ballots. In several of the states the returns were so meager and the candidates were running so closely that it was expected that an official count will be necessary to decide the winner.

California remained in the republican column with the election of Friend W. Richardson as governor and Hiram W. Johnson as United States senator. In the 3,723 precincts out of 6,681 in the state, Senator Johnson polled 312,132 votes to 145,534 for his democratic opponent, William J. Fearson. Richardson in 3,759 precincts received 293,615 votes and Thomas Lee Woolwine, democrat, 212,184. Upton Sinclair, socialist, received 26,328 votes in the precincts counted for United States senator.

Arizona Democratic.

Arizona went democratic, returning Senator Henry Ashurst and Congressman Carl Hayden to Washington and electing George W. P. Hunt as governor and an entire state ticket, according to latest returns. Colorado returns were meager but they indicated that William Sweet, democrat, was in the lead for governor by a few hundred votes over Benjamin Griffith, republican.

Slightly more than half of the precincts in Idaho reported C. C. Moore, republican, leading in the race for governor. Moses Alexander, democrat, and a former governor, was third man in the race, with H. F. Samuels, progressive, the second man.

Wheeler in the Lead.

Burton K. Wheeler, the democratic candidate for United States senator in Montana, had a comfortable lead over Carl W. Riddick, republican congressman, who sought the senatorial toga, in the returns from more than half of the state. Nevada was another western state that went democratic almost entirely. But one office, inspector of mines, was not claimed by the democrats after the latest tabulations. Key Pittman was returned to the United States senate and Charles S. Richards, democrat, will represent Nevada in the lower house. James G. Scrugham defeated John H. Miller, republican, for governor, by about 2,500 votes. Senator Pittman had a lead of more than 6,000 over his republican opponent.

Landslide in Oregon.

Oregon was the scene of a democratic landslide, Walter M. W. Pierce, democrat, defeating Governor Ben W. Olcott, republican, by 26,062 in the 1,302 of the 1,872 precincts in the state. Returns indicated the Oregon voters adopted the compulsory school act, which its sponsors proclaimed would not permit any private schools, including parochial schools in the state. The act provides that children over eight and under 16 years are to be sent to a public school during the entire school year.

William R. King, democratic incumbent, had a lead of 1,700 votes over Ernest Bamberger, republican, in the race for senator from Utah, when the returns were last tabulated.

Poindexter Trails Dill.

Senator Miles Poindexter, with 455 precincts missing out of 2,446, was trailing C. C. Dill, democrat, in Washington, in the senatorial contest by 4,027 votes. The republican state chairman in Washington announced he would be satisfied the returns were correct from Pierce, King and Spokane counties until a complete recheck had been made.

It was reported that officials of Pierce county had discovered discrepances in the early count. Pierce county returned a plurality to Dill. Election officials, it was said, counted only "scratched" tickets for the unofficial returns made to the county auditor, disregarding the "straight" tickets, which Poindexter's managers declared, were in the majority for the republican ticket. The King county auditor announced he would begin a recheck of all poll books turned in.

Wyoming, according to votes counted, elected W. B. Ross, democrat, as governor, over John W. Hay, republican. Ross had a lead of 900 votes with half of the state reported.

Many congressional results remained unsettled until 24 hours after the polls closed. The Ninth district was the only one in California that was in doubt, but in Idaho, Montana, Utah and Wyoming definite figures were lacking on the entire congressional tickets. The Fifth district in Washington, the first in Oregon and the Second and Fourth in Colorado were still undecided.

DEFEATED IN SENATE RACE, A WASHINGTON MAN ENDS OWN LIFE

Yakima, Wash., Nov. 8.—Lee Tittle, recently defeated for the republican nomination for United States senator, committed suicide in his hotel room here some time this forenoon by taking poison, according to Coroner W. M. Brown. Tittle, a former county treasurer, had been despondent since his failure to win the nomination.

BONUS FIGHT IS WON BY FORMER SOLDIERS

Chicago, Nov. 8 (by the Associated Press.)—Soldiers of the world war won in every state where the bonus was an issue in the election yesterday. In four states bonus propositions were on the ballots and all won overwhelmingly.

In Illinois and Kansas the vote was nearly three to one in favor of the propositions and it was two to one in California and better than two to one in Iowa.

