Aviator Curtiss when flying was a little gray cloth cap and blue mustache.
 Major General Daniel E. Sickles is the oldest living Civil War leader. He is eighty-seven years old, but still alert and active.
 Edgar Blood, a traveling salesman, of Kansas City, Mo., is deaf and dumb.
 He sells diamonds and carries a price list printed on a card which he hands to each merchant he visits.
 The trustees of the University of Chicago have granted to Professor Oscar Bolza of the mathematical department permission to spend the rest of his life in Freiburg, Germany. He will draw the same salary he received when active.

Robert Alphonso Taft, son of the president, who has just been graduated from Yale university, is going to start work in the Harvard Law school in October. He is the first son of a president of the United States to acquire a Yale diploma.

Henry Dexter, president of the American News company in New York, ninety-seven years of age, still sits at his desk. He goes down to his office every day in an automobile and takes a very active interest in his business as well as in philanthropic affairs.

Fernando Jones, who celebrated his nineteenth birthday recently, has lived in Chicago longer than any other person. He settled there in 1855 and has lived there ever since. When he first saw the village it was nothing unusual to observe Indians upon the streets.

Base Hits.
 Rumors are persistent that Cy Young is about done for as a pitcher.
 But he has a fortune.
 For a man who doesn't swing violently Schulte of Chicago hits a ball as clean and hard as anybody in major league circles.
 Outfielder Clyde Millan, who had a miserable year in 1909, is playing grand ball for Washington this season.
 They do come back now and then.
 Chase is the veteran in point of service on the New York team, and yet he is under thirty, and this is only his sixth season with the Highlanders.
 Detroit critics concede that Russell Ford of the New York Americans is a great pitcher. But doubt is expressed there whether he lasts the year out the way he exerts his arm in throwing the spitball.

Household Hints.
 A strip of emery cloth tacked to a small square board will be found useful for quickly sharpening the carving knife.
 The newest silence cloth is of asbestos. It is thin and as easy to fold as a tablecloth, yet it effectually protects the table top from injury by hot dishes or spilled liquids.
 A "ready made cooking cupboard" for the unexpected that always happens may contain soup, salmon, an entire, bottled beef, canned or preserved fruit and anything else which is suitable for a hurried luncheon or dinner.

Train and Track.
 Since Mexico acquired control of its principal railroads six training schools for railroad men have been opened in the City of Mexico.
 Between Liverpool and Manchester there is an excellent hourly express train service. Packages sent by parcels post forwarded on these trains up to 6:30 p. m. are delivered the same day.
 In many of the leading industrial countries of Europe the steel railway tie is being largely substituted for that of wood. In England such ties can be marketed at $30 per ton, or less than the present cost of wooden ties.

Town Topics.
 New York persists in the thought that it is a world's fair in itself. It has all the sideshows anyway.—Pittsburg Dispatch.
 A Boston professor says the world will be crazy in 205 years. The world is not inclined to give Boston that long.—Chattanooga News.
 Chicago has cut its high school course two years in order to induce pupils to abandon the habit of quitting school at the end of the grade courses. If the Windy City would double the length of the vacations it might also reduce truancy.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Wireless Whispers.
 There are eighteen recognized systems of wireless telegraphy.
 The number of wireless stations on the coasts of the maritime nations of the world is placed at 416.
 It is contemplated to establish wireless telegraph stations in German West Africa, Togoland, Kamerun and German Southwest Africa and also between the different German south sea colonies.

State Lines.
 Missouri manufactured 27,738,200 corn-cob pipes last year.
 For the first time in many years Nevada produced a marketable quantity of quicksilver last year.
 More than 5,000,000 rose trees have been planted in Oregon since the movement was started three years ago by the Rose Festival association.
 Of the 1,000,000 horsepower which the rivers of Minnesota are estimated to be capable of producing less than one-third has been made use of.

On Nagging.
 "My son taught me a lesson on the subject of nagging" when he was but four years old and one that I have never forgotten. He had been guilty of a small misdemeanor and had tried to wrangle out of it by not telling the exact truth. I gave him a mild spanking and, as has always been my custom, talked the matter over afterward.
 I began by saying, "Now, Robert, if you had told me the truth I should not have punished you."
 He stood before me, scraping one foot along the carpet, and he looked up at me and said, "What would you have done?" And I answered, "I should have only talked to you."
 "Well," he drawled, "how long would you have talked?"
 He is a big boy in high school now, but when times arise requiring a reprimand and I get started I still hear that little voice, "How long would you have talked?" and I go right to the point and say what I have to say on the subject; but in the boy's own language, I "cut it short" and never refer to it again unless it is absolutely necessary.—Harper's Bazar.

Killing a Bull Without a Weapon.
 Cayetano, a famous Spanish toreador, once was strolling across a meadow with a couple of friends when his attention was attracted by an old and infuriated bull which was galloping toward them with lowered head and erect tail. Cayetano had no weapon, not even a cane, but he seized a dust coat which one of his friends was carrying over his arm. As soon as the bull got close to them Cayetano bade his companions make their escape while he engaged the animal's attention. Using the coat as a cape, he drove the bull crazy with fury, stepping aside with the deftest agility at each of the animal's charges. In this manner he caused the bull to turn sharply in the midst of its onward rushes until finally an ominous crack was heard, and the bull fell in a heap, with its backbone broken by the sudden wrench given by the animal's abrupt swerve.

