A MAN TOOK A CHANCE THEN.
 He Didn't Ask For a Written Guarantee That the Animal Was Sound, and If He Got Stuck He Bled His Time to Pass Along the Price.

"I have been reading that David Harum story," said the ancient liver-man when his cronies were comfortably seated in his little office. "A friend told me that story was the last word on horse trading, but the man who wrote it didn't understand the spirit of the game at all. David Harum would have been shinned out of his teeth if he had blown into any western town in the palmy days of horse trading twenty-five or thirty years ago."
 "I tell you, my friends, all the dead game sports are asleep with their fathers. Nobody is willing to take a chance nowadays. If a man buys a cigar he wants a bill of sale with it.
 The other day a cheap skate pestered me as an insult, and after I had rebuked him he had to pour four buckets of water over him before he recovered."
 "In the good old days horse trading was a game, not a commercial transaction. If a man wasn't willing to take the chances when he went trading he was advised to try some other line of business. Many and many a time I had the harpoon administered to me.
 One day Major Charlie Slaughter drove to my barn."

"I have quite a neat package of horseflesh here," said the major, "and I have a sort of presentiment that he can travel a few lines when the wind is blowing in the right direction."
 "His horse was a handsome roan, a regular peacock for style, with his head away up in the air so you'd need a stepladder to see if he had a star on his forehead. And the way he hit the road was a sin. Talk about galloping horses! That roan handled his legs as though he had taken spring lessons. Now, my presentiment in the horse business is that when I want a certain nag the worst way I can't conceal the fact. I just can't sleep or eat my victuals until that horse is in my barn with a new halter on him.
 The major was wise to my weakness.

"It's no use, Jake," says the major.
 "This boss isn't on my swapping list.
 Every roan hair on him just suits me, and I'd be a champ to let him go."
 "Well, of course I got the roan all right. The major was just bluffing.
 And I gave him the biggest trade you ever heard of—gave him a matched team and several bills for that galling roan. And when I took the roan to the water trough for a drink I found he couldn't lower his head. He had to carry it about ten feet in the air all the time, owing to some injury in his neck. He had to eat his saked rice off a shelf and drink from a garden hose, and a man needed an aeroplane to put a bridle on him.

"Did I raise a fuss with the major?
 What sort of skate do you take me for? Next time I met him I told him I liked the roan better than any horse I ever saw. 'He isn't always rooting in the ground like a pig,' said I, 'and if you had told me about his patent dirigible neck I'd have given you $10 more.' We were sports in those days.
 "One time the veterinarian surgeon told me about a fine trotting horse in a town some distance away which had been deprived of its tail by a surgical operation. I went and looked at the horse. He was a perfect beauty and could trot like an avalanche. But he had just a stump of a tail, and the owner was ashamed to drive him, so I bought the critter for a song. I went to a lot of trouble as they stand 'a' made for him. It was a beautiful, flowing tail, a credit to the hairdresser's art.
 It was fixed to slip over the horse's stub tail and was then fastened to the crupper of the harness, and a man needed good eyes to see that it wasn't the real thing.

"The major had poor eyes, and when I took him for a drive behind that black trotter he simply had to be tied down to the seat he was so excited.
 He said he'd always wanted a horse with a tail like that. He had my own weakness. He couldn't pretend indifference when he wanted a thing the worst way, and he wanted that horse so bad that his hair was falling out.
 After a great deal of deliberation I issued my ultimatum.

"'Til give you the horse, harness and buggy just as they stand,' said I, 'for your sorrel three-year-olds and $50.' Either of the sorrels was worth a herd of horses like the black.
 "It's a trade," cried the major.
 "Next morning the major came around to my barn all smiles. 'Ever since I was a child and quit playing with a rattle,' says he, 'I have wanted a horse with a detachable tail—a tail that a man can take off and use as chin whiskers at a masked ball. I just called to pay you another 50 cents, so that when I meet you after this you can't say I took advantage of you in our trade yesterday.'

"Oh, there were real sports in those days."—Walt Mason in Chicago News.

When the sea is smooth we have many good sailors.

THE CLIMBERS.
 What Social Eminence Costs the Commoner in England.
 My father was a laborer, and I am a lord.

When education was reserved for the rich they do not seem to have availed themselves greatly of the advantages for many of the important discoveries, inventions and improvements we owe to the sons of the poor, and few of the celebrated writers, musicians or artists were sons of the rich.
 The education I received at the public expense enabled me to obtain employment which afforded opportunities for advancement, and eventually I secured a vast fortune.

"Society" has its secrets. They are the connecting links between the unimportant rich and the impetuous "great."
 The wife of a fashionable artist sought our acquaintance. My portrait, which her husband painted, cost 1,000 guineas, but at their house we met the peers to whose not disinterested negotiations I owe my knighthood.

That step up the social ladder cost some £20,000.
 A philanthropic duchess came forward next to welcome us on the way.
 Her public benefactions and her private bills relieved me of a further large amount, but to compensate for this we were introduced to "society." I was elected to several clubs, and vouchers for the "royal inclosure" were accorded to me.

An impetuous but important politician later procured for me a baronetcy—for a consideration, part of which was for the purposes of the government and part retained for himself. He is an inveterate opponent of corruption in municipal corporations.
 There appears to be no inclination to interfere with free trade in titles, for subsequently I was offered, and I accepted, a peerage in return for a substantial contribution to the funds of the party.
 Ability, industry and enterprise made me rich. Bribery has made me respected.
 Without fees to the fashionable I should be still but a local celebrity, severely ignored by the neighboring magnates. Directly and indirectly it has cost me some £200,000 to attain social respectability.—London Truth.