Republicans Appear to Have Carried Only Six Counties, and Even Some of These by Much Smaller Margins Than Anticipated; Woodward Admits Party's Defeat.

Special to The Journal

Santa Fe, Nov. 8.—New Mexico, believed to be normally republican by 6,000 to 8,000, has registered democratic by even a larger figure, according to reports which continue to flow into state headquarters of republicans and democrats. Senator A. A. Jones is re-elected by a majority which may run above 9,000, it is claimed by headquarters. James F. Hinkle for governor will have a majority of about 8,500, while John Morrow, for representative in congress, will have about the same.

Republicans appear to have carried only six counties, and even some of these by much smaller majorities than anticipated.

The worst upset occurred in Bernalillo, Dona Ana and Socorro counties. In Santa Fe county, where the republican state ticket received a majority of about 1,000, Ricardo Alarid, nominee for sheriff, is defeated by more than 200.

Hugh B. Woodward, republican state chairman, did not talk at great length in discussing the upheaval. He said: "We have no desire to detract from the democratic victory, which is overwhelming. It shows that the party, disorganized in a number of counties, has little chance to win. I hope it will be possible for the rank and file of the party to learn valuable lessons, which certainly are obvious. Defeated, but not dismayed, we are now beginning to reorganize for 1924. And in reorganizing we should build from the ground."

The democrats seem to have gained control of the lower house of the state legislature. The present lineup gives the democrats twenty-nine, republicans twenty, with three districts in doubt.

REPUBLICANS IN ILLINOIS LOSE 4 HOUSE SEATS

G. O. P. State Ticket Goes Over by a Big Majority, Although the Democrats Carry Cook County.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Returns from 3,985 precincts out of 5,980 in the state on the light wine and beer proposal gave 762,665 for and 302,564 against.

Downstate 1,701 precincts gave 249,521 for the proposal and 169,969 against it.

In Cook county the vote, 2,284 precincts was, yes, 513,544; no, 132,656.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Illinois will send seven democrats and 20 republicans to the next congress as a result of yesterday's election, a net loss of four seats for the republicans. Early indications that two other republicans had been defeated were reversed when later returns saved the seats of E. W. Sproul, in the Third, and E. E. Miller, in the Twenty-second.

The vote in the Twenty-third was close, but on the face of returns, William Arnold, democrat, defeated E. B. Brooks, incumbent.

The republican state ticket went over by big majorities, despite the democratic victory which swept Cook county.

Oscar Nelson, republican, candidate for state's treasurer, set the pace at the head of the ticket with 162,589 lead over Peter Bartzen, democrat, on returns from 4,379 out of 5,890 precincts. The figures gave Nelson 715,836; and Bertram, 553,277.

Similar majorities were polled by the republican candidates for superintendent of public instruction and university trustees.

The legislature is safely republican in both houses, with 14 republicans and five democrats apparently elected to the senate to join in the 25 holdover senators, all of whom are republicans. Five districts remain in doubt. The make-up of the lower house will be approximately 91 republicans and 62 democrats.

Foes of Governor Len Small have failed to capture the necessary two-thirds of the senate seats, required to carry out their threat of impeaching the governor next January.

MRS. HUCK WILL FILL UNEXPIRED TERM OF FATHER

First Mother Has Been Elected to Congress From Illinois; Is Daughter of William E. Mason.

Chicago, Nov. 8 (by the Associated Press).—The first mother has been elected to congress, returns from the election yesterday showed today. She is Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, elected to fill the unexpired term of her late father, William E. Mason, congressman at large from Illinois.

She led a band of nine women from middle western states seeking places in congress and she alone was successful.

Until March 4, however, two women instead of one will sit in the house of representatives. Mrs. Huck, republican, and Miss Alice Robertson, republican, of Oklahoma, will be the congress women.

"Miss Alice," as the little spinster from the southwest, the only woman in congress, as she has been know was defeated for re-election by the man, a democrat, she conquered two years ago by a slender margin.

There was a possibility that the number of women in congress may be increased to three. On the latest available returns, Miss Kathleen O'Keefe, democrat, was leading Representative Andrew J. Hickey of the thirteenth Indiana district.
