Amusements.

CANTERBURY.—Benefit of the Sick and Wounded Soldiers.—To-night will be a gala night at this great temple of amusement. Canterbury, since its opening, has been famous as a place where nothing in the shape of a disloyal word or sentiment could be uttered either upon the stage or on the part of any one in the audience, and now the gentlemanly and highly popular Geo. Percival & Co., in a spirit of liberality which characterizes them, show their devotion to the cause of the Union by offering the net proceeds of their house to-night for the benefit of the sick and wounded soldiers.

The entire company of artistes, including the great Spanish dancers, Mlle Marietta Ravel, and the charming and highly popular vocalist, Miss Clara Butler, Messrs Colleen and Allen, the graceful daughters of terpsichore, Miss Nellie Taylor, the beautiful child of song, Master Denny Gallagher, Jim Budworth, Willie Armstrong, Delevante brothers, M. Jean Closki, and a number of other artistes, will appear this evening, and the world-renowned queen of song, Miss Fanny Forrest, has volunteered her services for the occasion. Let every loyal citizen patronize this well conducted place of amusement to-night, and in addition to spending an evening of infinite pleasure they will contribute to a good and holy cause.

THE GAIETIES.—This fashionable resort increases in popularity every night, and the entertainments given are a never-failing source of gratification to its patrons, particularly the ladies, who honor them with their presence in goodly numbers. Our amusement-loving citizens can here find a varied entertainment, interspersed with song and dance of the first order and of such a miscellaneous kind as to suit the tastes of all, young and old. We congratulate the enterprising management on their success, and as we notice from the advertisement, it is their intention to bring out novelties in quick succession, there is little doubt but that the Gaieties will become one of our established institutions.

An entire change of programme will be given this evening, including Mr. Stewart's celebrated "Pas de Zephyr," said to be one of the greatest burlesques on the celebrated Cubas ever witnessed.

Safe Arrival in Dixie.

Two secessionists, of Georgetown, whose honest proclivities have led them to seek a more genial atmosphere, started from Georgetown two weeks or more ago to go to Dixie, and their friends in Georgetown have just obtained intelligence by the underground mail that these "promising boys" have arrived safe in Richmond, and are now in the arms of the rebel authorities, where they are undoubtedly liberally rewarded for the valuable information they carried. Their names are Charles and Francis Wheatley, sons of Francis Wheatley, lumber merchat in Georgetown.

It is said that money is freely contributed by the rebel residents of Georgetown for the purpose of sending these rebel emissaries on their infernal mission. These same spies have little difficulty in returning to their friends in Georgetown to obtain an additional budget of valuable information. These parties, it is said, cross the Potomac at Great Falls, where a man is stationed to convey them across. He is also the rebel agent to aid in passing deserters from our own army back into Maryland, furnishing them with a change of raiment, passage money, &c. Such is the common report among the loyalists and disloyalists of Georgetown. Indeed, the rebels of the latter city boast that they have a regular weekly mail between Georgetown and Richmond.

The same system of mail carrying, as well as aiding deserters, is carried on in the lower counties of Maryland. Charles and St. Mary's counties have their rebel postoffice and rebel agents to carry on their outrageous work. This last information is obtained from a gentleman direct from the scene of operations. He asserts that rebel mail carrying is conducted systematically, and he saw one of our deserters who had been fed and clothed by these Maryland rebels. They do not hesitate to declare their intention to mutilate their own bodies before they will serve against the South. It would do well for our military authorities to look after these matters.

Departmental Military Organization.

The officers and employees of the Sixth Auditor's office have organized a military company for active service, not only for the defence of Washington, but in the field whenever required.

At a meeting held Wednesday afternoon, at six o'clock, Hon. Green Adams, chief of the Bureau, was called to the chair, and John E. Sharrette, Esq., chief clerk, chosen Secretary. The object of the meeting was briefly but eloquently stated by Mr. Adams, and a free discussion of the means by which that object could be best attained was invited. It was determined to organize a military company. Over one hundred names was enrolled, including the Auditor and officers of the bureau. The following officers were elected: Hon. Green Adams, Captain; John F. Sharrette, Esq., 1st Lieutenant, and Robert Leach, Esq., the solicitor of the bureau, 2d Lieutenant. The company thus formed exclusively in the Sixth Auditor's office, is denominated the "Adams Guard."

