CONGRESS AND GENERAL SHERIDAN.

It may now be certainly said that Congress will not assemble in July, unless the President may in the meanwhile either remove General Sheridan or evince such a purpose so unmistakably as that the impression shall become general that it is his intention so to do. As in the face of General Grant's flat denial that he has disapproved of General Sheridan's conduct in the discharge of the duties of the Military Governorship of Louisiana, we do not believe that the President contemplates taking any such step, we regard the chance that Congress will sit in July hardly equal to one in a thousand.

The truth is, no functionary, civil or military, has discharged or is discharging his duties more to the satisfaction of the American people than General Sheridan. His detractors—with the exception of a little squad of very radical Louisiana speculators, who find it impossible to control his administration of the State's affairs to their personal advantage—are all bitter rebels at heart, whether resident north or south of the Potomac. They are those who still struggle to remit the affairs of the Southern States into the keeping of the personal and political influences that favor retroaction throughout the South. So far, they have made no headway whatever: and it should be clear to all who will see, that Congress does not design permitting them to undo any portion of its reconstruction work. The removal of General Sheridan, under existing circumstances, could not fail to be but the signal for immediate supplemental Congressional action, whereby the policy adopted by that efficient and distinguished officer in Louisiana would be placed far beyond the possibility of any interference from any quarter whatever.

UNION JUDGES RESTORED TO AUTHORITY.

In June, 1866, Judges Thomas H. Stribling and W. P. Bacon, strong Union men, were elected judges of the 4th and 11th judicial districts in Western Texas, by large majorities. The Legislature of the State afterward passed an act, approved October 11, 1866, abolishing the 4th and 11th judicial districts of such extent as to make it impossible to administer justice within them through the courts, the sole object of this act, as publicly stated by its advocates, having been to get rid of the before mentioned Union judges. Gen. Sheridan, in an order dated New Orleans, June 10th, declares the said act null and void; restores the numbers and boundaries of these judicial districts as they existed, before the passage of the act; and authorizes Judges Stribling and Bacon to resume their judicial duties in the districts to which they were respectively elected.

GENERAL LONGSTREET ON RECONSTRUCTION.

An interesting letter on the political situation South, by General Longstreet, is published. He says that appeal was made to the sword, and the sword has decided it. He accepts the military bill as a peace offering, censures, by strong implication, the Democratic party for opposing reconstruction, believes that colored suffrage should be established in all the States, and expressly declares that Southern men cannot seek alliance with any party which aims to restrict the rights of the colored man. Gen. Longstreet says of Senator Wilson, (whose missionary efforts have been assailed so fiercely oy the advocates of the do-nothing policy South,) that he was agreeably surprised to meet the fairness and frankness in a politician which he discovered in that gentleman.

THE PRESIDENT'S VISIT TO BOSTON.—The President will leave this city for Boston on the 21st instant, to attend the Masonic celebration in that city. He will be escorted by Columbia and Washington Commanderies, Knights Templar. It is thought the two commanderies will number between eighty and one hundred members, and will have with them the Marine Band.

MINISTER FROM GREECE.—A. R. Rangabe, Minister from Greece to this country, Cleon Rangabe, Secretary of Legation, D. W. Botassi, Consul at New York, and Z. M. Rodocanaski, Consul at Boston, arrived in the city this morning, and are at Willards.' They will be at the State Department to-morrow, and will be presented to the President by the Secretary of State on Friday.

THE ANNUAL TAX.—Elsewhere will be found the notice of Lewis Clephane, Collector of Internal Revenue for the District of Columbia, that the revenue taxes for 1867 are now due and payable, and that if not paid by June 30th, the delinquents will be liable to an additional tax of five per cent., with other costs.

THE HARVEST.—New wheat from the South has made its appearance on the N. Y. Corn Exchange. The ripening of the harvest advances northward at the rate of twelve miles a day, and in this vicinity the harvest will commence early next week.

☞ Mayor Claude, of Annapolis, offers two hundred and fifty dollars for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who fired the Stanton School House for colored children in that city.

☞ Judge Geo. W. Sharswood was yesterday nominated by the Pennsylvania Democracy for Judge of the Supreme Court of the State, in place of Judge Woodward.

THE WHITE HOUSE.—But few visitors were at the Executive Mansion to-day, nearly all of whom had an interview with the President.

