COMMENCEMENT-DAY PROPER AT HAMPDEN-SIDNEY.

The Annual Celebration of the Philanthropic Society—The Honors and the Orators—The Degree Men—Meeting of the Trustees.

HAMPDEN-SIDNEY, VA., June 10.—(Special.)—The commencement exercises proper of Hampden-Sidney were held in the chapel, instead of, as formerly, in the church. The exercises at the Philanthropic Society's celebration were presided over by a distinguished son of Richmond, Mr. A. D. P. Gilmour, A. B., who had the second honor, and the Latin salutatory, and is also the fellow for 1895-97. Mr. Gilmour presided with great grace, and reflected credit upon his society, and her long line of sons, reaching to 1835, and including many distinguished names—like those of Hon. P. W. McKinney, Moses D. Hoge, D. D., and others.

The senior orator's medal was presented to Mr. E. Lee Trinkle, A. B., of Virginia, with second honor, and B. S. He is an old hand with medals, having received the Freshman Declaimer's Medal and the Sophomore Debater's Medal in former years. The Orator's Medal was presented by the close friend of Mr. Trinkle, Mr. J. Leighton Stuart, A. B., of Alabama. The J. N. Collingworth Junior Essayist's Medal was presented to Mr. F. M. Cunningham, of Richmond, by Mr. R. R. Harwell, of Petersburg, the last year's winner of the Sophomore Debater's Medal, which was won this year by Mr. R. C. Caldwell, of South Carolina, another prize-man, with two scholarships for last year, and a gymnasium directorship for 1896-97. This last medal was presented by Mr. L. E. Reed, of Texas. The fund, the popular Lone Star State representative, did the presentation act in his own inimitable way.

The Freshman Declaimer's Medal went to Mr. W. W. Bondurant, whose brother was the first medal presented by the Virginia Intercollegiate Oratorical League at its first meeting, in June, 1891.

THE SPEAKING.

The select and accomplished audience then listened to Mr. J. B. Ficklen, A. B., of Virginia, senior orator, and Messrs. F. M. Cunningham, Virginia, and H. H. Bacon, Virginia, junior orators. The speakers were Messrs. R. Y. Hubard, Buckingham, and J. W. Hethorne, Louisiana. On the Committee on Invitations were Messrs. J. E. Allen, Virginia; J. M. Haines, Georgia; V. H. Starbuck, Florida; C. W. Dabney, Brazil.

The literary societies were addressed in the morning by Hon. Don P. Halsey, Commonwealth's Attorney, of Lynchburg, who received here just eight years ago, at the hands of Colonel J. P. Fitzgerald, the board's treasurer, the Declaimer's Medal, and a few years later the Senior Orator's Medal, from the Philanthropic Society. Mr. Halsey was followed by Rev. C. H. Goodwin, of Nottoway, in an excellent address to the Alumni Society.

State Female Normal School.

FARMVILLE, June 10.—(Special.)—The promenade concert of last night was interrupted by showers. A merry throng of young people retreated from the lawn to the assembly hall, while the Farmville Band played on the front porch. Refreshments, consisting of cakes, ices, and fruits, were served, and social talk was enjoyed until a late hour.

The trustees who reached here yesterday are General William B. Taliaferro, president of the board; J. F. Jeffries, Esq., of Warrenton, and J. S. Ware, Esq., of Berryville.

To-day Miss Hewlett's art exhibition was thrown open to visitors. The work of all the classes is exceedingly creditable, and the drawings of the Junior B class in particular attract much attention. Miss Ethelyn Jones's pen-and-ink work and head of St. Jerome in charcoal deserve special mention; also, the still-life study of violin and music and cast drawing of arm of Diana, by Miss Joulie Morton. The pictures in water-colors and oils by Mrs. H. E. Wall and Mrs. Hunter Baldwin, of Farmville, and other special students, are well done and are a pleasing part of the exhibition.

Beautiful Entertainment.

SUFFOLK, June 10.—(Special.)—The final exercises of Suffolk College took place at the City Hall last night, and though the weather was very inclement a good-size audience was present. The programme was varied and interesting, a specially fine feature being a series of statue poses by Misses Lelia Savage, Helen Twiford, Ruby Gilliam, Lizzie Bates, and Gertrude Schellinger. The same young ladies rendered five beautiful tableaux, entitled "Home Scenes." The exercises closed with a scarf drill, arranged by Miss Florence Campbell and performed by twenty-four young ladies. This was the finest spectacular exhibition ever seen in Suffolk. The drill was excellently carried out, while the poses and the final tableaux were beautiful in the extreme.