A resolution was adopted authorizing the officers of the company to tender to the President of the United States its services as a military organization, whenever and wherever the Government shall determine that the services of its members in that capacity shall be more valuable to the country than in the performance of their official duties in the bureau. The officers were also instructed to apply immediately for arms and equipments for the Adams Guards.

Running off Without Paying Back Hire.

On Wednesday last, two "fancy" young ladies named Nelly Grey and Ann Cornback, accompanied by a "lover," hired a hack, and spent the greater portion of the day in making an excursion around the city, visiting the restaurants and lager beer saloons in order to take a "smile." The last place they visited was the saloon of an Italian, on the Avenue, between four and a half and Sixth streets. Here the hack driver waited a long time for the reappearance of his customers, and at last, getting uneasy, he went in and found, to his consternation and dismay, that his precious birds had flown; that is, they had "skedaddled" out at the back door an hour or more. Yesterday, on complaint of Mr. Branham, the hack driver, a warrant was issued by Justice Walter, and Boundsman Fenwick and Officer Dunn went down to the Navy Yard and arrested the two "fancies" on the charge. They were required by the Justice to pay the hackman for his services as well as the trouble they had caused him, as well as the costs of the arrest, &c., and then dismissed. Rather a high priced "bilking" operation, as they were pleased to term it.

Order of Mechanikites.

At a late meeting of Eagle Tent of Rechabites, the following officers were elected:

Shepherd—Thos. Dennis.
P. C. E.—John S. Slater.
C. R.—C. F. Cramp.
D. R.—Wm. Berkeley.
R. S.—James E. Beteler.
F. S.—James Gill.
T.—S. A. H. McKim.
I.—Ed. Reads.
I. G.—Thomas Cissel.
O. G.—John H. King.

This Tent, situated in the eastern section of the city, is in a thriving condition, and is doing much for the cause of temperance in a quiet way.

Horse Run Away.

Yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, the colored man who had charge of the horse and buggy of Superintendent Webb, of the Metropolitan Police, left the same standing in the street in front of Mr. Webb's residence, on Louisiana avenue, in front of the City Hall, when the horse took fright at a passing noisy wagon and started on a full run down into D street and ran his head and shoulders into the front door of a house near Rainey's Hotel, where he fell headlong, upsetting the buggy. Fortunately no one was hurt. The horse was considerably scratched on the nose and about the legs, but is believed not seriously injured. The buggy was considerably damaged.

Hissing the "Star Spangled Banner."

Wednesday night, while the "Star Spangled Banner" was being sung by the singers at Canterbury Hall, an Irish soldier, by the name of James King, set up a loud hissing. He was instantly seized by a special policeman at the hall and hustled off to the Fourth ward station, during which the officer was severely bitten on the hand. Yesterday morning, in explanation of his conduct, King said that he hissed because the American flag was not displayed during the singing. He was turned over to the military authorities.

Disloyalty.

Daniel Brown, an Irish grocer, who keeps a store near the College, in Georgetown, was arrested last Wednesday, by Officer White, of the Georgetown police, on complaint of James Simmes, who charges Brown with disloyalty. He was turned over to the military authorities.

Returned Prisoners.

There are over one hundred of the prisoners recently returned from Richmond who are now stopping at the Willard Hotel. Yesterday they were visiting and receiving the congratulations of their friends.

About one hundred and sixty Union officers, returned prisoners from Richmond, filled the lower hall of the War Department yesterday afternoon, some receiving orders to rejoin their respective regiments in the field, and others receiving leaves of absence varying from ten to thirty days.

The prisoners, with great unanimity, represent that the rebel authorities are by no means relaxing their efforts to complete the fortifications around Richmond, on which as many laborers are now employed as can work upon them to advantage.

