A Persistent Woman Whipper.

Martin Buckley stands pre-eminent among all the roughs, hoodlums and outlaws of Pioche as the champion woman whipper. His exploits in that line entitle him to distinction among the lowest of the low, and his conduct shows him destitute of all the finer instincts of man's nature. We would not call him a brute, for the male among the lower order of animals regards the female with tenderness and care. It was reserved for man, created in the image of his Maker, to debase himself so far as to mistreat a woman. This man Buckley, it seems, had been living with a woman to whom he was never married, but whom he recognized as his wife. The unhappy pair had some difference, a fight ensued, and upon a complaint of the woman Buckley was arrested, found guilty of assault and battery, and in default of paying his fine was sent to the County Jail. Day before yesterday the residue of his fine (Buckley having been in jail some weeks) was paid, and he was discharged. Within a few hours he sought the house of the woman he once called his wife. He became abusive, and kicked over a small table upon which sat a lighted lamp, a pot of tea and dinner for one. That the upsetting of the lamp did not fire the house and create a destructive conflagration, is very strange. Finally complaint was made and officer McKee took the irate Buckley to jail. Yesterday he was brought before Justice Stoutenburgh and pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery. In due time he was sentenced. Buckley seems to be an incorrigibly bad man, according to the history he is making, as also the statements of his neighbors. The sentence last imposed it is hoped will have some good effect for his morals; if not, it is a consolation to reflect that the peace of the community and the security of life are not so greatly imperiled now as they would be if Martin Buckley were at liberty.

Justice's Court—Stoutenburgh J.

PIOCHE, August 5.

At a few minutes before 10 o'clock a. m. a complaint of assault and battery was entered against John Connerton by Wm. Jones. Connerton appeared in a short time and plead guilty of the offense charged. He was made to pay a nominal fine and costs.

Jenny Andrews, came up on a charge of disturbing the peace, on complaint of Hattie Stanley. The evidence of the complaining witness showed that as the inoffensive Hattie was sitting quietly in her house on Upper Main street, about 10 p. m. on August 4, the aforementioned Jenny and Ella de Vere were promenading past her residence, when they applied a most opprobrious epithet to Miss Stanley, by speaking of her as "Miss Hattie Ah Kee." The evidence of the half-dozen other "witnesses" showed that the peace of no one of them had been disturbed, and that no one of them knew anything about the matter. The prosecution cited the common law, and Mr. Bishop, attorney for the defense quoted Stanly on Livingstone, 1873, page 78. He read that passage which states the case of Khamis bin Adullah vs. Mirambo of Uyoweh, and refers to the pursuit made by the former after Mau a? Manwa Sera et als. through Ugogo Unyamwezi, to Ukonongo. This citation and the eloquent remarks which followed it brought down the house, which was a full one, including a large number of soiled doves who had "come to see the performance."

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and on motion of the prosecution, seconded by counsel for defense, the complainant was taxed with the costs.

The case of the other fair one, who was charged with the same offense, was dismissed.

ALMOST A FIRE.—In a small house on Davis street, in the rear of the point where Cedar enters Meadow Valley street, there came near being a fire yesterday afternoon. The house had been unoccupied for months until a few days ago when it was rented by two gentlemen as a lodging place. Yesterday about 1 p. m. one of the men went to the house, and on opening the door was surprised to catch the odor of something burning. Going into another room he found the ceiling on fire, but only commencing to blaze; and it was with difficulty that he could stop a destructive fire. Not less than ten square feet of the ceiling was burned, but no other damage was done. How the fire originated is a mystery. The door was locked and the window nailed down, so no one could have entered the house unless he had a key with which to unlock the door. There has been no fire in the house for several months, and the more we try to solve the mystery the further we are from it.

CUTTING.—Night before last at about 11 o'clock loud screamings were heard in a house of ill-fame on Meadow Valley street. Officer McKee immediately rushed into the house, where he found a man and woman fighting. He arrested the man, who gave the name of Vinegas, and took him to jail. A physician was called, and he found the extensors of one of her wrists severed, the instrument with which she was cut having gone nearly to the bone. He found, also, bad bruises on her knees, breast and neck. The woman states that Vinegas came into the house and attacked her; she made what resistance she could, but he threw her upon the floor, and stamped upon her, and then cut her with a knife, but upon hearing the officer coming he threw the knife away. The woman is now scarcely able to move, but the physician says that the hurts she received are not dangerous. The knife wound bled profusely. Both parties are Spaniards.

