LOYDSVILLE SCHOOL.

We had the pleasure of attending the exercises at the Loydsville school on the regular monthly review on Saturday last. To say that we were pleased would but feebly express our feelings at the exerciser—we were delighted. There is great aptness on the part of the scholars to receive and retain instruction, and they appear remarkably thorough. Although distinctions would seem invidious where all did well, we cannot refrain from alluding to the Mental Arithmetic class, as being the best we have ever listened to. The reading class, though composed of small scholars, showed an acquaintance with the rules of reading which would have done honor to older heads. In declamation the pupils showed themselves well instructed, and fully acquainted with the impressiveness and beauty of perfect enunciation, and correct intonation. In this school there are two papers, both well conducted, and those that we heard were well read. This manner of composition is no doubt fraught with great improvement to the contributor, as it does away with that diffidence which is so great a drawback to the full development of the composing powers of the young student. But much depends on the editors. Over the door of a Grecian temple a sage caused to be written—"Let nothing impure enter here"—and we would suggest that sentiment as a motto for these papers. Not that we saw anything impure in the papers read, but to guard against future improprieties.

We were pleased to hear that the citizens of Loydsville sustain the teacher in his course of instruction, and fully realize that they have a good school. May they never be without one, is our sincere wish.

SCHOOLS.

We called in at Mr. MOORE'S school room on last Friday afternoon and found him busily engaged with a very large school. That being a kind of galaday the recitations were few, but enough were given to show that thoroughness and not show was aimed at by the teacher. A new feature in this school is the publication of a paper by the girls, which is read before the school. The first number was read on Friday. Its articles were interesting, and were written well for the first number. Dr. West delivered a lecture to the school on the "Anatomy of the Eye" which was peculiarly interesting, and very instructive to the class. His subject was illustrated by several eyes from animals so that his hearers obtained a perfect demonstration of the Anatomy of the Eye, from the osseous socket in which it rests, through all its uses, and objects. Such lectures are invaluable to class in Physiology and Dr. West deserves the thanks of the school not only for this single act of kindness, but for his indefatigable perseverance in trying to render the school what it should be. It would pay any one to attend Mr. Moore's school on Friday afternoons, and would moreover encourage the Teacher and scholars in their tasks of instruction and learning. We are of the opinion that the boys of the school should start a paper, and not be behind their feminine school mates.

☞The Chronicle comes to us with a new and handsome head. Glad to see this evidence of prosperity on the part of our good neighbor. We know of no journal on that side of the house more deserving of success. [Gazette & Citizen.

☞The Belmont Chronicle has made its appearance with a beautiful new head. It will continue to be Rush-ed through we hope with honor and success.—Am. Enterprise.

☞The Belmont Chronicle has got a new head—glad to see such signs of prosperity.—Pity but the Editor could be headed too.—[Bellair Times.

Thank you, gentlemen, thank you. But Jo. what mean you by wishing us headed.—Now by the quiver of Cupid, man, we hope to hear that a dart from that same quiver has headed you, on this Valentine day, and that another six months will see you, a Benedict.

☞The good sleighing which our neighbors have been enjoying for some weeks past is fast disappearing. Warm weather and rain soon do away with the deepest snow.—The boys have had a good time riding down hill, and we even noticed some "children of a larger growth" as much absorbed in the merits of a bob sled, as any of the juveniles. It is all right—and many a time during the past week we have found ourself saying—boyhood is a great 'institution,' drawing more real happiness from a snow storm, a smooth hill side and a bob sled, than the allied powers ever will from the conquest of the Czar.

☞Mr. CARLE, the new Clerk of the Court of Com. Pleas, entered on the duties of his office on Monday last. Court commencing on Tuesday threw him immediately into a press of business. Mr. HEATON, the retiring clerk carries with him the good wishes of all in whatever business he may engage. He was a good Clerk.

To visit Miss Craft's school, east end of town.

☞The Court of Common Pleas commenced its session on Tuesday last. As usual there is a mass of business to be disposed of.

☞To-day (Wednesday,) is St. Valentine's Day, and many a bashful "lovyer" will no doubt embrace the opportunity to tell some fair one in writing what he dare not speak. Numerous fancy looking envelopes are passing through the Post Office, laden with the honeydew of love, and all that.

☞Our friend Dumble of the Mt. Gilead Sentinel has been fleeced by a certain man calling himself Vaughn, and proprietor of a quack medicine. Bro. Dumble advertised his medicine (Lithontriptic Mixture,) and then Monsieur Vaughn refused payment. Send Mr. Vaughn here and we'll advertise his medicine—if he pays us in advance. We advertise him, however, for the regard we have for Bro. Dumble.

REVIVALS.