The Pottsville Cornet Band

Has been doing duty as regimental band for the forty-eighth regiment Pennsylvania volunteers. They have met the fate of all the regimental bands and were discharged from the service. On Wednesday they arrived in this city, en route for home. The same night they paid a visit to their fellow townsman, as employee at the Capitol, Mr. J. M. Shomo, and gave him a fine serenade, proving that Pennsylvania turns out fine music as well as fine men. Mr. Shomo, who was once a member of the band, invited his old companions into his house and gave them a most hospitable entertainment. The band left in the 6 o'clock train yesterday morning for Philadelphia on their way home.

Religious.

An interesting revival is in progress at the McKendry chapel—meetings being held day and evening. On Sunday last so great was the number present that services were held in both the main audience-room and the basement; and at night the altar, both above and below, was crowded with penitents, several of whom professed conversion. During the past week as many as forty penitents have been at the altar. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Ryan, is assisted in the meetings by Revs. C. P. Lyford, missionary of the Young Men's Christian Association, Mr. Camp, of New Jersey, and several of the chaplains to the regiments now in the neighborhood.

Arrival of Troops.

The 134th regiment Pennsylvania volunteers arrived here yesterday morning, and took their way immediately to Dixie. The regiment is 900 strong, and was recruited in the western part of the State. The field officers are not yet appointed. The regiment, however, is fully equipped and armed with muskets of the latest improved pattern. Capt. O'Brien is temporarily in command.

The Ninety-first Pennsylvania regiment, Col. Gregory, who have for some months been performing guard duty in Alexandria, left there on Tuesday afternoon, having been assigned to a new brigade to be commanded by Brig. Gen. Sturgis.

The New Detective Police.

In a few days the appointments will be made for the new detective police, authorized by a late act of Congress, for the city of Washington. The act provides for the appointment of six detectives for the city. Great care should be taken in these appointments to procure the best men for the service, and it is but proper that they should be taken from those of the present police force who have distinguished themselves by important arrests, especially arrests which have been followed by convictions. There is great need for them, and we hope the best men will be selected for these offices.

Fighting.

Yesterday, about half past one o'clock, Officers Eckloff and Crown, of the Fourth ward, were called upon to quell a row which was progressing in Prather's alley among some "culled folks" of no very reputable character, and Solomon Hall, Mary Jane Hall, Mary Eaton, Martha Johnson and Mary Jane Holly, were arrested and taken to the station house. This family of Hall live in one room in the alley and keep boarders. About sixteen persons, it is said, sleep in that one dirty room.

Third District Regiment.

M. Snyder, jr., clerk in the Sixth Auditor's office, has been authorized to raise a company for the Third District regiment, and his fellow-clerks have contributed $400 to be distributed to his company on its being mustered into the service. This is in addition to the bounty offered by the Government and the city; and his company will doubtless be speedily filled. Capt. Snyder is well known in this city.

Personal.

Major Generals Cadwalader and Dix, Colonel John K. Murphy, of Pa.; Hon. B. F. Thomas, Mass.; Paymasters J. S. Isaacs and S. W. Preston, U. S. N., and Dr. J. G. Thompson, N. Y., are at the Willard Hotel.

Hon. Jos. Holt and Miss Hynes, of Ky., are at the Metropolitan.

Hon. John N. Wallace, of Del., and E. R. Jewett, of N. Y., are at the National.

Arrival of Prisoners.

Yesterday morning a squad of the Ninety-first Pennsylvania regiment brought up from Alexandria sixteen prisoners, who were sent down the day before from Culpeper and vicinity. One is said to have been a member of Ashby's cavalry, and two are guerillas; the rest are citizens, and are charged with being disloyal, assisting the rebels, &c.

Convalescent Soldiers.

A large number of convalescent soldiers, from hospitals in Maryland and further North, have been arriving within the past few days at the depot, and sent off to their several regiments. It is estimated that about 500 have passed through this city within the past two days.

