The Hawaiian News Company has a special feature of attraction as a part of its window decoration. It consists of an American flag with but thirteen stars and is the first flag raised by General John C. Fremont in California in March, 1846. The flag is the property of John Cook of Honolulu.

The Hawaiian Electric Company will blow its whistle the instant the electric impulse arrives from Washington lighting the clock at the Alakea street wharf, starting the Elks carnival. The Elks Committee requests that all the whistles both on land and in the harbor be blown as soon as the Hawaiian Electric Company gives the signal.

Alexander Hume Ford returned this morning from Hawaii accompanied by Percy Hunter who is doing the island trips. Mr. Hunter was particularly impressed by the scenic grandeur of the trip between Hilo and Laupahoehoe and expressed great surprise that it is not made a part of the itinerary of the tourists to the volcano.

Lum Wai Yook a Chinese, had been placed under arrest by the police charged with assault and battery upon a countryman. The case has been pending at police court for a week or more. The matter was again brought up this morning and upon representation from prosecuting attorney Brown a nolle prosequi was entered. It appears that the witnesses for the prosecution have repeatedly failed to put in an appearance at court.

STACKABLE NOW SCORES ONE OVER SAN FRANCISCO INSPECTORS

Passengers Clung to Mauna Kea By Their Eye-Brows—Chiyo Maru Departed On Time With Distinguished Songstress—Much Sugar Coming to the Port from Island Plantations.

After an exhaustive search of the 27,000 ton steamer Chiyo Maru filled with cargo for San Francisco calling her fore and aft with a five foot cord, the vigilant customs officials of this port succeeded in finding twelve tins of the opium extract, which was stored under the top part of the stand of one of the dining room tables. If the customs officials in San Francisco exercised the same vigilance after the final discharge of the cargo, it is a cinch that the traffic in opium would soon come to an end. Score another one for Stackable. In a late copy of the San Francisco Examiner received from San Francisco relative to the Siberia hot air stories appeared relative to opium being thrown overboard right in sight of customs officials and being picked up by Chinese in a gasoline launch. It surely indicates that the writer of the article in question has very little knowledge of the conditions existing here or of the Chinese of this port. The plain fact is that there is not a Chinaman running a gasoline launch or even a sampan in this harbor. As far as the Siberia incident is concerned, the fact is that the Siberia left this port with a crawl of customs officials aboard who continued their search until the pilot was dropped and they were then transferred to the customs launch which followed the Siberia as far as Diamond Head keeping a careful look out for any dope that might be thrown overboard. The launch would have followed clear through the channel had she been able to keep up within reasonable distance of the Siberia.

Siberia Here Early Tuesday.

Frederick Klebahn manager of the chipping department of H Hackfeld & Co. is in receipt of a cable to the effect that the Pacific Mail liner Siberia from San Francisco will arrive at an early hour on Tuesday morning, and that permission has been granted by Vice-President and General Manager Schwerin, that the vessel may be held over at this port until Wednesday afternoon. The detention of the big Pacific Mail liner will permit a large number of passengers to witness the carnival and floral parade and will be greatly appreciated by the travelers and the promotion interests as well.

Hung On by Their Eye Brows.

About the only place into preempted by passengers in the good ship Mauna Kea on her return trip from Hilo was the funnel. The vessel came into port this morning with a record crowd of cabin and deck passengers. They even utilized the grand piano for the resting place of one little fellow who declared that he would be on hand to witness the Elks carnival even if he compelled to make the voyage across the Hawaii channel in two jumps. The Mauna Kea brought the usual assortment of merchandise and products from the Big Island the shipment including 22 cords wood, 3 barrels tallow, 28 hides, 20 sacks taro, 8800 paying bunchs, 2 autos crates of pigs and chickens and 254 packages sundries. The outward trip was characterized by fine weather. Moderate trade winds and smooth seas prevailing.

Busy Week at Hilo.

Altogether it has been a fairly busy week at Hilo. The bark Albert after a series of troubles finally got away for Puget Sound. The skipper met with a many trying experiences ranging from pure cussedness of the weather to the breaking down of machinery. The trials and tribulations wound up in a blaze of glory by several seamen taking French leave before the vessel was ready to clear. The ancient and honorable Albert sailed away on last Saturday. With the arrival of the Matson Navigation steamer Enterprise there came a full general cargo twenty nine head live stock and some mail. In the 2800 tons merchandise was considerable machinery for the Lord & Young breakwater contract. While the horses and mules on the Enterprise were being brought ashore on a lighter, one of the horses became frightened and jumped overboard, being drowned before rescue could be effected.