Won Scholarships.

SCOTLAND NECK, N. C., June 10.—(Special.)—In the Nine-Hill Male Academy here this year, Mr. Toy D. Savage, of Hertford county, won the scholarship to Washington and Lee University, and Mr. Charles H. Herring, of Scotland Neck, won the scholarship to Wake Forest College. Mr. Will B. Wilson, of Chatham county, won the medal for greatest improvement in the Alamedan Literary Society, and Master Raymond Dunn, of Scotland Neck, won a like medal from the Coloneathean Society.

JURY COULD NOT AGREE.

Counsel for the Prosecution Springs a Sensation.

NORFOLK, VA., June 10.—(Special.)—The jury in the trial of E. B. Miars, charged with assaulting H. A. Morgan, was discharged to-day, being unable to agree on a verdict. The jury stood ten for acquittal and two for conviction. When the foreman announced the disagreement the counsel for the prosecution sprung a sensation by moving that the jury be discharged on account of misconduct of one of the jurors. Judge Watts asked what that misconduct was, and Colonel Stewart said that one of them was drunk and had been pointed out to him staggering on the streets. Judge Watts imposed a fine of $10 on the one charged, who denied being under the influence of liquor, and said he hurt his leg last night.

Supreme Court of Appeals.

WYTHEVILLE, VA., June 10.—(Special.)—The Supreme Court of Appeals convened here to-day, all the judges present except Judge Harrison. The cases argued and submitted were: Earl & Clark vs. the Commonwealth; Clarkson vs. the Virginia Coal and Iron Company; and Fulkerson vs. the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company.

AT MARRIAGE ALTAR

A BRILLIANT WEDDING IN THE ANCIENT CAPITAL.

Miss Nannie Munford Bright Becomes the Bride of Mr. Gustavus W. Cook, of Philadelphia—Happy Couples Elsewhere in the State.

WILLIAMSBURG, VA., June 10.—(Special.)—Old Bruton Episcopal church was to-day the scene of one of the most brilliant and fashionable marriages that have occurred here since ante-bellum days. The occasion was the solemnization of the marriage rites between Miss Nannie Munford Bright, of this city, and Mr. Gustavus Wynne Cook, of Philadelphia. The old church, one of the oldest on this Continent, where so many couples who now occupy high social position in various parts of our country have plighted their troth and united heart and hand, never in its history presented on its interior a prettier appearance, and never contained within its walls a more brilliant assemblage of people than it did to-day at 3:30 o'clock P. M.

The walls were tastefully decorated with daisies and evergreens, and around the chancel rail choice exotics lent their fragrance to the surroundings, while ferns and palms were banked in the rear, almost completely hiding the wall from view, and within the chancel were eighteen wax candles lighted, typical of the age of the bride.

The lights from the gayly-bedecked chandeliers were lowered and their subdued rays were reflected by the flowers and by the jewels and ornaments of the assemblage, making a scene lovely in the extreme.

THE BRIDAL PARTY.

Long before the hour appointed for the ceremony the church was filled, the first three rows of pews facing the chancel being reserved for the family and intimate friends. The bridal party a few minutes after 3 o'clock entered from the east door in the following order: Alexander Macauley Bright, the younger brother of the bride, and Mr. Thomas Hugh Mercer, the bride's cousin, ushers; Mr. Ro. Southall Bright, also a brother of the bride, with Mr. Charles Longstreth, of Philadelphia; Miss Mary Waller Mercer and Miss Henrietta Booth, maids of honor, dressed in white organdie with orange ribbons, each carrying a bunch of daisies and wearing a pearl pin, as did also the ushers, the gift of the bride and groom, respectively.

Then came the bride leaning on the arm of her father, the groom entering the church from the vestry with his best man, Dr. George E. Cook, of Philadelphia.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the Right Rev. William Stevens Perry, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of Iowa, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. D. Newlin, of the Church of the Incarnation, Philadelphia, and by Rev. W. T. Roberts, rector of Bruton church.