The Lebanon Star, of the 23th says:

Revival meetings are now in progress in the Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Protestant churches in this place. A considerable number "have been added to the church." and the interest, we believe, is unabated.—We have always observed that in "hard times" men are more thoughtful, and much more likely to be converted to the Christian faith than in prosperous days. The year 1837—a period of great financial embarrassment—was a year of extraordinary revivals. It is for the minister and the religious press to point out the causes for this different state of things, but we may be permitted to say, that the Scriptures furnish an easy solution of the whole matter.

The Miami Visitor, of the 24th inst. says:

The meeting at the Methodist Episcopal church is still in progress. Ninety seven have joined as probationers, and conversions are taking place daily.

There has been a very cheering revival in progress for the last two weeks at Eaton's meeting house, (Methodist) about 3½ miles south west of here. About 40 persons have professed a change of heart and united with the Church.

A revival has been in progress in the 4th street M. E. Church in Wheeling. About 70 persons have been added to the church, and as many more professed conversion.

In Cadiz a number of persons have been added to the M. E. and M. P. churches in the last few weeks.

Popular Feeling about Temperance.

The following are a few of the notices we see every day in our exchanges in reference to the feeling of the people and the spirit of the age on the subject of Temperance Reform. When the people take any great work in hand it will be done, and they have their shoulders to the wheel of the car of liquor prohibition, and it must move on.

Citizen's Meeting.

A call for a public meeting of the citizens of this city, who are in favor of sustaining our laws to prevent the evils resulting from the sale of ardent spirits, may be found in our columns. Such an array of names and respectability has never been witnessed in any cause, here—and it argues well for the peace and prosperity of central Ohio and the whole State.

Though very little effort has been made to procure signatures, owing to inclement weather, and want of time—men of all parties have come forward in overwhelming numbers to secure the peace and prosperity of our city—and the happiness of the domestic circle and fireside. Hundreds, nay thousands of others in our city would have subscribed their names to this call, and if they had been called upon to do so—and their influence will cheerfully be given in aid of this work. It is not such as have heretofore been denominated Temperance Fanatics, who are now embarked in this work—it is the People—and they will rule—mildly, if they can—rigidly, if they must—but they will rule! Public sentiment is in the ascendant, and those who are wise will take heed.—Columbus Elevator.

WORKINGS OF THE LIQUOR LAW.—The Police officers of this city, on yesterday, notified all the saloon keepers, and others engaged in selling liquor, that the liquor law would be enforced from that date. Nearly all the bars in this city are closed, to-day, and one individual was trotted off to jail for the violation of the 5th section. The law appears to be a double geared, self-acting machine, from the manner of its working.—One fellow was brought in from Plain township, this morning for getting intoxicated. He informed on the landlord who sold him the liquor, and the landlord was bound over to appear at Court, at its next term, to answer for his conduct in the premises. This is the way it begins to work.—Columbus Jour. Feb. 1.

THE LIQUOR LAW.—At Canton, Stark co. a large and enthusiastic meeting of her citizens resolved to enforce strictly the Liquor Law. The grocery keepers also held a meeting, and wisely passed a resolution to obey the law, but unwisely threatened resistance to any attempts on the part of the police to enter their premises with a view to discover any violation of the law. The Repository remarks upon the proceedings, and says "the law must be obeyed."—Cin. Gaz.

MAINE LAW IN MICHIGAN.—The prohibitory liquor law signed by the Governor on the 1st of February, goes into effect in ninety days from that date. There are some provisions in which the question of constitutionality will be raised it is thought.

In Lexington, Ky., at the last municipal election, there was 159 majority of the popular vote against all licenses in that place.—The Council have construed the vote to apply to coffee-houses, and have granted licenses only to taverns, at the price of $400 each. They are required to close their bars on the Sabbath and at 11 o'clock at night. Cin. Gaz.

The Iowa House of Representatives has passed a prohibitory liquor law by a vote of 35 to 32. It will probably pass the Senate.

MAINE LAW IN INDIANA.—A despatch from Indianapolis on the 9th says: "The Maine law passed the House to-day, and is now the law. There is great rejoicing here, in consequence." The struggle has been severe, but the triumph is signal. We trust it will result in much good to the cause of temperance and social progress.

The Grand Jury at Cincinnati are putting the tippling shop keepers through, on the fast line. Twenty-five of them have been indicted, and the list is not yet complete.—They have also indicted the managers of prize Concerts. All right.

The Maine law has passed the Illinois House of Representatives by a vote of 41 to 26. It is said it will pass the Senate by a decided majority.

What a Paradise Martha's Vineyard must be judging from the following description, and is it not natural to suppose that when the rum-traffic is abolished our whole land may be as is this one spot in Massachusetts.

