BUSINESS PERSONALS

PERSONAL—JUST LIKE FINDING money. That's what people say who have tried a small ad. in The Herald. They don't cost much, but the results are simply marvelous. In this popular department The Herald has made a gain of more than 200 per cent in the past few months. Big circulation counts. The Herald has it. If you want to talk to half the people in Los Angeles and other parts of Southern California, try a small ad. In addition to the immense and rapidly increasing circulation of The Herald, its sales by newsboys, on trains, at hotels and summer resorts, make it the advertising medium of the Pacific coast.
Look over these small advertisements today. They will interest you and may make you some money.
Tomorrow try one. The results will be both surprising and satisfying. 6-3tf

FRIDAY MORNING CLUB

Mr. Harvey Lectures on Orchids and California Flower Gardens

J. C. Harvey, president of the Botanical society of Los Angeles, entertained the Friday Morning club yesterday with a talk on a Tropical Garden in Southern California and A Few Notes on Orchids.

During a residence in the tropics Mr. Harvey made a special study of orchids and amassed a rare collection, which, with a fine addition presented by John D. Rockefeller, he recently donated to the East Side park of Los Angeles.

Mr. Harvey remarked in the course of a delightful description of orchids, that it was difficult, even in the course of a long acquaintance with this elite family of the floral kingdom, to learn much of the life of its 8000 species. He was obliged, therefore, to refer to English and French written authorities for information regarding propagation and culture; propagation was effected by the carrying of the pollen from tree to tree; culture he described as a most delightful study and an ideal pastime, particularly for a feminine lover of flowers. While for beauty and transparency of coloring, delicacy and aroma of fragrance and extreme gracefulness of form, these airy structures were the aristocrats among plants; yet, he said, they could not claim a single country for their own; they thrived wherever they found a congenial amount of warmth and moisture, their only sustenance, whether in Asia, Africa or America.

Mr. Harvey described a scene in the tropics, rich in waving green foliage, stately palms and gracefu ferns and luxuriant in beautiful flowers, making the air sweet and heavy with their fragrance,and over all the fluttering of gorgeous-winged butterflies, snatching sweetness in their flight. Some such scene was in the speaker's mind when he touched on the second part of his subject, The Tropical Garden of Southern California.

Like many a tenderfoot in this climate Mr. Harvey regretted the lack of those semi-tropical effects to which the air, sunshine and all the elements seem so conducive. The absence was greatly due, he believed, to the householders' particular gardens, which in most cases ran into a conglomeration of roses and kindred plants.

An ideal home was then described with a garden 200 feet square. The house should not take on the heaviness of a castle on the Rhine, but should be light and rambling in effect, with some of the Spanish characteristics.

A lawn should grace the front, not dissected like a checkerboard, but in a generous sweep with the walk and drive round the side. A verandah should be added to the southern exposure. Some of the light and airy creepers that clamber so charmingly over the "po'ches" of the old homesteads way down south were recommended for this. He pictured enticing visions at the side of a pavilion running over with Cherokee roses and a small pond floating with the blue lily of the Nile and other varieties and colorings of aquatic plants known as the French hybrids. To the back the tropical effects should be produced. Palms, particularly the Seeporthia, that add so much to the scenic aspect of Santa Barbara are found so rarely here. Bamboos, yuccas, cacti, the Nile grasses and umbrella tree and particularly the beautiful magnolia tree were considered necessary adjuncts.

Mr. Harvey, with a number of others is intensely interested in creating tropical landscapes in this section. A portion of Elysian park has been donated to the Botanical society for experiments. Here on the first day of the week a party of business men minus coat and armed with spade and trowel exemplify to the religious eye of the Sabbath that among other things they are not "too proud to dig."

TEMPERANCE CONVENTION

Proceedings of the W. C. T. U. Convention in Session at Pomona

POMONA, May 8.—The state W. C. T. U. convention, which has been in session in this city for three days past, will complete its labors this evening.

The sessions have been of unusual interest, and have been largely attended. Yesterday afternoon was given over to "Y." work, and by a vote of the convention the papers that were read will be included in the published report of the convention, which, after its issue, will be on sale by Miss Winnie Morris, the society's superintendent of literature, at Temperance temple, Los Angeles. A very spicy question box was answered by Miss Margaret Sudduth, one of the editors of the Union Signal. The White Ribbon, the official organ of the W. C. T. U. of Southern California, it was stated, needed further aid from the W. C. T. U., and after discussion the county superintendents reported the sentiment of their respective delegations to be to extend such aid as was needed. Mrs. Cash presented a report on the condition of Temperance temple, and was followed by a song rendered by Mrs. Ferdinand Davis of Pomona. This morning was devoted to the reports of the secretary and treasurer of the board of trustees, Miss K. Morrison and Mrs. F. Baright, respectively; the board of directors of the Ransom home, through Mrs. F. Dimmick, its president; board of managers of the same institution presented by Mrs. Hutton of Los Angeles, and unfermented wine presented by Mrs. G. T. Hanly. Mrs. A. B. Southwick conducted the memorial service.

This afternoon the convention listens to papers on the relation of temperance to labor, by Mrs. L. H. Meserve, formerly of this city. Our Union Signal by Miss Margaret Sudduth, its editor, The Stranger at Our Door, by Mrs. S. C. W. Brown, Pomona, followed by miscellaneous business.

RUPTURE

Professor Joseph Fandrey, European specialist, formerly of Berlin, Germany, now permanently located at 821 South Broadway, Los Angeles, is a practical rupture specialist and manufactures the latest patent trusses (his own invention) for curing rupture; also corsets for curvature of the spine, female supporters, etc. Each case will be made to fit. Over forty almost helpless cases of from two to twenty years standing, some twice broken, are today cured and have no more use for truss. Patients from two to seventy-five years of age. Information and testimonials will be sent on application.

It Would Be Appreciated

A copy of The Herald's Fiesta edition is a valuable and an appropriate souvenir to mail to distant friends. It tells all about the great festivities as well as Southern California and Los Angeles. Single copies 5 cents. Postage 3 cents.

As the edition is limited, orders should be sent in without delay.

Fifty cents round trip on Terminal railroad to Long Beach and San Pedro. Good going Saturday and Sunday, returning Monday.

Call tel. 243 for ambulance. Kregelo & Bresee, Sixth and Broadway.
