VERMONT TRANSCRIPT.

ST. ALBANS.

Friday, April 1, 1864.

—At a school meeting holden at Academy Hall, St. Albans, on March 29th, J. H. Crosby, Esq., was chosen Moderator; E. A. Sowles, Esq., Clerk; Lorenzo Bingham, Collector; A. S. Hyde, Treasurer; and C. H. Huntington, G. H. Farrar, and E. A. Smith, Prudential Committee, for the year ensuing. A full report by the Superintendent of Common Schools was read by the Rev. Charles Fay, and likewise by the Prudential Committee and Treasurer, showing the present financial condition of the District. It appears from these reports that the high school in this village is in a very prosperous condition under its able corps of teachers, headed by the experienced teacher, J. S. D. Taylor, Esq., its principal. The usual appropriation of money was made to defray the expenses of the school during the past year, by voting a tax of 40 cents on the dollar on the grand list of the district.

The receipts from Academy Hall during the past year have exceeded the sum of $300—which with the general prosperous condition of the district clearly indicates the financial ability of the Prudential Committee and Treasurer, and the wisdom of the meeting in choosing them for the same position another year.

—We are gratified to learn that a Fire Company has been organized in St. Albans, principally for the protection of the Railroad buildings, as it would seem from a list of the officers which are as follows, viz: A. H. Proctor, Foreman; T. A. Miles, 1st Assistant; B. F. Williams, 2d Assistant; H. M. Sowles, Jefferson March, and S. S. Beaman, Executive Committee; W. S. Norwich, Steward; G. W. Brown, Clerk and Treasurer. A better list of officers could not have been found in the employ of the company, many of them having had much experience with fires such as have never been witnessed in St Albans. The company is called Torrent Engine Co. No. 1, and is named after the Engine. The engine is one of "Hunneman's Tubs" of large size, capable of accommodating sixty men at the brakes, and is the property of the Vermont Central Railroad Company. Our citizens may soon expect to see this noble engine ushered into our streets by a company of men who, if supplied with "water," will not ask for anything stronger to enable them to display their wonderful feats in subduing the ravages of the element they are organized to contend against.

—The Directors of the first National Bank of St. Albans have secured the store lately occupied by Foster & Green on the corner of Main and Fairfield Streets, for the transaction of their business. They intend fitting up that building for their present accommodation, until they can build or secure a building expressly adapted to their business. This institution under its present board of officers, commences operation under the most flattering circumstances. The President, Hon. Hiram Belloss, and Cashier Albert Sowles, Esq., are men of large experience in the business, have an extensive acquaintance with business men, and cannot but secure that patronage which these institutions justly merit.

—The exhibition of the pupils at Academy Hall St. Albans, on Friday last is said by those in attendance to have been highly creditable to all concerned.

—At the Easter Monday meeting, the following gentlemen were chosen Vestrymen, of St. Luke's Church, St. Albans, for the ensuing year: Bildad Paul, Edward A. Smith, Asahel S. Hyde, Myron Buck, Joseph S. Weeks, John C. Farrar and Edward A. Sowles.

Messrs. Paul, Smith, Buck and Farrar were appointed delegates to the Diocesan Convention on the first Wednesday of June next, and Messrs. Hyde, Weeks and Sowles were appointed substitutes.

—On Saturday, March 26th, the dwelling house and out-buildings on the "Janes lot," lately occupied by Henry E. Seymour, Esq., were sold in parcels at public auction for $340, to several purchasers, and they are to be removed immediately to make room for the contemplated hotel.

Rev. E. H. Chapin of New York, will lecture at Montpelier, April 14th, on "Europe and America." Mr. Chapin would draw a crowded House at St. Albans.

—The Railroad Company is furnishing those in its employ at St. Albans with dry wood at three dollars a cord delivered upon the depot grounds. This is welcome news to all except those who have taken advantage of the want of snow and claimed from $4 50 to $5 00 per cord for an indifferent quality of dry wood.

—Mrs Eunice D. Potter, widow of the late Isaac Potter of Sheldon, suddenly fell dead on Monday of last week. She was 73 years of age.

