LEONARDTOWN, MD.
FRANCIS V. KING, Editor.

THURSDAY MORNING, Feb. 2, 1911.

The killing of Captain Dorsey, a report of which is printed in this issue, in some points recalls the murder of Capt. Dixon for which Biscoe was hanged here over twenty years ago.

Captain George M. Smith, the popular conductor on the Pope's Creek Branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad and twice the Democratic candidate for Congress in this district, has been promoted to the position of train dispatcher and transferred to Perryville, Cecil county. Capt. Smith was one of the most popular men in Southern Maryland and we are sorry that he has removed from the section.

Maryland News of the Week.

Friends of Collector Stone say he favors former Mayor Timanus for the Republican Mayorality nomination in Baltimore.

Deputy Sheriff Peyton Whalen resigned his position as a result of being charged with intent to murder Attorney R. C. L. Moncure at Rockville.

Governor Crothers urged members of the Farmers' Institute at Westminster to aid Baltimore in securing the Democratic Convention in 1912.

The body of the late Commander John F. Luby, of the navy, was buried at Annapolis.

A fire at Annapolis had evidences of incendiary origin.

Joshua Effatt, of Rockville, was sued for $10,000 damages for an alleged assault on R. C. L. Moncure, of Fairfax county, Va.

The grave of a child was despoiled at Oakland.

All the canneries in Caroline county will run during the tomato season.

The theory advanced by officials that the mysterious deaths of Charles E. Twigg and Grace Elmer in Cumberland may have been accidental from natural gas fumes is discredited by experiments with a rabbit.

Mr. John Hubert said he would be a candidate for the Democratic Mayorality nomination provided the organization decided either to support him or keep "hands off." Mayor Mahool said he might run again.

A study of the electoral college shows that Baltimore is near the center of the territory from which the votes must come if the Democrats win in 1912.

Mr. Henry Bradley, a wealthy farmer of Montgomery county, died at his home, in Rockville, as a result of injuries received December 10.

The Maryland College for Women at Lutherville was wrecked by fire early Tuesday. The main building was destroyed and the students fled, some of them panic-stricken, in safety, and became sheltered in cottages near the campus.

In Maryland $3,000 has been raised for the fund to erect a memorial shaft at Princeton to Grover Cleveland.

The farmers' institutes held last week in various towns were largely attended and great interest was manifested.

Edward Sears, a Frederick county farmer, was about to draw $800 from back at the suggestion of two alleged confidence men wanted in Washington, when the authorities interfered and arrested the men.

Two Meals a Day For Health

Two meals a day and an occasional fast was the recipe for health and long life given by Dr. J. S. Hooker the other day in London in a lecture before the Psycho-Therapeutic Society.

"In the two meals a day plan," he said, lies a great preventive of catarrhs, influenza, and a host of other diseases under the form of dyspepsia, gout, and liver affections. The best time for these two meals will depend to some extent on circumstances, but I believe if it were possible for us to take our first meal about 11 or 12 and our second at 6 or 7 in the evening, we should be all the better for it.

"I myself have not had a cold for years and am actually feeling younger rather than older as the days go on.

"The fasting cure is essentially a cleansing process, and is especially good for such diseases as gout, the uric acid, dyspepsia, internal troubles, and growths, diabetes, obesity paralysis, blood diseases of all kinds and skin affections.

A Tribute of Respect.

Dear Mr. Editor:—Something like sixteen months ago, I read in your paper the following obituary on a very, very dear friend of mine, which I regarded as the best phrased most comprehensive and best deserved tribute I had ever read:—

"Stanislaus Clarke, of St. Inigo's district, died at his home near St. Jerome's, Monday last, aged about 71 years. No better, purer, truer man has ever lived in St. Mary's, where his name has ever been a synonym of all that is estimable and noble in Christian manhood. All who knew him lament his death. May he rest in peace!"

When I had read this brief piece of necrology and had given in my adhesion most fully to what had been written about my highly valued friend, the question was obtruded on my mind, "shall I live to read the death notice of another acquaintance, on whose tomb might be written with perfect justice and propriety the words cited above?"

In the midst of my grief, I could think of none that might survive, who would be entitled to such high eulogy, but death has recently presented to my mind the claims of another so eminently just that they may not be ignored as being "a synonym for all that is estimable and noble in Christian manhood," and his name is J. J. ALVARY. Not only were the virtues of my two friends of the same high order, but their general make-up—an ever pleasant greeting for acquaintances, ever hospitable and genial, modest in all things and obtrusive in none, but firm as the most steadfast when there was question of right and common honesty. My first real acquaintance with Mr. Alvary was formed in a jury room, he being the foreman of the panel, and it was then during part of an evening and an entire night, that I discovered his good qualities, his fine sense of justice, discrimination and firmness in resisting the impulses of mercy, when his oath demanded of him a judgment in accord with the evidence and law. From this experience, our relationship developed into a marked type of genuine friendship, and I shall ever hold him embalmed in my memory as long as that faculty is allowed to exist.

CON AMORE.

In Memoriam.

Fell asleep in Jesus, Nov. 10, 1910, Edna G. Banagan, beloved daughter of Harvie and Bertie Banagan, aged 13 years.

In returning our little one to her Creator, it would be grief unbearable, but for the sweet life she lived and the beautiful memory she left behind. None could not be said of any child than can be said of her. Dutiful and affectionate to her parents, obedient and respectful to her teachers, kind and gentle to her playmates, she was a joy and a comfort to all who came in contact with her. Her teachers say—"no better pupil ever entered a school, and to teach her was a 'labor of love.'" She was ever ready to lend a helping hand to all in need, and no one spoke of her except to praise her gentleness and kindness of heart. Her remains were buried from Holy Angels' Chapel where she was a shining member of the "Angels' Sodality," and where she was a beautiful example to her little friends. The school of which she was a pupil followed her remains in line to the church, and the grief expressed by her schoolmates showed how dearly she was loved and how sadly she will be missed. With the sweet memory she has left behind, we resign her to the keeping of Him, who said, "Suffer little children to come unto Me," and pray that our last end may be as blessed as hers.

The Reason Why

We Sell More

Building Materials of all Kinds

Lumber and Mill Work

Than Our Competitors

Is Because We Undersell Them

Our Prices are always less than the other fellow wants for the same goods. If you don't believe it, ask us for a price on something. We are after the business, and to get it we will give prices that can't be beat. Don't be misled on Quality and Grading. You know there is a difference, but you can't always detect it. The unscrupulous dealer knows this and takes advantage of your inexperience by giving you lower grade than you pay for. Our Quality is absolutely guaranteed. Our Grading is standard among the thousands who know. Send Us An Inquiry Today.

We're out to undersell the other fellow and save you money—and we do it.