The New Small Notes.

Yesterday morning about $6,000 in the new 25 and 50 cent notes were received, and were paid out at the counter of the Treasury—there being a perfect rush for them, as well as for the other small notes—and the stock was soon exhausted; but by to-day the Department expects enough to satisfy the demand.

Another Rebel Arrested.

Yesterday morning, Captain Lansing, of the Georgetown provost guard, arrested Dr. John P. Stone, a druggist, on the charge of being disloyal and concerned with aiding the rebels. He was taken before the Provost Marshal, and sent to the Old Capitol.

Disorderly and Profane.

Alice Adams was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Pendle on the above charge and fined $5.34 by Justice . She had not gone twenty steps from the Justice's office, before she was arrested for disorderly conduct and locked up for the day.

Liquor Found.

Officer Healy, of the Second ward, found two demijohns of whisky and brandy in Mr. Ward's lumber yard, corner of Twelfth and C streets. They contained about six gallons of the vilest compound in creation, warranted to kill at forty rods, without priming.

More Troops—A New Provost Guard.

The 135th regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers, Major R. W. Shenk commanding, arrived yesterday. They number 953 rank and file. They were detailed by General Casey as provost guard of this city, relieving the 86th regiment New York volunteers.

Another Fancy House Visited.

Martha Douglass, a colored prostitute, was arrested on Wednesday last by Officer Crown. She was charged with keeping a bawdy house, but as the charge was not fully substantiated, she was dismissed.

Stealing Watches.

Joseph Brentenburg was arrested by Officer Leach on Wednesday for stealing two watches. He was examined before Justice Walter, and was sent to jail for further hearing.

Another Deserter Arrested.

Yesterday Officer McDevitt, of the Third ward, arrested John Mahony, who is a deserter from the First District regiment. He was turned over to the military authorities.

Another Case of Disloyalty.

Thomas Lane was arrested in the Seventh ward last Wednesday, by Officer De Vaughn. He was committed for further hearing.

Selling Liquor to Soldiers

Anthony Rodier, a restaurant keeper in Georgetown, was arrested on Wednesday, by Officer Harper, for selling liquor to soldiers. He was fined $20.50.

Selling Liquor without License.

Officer Stinchcomb, of the First ward, arrested on Wednesday last, a grocer named Geo. Bartlett for selling liquor without license. Justice Drury fined him $20 and cost.

A Card.

My name having appeared in the Republican of yesterday morning, in connection with what is termed a street fight, I take the liberty of making a statement of the facts of the case. Three soldiers came into my house and ordered dinner. They soon became unruly, threatening to whip the waiter, &c. My clerk mildly remonstrated with them. In reply, they told him they would whip him. He then ordered them out, and, upon their refusing, put the most unruly of the party out. He soon returned, brandishing a large club, and threatening to smash things generally. I then put him out myself. A few minutes afterward, while standing on the side-walk, he came up behind me, and struck me a powerful blow on the back of the head. In self-defence I struck back, and following up my blow, put him down in the street. While in this position, and while he was making every effort to extricate himself from my grasp, he was rescued by the bystanders.

As to the "little soldier" being wounded, it is false; as to my being drubbed, the writer of the paragraph certainly was misinformed; and as to the police, I myself went and brought them, and had one of the offenders well drenched at the guardhouse. It is true, I keep an eating house; but I claim the right to keep, or attempt to keep, a quiet one; and, selling no intoxicating liquors, will not be annoyed by those who get intoxicated elsewhere.

IT FEARS NO RIVALRY,

And the Crowded Houses
Accorded to it, by the Public, demands an acknowledgment of UNPARALLELED PATRONAGE.

It being now established, as the only Institution in the City for the seekers of Amusement, who delight in rational enjoyments—its Respectability, and Freedom from Vulgarity,—it stands on the Rock of Public Opinion, which is the solid foundation of success.

Mlle MARIETTA
is the same who was the chief feature—the principal card—of the Ravels, during their recent tour through this country. She is young and handsome, and in receipt of the