A SPOT IN MASSACHUSETTS WHERE THERE IS NO CRIME.—The rum traffic on Martha's Vineyard has been outlawed for more than eighteen years. Rum selling is not known in that locality. What has been the result? Crime has not only diminished, but it seems to have almost entirely left the Vineyard.—We are informed that no case of crime has come before the courts for something like sixteen years. The judges go down in one boat and back in the next. While the traffic in liquor continued, the courts were in session for about two weeks each term.—Civil cases have been greatly diminished, and there are now very few that come up for trial. Here is a fact of immense importance. Crime and the grog shops always go together. Stop rum selling, and nearly all kinds of misdemeanors and offences against the law will instantly cease. This fact furnishes an argument in favor of prohibiting the rum traffic, against which no man can say a word.—Boston Telegraph.

DARING SURGICAL OPERATION.—On Christmas day, a Mr. T. W. Bates, while doing the exploit of sticking a bar of lead down his throat, let go his hold, and it descended into his stomach. The physician of this place not knowing but Bates was trying to hoax them, made a slight examination at the time, inasmuch as he had made but little ado about it, and at times denied having swallowed the lead at all. A few days after, the victim having swallowed some acid substance the lead began to corrode, and he became very sick. The physicians were then called in, and it was soon found that every other attempt to extract the lead would be unavailing, save opening the stomach. This being resolved upon, some five or six physicians were called in on Wednesday morning last, when Dr. J. Bell, of this place, performed the operation, probably the first on record, of opening the stomach and extracting the lead. The bar was about one-half the length showed the action of the acid upon it. The patient at last accounts was getting along finely, with a good prospect of speedy recovery, the inflamation caused by the lead while in the stomach, being the greatest difficulty to contend with, at present appearances.—Wapello (Iowa) Intelligencer.

MR. SEWARD ELECTED!—It is with most heart-felt pleasure that we are able to announce this morning, that Hon WM. H. SEWARD was yesterday elected United States Senator by the legislature of New York, for six years from the 4th of March next. Although we had anticipated this gratifying result, yet we had some fears lest the machinations of his bitter enemies, backed by the influence of the whole slave power, should prevent an election. All honor to New York, which has thus endorsed her noble and able Senator, and has sustained him in his just and manly position that there is a "higher law" than that of human enactments.

The cause of freedom is progressing.—HARLAN, from Iowa, DURKEE, from Wisconsin, WILSON from Massachusetts, and now SEWARD from New York, all men of true anti-Slavery sentiments and stiff in the back, have been added to the list of Senators within a few weeks. We have good hopes of Illinois, and some for New Hampshire and some little, very little, for Pennsylvania.—The cause of freedom is by no means hopeless, when such men are added to the true men of the North in the Senate, The South will now set up a howl of agony, for of all Northern men she hates Seward the worst. [Pitts. Gazette.

☞Monday night was the coldest of the season on the lakes. At Cleveland the thermometer was 15 degrees below zero, and at Buffalo it was 20 degrees below. At 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning, in exposed localities it ranged between 14 and 15 degrees below.

☞The emigration to New York from foreign countries for January was 7,082 against 15,514 for January, 1854. All accounts agree in the opinion that the emigration will be much less this year than for some years past.

☞The Senate of Iowa has passed a bill to call a Convention to amend the State constitution. The vote stood 20 to 2.

ANOTHER ANTI-NEBRASKA GUN.—The telegraph to day brings the gratifying news that CHAS. DURKEE, anti-Nebraska, republican, is elected to the United States Senate from Wisconsin, in the place of Senator WALKER.

Mr. DURKEE's majority was one.

Wisconsin, in view of her former locofocoism, has done nobly.

HANG.—On the 23d ult., Stephen Short and a Mr. Haney, were executed at Greenupburgh, Ky. Some six or eight thousand persons were present to witness the execution. In answer to a remark made by one of his friends, under the gallows, Short said: "I never thought I would come to this; but whiskey and bad women have been the cause of it!" Haney protested his innocence to the last moment. Short also said he believed Haney was innocent.

INDEPENDENT.

The Roman Cathetic Bishop, of Hartford, wishes to form a German parish at New Haven, and for that purpose has sent a German Catholic Priest among these people to get it a-going, whereupon they have adopted the following resolutions by way of protest against the proceeding. They do not look very propitious for the Rt. Rev. gentleman's project.

Resolved, That we, Roman Catholics earnestly protest against such proceedings, and declare to the Rt. Rev. Bishop, that we do not want a German Roman Catholic priest here in New Haven.

Resolved, That we have suffered already on our old fatherland too much from priestcraft and kingcraft, and that we here, in our new home, thank our Lord and God, in at least thirty churches other than Roman Catholic, that we are free from that yoke, and that every one of us can worship his God according to his best belief and conscience.

Resolved, That these resolutions be sent to the Rt. Rev. Bishop.
