SAVED BY A LOAD OF HAY.

A Woman's Thrilling Leap from a Train Over a Trestle.

A Bradford, Pa., correspondent sends the following to the Philadelphia Times: "I tell you what, boys, I've railroaded it for years and been mixed up in all kinds of disasters, but I hope to croak right here if I want to be the eye-witness again of such an awful sight as I saw a day or two ago."

The speaker was a brakeman on the Erie.

"A day or so ago," he continued, "a tall and handsome woman got into the ladies' car at Dunkirk. With her was a bright and interesting boy, possibly two years of age. The child laughed and croaked and played with the passengers. When the train left Cattaraugus the woman, who seemed nervous, got out of her seat, picked up the baby and started for the rear end of the coach.

"A short distance east of Cattaraugus is a long, deep gulf, over which the railroad has built a high trestle. The distance from the top of the trestle to the wagon road below is perhaps one hundred feet. A sharp and short curve leads to the trestle. As the train rushed over the gulf a woman's piercing shriek was heard. I looked and saw an object leap from the platform into the rocky gulf. That object, sir, was the lady passenger, and in her arms, closely clasped to her breast, was her infant. I pulled the bell-cord and the train came to a halt. How it happened I cannot say, but at the time the woman jumped a load of hay, drawn by a pair of oxen, passed under the trestle. Mother and child landed squarely in the centre of the hay and were thus saved from a horrible death. The farmer was so horrified that he jumped from his wagon and darted up the hill. The woman, who was not hurt in the least, said her name was Mrs. Adam Scell and her home in Michigan. She was on her way to visit friends in the oil country. Her's was indeed a miraculous escape."

Mrs. Scell said that she could not explain her action. When near the car-door she was seized with an insane desire to jump from the train.

The farmer, as he drove along, was thinking of his dead wife and daughter. When the visitors came through the clouds, as it were, and landed on his hay, he thought that the dear departed had come back to earth to revisit him.

The Fourth District.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

It is not often that I obtrude myself or my opinions upon the public. It has been my habit to follow without wincing the party leaders, and yielding no factious opposition to any position they may take for the good of our party and State. Acting upon this principle, I have time and again yielded my judgment for the better judgment of others—wiser, older, and more experienced than myself—rather than produce a rancor in our ranks. I live in the Fourth congressional district—the hated black district, if you wish so to call it—and I hesitate not to avow that, while overridden by the power of numbers, beaten time and again—and always, it may be, that our white people are the staunchest and the truest Democrats in the State, and that fewer of them have gone over to the Radical party than in any other district. By the wisdom of the Legislature of Virginia they have hesped a black majority upon us until they have given us, by legislative skill rarely equalled in the history of any State, a congressional district in which there is not a single Democratic county—not, so far as I know, a single Democratic precinct—and there is no hope that the smallest of all the local offices even will be filled by any except a Republican; and yet our Democracy have remained faithful. And while we are thus situated—fearing every year less the negroes determine to fill all the offices in each county with negroes, and in that way make it unsafe for a white man to live in it—we are coolly advised by wise men (who do not live in the district), and by editors (who do not live in the district), that the good of the party in the State demands of us the still greater sacrifice of party, of principle, and ancestry, and sell ourselves to either Brady or Evans—the one a negro, the other a recent sore-head on the soil of Virginia, and who did in her time of greatest need raise his uplifted hand to strike her; and we, I say, for the good of the party of the State, are to become things of bargain and sale, and our purchasers are to be such masters as Brady and Evans. The Democratic party saying this, and we must make the sacrifice!

Now let me tell you, Mr. Editor, we don't intend doing any such thing. We are going to nominate our candidate. He shall be a Democrat of no doubtful faith. He shall be a gentleman who is the peer of any in the land. He shall be a man of talent, who, whether elected or defeated, we will never fear or be ashamed to own that we voted for him. We do not mean to consider the question whether he can be elected or not. We have often followed to defeat a candidate of whom we were proud and felt no humiliation, but prouder and better because we had not sacrificed principle for policy. If need be, we will do so again. Suppose you went to a Democrat from the Fourth district after the election and ask him, Did you vote for Evans for Congress? Yes, sir. Then, my friend, in the future, when it is proposed to make a negro county judge, or Leutenant-Governor, or any other officer, don't say this is a white man's county. You have voted for one to fill a more important position and your mouth is shut. If asked did you vote for Brady—Yes. Well, then, don't become indignant when the worst of Radicals are sent to rule over you, for none can be more objectionable than James Brady, of whom it was said by a negro the other day in debate "that socially he was Brady's equal, and, intellectually, his superior, and if the people would let him alone he would take a cane and beat him off the court-green." Now, what inducement can be offered to a Democrat to make him vote for any such men? I will answer the question which I have asked. This district, this State, this county offers and can offer no inducement which will make the Democrats of this black district vote for either Brady or Evans. We will stand by our principles and take the consequences. We have endured defeat. We fear it less than we do the sacrifice of our principles, or the disbanding of our organization. We are ready and willing to fight them. We are always ready, and we always do our duty, though forgotten by our party in the State when rewards are to be distributed. We care not. This is a sacrifice we will not make—"sell ourselves either to Brady or to Evans for the sake of party policy." We will nominate a candidate for Congress, and if he is defeated we will go down with banner flying, and upon it there shall be no stain of which the Democracy of this State or country shall be ashamed.