SOUTH SIDE MINING COMPANY.—At an election held on the 4th inst., Stephen Sherwood was elected President of this company, E. F. Badgley Vice Paesident, S. W. Ernant Secretacy, and O. P. Sherwood Treasurer. D. C. Clark, W. H. Atkinson and D. H. Whyland were also elected Trustees. Mr. Sherwood, the newly elected President, is the pioneer of this camp, and is the father of O. P. Sherwood & Brother, lumber dealers in this place. He was the locator of the Panaca mine, and the first Mining Recorder of Meadow Valley (now Ely) Mining District. He has resided here since 1864.

NEW HOISTING WORKS OF THE RAYMOND AND ELY.—Yesterday we attended the starting of the new machinery for the Raymond & Ely works. The 80-horse power engine worked admirably, and with scarcely any noise. It was used merely to wind upon the reel the 1,400 feet of new wire cable, and then stopped. The foreman of the mine extended a cordial invitation to partake of viands which had been procured to signalize the important event. A description of the works will appear to-morrow.

INJURY TO A MINER.—Yesterday while Curry Ferguson was being slowly hauled out of a shaft so as to enable him to examine the work, a premature start was made by which his thigh was caught between the bucket and the shaft. The result was a deep cut on the inside of the thigh and an ugly bruise on the outside. Dr. Bishop was called and dressed his wounds. The patient was doing as well as could be expected late last evening.

BABCOCK FIRE EXTINGUISHER. — Our readers are requested to notice the advertisement in our columns of the above named machine, of which apparatus within the past two months several hundred have been sold to the mills and mines at Virginia City and Gold Hill. The Crown Point mine alone took 30, and the Union Mill and Mining Company 25. They are said to be valuable for mines.

BENEFIT.—At the theater this evening Mr. Thorne, who has so often won the applause of the people of Pioche, will take a benefit. Several artistes not belonging to the Bella Bird Troupe have volunteered to assist, and a full house may be expected, for he certainly deserves one, and the programme is one which promises a first rate entertainment.

THE fact that the Sheriff was yesterday authorized to discharge all the keepers in charge of the Hermes mine was taken by many as conclusive proof that the litigation between the Raymond & Ely and Hermes was at an end. Such may be the case, but it does not necessarily follow.

THE POISONING CASE.—The little son of Mrs. Cadegen, who was poisoned some days since, is now in a more hopeful condition. The recovery of the child, however, is not regarded as by any means certain.

A NEW circulating library, imported cigars, tobacco, stationery and confectionery at J. Levin & Co.'s, opposite Hamilton's saloon, Main street.

REOPENED.—The barber shop on Meadow Valley street, adjoining the Pioneer stables. Shaving 25 cents; hair-cutting 50 cents.

No passengers are coming from Hamilton to-day.

Ladies' Fair and Festival.

Last night Brown's Hall was crowded again by an assemblage of ladies and gentlemen, all of whom appeared to be happy, and especially pleased that they were assisting in a good work.

The way in which the ladies of Pioche charm the dollars from the pockets of their friends is really admirable. We have often heard that there is an artery, unknown to anatomists, which runs to the pocket, and that when the contents of the pocket flow therefrom the heart bleeds sorely. But we have discovered that when the heart is attacked the pocket bleeds. To our observations of many individuals last evening we are indebted for this discovery.

One important part of the fair, and in fact of every fair of this kind, which we missed at our early visit yesterday evening was the "grab-bag." On the previous evening Miss Fannie Lovell (whose name was inadvertently omitted in yesterday's report) had charge of this institution. In this lottery, unlike all others Fortuna smiled on all who came to sue. It is really singular how (under certain circumstances) so many men show such a decided eagerness to obtain a little pincushion or pen-wiper, or top, or such like article.

As we were about to depart our attention was attracted by some very queer sounds which appeared to come from near the piano. The sounds were distressing in the extreme, as if some poor being were in pain. They were not loud enough to attract the attention of many, but sounds more pitiful were never heard. We hastened to the scene, and there we found a prominent county official punishing—not an offender against the law, but—a fiddle. If the ghost of murdered music didn't haunt him last night we will not believe in spiritualism hereafter. He does well enough in public business, but—he can't play the fiddle.

For those who were scientifically inclined, Master Claude Gorin kept a couple of microscopes, and he seemed to be doing a lively business.

Altogether the fair was a decided success, at least with regard to the pleasure of those who attended, and, we hope that when the returns are made the financial showing will correspond with the pleasure experienced.