USE FEET AS HANDS.
 A Custom Somewhat Common Among the Yellow Races.
 A French agent, M. Lannelongue, in a communication to the Paris Academy of Sciences maintains that among the yellow races, the Chinese, the Japanese and the Malays, the foot is used as an organ of prehension, like the hand, to a far greater extent than is generally supposed. He says that while in Tokyo he saw a young man sitting in a theater box grasping the rail with his feet just as though they were hands, ever and anon using his right foot to scratch his left thigh. The fact that the Japanese usually sit on their heels at meals and in the house develops extreme suppleness and mobility in the feet and toes, and the prehensive function is still further encouraged by the fact that the Japanese who adhere to the ancient customs wear forked stockings and dispense with the inflexible and constraining European shoe.

Chinese postmen navigate their boats lying down, steering with their hands and rowing with their feet. The foot is held between the big toe and the others. The natives frequently use their feet to collect and to pick up small objects lying on the ground, and sometimes even catch mice with their toes. M. Lannelongue holds that the yellow races, who are able to use their feet somewhat as the elephant uses his trunk or the monkey his tail, enjoy a very considerable advantage in the overhanging struggle for existence over the less fortunate Caucasians, who are unable to employ their feet only for in-motion purposes.—Philadelphia Ledger

Rebuted.
 Hoffman, the German physicist, arrived in Glasgow late one Saturday night and on Sunday morning went to call on Lord Kelvin. The doorbell was answered by a woman servant, whom Hoffman asked if Sir William was at home.

The servant answered, "Sir, he most certainly is not."
 Hoffman then asked, "Could you tell me where I could find him?"
 "Sir," she answered, "you will find him at church, where you ought to be?"

She Did Hate Smoking.
 Henry M. Stanley once had an experience which shows how a hatred of tobacco is apt to swamp the finer feelings. In 1863, when staying at Brooklyn, N. Y., he notes in his diary "Boarding with Judge X. Judge drunk. Tried to kill his wife with hatchet. Attempted three times. I held him down all night. Next morning, exhausted, lighted cigar in parlor.
 Wife came down and insulted and raved at me for smoking in her house."

For a Rainy Day.
 "In your pursuit of pleasure," said the serious citizen, "you should not neglect to lay something by for a rainy day."
 "Of course," replied the light hearted man. "Nearly every member of our fishing club brings along a pack of cards."—Washington Star.

His Condition.
 Father—Now, Tommy, promise me that you will always count a hundred before you hit another boy. Tommy—Yes, I will if there's any one around to hold the other boy while I count.
Harper's Bazar.

Ground Rules.
 An East-Side mission worker tells of encountering a new game in one of the tenements in that region.
 Two urubins were driving a rubber ball back and forth with homemade rackets. The youngsters were intensely absorbed in their sport.

"What rules are you using?" asked the mission worker, with a smile,
 "English or American?"
 "Aw, wess got our own rules," replied one of the youngsters, scornfully. "I bats der ball ter Chimny till he misses a bounce, an den I gets de right ter swat him 't'ree times wid me bat."

Forced To Leave Home.
 Every year a large number of poor sufferers whose lungs are sore and racked with coughs are urged to go to another climate. But this is costly and not always sure.
 There's a better way. Let Dr.
 King's New Discovery cure you at home. "It cured me of lung trouble," writes W. R. Nelson, of Calamine, Ark., "when all else failed and I gained 47 pounds in weight.
 It's surely the King of all cough and lung cures." Thousands owe their lives and health to it. Its positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds, LaGrippe, Asthma, Croup-all Throat and Lung troubles. 50c and $1.
 Trial bottle free at J. J. Norris.

When to Begin.
 "Sometimes you have to hit a man to make him keep quiet, so that you can save him from drowning."
 "Yes," replied the abrupt person, "and the time to do it is when he first begins to rock the boat."— Washington Star.

Reaching The Top in any calling of life, demands a vigorous body and a keen brain.
 Without health there is no success.
 But Electric Bitters is the greatest Health Builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood, tones and invigorates the whole system and enables you to stand the wear and tear of your daily work.
 "After months of suffering from Kidney Trouble," writes W. M.
 Sherman, of Cushing, Me., "three bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." 50c at J. J.
 Norris, Leonardtown, Md.

Huge Russian Forests.
 Four adjoining governments of European Russia, of a combined area about seventeen times the size of the State of Ohio, are almost completely covered with timber, the greatest portion of which never has been explored by civilized man.

It's The World's Best.
 No one has ever made a salve, ointment or balm to compare with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's the one perfect healer of Cuts, Corns, Burns, Bruises, Sores, Scalds, Boils, Ulcers, Eczema, Salt Rheum, For Sore Eyes, Cold Sores, Chapped Hands, or Sprains, it's supreme. Infallible for Piles. Only

Preacher—Shall I pray for rain wind isn't right.—Old Joke.

Short Order.
 "Won't you please give me an order?" pleaded the persistent drummer.
 "Certainly," replied the crusty proprietor. "Get out!"—Lippincott's.

Feeding Cows.
 Feed liberally at this season, so that the cows will hold up in milk through the fall and into the winter.
 If they are allowed to decrease in milk flow now, it will be difficult to increase the flow later.

Corfed Hags.