A Lincoln Anecdote.
 Jasper Alban Conant tells the following anecdote of Lincoln in the Metropolitan Magazine:
 "One of the comical characters in Washington during the war was Jolly old Isaac Newton, the Philadelphia Quaker whom Lincoln appointed commissioner of agriculture. His new office just created by congress. Newton, who tried and at the same time amused the president, had made his reputation on a dairy farm. Beyond this he knew little of agriculture.
 "Hearing which, I could not refrain from asking Lincoln why he had appointed such an ignorant man to the office.
 "Because I think he's competent enough to attend to all the agriculture we will have till the war is ended," was the answer."

The Long Silence.
 "Yes, we are pretty comfortably fixed here," admitted a veteran employee in the reading room of the Congressional library when a visitor enquired him his soft berth and comfortable surroundings. "But there's one thing we long for—yes, thirst for with a burning thirst. That's noise—a real, nerve racking, ear splitting noise. The long hours of soft silence, the dead stillness of everything about, grows so oppressive that at times we could shriek out. We get into a sort of sick-room tiptoe and a low tone of voice that finally degenerates into a whisper even at the telephone. Give us an occasional battery of artillery or a roaring lion or a steam calloffe. Even a squalling baby would help some."
 —Washington Star.

Just a Blunder.
 Sir Uptree Mouthless (who has got old Coldkash in a corner at the club)—Mr.
 Coldkash, your daughter is the idol of my life, the one hope and aim of my existence. Might I dare hope that some day I might be permitted to call her wife?
 Mr. Coldkash (astonished)—But, my dear sir, I have no daughter.
 Sir Uptree M.—Oh, pardon me! Somebody told me that you had. Let's have a drink.—London Scraps.

The Decoy.
 "I notice," said the man to the parson, "that, although I am in the front pew, there is always a five dollar bill on the collection plate when it comes to me. Is that the contribution of the man who takes up the collection?"
 "Not at all," replied the parson, who believed in business methods. "That's our decoy."—Detroit Free Press.

She Thought Right.
 Mrs. Young—I want to get a divorce from my husband. Lawyer—Well, what are your charges? Mrs. Young—My charges? Mercy! I thought I'd have to pay you.—Boston Transcript.

A Duke's Maxim.
 It was a maxim of the first Duke of Portland, who was a great lover of race horses, that there were only two places where all men are equal—on the turf and under the turf.

Sir Walter's Knock.
 "Knock on the clock," remarked Sir Walter Raleigh as he spread down his velvet garment before Queen Elizabeth.
 He could not resist giving her this little wrap.

Just the Contrary.
 "I suppose you're one of those idiots that touch wet paint to see if it's dry."
 "No, I'm not. I touch it to see if it's wet."—London Punch.

A straight line is shortest in morals as well as in geometry.—Rabel.

The Origin of Ice-Cream.
 Now that the ice cream season with its seductions and perils is known to be so worth while to recall to the great philosopher Bacon known by melting sugar with salt and dilution would occur in any circumstances. But to him the resultant product was no more than an inedible "extra-rary" scientific fact. Further than that this noble seer never saw.

It was a Frenchman, who, in all his humble namelessness, preparing for the Duc de Chartres in 1774, a snow-like dish; was the originator of ice cream. A century and a half before the like was known in England, epicures in France were partaking of ices and aerated drinks.
 And the beginning of such preparations is probably to be found still earlier, in the sherbets conjured up by the Turks and Persians, who probably taught the art of making such iced dishes to French travellers.—Sel.

Not Sorry For Blunder.
 "If my friends hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, Har-rodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lungracking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years.
 This wonderful life-saver is an un-rivaled remedy for coughs, colds, legrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. $50, $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Joys Of Indian Summer, Enter Indian summer, with its skies of deep blue, its woodlands of russet and gold, its bracing breezes of a morning, and its mingled perfumes of camphor, cough medicine, pumpkin pie and sauerkraut. In "Henry Emmond" you will find a long chapter on the charms of Indian summer, penned by William Makepeace Thackeray. The great Englishman fairly bowed down and worshipped it. No Greece, nor Switzerland, nor Arcady, said he, could show such a season of unmixed delight. It was the dream of his life to die in Virginia or Maryland in the midst of Indian summer.
 But fate planned otherwise, and so he passed away amid the raw fogs of London town on the day before Christmas.—Sel.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.
 The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this medicine completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50c.

A Big Difference.
 "Don't be unscrupulous in a small way son."
 "All right, dad."
 "There's a big difference between watering milk and stocks."—Washington Herald.

Shall Women Vote?
 If they did, millions would vote Dr. King's New Life Pills the true remedy for women. For banishing dull, foggy feelings, backache or headache, constipation, dispelling colds, imparting appetite and toning up the system, they're unequalled.
 Easy, safe, cure. 25c. at J. J. Nor-