SOUTH SIDE.

The Fourth District.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

There seems to be much diversity of opinion among the Democrats of the Fourth congressional district as to the policy of placing a Democratic candidate in the field. Many good and true men, who have the success and welfare of the party most deeply at heart, are opposed to making a nomination, upon the ground that no good can possibly be accomplished by it. It seems to me that the question might be very pertinently asked, "What good can possibly be accomplished by failing to nominate a candidate?" There are two Republican candidates already in the field, one of whom is the representative of the worst methods and practices of modern politics, while the other seeks popular favor and support solely by appealing to the basest passions and most communistic prejudices of his race. Surely, as between two such aspirants for congressional honor, the Democrats of the Fourth district can have no preference. With them it should be emphatically a case of Mossup and Barry. It seems to me that the best and wisest course for the Democrats of this district to pursue is to avoid even the appearance of favoring either one of the candidates now in the field by nominating the best and strongest man we have—one who will devote his time and energies to the canvass from now until the day of election. He will in all probability be defeated, but we will have the consciousness that we have not even seemingly contributed in any way to the success of the party elected; and, besides, we will thus maintain our organization and self-respect at the same time. It has been suggested by a writer in the Dispatch that the Democrats of this district "copper" on Evans, and thus seek to reduce Blaine's majority in the district, which, in view of the full vote the heated congressional contest will bring out, is estimated at 12,000. Such a thing is utterly impracticable. The negroes will vote for Blaine, even though the assurance were positively given that if they would vote the Democratic electoral ticket, the solid Democratic vote of the district would in return be cast for their favorite candidate for Congress. In a presidential contest the negroes are practically a unit in favor of the Republican nominee, and, moreover, the heated congressional contest will not appreciably increase the negro vote of the district. They always vote their full strength whenever there is a political issue involved. To know or believe that they will have an opportunity of voting in opposition to the wishes and interests of the white people is incentive sufficient to carry the last one of them to the polls. The sooner the white people of Virginia learn that in no political emergency can the negro be relied upon to render them aid or assistance, and that the ultimate redemption and salvation of the old Commonwealth depends solely upon the efficiency of their organization and the unity of their action, the better it will be for them. While the whites of the Fourth district are in a deplorable minority it affords no reason why they should be expected to sacrifice their manhood and self-respect by aiding an aspirant for congressional honors who has no higher claim to their aid or support than the fact that he is a negro and the negroes have a majority in the district. Let us give no aid or comfort to the enemy even with a sinister motive.

ROSCOE.

The Fourth District.

To the Editor of the Dispatch:

Your correspondent "Independent" evidently did not understand either the drift or intent of my article in last Monday's Dispatch about the Fourth congressional district, or he would not have written his incoherent and disjointed reply.

The sole purpose of my article was to arouse the Democrats of that district to a proper sense of the important bearing of the vote of that district upon the general count of the presidential vote in the State, and to impress them with the fact that it is far more important to carry the electoral vote for Cleveland than it is to elect a congressman in the black belt, or to defeat either Brady or Evans.

Was there anything wrong or impertinent in this on the part of a life-long Democrat, though not a resident of the district? The question is not purely a district one, but a State matter of grave and vital importance in the general result. The electoral vote of the whole State may turn on the Republican majority in that district. Is it not the right and the duty, therefore, of every good Democrat in the State by his advice and vote to help keep that majority down to the lowest figure?

Now, if by nominating a Democratic candidate for Congress this important result can be best accomplished, why, I say at once, make the nomination, for that will be in accordance with the precise aim of my article. But neither the facts nor figures presented by "Independent" indicate to my mind any such result, but only go to prove what I said—that the Republican majority in the district is far greater than the total Democratic vote, and that, consequently, while the election of a Democrat is next to impossible, the nomination of such a candidate would most probably only intensify the fight between Brady and Evans, and help swell the Republican majority for Blaine and Logan! Besides, a Democrat who won't come out to vote for Cleveland and Hendricks could hardly be coaxed out to vote for any man that might be nominated for Congress just to be beaten, as all other nominees have heretofore been. This is not an "off year" to require any such special agency to rally the party vote.