The organ was presided over by Mr. Spencer Henley, and as the bridal party marched to the altar Mendelsshon's wedding march was rendered in fine style. During the ceremony, R 'de Koven's "Oh, Promise Me," was softly played. At the close of the ceremony the organ pealed forth the joyous notes of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin, and the bridal party moved down the centre aisle in the following order: The bride and groom, and Captain Bright and Dr. Cook, followed by the maids and ushers. When the eastern door was reached a pause was made, and the happy pair received the congratulations of a host of friends. Carriages were then taken and the bridal party were driven to Captain Bright's residence, where a handsome reception was given.

THE BRIDAL TOUR.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Cook took the afternoon train for Old Point, where they will stop at Chamberlin's for a short time, after which they will go to Kenilworth Inn, at Asheville, N. C. From this mountain resort they will go to New York and take the Lucania, of the Cunard Line, for an extensive European tour.

The bride wore a creation of white duchess satin, trimmed with white chiffon, and orange-blossoms, and a circle of diamonds and other diamond ornaments, the gift of the groom. The bride is the only daughter of Captain Ro. A. Bright, and has spent most of her life with relatives in the Quaker City, but has made annual visits to her home here, where, on account of her gracious and pleasing manner and her gentle and lovely disposition she always received a hearty welcome.

The groom is 26 years of age, and the only son of Mr. Richard Y. Cook, one of the most widely known business-men of Philadelphia, he being now president of the Guarantee, Trust, and Safe-Deposit Company, of Pennsylvania; president of the Pennsylvania Warehousing and Safe-Deposit Company; vice-president of the Finance Company of Pennsylvania; director of the Tradesman National Bank, and a member of the Earle-Alcott Reorganization Committee of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company.

THE PRESENTS.

The bridal presents were unusually numerous and costly, and deserve more than a passing mention:

Mr. Cook, the groom's father, presented the couple with a splendid house and lot on one of the most fashionable streets in the city of Brotherly Love. Mrs. Cook, the groom's mother, gave a handsome double turnout.

The presents of cut-glass, silver, etc., are too numerous to mention, being sufficient to load an ordinary express-wagon.

Among the guests present, other than those already mentioned, were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Y. Cook, parents of the groom; Rev. Alsop Leffingwell, Dr. George E. Cook; Mrs. H. Louisa Moore; Miss Borden; Charles Longstrith; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Emely, of Philadelphia; Dr. Mahlon Kirk, of Maryland; Hon. B. B. Munford, of Richmond.

Mrs. H. Louisa Moore, mentioned above, is a very wealthy lady, and is exceedingly generous, and is now having constructed in Philadelphia, at an expense of over $750,000, a church, called the "Church of the Advocate."

The master of ceremonies, Mr. Charles Longstreth, is a son of Mr. Edward Longstreth, one of the partners of the Baldwin Locomotive-Works, and is himself general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Warehousing Company, of Philadelphia.

SUFFOLK WEDDING-BELLS.

Mr. Frank G. Whaley and Miss Carrie J. Shepherd.

SUFFOLK, VA., June 10.—(Special.)—St. Paul's Episcopal church was the scene of a brilliant ceremony at 9 o'clock tonight, the occasion being the marriage of Mr. Frank G. Whaley, of Whaleyville, Nansemond county, and Miss Carrie J. Shepherd, daughter of John M. Shepherd, Esq., manager of the Southern Express Company's Suffolk office. The church was prettily decorated with flowers and lighted candles. During the ceremony the auditorium was darkened, while the chancel was brilliantly illumined. In the absence of Rev. W. A. Barr, the rector, the ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank Scott, of Smithfield.

THE ATTENDANTS.

The attendants were as follows: Miss May Whaley, of Plymouth, N. C., sister of the groom, maid of honor; Mr. James T. Shepherd, brother of the bride, best man; Miss Annie Urquhart and Mr. Robert J. Norfleet; Miss L. Mae Bailey and Dr. J. P. Wheddee; Miss Nannie Birdsong and Mr. Irving Whaley; Miss Lilly Norfleet and Mr. E. C. Quimby; Miss Katie Holladay and Mr. Thomas Urquhart; Miss Lizzie Baker and Mr. Charles Hutching; Miss Mary Whaley and Mr. C. C. Cohoon; Miss Carrie Skiles and Mr. Henry Land; Miss Lizzie Deyer and Mr. Henry Urquhart; Miss Nellie Quimby and Captain E. A. Norfleet; Miss Laura McGuire and Mr. N. R. Withers.