INTERNAL REVENUE.—The receipts from internal revenue to-day were $563,311.43.

THE INDIANS.—Telegrams were received by Governor Hunt, of Colorado, in answer to his despatch. The Secretary of War says to him: Your telegram has been transmitted to Lieutenant General Sherman, who is authorized to take the measures deemed advisable under the circumstances mentioned by you.

Lieutent General Sherman telegraphs to Governor Hunt: There is no law to pay volunteers; but you ought to raise a regiment of five hundred men, and have them ready in case I call for them. I will be at Fort Sedgwick in a few days, and don't believe you will have trouble with the Indians if your people will be arduously prudent.

A fight has occurred at the mouth of the Lapode, on the north side of the North Platte, between one hundred and thirty Indians and fifty white men. The Indians enticed them and surrounded them by fire, but they escaped by swimming the North Platte. One white man was killed and one wounded. General Augur's command consists of two hundred and fifty Indian scouts and one regiment of cavalry. He has started on the road to Denver, and has advanced forty miles already after the Indians. The expeditionary forces have not much baggage with them.

☞ A Sunday school on wheels is said to be in operation in Utica. The managers hold it in a car furnished by the managers of one of the railways leading out of Utica, and the scholars are gathered up along the line of the road.

"EAGLE IRON WORKS," WASHINGTON CITY, Corner Ohio avenue and 13th street.

The subscribers, thankful for the patronage heretofore bestowed upon them by the citizens of Washington and others, take this occasion to state that they are still prepared, and have ample facilities, to perform all orders in their line of business, and done in as expeditious, cheap and workmanlike a manner as can be done in this or the Northern Boilers, with all their appendages; comprises Steam Engines and Boilers, either portable or stationary, for use on land or for steamboats; Circular Saw Mills, Shafting and Gearing for mills, Castings, iron or brass; Architectural or Miscellaneous Wrought Iron Work, or heavy Forgings; Boiler Iron Work, such as Water Tanks or Gasometers, and Pattern Making; in fact, all the branches of Mechanics appertaining to a first-class Foundry. They would also respectfully call the attention of the public to their "Patent Differential Return Tubular Boiler." This plan of Boiler, patented by them in 1862, has now been introduced and in successful operation for various purposes, and has given general and entire satisfaction as possessing every quality essential in a first-class steam generator, viz: Economy in fuel, facility for cleaning, exemption from priming or foaming, and smallness of space occupied, as can be shown by certificates now in our possession. They have all been constructed by us at these works, and are in operation in this city and elsewhere. We will be glad to avail ourselves of the opportunity to explain its merits and show it in operation in these "Works." The following is a list of the Boilers on this plan and now in use, viz:—At Willard's Hotel, for warming building; at Metropolitan Hotel, do., do.; at John C. Rives' Globe Printing Office; at United States Hotel, warming building; at Soldier's Home, north of the city; at Lunatic Asylum, across the Eastern Branch; at U. S. Arsenal, Washington city; at U. S. Arsenal, Fortress Monroe; steam propeller Philadelphia, belonging to A. B. Cooley, Esq.; steam Dredging Machine, do., do.; steam propeller Tigress; stern wheel steamer Virginia, on the Potomac river; stern wheel steamer Enterprise, do., do.; at Eagle Iron Works, Washington; stern wheel steamer Gliding Star, now being completed at these Works.

CARLIN'S SPRINGS!

This delightful place of resort has recently been thoroughly renovated and improved, and is now open for the reception of parties who desire to spend a day at this delightful spot. The proprietors have spared no pains in order to render it attractive, and pledge themselves to do their utmost to add to the pleasure and comfort of those favoring them with their patronage.

For pleasure parties, pic-nics for schools, orders or associations, the Springs possess advantages claimed by no other place. The spacious Pavillion, delightful water, the shady groves, its picturesque scenery, all tend to render it a charming place.

The Springs are 7 miles from Alexandria, immediately upon the line of the Alexa., Loudon & Hampshire Railroad, with the Superintendent of which arrangements can be made at any time for the running of trains to accommodate parties desiring to visit the place.

The terms are low, and the proprietors pledge themselves that on all occasions good order will be maintained; and that for no consideration will they permit alcoholic liquors to be sold in the vicinity.

For further particulars apply to WM. H. CARLIN, Alexandria, or JNO. D. EDMOND, 513 7th street, Washington. je 3-eolm