The American-Hawaiian steamer Columbian, Captain Cardle Nichols, left the port on Sunday afternoon for Salina Cruz direct, with 11,323 tons of sugar, of which 1,624 was taken on board there.

The schooner Gamble is discharging lumber at the railway wharf. The schooner Mahukona, which came in last week to repair a small leak sailed for Noumea, New Caledonia, on Monday, having made the necessary repairs. The leak turned out to be a rather trivial matter, but Captain Olsen kept on the safe side by coming into port. After leaving Noumea he will put in at Newcastle.

Kinau Loaded With Sweetness.

The Inter-Island steamer is well laden with sugar and when that vessel arrives at Honolulu at an early hour on the quiet of a Sabbath morning there will be ready for discharge 6000 sacks Kekaha and 2700 Waimea sugar. It is also reported that the steamer W. G. Hall from Kauai is due to arrive at the port on Monday with the regulation 5500 sacks sugar.

They Tied the Little Bull Outside.

Cattle from Hawaii to the number of 76 head and 14 calves occupied a commanding position on the deck of the steamer Wailele that showed up at the port at an early hour this morning. In addition to the live stock the Wailele brought 8793 sacks sugar from the Big Island plantations. The report states that the sea was too rough to effect landing at Pepeekeo.

Sunny Skies On Kauai.

It was all in the merry with Kauai according to reports that came from passers of Inter-Island steamers that have been calling at Garden Island ports. The Noeau was on arrival this morning with 1000 sacks sugar. Fine weather characterized the voyage to and from Koloa.

Oil Ship Made Long Passage.

Thirty-six days from Honolulu to Gaviota was the long time record made by the American ship Marion Chilcott that is reported to have arrived at the California oil port yesterday. The Chilcott sailed from Honolulu on January 12th after having left a full shipment of fuel for the local plant of the Associated Oil Company.

Fifteen Day Trip for Melrose.

There is nothing slow about the American schooner Melrose. That vessel came down to the islands from Puget Sound, discharged a shipment of lumber at Kahului, sailed from the Maui port on Feb. 1st and is reported to have arrived at Port Townsend on last Thursday making the passage to the Sound in fifteen days.

After a twenty days' passage from Honolulu to Port Townsend that vessel arrived at the Puget Sound without mishap. The vessel left a shipment of lumber at Honolulu and departed for the Washington port on January 27th.

According to cables from the Far East the United States transport Crook is reported to have sailed from Manila on February 15th for San Francisco by the way of Honolulu.

Fred McCarthy, charged with heedless driving, came near drawing a note present at police court this morning. According to representations from Attorney Andrade, no one has appeared against McCarthy. His case has been frequently called. Judge Lymer set the hearing for next Monday.

Joseph Wylie and Miss Wilhelmina Robertson of Hawaii were married last Saturday at the residence of Manager James Webster of Pepeekeo, Rev. Aug. Brahms officiating.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Evening Bulletin: I am more than pleased with the promptness of the Legislature in taking up the public school funding question. There seems to be none among that body of men with cold feet on the proposition of education. It appears to be quite the reverse, and that there will more than likely be need of refrigerators for some of them, they are going at it so hot-footed.

Now that they are at it, every opportunity should be provided for the thorough discussion of the bill from every standpoint in the consideration and importance of good schools and the needed reforms along the educational lines in the Territory.

Simply because the bill has been drawn by experts is not sufficient reason why it should be passed without discussion.

In addition to being good in theory, it must be good in its practicability, and nothing will do more to practicalize it than thorough discussion.

With favorable consideration by the Legislature, we will make a big advance toward what the educational system of these Islands should be, and this same Legislature can be proud of the fact that they were instrumental, to a large degree, in making better men and women of the children who are now growing up.

WATERFRONT NOTES

Wailele Taking On Sugar and Cattle.

The Inter-Island steamer Wailele is taking on sugar at Honokaa and cattle at Kawaihae and is due to arrive at the port today. Owing to heavy ground swell it has been a difficult matter to load and discharge cargo at Mahukona, Kawaihae and the Maui ports of call.

The Inter-Island steamer Maui is taking on sugar at Ookala according to last reports brought to this port bythe Mauna Kea.