But "Independent" objects to my suggestion that the Democrats should "copper on Evans" in order to win votes for Cleveland, and says that if he were to "copper" at all it would be on Brady. Very well. Let him so "copper." If he prefers the "ring candidate" to Evans, let him swop his vote with a Brady man for Cleveland, and it will be one vote gained for our electoral ticket and nothing lost. But I suggested Evans because I was under the impression that every Democrat in the district would prefer the election of Evans, though a negro, to Brady, and therefore would rather "copper" on him to win. The Democrats of the "black" State of Michigan are "coppering" on Ben. Butler, and will most probably win seven of the electors of that Republican State for Cleveland and Hendricks. In other "black" Republican States and districts the Democrats are doing the same sensible thing. Is there any reason in the world why the good Democrats of the "black district" on the South Side should not adopt the same method to make votes for Cleveland? On the contrary, are there not at least two overwhelming reasons why they should "copper" on Evans—namely: First, to help defeat the "ring" candidate, and secondly to gain Republican votes for Cleveland? Always clap for the "under dog" in a fight, and sometimes it is wise to "swap the devil for the witch."

But let the assembled Democracy of the Fourth district wisely and harmoniously settle the matter in the Convention on Tuesday.

COMMON SENSE.

Steady Flow of Campaign Dollars.

[New York Herald.]

The stream of popular subscriptions to the Democratic campaign fund continues to pour in briskly. The following were received at the Herald office yesterday:

Charles A. Matthewson and Tobias Burke send $3 from Providence, R. I., which they desire to have "cast to windward."

"Muggy" encloses $2 from Boston as his contribution toward honest government. He says: "The Independent rally last night in Tremont Temple was a grand success, not so much of a funeral ceremony as the Philadelphia Press of last week expected it would be. In fact the corpse showed signs of great vitality, and will undoubtedly survive till after November 4. It was an index to a powerful and widespread sentiment in favor of Cleveland in this State, and cannot be sneered down by any proprietors of the (spotted) white elephant show."

FOR THE GOOD CAUSE.

"Mugwump" writes from Baltimore: "Enclosed please find $2 for the good cause. I am an independent mugwump. This is the first time I have contributed toward a political fund. My wife would not approve of it did she know it, but I would do nothing inconsistent with the most scrupulous integrity and honor. However, secrets will leak out; so, dear Editor, just burn this."

PAT AND JERRY THIS TIME.

Pat and Jerry send a dollar each from Jaranac, N. Y., "to help beat Jim Blaine." They remark: "It will be the beginning of the end of this country if such a fraud and humbug is put at the head of the Government."

"Herald Reader" writes from Ausable Forks, N. Y.: "Enclosed find $1 for the cause of Cleveland and Hendricks. Look out for Ohio; carry it if it is within the possibilities. I hope the Democratic committee won't underestimate its importance. Go ahead and start the dollar fund in all the States."

Thus writes F. C. Eaton, from Columbus, O.: "Enclosed please find $1 to help keep Blaine and his tribe of rats out of the White House. Woe to the republic if they seat in the chair of Washington a self-branded corruptionist."

DOLLARS FROM THE SOUTH.

E. F. Bryan, of Savannah, Ga., says: "I enclose $1 to help along the good cause. I shall feel ashamed of Georgia if Cleveland's majority does not reach at least 70,000. Good luck to Cleveland."

THE WILD WAVES' ANSWER.

"Baltimore," enclosing $1, says: "Puck describes Blaine asking, 'What are the wild waves saying, sister?' The answer will be, 'Cleveland leads Blaine the whole day long!'"

THE CITY CONTRIBUTIONS.

The responses to the committee's appeal have been liberal throughout the city. For instance, three citizens, who asked that their names should not be published, sent $300 to the headquarters. A New York gentleman sent $25 for each of two minor children, who requested him, as their guardian, to do this.

A Broadway merchants sends "$25 to help turn the rascals out," and adds: "Put it to the best use, but do not publish my name, as I wish to spare the feelings of my Republican partners in our business."

One mercantile institution in the city has sent a collection of $2,500, while two other donations in town were $525 and $350 respectively.

In letters received at Democratic headquarters liberal contributions have been received. "Burn this letter (after taking the five-dollar bill out)," writes a man from Montrose, Pa. Fifty-five dollars are sent by fifty-five Democrats from Brenham, Texas. A Baltimore lady contributes $50 to the campaign fund, and a similar amount is sent by a Chicago business firm. Fifty-one Democrats of Goshen, N. Y., send $51, while there is received $5 from Wausaw, Wis.; $10 from Dallas Centre, Iowa; $63 from Ludlow, Vt.; and $10 from Fort Scott, Kan.

