LOCAL & GENERALNEWS.

THE lighthouse on Barber's Point is finished.

A STABLE and carriage house is advertised to let.

NONE of Wilder's S. S. Co.'s steamers will leave on Monday, said the secretary this afternoon.

THE April term of the Supreme Court will open on Monday next, Associate Justice Dole presiding.

EASTER buns can be had at Love's Bakery, Nuuanu street, between the hours of 5 a. m. and 12 noon to-morrow.

"SHALL old acquaintance be forgotten," whistled a man while looking through the rogues' gallery this afternoon.

MR. Horn's hot cross buns were greatly in demand yesterday. The supply ran out before the demand was satisfied.

A GENTLEMAN who was suffering with a nasty cold, claims that he was completely cured by getting sunburnt at Waikiki the other day.

MESSRS. Theo. H. Davies & Co. have a few covered basket trunks, and portmanteaus for sale, they are just the articles for tourists.

THE Chinese Society has raised the reward offered for the capture of the murderer of Kok Yuk to $850, and Mr. J. P. Bowen adds another $100.

MR. P. C. Jones wishes all those desirous of joining the book-keeping class, to meet promptly at 7 o'clock, on Monday night, at the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

A FRIEND of the Reform party suggests that the Government dispose of 100 tons of coal, and thus provide for the running expenses of the tug Eleu.

THE BULLETIN office will be closed to-morrow, it being Sunday, and Easter Sunday at that; but the entire force will be on hand on Monday, in waiting for all Easter buns that may come along.

A WHITE man, crazy drunk, was choking the wind out of the driver of the hack in which he was riding this afternoon, and while the driver was trying to free himself from the grasp of the drunk, a policeman collared the lot.

AH FOOK, alias Cing Hook, was charged with forging the name of Sam Chay, on or about August 12, 1887, in the Police Court this morning. W. R. Castle assists the crown and Mr. V. V. Ashford appears for the defense. The case has been continued until April 3rd.

THE electric wires appear to have cut up a few small capers last evening. A person received a rather severe shock through a telephone wire, and one of the Bell Telephone instruments was destroyed. The transmission of the electric force from the electric to the telephone wires is said to have been accelerated by the rain.

AUCTION SALES ON MONDAY.

BY L. J. LEVEY.

At the show-rooms of G. W. Macfarlane & Co., at 10 o'clock A. M., a fine assortment of fancy goods.

BY J. F. MORGAN.

At his salesrooms at 12 noon, two tracts of land, situated on Molokai, under foreclosure of mortgage.

LAND SALES.

Mr. Morgan's land sale on Monday includes two tract on Molokai. One embracing the whole of the Ahupuaa of Pelekunu, and the other in Kainalu, containing an area of 30 67-100 acres. Both lands are suitable for cultivation, and are favorably situated. The Ahupuaa of Pelekunu contains a large tract suitable for the cultivation of taro, being well supplied with water.

COAL, COAL, COAL.

Coal is very high and scarce, wood is cheap and plentiful, that is, if you call on T. J. King at the Union Feed Company, he can sell you stove wood cheaper for cash than ever heard of before in this city. Call and see him about it. 903 3t

A COUCH REMEDY.

ONLY TWENY-FIVE CENTS PER POUND.

Irritated throats and annoying coughs are quickly relieved by the genuine Butter Scotch, only to be found at the Pioneer Steam Candy Factory of F. Horn. Plenty of testimonials. 98

A FINE DISPLAY.

The goods to be sold by Messrs. G. W. Macfarlane & Co. at auction on Monday next, were on exhibition during to-day, and attracted a large number of people—principally ladies.

The re-arrangement of the rooms is strikingly artistic and effective, and shows the goods to the very best advantage. Many new articles are shown for the first time in the way of ladies dress goods, fans, steel engravings, besides some new furniture of the latest and best English manufacture.

Excellent accommodations have been made for the attendance of the ladies, and for their convenience a lunch will be served at noon.

LOVE RESTORES A GIRL'S SIGHT.

