Ray Nominated.

The primary in the Fifth Congressional District last Tuesday, resulted in a victory for J. Ecos Ray, Jr. by a vote of 4711 to 2881 for Chas. H. Stanley.

It was the first trial in this State of the direct primary for Congressional nominations. The canvass, it seemed to us, was characterized by deplorable and uncalled for personalities, but we hope that all will manfully accept the result and loyally support the nominee. Mr. Ray is well-fitted for the position he seeks, is a true Democrat and will make an earnest and active canvass for election, and in his efforts to win every Democrat worthy of the name should aid and leave nothing undone to elect him to Congress. Mr. Ray was the undoubted choice of a large majority of the Democrats of the Congressional district in the primary and he is now the choice of all Democrats at the election to be held on November 8, 1910.

RAY CARRIES ST. MARY'S.

The St. Mary's primary of last Tuesday resulted in a victory for Ray by the following vote:

VITAL WASHINGTON NEWS.

By TAVENNER.

President Taft is advising Republican candidates for Congress to promise the people further tariff revision, schedule by schedule, the basis of the revision to be equalization of the labor cost of production at home and abroad plus a reasonable profit for American manufacturers.

The platform on which Mr. Taft was elected, it is recalled, also promised to equalize "the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad," plus the reasonable profit.

Before considering new promises, many voters will ask: Was the first promise kept? Let us see:

Taking woolsens to begin with, President Taft himself admits failure.

What about cottons? Was the cotton schedule revision on the basis of equalization of "the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad?"

PLATFORM PROMISE IGNORED.

The labor cost in the production of cotton manufactures in the United States is 26 per cent. (From report of Carroll D. Wright, U. S. Commissioner of Labor, Vol. 10.)

Granting that foreign goods have no labor cost whatever, 26 per cent. would, therefore, have been the maximum average rate required to equalize the labor cost of production at home and abroad. If the labor cost abroad is one-half the labor cost at home, the rate of tariff required to prevent the foreign manufacturer from having the advantage of cheaper labor would be 26 per cent. the American cost, less 13 per cent., the European cost, or 13 per cent. Instead of an equalizing duty of any sort, the Aldrich crowd protected cotton manufactures with a duty of from 35 per cent. on handkerchiefs to 74 per cent. on cotton cloths.

The following table, compiled for the writer by Prof. Josiah H. Shinn from the Special Census Reports for Manufactures, 1907, shows in a striking manner the failure of the Republicans to revise the tariff on the basis of equalization at home and abroad:

Article	Labor cost (Per cent.)	Tariff rate (Per cent.)
Ammunition	20	57.
Autobuses	23	45.
Rubber boots	12	30.
Carpets	22	50 to 75.
Chemicals	14	35 to 241.
Men's clothing	16	37 to 134.
Women's clothing	26	35 to 155.
Coffins	20	35 to 60.
Gloves	21	57.
Wool hats	25	25 to 86.
Stockings	23	36 to 76.
Paints	7.3	25 to 83.
Salt, bulk	21	90.
Soup & candles	7	18 to 34.
Stationery	16	25 to 138.
Structural iron	21	36.
Women's dress goods	14	70 to 155.
Blankets	14	71 to 165.

DOWNWARD REVISION PROMISED.

Promise of tariff revision on the basis of equalization of cost of production at home and abroad plus a reasonable profit was equal to a promise of a big revision downward.

Mr. Taft, however, affixed his signature to a tariff bill which revised the existing tariff upward on an average of approximately 1.71 per cent. Because of the failure of the President to make his promise good, 90,000,000 people are forced to stand a further increase in the cost of living.

DIRTYING ATTENTION.

The Taft-Roosevelt-Sherman side-show in New York has taken on a resemblance to a three-shell game. Just at the moment the public thinks it understands the situation, and begins to feel sure that Roosevelt will endorse Taft or that he will refuse to endorse him, the men managing the show bring forth a new interview which as much as says to the public: "You see you were wrong again; the pea wasn't under that shell at all. Guess again!"

The question has been raised in some quarters as to whether the Republican campaign managers are not endeavoring to divert attention from the more important issues of the campaign.

The real issue, it is being pointed out, is not whether Roosevelt is or is not with Taft. Far more important are the answers to the following:

1. Why did President Taft cooperate with Aldrich, Smoot, Lodge, Guggenheim and other senators representing the special interests, and refuse the counsel of men like LaFollette and Clapp?
2. Why did Mr. Taft continue to eulogize Ballinger after he had been exposed and discredited in testimony taken by a committee of the Senate?
3. Why did Mr. Taft interfere to prevent Speaker Cannon from being deposed?
4. Why did Mr. Taft as candidate promise tariff revision downward, and as President sign a bill revising the tariff upward?
5. Why is the President seeking so industriously to bring about the defeat of LaFollette? Is it because LaFollette sought to regulate the railroads or because he favored real downward revision?

QUESTIONS FOR PROTECTIONISTS.

In 1900 the American consumer of sugar paid more than 2 cents a pound in excess of the price paid by the London consumer. If the tariff was not to blame for the difference in price, will some Republican speaker or newspaper explain what was the cause? Query No. 2. If the American consumer does not pay the tariff on sugar when he buys it at the grocery, who does pay it and where is it paid? Query No. 3. If the tariff on sugar is paid by the consumer, is it not reasonable to presume that the amount of the tariff on blankets, woolsens, hardware, farm machinery and other protected articles, is also paid by the consumer?

INSUFFICIENT REVENUE.

The Payne-Aldrich law is failing to produce sufficient revenue to meet the expenses of the government. During the first twenty-three days of August the expenditures exceeded the receipts by $5,277,170.08. This is according to the statement issued by the United States treasurer at the close of business on the evening of Aug. 23. In other words, the declaration of the Republican leaders that the new tariff law is producing sufficient revenue to run the government is entirely unfounded.
