A FIGHTING MR. FIVE BY FIVE—Sandwiched between a pair of 6-footers, the shortest man in his outfit awaits the order to board a Coast Guard-manned transport to embark for battle out in the South Pacific. —Coast Guard Photo.

Boys' Club of Washington Elects Leo May President

Leo C. May has been elected president of the Boys' Club of Washington, it was announced yesterday.

Re-elected for a second term were the following:

Adelbert W. Lee, vice president in charge of the eastern branch; Dwight R. Cooke, vice president in charge of the central branch; James A. Dent, secretary, and Col. Henry P. Erwin, treasurer.

New officers include Thomas L. Eagan, vice president in charge of the Georgetown branch, and Henry Schaffert, vice president at large.

Board members re-elected for a three-year term were I. Harry Angelico, Bruce Baird, Edgar Brawner, Harold A. Brooks, E. Taylor Chewning, John W. Childress, Charles H. Cooke, Dwight R. Cooke, Edward Costigan, Henry W. Draper, Col. Erwin, Granville Gude, Alvin W. Hall, Sidney L. Hechinger, L. Emory Hutchison, Claude W. Owen, Henry Schaffert, Lawrence M. C. Smith, L. Corrin Strong, A. Lee Thompson and Charles H. Tompkins.

New members elected to the board for three-year terms were William A. Rogers, Donald Shepard, F. Latimer Barklay, John P. McDonald, William M. Werber, George J. Cleary, Wilson Nairn, Leslie C. Rucker, Joseph B. Murphy and Clarence H. Conger.

Uruguay reports a demand from the United States for shoe leather.