An anonymous person in this city gives $5 to be used in West Virginia, while from "down in the interior of New York" $16 was received, with the request that neither the name of the place nor the donors be made public.

AN EFFICIENT REMEDY

in all cases of BRONCHIAL and PULMONARY AFFECTIONS is AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. As such it is recognized and prescribed by the medical profession, and in many thousands of families for the past forty years it has been regarded as an invaluable household remedy. It is a preparation that only requires to be taken in very small quantities, and a few doses of it administered in the early stages of a COLD or COUGH will effect a speedy cure, and may, very possibly, save life. There is no doubt whatever that has preserved the lives of great numbers of persons by arresting the development of LARYNGITIS, BRONCHITIS, PNEUMONIA, and PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, and by the cure of those dangerous maladies. It should be kept ready for use in every family where there are children, as it is a medicine far superior to all others in the treatment of CROUP, the alleviation of WHOOPING-COUGH, and the cure of COLDS and INFLUENZA—ailments peculiarly incidental to childhood and youth. Promptitude in dealing with all diseases of this class is of the utmost importance. The loss of a single day may, in many cases, entail fatal consequences. Do not waste precious time in experimenting with medicines of doubtful efficacy, while the malady is constantly gaining a deeper hold, but use at once the speediest and most certain to cure.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF A VERY VALUABLE GRACE-STREET RESIDENCE AT PUBLIC AUCTION.

The undersigned, a special commissioner appointed by the chancery Court of the city of Richmond by decree entered on the 24 of February, 1884, in the suit of Baily and als. vs. Bailey and als., will offer for sale at public auction, on the premises, on TUESDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1884, at 5 o'clock P. M., that DESIRABLE THREE-STORY-AND-BASEMENT BRICK DWELLING (No. 131) on the south side of Grace between First and Foushee streets, now in the occupancy of Mrs. A. M. Bailey. The lot has a front of 24 feet 8 inches, and runs back within parallel lines 156 feet, more or less, to an alley about fifteen feet wide; bounded on the west by the property of Dr. R. A. Lewis. There is a good stable upon the premises. For a residence or as an investment there is no better locality.

TERMS: One third cash; balance at six, twelve, and eighteen months, interest added, and title retained until all the purchase money is paid and a conveyance ordered by the Court. JOHN T. GODDIN, Special Commissioner.

BAILEY AND ALS. VS. BAILEY AND ALS.—IN THE CHANCERY COURT OF THE CITY OF RICHMOND:

I, Benjamin H. Berry, clerk of said court, certify that the bond required of the special commissioner by the decree in said cause of February 2, 1884, has been duly given.

Given under my hand this 25th day of September, 1884. BENJAMIN H. BERRY, oc 1

SALE OF VERY VALUABLE REAL ESTATE IN THE COUNTY OF BEDFORD AND STATE OF VIRGINIA, KNOWN AS "LIBERTY."—We offer for sale privately a FARM containing 472 acres, situated in the county of Bedford and State of Virginia, about two miles north of Liberty. It was the home residence of the late Benjamin A. Depriest, and is one of the finest farms in the county. It is within about two miles of the Norfolk and Western railroad, convenient to schools and churches. The neighborhood is excellent. The dwelling house is of brick, and in first-rate condition—containing nine rooms, and cost about $10,000 originally. The yard, garden, and orchard contain about twelve acres, and the grounds are very handsome, containing nearly every tree in the American forest planted and cultivated under a careful system. The land is so nearly level that machinery can be used upon every acre of it. It is well adapted to the growth of wheat, corn, oats, tobacco, and hay, and is specially suited for a stock farm. The place has sufficient to Little Otter creek, and is well watered. About 125 acres are in timber, 100 of which is in original forest, the timber upon it being very large and valuable, and it has never been cut over. The place has a good stable, barn, overseer's house, granary, and the usual out-buildings, all of which are in good repair. The larger part of the fencing also is in very good condition. The title to this property is good. We are not expecting any fancy prices, and we will sell it at a great bargain. It is rare that so elegant a farm is offered on the market.

TERMS: One third cash; and the remainder in one, two, and three years, with interest from the day of sale, secured by a deed of trust on personal security; but these terms are not arbitrary, and more or less cash can be paid if the purchaser wishes it.

Possession given for sending wheat at the usual time, and full possession at the end of sixty days, or sooner if desired.

It will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on TUESDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1884, at 12 o'clock M. CAMM PATTESON, S. S. P. PATTESON, Executors.

The address of CAMM PATTESON is Howardsville post-office, Albemarle county, Va.; and S. S. P. PATTESON'S Liberty, Bedford county, Va. S. S. P. Patteson lives upon the premises, and will show the farm to any one who desires it. au 10-tu