THE BRIDE'S GOWN.

The bride wore a gown of muslin de soie, and a veil caught with a sunburst of diamonds and pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a white prayer-book. The lady attendants were dressed in white organdie. The maid of honor carried bride's roses, and the bridesmaids carried carnations and smilax. The groom and the gentlemen attendants wore dress suits, with boutonnieres of carnations.

Tom Smith Camp, Confederate Veterans, attended the marriage in a body, in uniform, the bride being a daughter of a member of the camp. Mr. and Mrs. Whaley left on the Norfolk and Western train at 10:40 o'clock for a northern tour.

SEEGAR—GRAVES.

A Pretty Wedding in the City on the Dan.

DANVILLE, VA., June 10.—(Special.)—The First Baptist church was the scene of an interesting wedding at high noon to-day, the principals to the nuptial contract being Miss Annie Wright Graves, daughter of Captain W. G. Graves, of this city, and Mr. James Massey Seegar, a well-known travelling salesman of Baltimore. The bridal couple were attended by the groom's brother, Mr. King Seegar, of Baltimore, as best man, and by Misses Mamie and Irene Graves, sisters of the bride. The ushers were Messrs. George Lewis, John G. Lea, John Meade, and J. O. Boatwright, of Danville, and Mr. Howard Saddler, of Baltimore. Rev. T. B. Thames, D. D., performed the ceremony, in the presence of a large company.

The bride is a stately and beautiful blonde, and is much beloved. She wore a wedding-gown of blue-gray broadcloth, trimmed with white satin, and honiton lace. Her bridal bouquet was a fine cluster of lilies-of-the-valley.

Mr. Seegar and bride left at 1:40 P. M. for a wedding journey to Virginia Beach, thence to Canada, stopping at New York en route.

Mr. and Mrs. Seegar will be at home in this city after thirty days.

MARKET QUOTATIONS.

REPORTS FROM ALL GREAT BUSINESS CENTRES OF THE WORLD.

Prices of Money, Bonds, Stocks, Grain, Tobacco, Cotton, Cattle, Country Produce, &c., Foreign and Domestic.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Trading at the Stock Exchange was more active to-day, and as of late, the increase in business was at the expense of values. The opening was rather weak, the impression prevailing that the silverites will receive more consideration at St. Louis than eastern people have been led to believe. Washington houses were free sellers of the list, and late in the day, when it was rumored that President Cleveland intended to send a message to Congress sustaining the insurgents in Cuba, prices broke rapidly. The report subsequently proved to be unfounded. The engagement of a small amount of gold for export to Europe was also used against the market.

The pressure to sell was most pronounced in the case of the Southwesterns, Grangers, Louisville and Nashville, the Internationals, Pacific Mail, and Tennessee Coal and Iron. The decline in prices ranged from 1-2 to 3 1-4 per cent., Missouri Pacific leading.

In the late trading a steadier tone prevailed, the rumor that the President had sent a message to Congress on Cuban matters having been denied. Prices immediately recovered 1-8@1 3-8 per cent., Sugar showing the greatest strength. The improvement, however, was not general, and in the final tranactions the market was irregular and in the main weak. In the specialties, Tennessee Coal fell to 29 1-4, on reiteration of the reports of poor trade conditions for both coal and iron in the South. It was also said that a bull account of long standing had been liquidated in the past few days.

Net changes show losses of 2 3-8 per cent. Lackawanna sold at 169, against 165, the last reported sale. The total transactions were 264,239 shares, of which 51,200 were Sugar. Railroad and miscellaneous bonds were active and weak. The sales footed up $1,211,000.

Treasury balances: Coin, $107,325,209; currency, $68,824,071.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Money on call easy, at 1 1-2@2 per cent.; last loan at 2, and closing offered at 2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 4 1-2@5 per cent.

Bar silver, 68 1-2. Silver at the board steady.

Sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.87 1-2 for sixty days, and $4.88 1-2 for demand. Posted rates, $4.88@$4.89. Commercial bills, $4.86@$4.86 3-4.

Government bonds easier. State bonds dull. Railroad bonds lower.
