

Saint Mary's Beacon.

LEONARDTOWN, MD.

THURSDAY MORNING, July 25, 1907.

We hope all Democrats will turn out to the primaries next Saturday and will see that good, discreet and conservative men are selected as delegates to the County Convention. It will be an important convention and upon its action may depend the future success of the party in St. Mary's. Delegates to the convention should be actuated solely by the desire to do what is right for the party. The good of the party should be the motive that actuates every delegate. If it is, we will go into the coming campaign with brightest prospects for success. He fair and just to those who differ with you on points of party policy and when the policy of the party is declared, be as one man in its support. Get together and keep together.

The conference of Maryland Democrats, called by U. S. Senator Whyte, met in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, according to program. At this writing, we have heard but meagre reports of the proceedings.

The Baltimore News, of the 23rd, reports that St. Mary's was represented by J. Frank Smith, B. Harris Camalier and Dr. F. F. Greenwell.

The News states that the names most frequently mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial nomination were Messrs. Baker, of Frederick, Frank Brown, ex-Governor or Jackson, Henry Williams, George N. Nunsen, and Frank Furst. The conference made no attempt to recommend a gubernatorial candidate, but seemed actuated by an endeavor to secure a better understanding between factions of the party.

Mr. Camalier's speech, when St. Mary's was called, was highly complimented.

Republican Defeat Predicted.

John S. Wise, one of the most eminent Southern Republicans but now residing in New York, made an address lately before the Maryland Bar Association on "Centralization by Construction". He said President Roosevelt's attempt to broaden Federal power by interpretation is to make an "India-rubber Constitution" and declared that the doctrine of Federal power, increased by construction under the plea of changed conditions, is the most insidious and dangerous heresy brought before the people of America. But then John S. Wise belongs to the old Lincoln school of politics that is entirely out of the strenuous type of today. The speeches of President Roosevelt, said Mr. Wise, indicate a singular ignorance of the boundary line between Federal and State power, and he predicted that the people would not uphold a party which advocated Federal or State aggression.

Republicans who think as Mr. Wise does must need come over to the Democracy and will undoubtedly do so if wisdom is shown in platform declarations and selections of candidates.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington D. C., July 22, 1907. Since saying last week that means were being used to round up the Federal officials for Secretary Cortelyou for the Republican nomination for President, further evidence has come to light that the scheme is working. Congressman Jesse Overstreet declared, a few days ago, that the delegation from New York is fixed for Cortelyou, but as Mr. Overstreet is a Fairbanks man he may have joined in exposing the Cortelyou conspiracy on purpose to embarrass President Roosevelt, for he said he did not expect to see Mr. Cortelyou nominated. Then along comes Senator Elkins of West Virginia, fresh from political conferences in New York with his Wall Street railroad friends, and declares: "Cortelyou will undoubtedly have the support of the New York delegation. And you know what that means". With Overstreet and Elkins enlisted for him and the corporation money ready to be poured out for him, Mr. Cortelyou will make a typical Republican candidate.

Only one new candidate has developed for the Democratic nomination during the past week, and he has not yet reached the newspaper stage, but I am assured by an Illinois editor, a friend of Mr. Bryan, that former Governor Francis will be a candidate. As he has always been a consistent Democrat and chiefly supplied the funds to carry Missouri for Mr. Bryan in 1896, he must be seriously considered as one to be reckoned with when the convention decides that crucial question for the Democracy.