Dr. Joseph H. Leonard, of St. Albans, who has recently sold his stock of drugs and medicines to Wead and Duren, has established himself in a wholesale business at No. 303 St. Paul street, Montreal, and will remove with his family to that city on the first of May.

Henry E. Seymour, Esq., of St. Albans, has been appointed Court Auditor in Franklin county, in place of Hon. R. H. Hoyt, resigned.

—Hon. Horatio N. Barber takes charge of the St. Albans Post-office after April 1st, vice Myron Buck, Esq., removed.

—A girl smuggled under her shawl a pair of shoes from the shop of Mr. Bildad Paul in St. Albans a few evenings since and was soon detected. She was allowed to go unpunished on restoring the shoes and promising to sin in like manner no more.

—Gen. Meagher has definitely accepted an invitation to lecture in Burlington on Thursday evening April 7th. Subject of his lecture is "Gen. Michael Corcoran, the true Irishman, the loyal American citizen, and the brave soldier." Perhaps Gen. Meagher might be induced to repeat his lecture at St. Albans.

—The death of Hon. Owen Lovejoy, of Illinois, took place at Brooklyn, N. Y., March 25th. He was born in Albion, Maine, January 6, 1811, and was therefore in the fifty-fourth year of his age.

He was a brother of the Rev. E. P. Lovejoy who was murdered by the minions of slavery—and was an intimate of the "peculiar institution." He was among the most eminent orators in Congress, and had a reputation for industry and bravery.

Mr. Walton Lee writes a very cordial obituary of his friend, and published it in a recent number of the "Daily Journal."

—The death of Levi Nichols, one of the ablest and most exemplary citizens of Enosburgh, at the advanced age of 74 years, is announced.

—Crossing on the ice to the Islands continues good except near the shores.

—A ferry-boat is now plying regularly between Burlington and Charlotte.

—At the District Convention held in Hyde park, July 10, 1863, the following District Committee were appointed for the year ensuing: William Harmon, of Shelburne, W. C. Smalley of St. Albans, J. P. Settle, of Barton, S. M. Pennock, of Morristown, S. N. Gilbert, of Island Pond and Rev. Orville G. Wheeler, of South Hero.

—There will be a Wool Growers Convention at the Town Hall in Middlebury, April 6th, for "the purpose of taking measures to petition Congress for an increase of duty on wool."

CONGRESS.

Small business, and a very little of it, is again the record. At this rate the proposal to adjourn before the meeting of the Republican convention in June, will fail, or the business of the session will be left in a very unfinished state. Both branches have passed the bills to provide for carrying the mails to foreign ports, to indemnify the owners of the French ship Lamoanche, and authorize the President to negotiate a treaty with certain Indians of southern Oregon, for the acquisition of land, and appropriating $20,000 therefore; also a joint resolution appropriating $20,000 for the expenses of the committee on the conduct of the war. No other business is finished, nor seems likely to be immediately. The Senate is still discussing the bill to promote enlistments, the difficulty being to fix on what shall be done with the families and masters of enlisted negros. The Senate has passed and sent down to the house for approbation, a bill providing for a new coinage of cents, to be composed of 95 percent of copper and 5 percent of zinc or tin, and also providing for a ten cent piece of the same composition. Bills have been introduced into the Senate and discussed, establishing a bureau of military justice, appropriating $200,000 for a navy yard at Cairo, Illinois, and providing for the pardon of repentant deserters who will return from Canada and go into the service, but no result is reached on any of them.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Foreign advices are more warlike and threatening than ever. Austria and Prussia have concluded not to wait for the reply of Denmark to England's proposal for an armistice and conference, and have pushed forward into Jutland, met and defeated the Danes in two encounters, and compelled them to retreat to the north with considerable loss. But Denmark still acts and talks warlike, and of course there can be no hope of a conference as things stand now. This advance of the Austrian and Prussian forces has also called England to take a more decided aspect, and a debate in the British House of Lords, on the 8th, shows a strong disposition on the part of the British government to aid Denmark, by peaceable negotiations if possible, and if not, by sending her army and navy. The smaller German powers also hold a threatening attitude towards Austria and Prussia, and altogether the general state of Europe seems to be as critical as possible. Sweden sympathizes strongly with Denmark, but whether she will render material assistance or not is not clear.