Young James Robertson Blackie, of the Glasgow firm of publishers, has been the hero of quite a romantic marriage. Some years ago he fell in love with a fair American girl, a niece of the late President Arthur. When she had finished her education in Glasgow they were provisionally engaged, and she returned to America to nurse her dying grandfather. After his death she was attacked by fever, as a result of the great strain and fatigue of nursing.

Then came the great earthquake which shook Charleston to pieces, and the shock and terror acting on her enfeebled nerves, entirely destroyed her sight. The specialists were hopeless and could do nothing to avert the calamity of lifelong blindness.

She wrote to her fiance releasing him from the engagement, but the manly young Scotchman refused to submit. He left by the next steamer, and on arriving declared that he loved her, and was ready to marry her, whether she was blind or not. The unexpected burst of joy strengthened her general health, her eyes began to improve, and now she has as bright a pair of Brown eyes as any man could desire to see.—[The Young Man.

It is said there are farmers' wives on Long Island who make boys' trousers for 3 cents. There are women in New York who toil sixteen hours a day for 60 cents.

It is estimated that full one hundred million of dollars are drawn by English and Scotch investors as annual interest on their holding of securities in the United States.

A company, with $1,000,000 subcribed capital, is being formed in Montreal, to prosecute seal and other fishing in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and on the coast of Labrador.

Some of the Worcester, Mass., manufacturers are experimenting with petroleum as fuel.

NOTES BY THE STEAMER HALL.

One of the sailors of the steamer W. G. Hall fell overboard off Kau this week. He was immediately picked up.

The King went to Hookena on the last outward trip of the Hall, and crossed from Hookena to Kailua in a whale boat.

The steamer Hall passed the schooner Manuokawai bound for Lahaina, in the channel yesterday.

A very long and connected line of rice brusks, appearing like a lengthy sea serpent, was seen from the deck of the Hall, midway between Molokai light and Makapuu Point, yesterday.

The schooner Ke Au Hou bound for Kaawaloa Bay, for firewood, was seen at sea on Thursday.

Fine weather was experienced throughout the trip of the Hall this week. The roller was landed at Honuapo safely.

THE ORIGINAL AMERICAN FLAG.

How many people remember, or ever knew, that the flag of the United States under which Andrew Jackson and Winfield Scott fought in the war of 1812 consisted of fifteen stars? The original idea was to add both a star and a stripe for every new State; but in 1818 a New York Congressman named Wendover suggested that at the rate the United States was growing the tallest pine tree in Maine would not make a mast tall enough to hoist the flag upon.

Four hundred and fifty thousand bushels of foreign potatoes have been received in New York already this year.

Pittsburg manufactures from thirty thousand to forty thousand stoves annually.

A STORY OF TOOMBS AND STEPHENS.

Here is a Bob Toombs story: There was a Democratic caucus one night when he was on top of the heap here, but, having been intoxicated with the exuberances of his own verbosity, or something else, he was unable to stay till the end. After he had left the debate ran along without result till the two sides agreed that Campbell of Ohio should draw up a proposition such as his side could support, and that Alexander. Stephens should draw up a proposition such as his side could support, and that then they should leave it to Toombs to say which should be adopted as the caucus resolution. So Campbell wrote out his statement, and Stephens wrote out his, and the next morning the secretary of the caucus carries both to Toombs. Toombs was not quite ready for business yet, so when the secretary told him that the caucus had determined to leave the decision of the matter to him, and was about to read the conflicting statements to him, he said: "Who did you say wrote these statements?" "M. Campbell, sir, wrote one," said the secretary, "and Mr. Stephens the other." "Well," said Toombs, "never mind reading them. I'll sign Stephens'. He never commits anybody to anything."—[Philadelphia Record.

EQUAL TO THE EMERGENCY.

One of the up-town doctors greatly enjoys the possession in his employ of a coachman whose native wit never fails him in an emergency. One day when the man was driving rather stupidly and seemed like to put the carriage in a vexatious blockade, the doctor said to him: "John I wouldn't drive that way if I were you." "Of course you wouldn't," said the man. "If you knew no more than I did, and I knew as much as you, perhaps you'd be driving me and I'd be sitting in the carriage like yourself."—[N. Y. Sun.
